6. leden 2021 byl pro americkou pravici katastrofou. Navzdory emocionálnímu uspokojení, které někteří pociťovali, nepokoje v Kapitolu zdiskreditovaly prezidenta Donalda Trumpa, umožnily levici označit konzervativce za výtržníky, ospravedlnily ještě větší represe a donutily republikány, kteří vyšetřovali volby v roce 2020, k úplnému ústupu.

Bylo by mnohem lepší, kdyby aktivisté nic neudělali a kdyby prezident Trump vyzval demonstranty – jednoznačně – k mírumilovnosti. Jaký plán měli výtržníci v chaosu, který následoval? Pravděpodobně žádný nebyl.

Kongres odsoudil prezidenta za údajné zahájení povstání, ale pokud by chtěl převrat, mohl vyzvat dav, aby dobyl Kapitol. Místo toho jim kromě toho, že je varoval: „Pokud nebudete bojovat jako čert, už nebudete mít žádnou zemi,“ řekl jim , aby „podpořte naši Kapitolskou policii a vymáhání práva“, „zůstaňte pokojní“. a pak konečně „jdi domů s láskou a v míru“. Sociální sítě ho zakázaly a usvědčily ho právě z obvinění, kvůli kterým ho Senát zprostil viny. Bylo to povstání? Máme trestní stíhání a dokonce i několik odsouzení za „pobuřující spiknutí“, ale žádný vyrovnaný člověk nemůže uvěřit, že výtržníci, kteří vtrhli do Kapitolu, byli součástí plánu na svržení vlády Spojených států.

Zdánlivé zoufalství vládních úředníků, novinářů a politiků, aby se nepokoje ze 6. ledna jevily jako zásadní hrozba pro republiku, vedlo některé k domněnce, že celá věc je podvod – vnitřní práce zpravodajských služeb. Pravda je mnohem banálnější: Byl to protest, který se vymkl kontrole. Zdá se však, že nikdo nechce vědět, co se skutečně stalo, a pochopit, co se pokazilo: Proč bylo tak špatné zabezpečení? Zvládla Kapitolská policie dav špatně? Jaké byly úmysly a motivy lidí v davu? Byli nějakým způsobem zapojeni federální agenti?

Místo toho se zdá, že vládní úředníci, novináři a politici z obou stran touží skrývat, co se stalo – a to je přesně to, co radikalizuje lidi a podněcuje „konspirační teorie“. Jde o chování paranoidního režimu, který trvá na propagandistické verzi historické události, nikoli na vládě svobodného lidu, vázaného právním státem, hledajícího pravdu. Systém, který nám vládne – federální vláda, zpravodajské agentury, federální donucovací orgány a média, která ospravedlňují své chování – dělají to, co výtržníci 6. ledna 2021 nedokázali. Fatálně podkopávají legitimitu režimu.

Tucker Carlson nedávno odvysílal některé dosud nezveřejněné záběry z 6. ledna. Ukazuje demonstranty, nikoli výtržníky, jak klidně procházejí Kapitolem. Nejvýraznější postavou je Jacob Chansley , „QAnon Shaman“, který nosil vikingskou čelenku. Strážci zákona mu prakticky poskytli doprovod a v modlitbě na půdě Senátu poděkoval, že nás policie „[v]pustila do budovy“.

První lidé do hlavního města jasně vnikli dovnitř. Jakmile se to stalo, policie si musela uvědomit, že neexistuje žádný způsob, jak udržet ostatní venku. Ale vzdát se boje není totéž jako přivítat demonstranty v budově.

Někteří nazvali výběr videí Tuckera Carlsona stejně tendenční jako výběry z Kongresu „vyšetřování“, což nebylo nic jiného než případ pro stíhání. Ale co bychom si měli myslet o lidech, kteří vešli po násilí? Kapitol je velké místo a někteří možná neviděli vůbec nic neobvyklého. Pokud vstoupili do nestřežené budovy, jednali pokojně a po dnech a měsících byli zatčeni, zaslouží si tresty odnětí svobody?

