Brzy ráno 3. května byl Kreml napaden dvěma výbušnými drony, a přestože je obrana zničena, ruská vláda tvrdila, že incident byl pravděpodobně pokusem o atentát na prezidenta Vladimira Putina. V té době jsem byl skeptický, ale když byl o několik dní později vyslýchán Ray McGovern, zdálo se, že to obvinění bere vážně. Vzhledem k jeho 27 letům jako analytik CIA, včetně funkce vedoucího sovětské politické skupiny, mám tendenci věřit jeho úsudku v těchto věcech:

Watch Video At: <https://youtu.be/yalhF6qTpJI>

Ačkoli za útok bezpilotním letounem byly pravděpodobně zodpovědné proukrajinské síly, naše vláda poskytuje veškeré jejich financování, zpravodajské informace a kontrolu a takový významný čin musel být plně schválen nejvyššími americkými představiteli. Náměstkyně ministra zahraničí Victoria Nulandová je neoconem odpovědným za ukrajinské záležitosti a McGovernová věřila, že to byla ona, kdo podepsal stávku proti Kremlu.

Ruský jaderný arzenál je nejhroživější na světě, o něco větší než náš vlastní , zatímco jeho revoluční hypersonické transportní systémy jsou zcela nezastavitelné. To v současné době dává Moskvě určitou míru strategické převahy, a pokud by Putin nebo jeho nástupce vydal rozkaz, většina naší populace by mohla být zničena během několika hodin. Přestože Putin nastoupil do úřadu na konci roku 1999 a u moci strávil více než dvacet let, současná obliba Putina přesahuje 80 % , což je více než dvojnásobek ve srovnání s prezidentem Josephem Bidenem, takže jeho smrt nebo vážné zranění mohou mít světoborné následky. .

Vzhledem k pokračující vojenské konfrontaci mezi Ruskem a NATO ve válce na Ukrajině je americký útok dronu proti Kremlu a Putinovi mimořádně lehkomyšlnou a pošetilou akcí. Co bychom si mysleli, kdyby Sověti zaútočili na Bílý dům na vrcholu kubánské raketové krize v roce 1962? Ale mimořádně lehkomyšlné a pošetilé činy se v posledních letech staly americkou specialitou, zejména včetně našeho zničení plynovodů Nord Stream , snad nejdůležitější evropské civilní energetické infrastruktury.

Brzy po vypuknutí ukrajinské války na začátku roku 2022 naše politické a mediální elity obou stran začaly hanit Putina jako „dalšího Hitlera“, přičemž přední představitelé médií a nejvyšší američtí senátoři hlasitě volali po atentátu na ruského prezidenta.

Americká Pravda: Putin jako Hitler?

Taková prohlášení jsou obzvláště provokativní vzhledem k tomu, že jen dva roky předtím jsme veřejně zavraždili předního íránského vůdce při útoku dronem. V té době jsem varoval před extrémně nebezpečnými důsledky pro naše budoucí vztahy s Ruskem:

Americký atentát na generála Qassema Soleimaniho z Íránu 2. ledna byl událostí obrovského okamžiku.

Generál Soleimani byl nejvyšší vojenskou postavou ve svém 80milionovém národě a legendární 30letou kariérou jednou z nejpobulárnějších a nejuznávanějších.

Většina analytiků ho co do vlivu zařadila na druhé místo za ajatolláhem Alím Chameneím, starším íránským nejvyšším vůdcem, a široce se objevovaly zprávy, že byl vyzván, aby se ucházel o prezidentský úřad ve volbách v roce 2021.

Okolnosti jeho mírové smrti byly také docela pozoruhodné. Jeho vozidlo bylo spáleno raketou amerického bezpilotního letounu Reaper poblíž íráckého mezinárodního letiště Bagdád těsně poté, co tam přiletěl pravidelným komerčním letem k mírovým jednáním původně navrženým americkou vládou.

Naše hlavní média stěží ignorovala závažnost tohoto náhlého, nečekaného zabití tak vysoce postavené politické a vojenské osobnosti a věnovala tomu obrovskou pozornost. Asi o den později byla titulní strana mých ranních New York Times téměř celá zaplněna zpravodajstvím o této události a jejích důsledcích, spolu s několika vnitřními stránkami věnovanými stejnému tématu. Později téhož týdne americké národní noviny rekordů přidělily více než jednu třetinu všech stránek své přední části stejnému šokujícímu příběhu.