Watch Video At: <https://youtu.be/Vs-il4uS5mM>

Ať se ten den stalo cokoli, Jacob Chansley měl dostat tyto záběry předtím, než se přiznal k maření jednání Kongresu a dostal 41 měsíců vězení. Právo obžalovaného vidět všechny důkazy – dobré i špatné – je pro americký systém zásadní. Andrew McCarthy v National Review napsal, že právníci pana Chansleyho by „trvali na tom, aby jim byl před přiznáním viny předložen jakýkoli potenciálně osvobozující důkaz“. Pravděpodobně však nemohli. Jeho právní zástupce nevěděl o nahrávkách, které měl Kongres. Ministerstvo spravedlnosti mohlo říct, že je nemá a nemůže je vyrobit. „Členové a právní zástupci výboru tedy pohřbili záběry, které byly jasně relevantní doslova stovkám lidí, kteří čelí trestnímu stíhání po celé zemi," říká právní analytik Jonathan Turley. "Udělal to, zatímco opakovaně odkazovali na tyto případy při slyšení jako na podporu právního státu."

Měla FBI nebo jiné agentury v davu lidi, kteří na to možná naléhali? Republikán Thomas Massie (R-KY) chce znát všechny federální agenty, kteří tam byli. "Na těch videích je opravdu zvláštní chování," řekl, "lidé za policejními liniemi v civilu, dotýkají se jich na rameni, mluví do ucha, kolem hranic, jako by tam ani nebyli." Zástupce Massie poukázal na to, že generální prokurátor Merrick Garland odmítl odpovědět na jeho otázku o počtu federálních agentů ve službě. Když nemůže dostat odpovědi kongresman, jak my?

Watch Video At: <https://youtu.be/ESjyxCcA2oA>

Záběry také ukazují, že vyšetřování Kongresu upravilo záběry tak, aby senátor Josh Hawley (R-MO) vypadal hloupě, když utíkal před demonstranty. Byl součástí skupiny dalších zákonodárců – a byl vzadu. Může se to zdát jako malý bod, ale bylo to součástí slyšení, které bylo zinscenováno jako zábava a politická propaganda.

Důstojník Brian Sicknick, o kterém někteří tvrdili, že zemřel, protože na něj zaútočili Trumpovi příznivci, vypadá na záběrech dobře, dokonce i po útoku. Ray Epps, muž, který vyzval dav, aby šel do Kapitolu, a údajně se chlubil organizováním útoku, je na videu v davu asi 30 minut poté, co řekl výboru 6. ledna, že odešel.

Watch Video At: <https://youtu.be/yLYF6-sZkgM>

Tucker Carlson poukazuje na to, že když antifa zaútočila na Bílý dům, policie Washington DC odmítla pomoci agentům tajné služby. Řekl, že obě události byly špatné, ale pamatujeme si jen jednu – mnoho lidí je nyní nedůvěřivých, když jim řeknete, že prezident musel být evakuován do zabezpečeného bunkru – protože režim podporuje jednu, ale ne druhou.

Watch Video At: https://youtu.be/HPg9N_HiLMg

Téměř každý týden lidé na Twitteru oslavují černošského policistu Capitol Police, který zastřelil Ashli Babbittovou . Mám podezření, že kdyby důstojník zastřelil výtržníka, který se snažil zaútočit na Trumpův Bílý dům, bylo by s ním zacházeno jako s Derekem Chauvinem a neposkytlo by mu uctívající rozhovor zpravodajství NBC. Stejně tak New York Times napsal , že prezident Trump se „scvrkl“ a podvolil se tomu, že bude nahnán do bunkru. Není mi znám žádný takový popis prchajících senátorů a kongresmanů. „Whataboutism“ je líná forma argumentace, ale musíme ji používat v mediálním prostředí, které tak selektivně vyvolává emoce. Lidé se o George Floydova vášnivě starají, protože jim to novináři řekli. Nezajímají je Channon Christian a Christopher Newsom, dva mladí běloši umučení k smrti v roce 2007 černochoy, protože většina o nich nikdy ani neslyšela. George Floyd byl záminkou k prosazení politického poselství o tom, že policie svévolně zabíjí černochoy. Příběhy kolektivních médií jsou nyní ústředním bodem americké politiky. Floydova smrt mohla být příběhem o černošském zločinu, užívání drog a někdy fatálních důsledcích odporu při zatýkání.

Jak média reagovala na zprávu Tuckera Carlsona? Politici , novináři a noční hostitelé – v podstatě stejná třída – nejsou šťastní. A skutečně, proti zveřejnění desítek tisíc hodin videozáznamů výhradně jedinému partyzánskému reportérovi, který by je jistě použil selektivně k vytvoření případu, lze vznést silný argument, stejně jako to udělalo vyšetřování 6. ledna. K kritikům se připojil i vůdce menšin v Senátu Mitch McConnell (R-KY), který řekl, že „podle mého názoru byla chyba [pro] Fox News vyličít to způsobem zcela v rozporu s tím, co náš hlavní představitel donucovacích orgánů v Capitol“ popsany.