Ale ani tak hojně pokrytí týmy zkušených novinářů nedokázalo poskytnout incidentu jeho správný kontext a důsledky. Minulý rok Trumpova administrativa prohlásila íránské revoluční gardy za „teroristickou organizaci“, čímž vyvolala širokou kritiku a dokonce výsměch ze strany expertů na národní bezpečnost, kteří byli zděšeni představou klasifikace hlavní složky íránských ozbrojených sil jako „teroristů“. Gen. Soleimani byl vrchním velitelem v tomto orgánu, a to zřejmě poskytlo legální fíkový list pro jeho atentát za bílého dne na diplomatické mírové misi.

Všimněte si však, že Kongres zvažuje legislativu prohláující Rusko za oficiálního státního sponzora terorismu a Stephen Cohen, významný ruský vědec, tvrdil, že žádný zahraniční vůdce od konce druhé světové války nebyl tak masivně démonizován americkými médii jako ruský prezident Vladimir Putin. Po celá léta mnoho rozrušených vědců odsuzovalo Putina jako „nového Hitlera“ a některé prominentní osobnosti dokonce volaly po jeho svržení nebo smrti. Takže jsme nyní jen krůček nebo dva vzdáleni od veřejné kampaně za atentát na vůdce země, jejíž jaderný arzenál by mohl rychle vyhladit většinu americké populace. Cohen opakovaně varoval, že současné nebezpečí globální jaderné války může překročit to, kterému jsme čelili ve dnech kubánské raketové krize v roce 1962, a můžeme jeho obavy zcela zamítnout?

Pokračoval jsem v poznámce, že tato americká politika představovala radikální změnu oproti praxi minulých staletí, kdy velké západní země v 17. století po skončení krvavých náboženských válek opustily používání atentátů.

Teroristický atentát na arcivévodu Františka Ferdinanda, následníka rakousko-uherského trůnu v roce 1914, jistě zorganizovaly fanatické složky srbské rozvědky, ale srbská vláda zuřivě popírala svou spoluúčast a do spiknutí nebyla nikdy přímo zapletena žádná významná evropská mocnost. . Následky zabíjení brzy vedly k vypuknutí 1. světové války, a přestože během několika příštích let zemřelo v zákopech mnoho milionů lidí, bylo by zcela nemyslitelné, aby jeden z hlavních válčících stran uvažoval o atentátu na vedení jiného.

O století dříve zuřily napoleonské války po celém evropském kontinentu po většinu generace, ale nevzpomínám si, že bych v té době četl o žádném vládním atentátu, natož v docela gentlemanských válkách předchozího 18. Fridrich Veliký a Marie Terezie se pohádali o vlastnictví bohaté provincie Slezsko vojenskými prostředky. Nejsem odborníkem na moderní evropské dějiny, ale poté, co vestfálský mír v roce 1648 ukončil třicetiletou válku a uzákonil pravidla vedení války, mě nenapadá žádný tak významný atentát jako generál Soleimani.

Během naší revoluční války George Washington, Thomas Jefferson a naši další Otcové zakladatelé plně uznali, že pokud jejich úsilí selže, budou všichni Britové pověšeni jako rebelové. Nikdy jsem však neslyšel, že by se báli pádu na čepel vraha, ani že by král Jiří III. někdy uvažoval o použití tak podlého způsobu útoku. Během prvního století a více v historii našeho národa téměř všichni naši prezidenti a další vrcholní političtí vůdci vystopovali své předky zpět na Britské ostrovy a politické vraždy byly výjimečně vzácné, přičemž smrt Abrahama Lincolna byla jednou z mála, která přichází na mysl. .

Bohužel, používání takových smrtících opatření bylo nakonec oživeno uprostřed litého ideologického boje druhé světové války, alespoň v některých oblastech. Podle renomovaného historika Davida Irvinga, když Hitlerova tajná služba navrhla pokus o atentát na sovětské vojenské vedení, německý Führer okamžitě zakázal jakékoli takové praktiky, které jsou v rozporu se zákony válčení.

Ale jeho západní oponenti měli méně takových skrupulí. V roce 1941 čeští agenti s pomocí spojenců úspěšně zavraždili zachytila a sestřelila letadlo japonského admirála Isoroku Jamamota. Zdá se však, že některé z nejvyšších cílů, které spojenecké vedení vybralo k odstranění, byly v jejich vlastních řadách.

Reinharda Heydricha v Praze a v roce 1943 americká armáda

Curtis B. Dall byl newyorský burzovní makléř, který byl na počátku 30. let zetěm FDR a později strávil desetiletí jako vedoucí postava v různých antisemitských krajně pravicových politických organizacích. V roce 1967 okrajová křesťanská skupina vydala jeho paměti v levném brožovaném vydání a já jsem náhodou četl tu knihu před třemi nebo čtyřmi lety.