Vůdce senátní většiny Chuck Schumer (D-NY) měl nejodhalující odpověď : „Rupert Murdoch má zvláštní povinnost zabránit Tuckeru Carlsonovi v tom, aby dnes večer pokračoval [a] aby ho nechal jít znovu a znovu a znovu [protože] naše demokracie závisí na na to.”

Pokud „naše demokracie“ „závisí“ na tom, že senátor mlátí oligarchu, aby umlčel jeden nesouhlasný hlas, nemá cenu šetřit. Bílý dům označil zprávu Tuckera Carlsona za „ostudnou“, protože „viděli jsme policisty z Kapitolské policie přicházet o život nebo o životy policistů“. Pravděpodobně je příliš očekávat, že černá tisková mluvčí Karine Jean-Pierre bude vědět, že to ani není pravda. Jak to mohla vědět? CNN oslavila její „mimořádné pokárání“.

„Naše demokracie“ není ohrožena a nikdy nebyla, i když prezident Biden prohlásil, že nepokoje ze 6. ledna byly „nejhorším útokem na naši demokracii od občanské války“ a Kamala Harris to přirovnala k Pearl Harboru a 11. září. Taková srovnání nám řeknou více o lidech, kteří je provádějí, než samotná událost.

A co nepokoje, které se zemí přehnaly v roce 2020? Výsledkem byly pojistné události ve výši 2 miliard USD a skutečné náklady byly mnohem vyšší . Nejméně 25 Američanů zemřelo . Američané viděli policejní stanici vypálenou do základů, zničené neocenitelné památky a levičáci si na několik dní nárokovali suverenitu nad částí velkého amerického města. Třicet států a DC zavolalo Národní gardu a více než 200 měst zavedlo zákaz vycházení. Počet vražd rekordně vzrostl . V některých ohledech vzpoura stále neskončila.

Když za ním hoří 3. policejní okrsek v Minneapolis, demonstrant a jeho přítel během nepokojů kvůli zabití George Floyd hrdě drží policejní pás. (Kreditní obrázek: © Chris Juhn/ZUMA Wire)

V roce 2020 policisté před výtržníky couvali, když k nim neklekali. Někteří protestující budou spíše placeni než potrestáni. Bránit se bylo nebezpečné. Kyle Rittenhouse byl zproštěn viny, ale nyní čelí civilní žalobě. Další muž, Jake Gardner, spáchal sebevraždu v roce 2020 poté, co média a demonstranti úspěšně dotlačili velkou porotu, aby ho obvinila ze zabití, a to i poté, co byl původně očištěn v případě sebeobrany. Američanům všech ras, kteří dodržují zákony, bylo možné odpustit, že si mysleli, že je jejich vláda opustila. To je vláda, kterou stále máme.

Naproti tomu jediní lidé, kteří zemřeli v Kapitolu 6. ledna 2021, byli příznivci Donalda Trumpa; média se o ně nestarají. Pokud to byl útok na „demokracii“, tak to byl také antifa útok na Bílý dům, který si málokdo pamatuje, ale 6. ledna ospravedlnil rozsáhlý zásah v reakci na domnělou hrozbu, kterou vláda, jak se zdá, chce přehánět.