Většina incidentů a příběhů, které Dall vyprávěl, se zdála přiměřeně věrohodná, ale byl jsem velmi překvapen, když tvrdil, že koncem války se americká vláda, možná pod komunistickým vlivem, rozhodla zavraždit čínského prezidenta Čankajška, vůdce největší spojenecké skupiny. národ. Ačkoli úsilí ztroskotalo a projekt byl později opuštěn, nikdy jsem předtím nikde jinde neviděl ani náznak tohoto příběhu a byl jsem velmi skeptický k tak úžasnému tvrzení z dosti pochybného zdroje. Když jsem však o rok nebo dva později četl vynikající historii profesora Seana McMeekina Stalinova válka z roku 2021, poskytl stejnou zprávu, čerpající z memoárů vysokého amerického vojenského velitele působícího v čínském divadle.

Plánem bylo eliminovat Chianga pomocí letecké havárie a podle Irvinga americká a britská vláda také plánovaly v roce 1943 stejný osud pro Charlese de Gaulla, který se ukázal jako velmi nespolupracující ve své podřízené roli vůdce svobodných Francouzů v exilu. . Nicméně, de Gaulle přežil téměř smrtnou nehodu způsobenou sabotáží jeho letadla a poté se stal mnohem opatrnější při cestování letadlem.

Ostatní spojenečtí vůdci měli méně štěstí.

Generál Władysław Sikorski , stejně jako de Gaulle, sídlil v Londýně jako vůdce polské exilové vlády a zpočátku byl jeho vztah s vůdci spojenců dobrý, přičemž mnoho tisíc polských vojáků a letců sloužilo bok po boku s Brity. síly. V roce 1943 však Němci objevili a zveřejnili masakr v Katyňském lese z roku 1940 a odhalili, že Stalin popravil asi 20 000 polských důstojníků, které držel jako válečné zajatce. Sikorski byl pobouřen tímto obrovským válečným zvěrstvem a požadoval úplné vyšetřování Červeného kříže, přičemž se odmítal nechat strhnout sovětským popíráním nebo nepravděpodobným tvrzením, že za to mohou sami Němci. To vedlo Stalina k přerušení vztahů s polskou exilovou vládou a Irving předkládá pádný argumentže nejvyšší spojenečtí vůdci nakonec rozhodli, že zachování životně důležité sovětské válečné aliance vyžaduje Sikorského eliminaci, což vedlo k jeho smrti při podezřelé havárii letadla na Gibraltaru pár měsíců poté, co se de Gaulle jen o vlásek vyhnul stejnému osudu.

Irving také vysvětluje, že v předchozím roce se generál Dwight Eisenhower dohodl s admirálem Françoisem Darlanem , velitelem všech vichistických francouzských sil, a uznal jeho autoritu výměnou za to, že se připojil k věci spojenců; ale spojenecké vedení pak tuto kontroverzní dohodu zrušilo tím, že o několik týdnů později zjevně zorganizovalo Darlanovu vraždu.

Během 2. světové války americká vláda také vložila velmi značné prostředky do vývoje biologických zbraní a to pokračovalo i po skončení konfliktu, i když všechny tyto skutečnosti byly v té době zcela utajeny. Došlo ke značnému překrývání technologií a personálu s jedy a dalšími metodami atentátů, které během tohoto období vyvinula nedávno založená CIA, jak o tom v roce 2019 pojednával uznávaný novinář Stephen Kinser, který také zmínil některé z předních světových vůdců, kteří Vláda se v té době pokusila o atentát.

Toto klima vyhýbání se médiím se však v poslední době začalo měnit. Další silná podpora Bakerovy knihy přišla od Stephena Kinsera, který jen o rok dříve vydal Poisoner in Chief, primárně zaměřený na notoricky známé MK-ULTRA projekty kontroly mysli Dr. Sidneyho Gottlieba, výzkumníka CIA popsáno v názvu. Kinserova kniha přilákala nadšená uznání od držitelů Pulitzerovy ceny Seymoura Hersh a Kai Birda, oba spisovatelé s velkými zkušenostmi v záležitostech zpravodajských služeb, a získala poměrně příznivé recenze v elitních mainstreamových médiích.