Můžeme mít jen málo iluzí, že pásy Tuckera Carlsona změni stíhání ze 6. ledna. „Rovnost před zákonem“ byla vždy zdvořilou fikcí. Bohatí obžalovaní nebo ti, kteří se mohou spolehnout na pomoc od National Lawyers Guild, budou mít vždy větší šanci než konzervativní demonstranti s malými penězi a žádní špičkoví právníci, kteří touží vzít své případy pro bono. Soudci jsou politicky jmenovaní nebo samotní politici. „Porota vašich vrstevníků“ znamená málo pro bílého konzervativce, který čelí nebělošské porotě. Americký právní systém vám může zničit život, i když budete zproštěni viny. Není divu, že Jake Gardner spáchal sebevraždu; je překvapivé, že spíše ne. Přesto očekáváme dodržování určitých norem. „QAnon Shaman“ nikdy neviděl všechny důkazy. Soudní proces s Proud Boys narazil na zádrhel, protože obhajoba našla „skryté“ zprávy FBI, včetně agenta popisujícího příkaz nadřízeného „zničit 338 důkazů“. Během škodlivého křížového výslechu svědků ministerstvo spravedlnosti tvrdilo, že omylem „vysypalo“ utajované informace do procesu, a soudce nakonec nařídil obhajobě, aby to ignorovala. Neexistuje téměř žádný způsob, jak poznat pravdu, ani zjistit, co FBI říká, že je příliš „utajované“, než aby to lidé před soudem viděli. Pokud zaujmete nemoderní politické postoje, většina médií a politiků bude fandit vašemu pronásledování a vyhrožovat těm, kdo mluví na vaši obranu. Média nejsou kontrolou napájení. Oni jsou moc. Teorie kritické rasy je již součástí právního systému a ti, kteří si myslí, že 6. leden byl stejně špatný jako Pearl Harbor, se nebudou ostýchat ohýbání pravidel a zamknutí lidí, o nichž si myslí, že jsou tak nebezpeční. Toto je systém, jehož uniformovaní důstojníci poklekli k demonstrantům BLM a který jim nyní přiznává odškodné. 6. leden nebyl ohrožením zavedených pořádků. Reakcí režimu je paranoia a slabost. Její zoufalství bránit zavedený, zjevně šikmý příběh znamená, že se „naše demokracie“ stává artritickou autokracií, která bude svou propagandu hájit se všemi důkazy. Už není schopen jemnosti. Systém a jeho dvořané skartují svou důvěryhodnost, i když to nepotřebují. Je to horší než zločin – je to chyba. Za to můžeme být vděční.

I would like to know what happened to those men in the same room as Ashli Babbitt who were breaking windows, while the police stepped aside? Were they prosecuted?. One of them was interviewed on CNN the following week. He wasn't arrested. We had seen a few trouble makers breaking windows inside and outside the building, but none of us know what happened to these people, and if they were arrested and tried. Who are those people languishing in the jails, without trial? Who are those persons who were prosecuted?

BEFORE Ashli Babbitt climbed through the window, you could hear the rest of them in the room screaming, "he's got a gun". When you hear those words, would anyone climb through a window, or would they duck for cover.

Ashli Babbitt was a part of the 113th Squad of the Air National Guard, whose sole duty it was to protect the Capitol. As a member of the Air National Guard she is expected to serve one weekend per month, and two weeks per year. Yet, instead of protecting the capitol, she, unlike so many others, went into that building? When we were told she was married, we next find out that her "husband" is living with another woman. They explain it all by telling us they were living in a "troupe". The family was then interviewed and we find out that none of them went to Washington DC to "identify the body". The body was cremated before it left Washington and allegedly sent to California. Who identified the body?. We next find out that shortly before January 6, Ashli Babbitt who voted for Obama was making twitter rants saying things that made absolutely no sense. She went to Washington DC by plane, and sat next to a CNN reporter.

Then we have a police officer, for no reason at all, takes out a gun and shoots her? We are not told his name for weeks; he is then allegedly investigated, following none of the protocols in this investigation, and is “cleared”, when any other police officer would be charged with murder?

Ashli Babbitt’s family has yet to bring their wrongful death suit, and have lost one aspect of it in failing to file one of those claims within one year of the event. There are reports of the family “planning” to bring one, but one has never been brought.

I'd be interested in a poll of Unz Review commenters to see what percentage think Trump was 'in on it'.

I watched his Jan 6 speech in front of the White House and, before hearing about all the ruckus, his speech struck me as being inflammatory, despite Trump covering his ass with his 'of course be peaceful' phrase.

I'll vote right now. I think Trump was 'in on it'. The Deep State was prepared for a 'media event' and they made sure it happened and they milked it for two years. Trump played and is playing his role in the spectacle. Trump is a reality TV specialist. Trained. Without even asserting a 'top down' script writing and directing TV we can simply assume both 'sides' know how to play the game without even being overtly directed.

Again, Trump WAS IN ON IT.

Trial by jury was also one of the most important parts of our system that the Founders gave us. It allows for jury nullification, the concept that someone guilty of an unjust law can be found innocent and freed by the jury decision. Or someone may be freed who is clearly guilty to send a social or political message (i.e. O.J. Simpson beating a double homicide charge as payback for the Rodney King beating and acquittal of the officers involved).

No one foresaw Jury Conviction. A hostile jury, no matter the evidence or law, may convict out of spite, or as retribution for perceived past wrongs. The fear an individual but honest juror faces nowadays of being doxxed – losing a job or having their family attacked – is a real one. Convicting an innocent man so the societal “apple cart” doesn’t get upset is expedient, but not justice. That’s the Chauvin example.

And with the complexities of modern life, Jury duty is not seen as a civic duty but a burden to most middle class people who work for a living. That leaves the dregs, the unemployed and the activists eager to serve if they can push an agenda as a juror.

Whether Trump was in on it doesn't matter to me. What matters to me is the way he set up his supporters. He said "I will be right behind you" and then he went back to the White House. Anyone supporting Trump at this point is beyond help.

What do you expect from a country that is run by lying jews?

Communist jews are responsible for the deaths of over one hundred million innocent people in the 20th century.

Manufacturing a false narrative about a few Jan.6th boomers is nothing.

The over-reaction to Jan.6th indicates that the nose is ass deep in paranoia and fear. Any hint of white cohesion causes small hat hysteria.

The very IDEA of white cohesion on any level is cause for more laws and police state regulations and endless articles screeching about white supreeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeeemists.

Labeling whites as “domestic terrorists” is obviously absurd, but it’s their way of getting ahead of the backlash they fear (and richly deserve)

E. Michael Jones said the purpose of the federal courts is to enforce what the oligarchs want. And the purpose of the Supreme Court is to come up with legal mumbo jumbo to make what the oligarchs want the law of the land.

When I first heard this I was that red-pilled at the time and thought EMJ was being hyperbolic.

Then in 2020 when the DOJ, after several years of judicial persecution, decided not to go forward with the prosecution of Michael Flynn for a minor process crime after an internal memo showed Flynn did nothing wrong and the FBI lied.

But Federal District Judge Emmett Sullivan, who was hand-picked to preside over the Flynn case, refused to dismiss the case even though the government said it would not prosecute it. So Sullivan hired a retired judge to see if Flynn committed perjury because Flynn had pled guilty to the FBI bogus charge. The judge then essentially became the prosecution.

I had just assumed this was just one stupid and political judge and the outrageous action would be quickly rectified.

Emmet Sullivan

Then I read that two dozen former federal judges supported Emmet Sullivan’s decision not to dismiss the case but instead become the prosecution.

24 Former Federal Judges Support Emmet Sullivan in Flynn’s DC Circuit Challenge

Judges are not “mere scribes of whatever dismissal the government places before them,” the former judges said in their brief, filed by lawyers from Keeker, Van Nest & Peters.

That’s when I knew, with metaphysical certainty, that the whole federal judiciary was a sham, merely an Orwellian weapon with zero credibility, and I can never ever again assume it has any credibility.

“The-rule-of-law” has never been anything other than just another one of those “self”-satisfying conceits so captivating to the fevered imaginations of the “civilized” peoples. Whenever, as here lately, some cherished part of this comforting veil of delusion gets ripped precipitously away by the sudden eruption of some actual Reality into their dreamworld, the ensuing panicky scramble to paper-over the rent reveals even more starkly, to anybody with the stomach to look clear-eyed at it, just how flimsy the entire make-believe contrivance actually is....and has always been.

Inevitably, of-course, repeated cycles of such incursions and partial repairs render the accumulating disintegration so advanced that “all the kings horses, and,....etc.,” cannot restore to the mirage anything even remotely approximating its original capacity to fool so many so much of the time. It looks to us surviving Free Wild Peoples of every Kind, from here in Indian Country, that we’ve already All together reached and sped well past that irreversible turning point in the would-be Planet-wasting disease process presenting as “civilization”....here in the LivingLoving Arrangement of Earth and Sky.

Bemoaning loudly the “loss” of so many such things that never actually existed anyhow, except in their own captive imaginations and the language corrupted and perverted to “describe” them, has become an ongoing feature of the preprogrammed reaction of the domesticated peoples to the inescapable effects of the terminal throes of the disease process itself. Today, the symptom-suppression regime so long so reflexively resorted-to, has no longer even any semblance of being either “safe” or “effective” as a remedy for their “self”-inflicted predicament. It is instead revealed finally as being both deadly dangerous and fatally futile.

The LivingLoving Arrangement is even now being healed of the wasting disease. The “question” for our captive Human Relatives, in THE END comes down to whether they are part of the cure, The Medicine of Organic Functional Integrity, or merely more residual detritus of the disease process to be purged along with the tormenting entities whose project the “progress” of the entire episode has been.

In today's America, and in many other parts of the world, the process is the punishment. Selective prosecution is a major problem in this country. BLM and Antifa types who have committed crimes are ignored while innocents who defend themselves (but are of the wrong political persuasion) are charged with crimes.

Being charged with a crime, the indictment, the arraignment and trial are all a part of the punishment. Even if the case is dismissed, the damage, the difficult days, the threat of fines, incarceration and legal bills, and the uncertainty of what comes next are all punishments.

Observe those who were arrested after the January 6, 2020 demonstrations—those who were purposely let in to the capitol by FBI types and then arrested, days, weeks, and months after the event.

Those who are presently incarcerated in the D. C. gulag for the January 6, demonstrations are “special cases”—“political prisoners” who have been identified by their political enemies and prison staff and have been selected for “special treatment”. Even if their cases are dismissed, the damage has already been done. The time served, the harassment and brutality can never be “taken back”.

This also extends to the likes of Kyle Rittenhouse, who is clearly observed on video defending his own life against rioters, who was “put through the legal wringer”—once again, the process being the punishment. Thankfully, he was acquitted by a competently-run legal system (in his case).

The Memphis couple who were charged with “brandishing weapons” against the BLM and Antifa criminals who broke down a barrier and were trespassing on private property is but another example of selective prosecution. They were indicted on “weapons charges” for merely defending themselves.

My third and final example of this is the “Satilla (Brunswick) Three” who are languishing in prison for defending their lives and neighborhood against Ahmad Arbery, a career criminal who was “casing” construction sites for materials and tools that he could steal. In this case, the “powers that be” went “prosecutor shopping” when the initial prosecutor refused to indict. It took “four tries” before they found a prosecutor who would indict. It turns out that Arbery was not being “chased”, but had “doubled back” and threatened the man with the shotgun, pulling on it causing it to fire. You see, Arbery had felt “disrespected”, and in his feral, simian way had to confront the man who had “disrespected” him. Arbery could have run off in any direction, but chose to confront the man with the shotgun. This was a clear case of self-defense, having been video taped as well. The trial was a fiasco, with a weak, incompetent judge, civil-rights hustlers and Arbery family members in the courtroom threatening riots if the “correct” verdict was not rendered. Requests for a change of venue and a sequestered jury were denied. Evidence showing Arbery’s previous criminal activity in the Satilla Shores neighborhood was also suppressed. It would seem that, with all of the legal and procedural misconduct, these three men should have good grounds for a successful appeal.

Once again, the process is the punishment...something democRATs have been using to their advantage.

After seeing the Jan 6 Carlton footage, leftist and staunch feminazi Naomi Wolfe wrote an extensive open letter to conservatives on her sub stack apologizing profusely to conservatives, Trump, and Trump supporters for buying the lies of the govt, media, and her own party and for basically being oblivious to just how badly and unjustly Trump, conservatives etc have been falsely demonized by the above.

So regardless of how badly some think Carlson presented the footage he showed, and that he supposedly “held back,” and didn’t come with both barrels loaded, at least one domino has fallen. She says basically the Jan 6 protesters being illegally held without due process are being railroaded by the govt. No this doesn’t represent a sea change, or any real hope of salvaging this sclerotic so called democracy, but even one lefty being red pillled is a victory, no matter how small. Especially a lefty with some gravitas. The article is also linked at Lew Rockwell’s site.

Lefty journalist John Nichols was the infamous “Scaffold Commander” with the bullhorn on the 6th, exhorting everyone there to , “go fill up the Capital! Your country needs you!” for 90 straight minutes.

Several of the capital police were throwing stun grenades into the crowd and hitting several protestors who were behaving in an obvious attempt to incite anger. Epps and other well-paid agents provocateur were there attempting to get the crowd to enter the building.

It was a set up.

I hope many learn from that day. The US Establishment will stoop to anything to retain the presidency, including phony terror theater to be played on patsies they can trick into being at the wrong place at the right time.

The only vote the young have left is to not actively aid the US in its color revolutions and regime-change wars by choosing a non-military career. Let Antifa fight our regime’s wars, since they love them so much.

“President Biden said the January 6 riot was the “worst attack on our democracy since the Civil War,”

The first two military actions of the Civil War involved hostilities by Northern Armies against confederate troops in southern states on confederate territory. South Carolina had already seceded peacefully during the prior Administration when Northern troops at Charleston refused to abandon the now alien territory and Virginia had seceded before the North made an incursion into that territory for the purpose of pursuing warfare against the newly independent state. It is quite the stretch to suggest that the United States was the victim of an unjustified attack during the so-called Civil War when, in the first instance, the U.S. was maintaining a military presence on soil of another country and in the second the US brought an army on to the territory of another country for the purpose of engaging in war against it. At no point was territory of a remaining state of the United States threatened militarily prior to the initiation of hostilities by the United States.

| In the chaos that did follow, what was the rioters' plan? There probably wasn't one.

This Author is truly a trusting soul. Or is the right word "gullible"? That's the best possible slant I can put on this piece.

A word-search of the above text doesn't mention the Insurrection Act. I believe that old law was a key, and it was something the schemers in the White House knew all about, for they'd been tempted to use it in previous years.

As I see it, the plan was to get the Trumpie idiots of his Base all fired up, and from their ranks there would be plenty of fire-eaters who would start breaking things at the Capital. The January 6 ceremony there had already been seen as the fat orange guy's last real chance to stay in the White House, but it seems that few were using the terms "violence" or "military" or "coup". This NYT opinion essay of December 29 sure didn't. First link has a paywall, and the second is a reprint of the editorial.

Opinion | Mike Pence's Role in the Electoral College Results

<https://www.nytimes.com/2020/12/29/opinion/pence-electoral-college-votes-.html>

<http://justandfree.com/will-pence-do-the-right-thing/>

Pence was extremely important, and the plan to physically move him away from Congress failed. If he had not been present in the building in his capacity of President of the Senate, I think the Electoral Vote Ceremony would have been delayed. Obviously killing him would have worked too, and I wonder what Pence would have done if he'd been told that his family was in physical danger from bombers or snipers. Or that they were already hostages.

As an aside, Pence is no longer a happy camper about all of this. Current story: <https://www.theguardian.com/us-news/2023/mar/12/mike-pence-donald-trump-was-wrong-history-will-hold-him-accountable>

Anyhow, with the January 6 vote not happening, the expectation was that the “Liberals” would become enraged, and promptly flock to Washington to prevent another genuine stolen election like the one in 2000. Remember Bush v. Gore?

Keep in mind that those Oath Keepers had stashed a hell of a lot of weapons outside DC, and they’d have been the perfect sacrificial lambs if a replay of the Ukraine Maidan Sniper murders had happened in Washington. Dead people littering the streets in DC would have been at least as shocking as 9/11, and NOW Trump can invoke the Insurrection Act!

Publishing crap like this isn’t among Mr. Unz’s greatest achievements.

Emmet Sullivan betrayed his oath of office and the rule of law and should have been impeached and removed from office for his handling of the Flynn case.

Judges like him and the fake juries in the “woke” District of Washington Courts are the reasons that Julian Assange has fought extradition to the US. Even the assertion that Assange is subject to American law is doubtful since he is an Australian citizen.

Assange was exercising his speech and press rights, not yet crimes in the US except in practice. We are living under political law, not Constitutional Law. At most the January 6 people were guilty of misdemeanor trespassing and their prosecution by the Feds was a felony.

Congressman Jamie Raskin, a Democrat who served on the House select committee investigating the Jan. 6, 2021, attack on the U.S. Capitol, says their final report reveals very real threats to democracy — but also a “strong resurgent democratic spirit” in America today.

“It’s a story of some real villainy and some real danger to democracy, but also of real heroism and commitment to American democratic freedom,” Raskin said in an interview with Margaret Brennan on “Face the Nation.” “And with democracy under attack all over the world, like with Putin invading Ukraine and the Ukrainian people standing up for their democratic freedom, and tyrants and autocrats on the march everywhere, it’s good to know that we have a strong resurgent democratic spirit in America.”

After an almost two-year investigation, the committee recommended four criminal charges against former President Donald Trump, including conspiracy to defraud the United States and aiding an insurrection. It is not clear if the Justice Department will act on the referral. Last month, Attorney General Merrick Garland appointed special counsel Jack Smith to lead its investigation.

Raskin said the charges are called for “because of the magnitude of the attack on democracy.”

“There was a deliberate attempt by Donald Trump to interfere and obstruct and impede a federal proceeding,” he said. “...There was a conspiracy to defraud the United States, to exchange an honest-to-goodness presidential election for a counterfeit election complete with fake electors, and forcible violence being used to overthrow the process.”

January 6, 2021, was a disaster for the American Right. Despite the emotional satisfaction some felt, the riot at the Capitol discredited President Donald Trump, allowed the Left to call conservatives rioters, justified yet more repression, and forced Republicans who had been investigating the 2020 election into full retreat.

I don't think this is the proper way to frame this incident. January 6th can't be construed to be as a battle of titans in which one happens to have lost.

Clearly, it was a very transparent set-up of a classically manipulated crowd of simpletons, orchestrated in order to cap the election fraud of 2020 and the treasonous undermining of a US president by all government agencies (to include the propaganda arm, the MSM). Par for the course for federal agencies abroad and now coordinated together domestically as well.

When you consider the long-term planning which went into setting up Russia to invade Ukraine (activities set in motion before 2005, and running uninterrupted through all administrations), and the unprecedented US response, setting the whole world on war footing with budgets on the scale of fighting world wars, then it becomes very clear that Trump could not have been allowed at the controls during the time when the plan to destroy Russia and on a world scale was going to reach the kinetic level.

Any narrative that doesn't include the fundamental aspect of the greater context into consideration (like this article) is in my opinion willfully misleading.

But no one seems to want to know what really happened and understand what went wrong: ...

“Wrong”? Nothing went wrong. Clearly, that was the plan. For a journalist to ask that question on January 7th 2020, may have seemed reasonable for formulating an objective framework for making the case; to ask this question today is a ridiculous obfuscation of the entire context.

Jan 6 was not the signal event marking end of rule of law, and perhaps there isn't one...the degeneration into fascist rule by decree and violence has been gradual... I'd vote for the signal event being perhaps the murder of McKinley, but Lincoln's might do as well...and then naturally the flawed "ratification" of the income tax amendment... the Kennedy murders? Sure...

But Jan 6 rammed home the principle that elections shall henceforth have whatever outcome the nazi gang decides.

This is an unstable condition indicative of proximate sudden change, catastrophic change.

Well, the one feature of life that's inescapable is change...as MacBeth discovered...

Meantime they say that in 404 near Lvov the special nazinatobunker took a Kinzal...

@Beautiful Evidence

excellent list of type a elements .

Three type b elements seem to be missing.
selective prosecution or refusal to prosecute rule of law allowing media to deny 1st amendment rights.
Classified as secret used as defense to excuse information necessary for conviction or prosecution of civil cases.

I read that many shops are closing and have closed, including Walmarts (never seen one), so the 'people' responsible for that will start whining about how they need free stuff shipped in, on account of how they're victims who wuz Kangs and Kweens by rights. LoL.

Trump could have pardoned every person arrested for the January 6 Reichstag Fire incident. He was still President and he knew what was going on. Voting for Trump again would be like a woman remarrying the guy who had abused her for years and from whom she'd finally been able to free herself.

Trump now sounds like a guy who was surprised that the election was stolen from him, because the Left had promised that he'd be there for eight years to screw up the Right. He's the bank robber who had his cut reduced after the crime. The established politicians have been shocked since 2015 by how much the people really hate them and have been treading water ever since with one or another action to save their racket.

Trump's election was only one of those. The January 6 mini purge was another.

If Trump were a true leader, he would have used his full power to pardon.

I'm probably behind the curve on this meta topic, but I notice some people, including in the dissident right call his attire 'viking horns'.

It's not clear if this some confused fail of perception, or some lame needless postmodern descriptive activism going on here by our own people or, also our enemies trying to attach a particularly white European symbolic culpability to this. (It's also not clear to me if Chansley is fully white, I've seen it said he's a Jew...I have no idea)

It's obviously blatantly supposed to resemble American Indian headdress, or what is popularly assumed to be such. It's not that Chansley was trying to be one exactly, but he's using some fun symbols of America and the American experience. And I think it was good choice.

Thank God it wasn't fake viking horns with the helmet, it would have looked crap and probably got him another 5 years.

Chansley himself even said it's inspired by American Indian costume. Not that he needed to. It was immediately obvious to anyone. And it doesn't look anything like popular depictions of vikings.

I expect someone's going to fagsplain, "ackshully American Indians stole this idea from European images of vikings" or something like that or these were "fake Injuns created by Jewish Hollywood".

Do you know, it really doesn't matter ? Popular perception matters. There's nothing to be gained by trying to relabel this, whatever the intentions.

@Chriss

In that Raskin video, I had to notice the very attractive woman on the right. It reminds me of my days working as a staffer on Capital Hill. All of us staffers quickly became fully aware of the perks of being a Member or a Senator. The perks included an unlimited number of romantic partners of their choice. It was Hollywood East, except that the Members and Senators could use tax money to pay off disappointed accusers.

That feature of American Democracy came out briefly in 2017 or thereabouts and there were a raft of Republican resignations and retirement announcements, including that of the Speaker of the House at the height of his political success. Keep those facts in mind. When an ugly Jewish kid can claw his way into Congress and have his pick of very lovely women who may not be Jewish, what more does he need? Membership IS the purpose.