Na první pohled se může zdát, že ovládání mysli a biologická válka jsou zcela nepodobná témata, ale ve skutečnosti sdílejí značné oblasti překrývání. Obojí vyžadovalo vytvoření a použití nebezpečných biologických nebo biochemických činidel, které je pak pro maximální účinnost nutné testovat na neochotných lidských subjektech, často nebezpečným nebo smrtelným způsobem. Vzhledem k tomu, že v tomto ohledu zjevně operují mimo hranice normální zákonnosti, zejména v době míru, jejich použití musí být drženo zcela v tajnosti, přirozeně se musí shodovat se sklony zpravodajské agentury, jako je CIA. V celé své knize Kinser zdůrazňoval značné překrývání personálu a zdrojů mezi těmito dvěma doménami. Ve skutečnosti, jako „hlavní travič CIA,

Na rozdíl od dnešní atmosféry odvážných veřejných deklamací však byly všechny předchozí plány amerických vražd z 50. a 60. let před americkým lidem utajeny. A jak jsem vysvětlil v článku, jejich případné odhalení během éry po Watergate vyvolalo obrovský odpor veřejnosti:

Na vrcholu studené války se naše CIA zapojila do různých tajných atentátů na kubánského komunistického diktátora Fidela Castra a dalších zahraničních vůdců považovaných za nepřátelské vůči zájmům USA. Ale když se tato fakta později v 70. letech objevila, vyvolala tak obrovské pobouření veřejnosti a médií, že tři po sobě jdoucí američtí prezidenti – Gerald R. Ford , Jimmy Carter a Ronald Reagan – všichni vydali po sobě následující výkonné příkazy, které absolutně zakazovaly atentáty. CIA nebo jakýkoli jiný agent americké vlády.

Ačkoli by někteří cynici mohli tvrdit, že tato veřejná prohlášení představovala pouhé zdobené oken, recenze knihy z března 2018 v New York Times silně naznačuje opak. Kenneth M. Pollack strávil roky jako analytik CIA a zaměstnanec Národní bezpečnostní rady, poté vydal řadu vlivných knih o zahraniční politice a vojenské strategii za poslední dvě desetiletí. Původně vstoupil do CIA v roce 1988 a svou recenzi zahajuje prohlášením:

Jedna z prvních věcí, které mě naučili, když jsem vstoupil do CIA, bylo, že neprovádíme atentáty. Do nových rekrutů se to vrtalo znovu a znovu.

Přesto Pollack se zděšením poznamenává, že během posledního čtvrtstoletí byly tyto kdysi pevné zákazy postupně vyžírány, přičemž proces se po útocích z 11. září 2001 rychle zrychloval. Zákony v našich knihách se možná nezměnily, ale Dnes se zdá, že z této politiky zbyl jen eufemismus. Už jim neříkáme atentáty. Nyní jsou to „cílené zabíjení“, nejčastěji prováděné útokem dronů, a staly se americkou oblíbenou zbraní ve válce proti terorismu.

Bushova administrativa provedla 47 těchto atentátů pod jiným jménem, zatímco jeho nástupce Barack Obama, ústavní vědec a nositel Nobelovy ceny za mír, zvýšil svůj vlastní celkový počet na 542. Nebezdůvodně si Pollack klade otázku, zda se atentát stal „ velmi účinný lék, ale [ten, který] léčí pouze symptomy, a nenabízí tedy žádný lék.“

Americká politika tak v posledních několika desetiletích sledovala znepokojivou trajektorii ve využívání atentátů jako nástroje zahraniční politiky, nejprve omezila jeho použití pouze na nejextrémnější okolnosti, poté se zaměřila na malý počet významných „teroristů“ skrývajících se v nerovném terénu a poté eskalaci stejných zabíjení na mnoho stovek. A nyní za prezidenta Trumpa byl učiněn osudný krok, kdy si Amerika nárokovala právo zavraždit jakéhokoli světového vůdce, který se nám nelíbí, kterého jednostranně prohlásíme za hodného smrti.

Pollack udělal svou kariéru jako Clintonův demokrat a je nejlépe známý svou knihou The Threatening Storm z roku 2002 , která silně podporovala prezidentem Bushem navrhovanou invazi do Iráku a měla obrovský vliv na vytváření podpory obou stran pro tuto nešťastnou politiku. Nepochybuji o tom, že je oddaným zastáncem Izraele a pravděpodobně spadá do kategorie, kterou bych volně popsal jako „levý Neocon“.

Ale když si prohlíží historii dlouhého používání atentátů ze strany Izraele jako základního pilíře své národní bezpečnostní politiky, zdá se, že je hluboce znepokojen tím, že Amerika nyní může následovat stejnou hroznou cestu. O necelé dva roky později naše náhlá vražda nejvyššího iránského vůdce ukazuje, že jeho obavy mohly být značně podceňovány.

V posledních letech se tedy atentát stal standardním nástrojem americké politiky, často veřejně deklarovaným. To přirozeně snížilo práh pro jeho použití, což možná vedlo naši vládu k tomu, že se nyní zaměřila na politického vůdce ovládajícího největší jaderný arzenál světa, což je možnost, která by byla během původní studené války naprosto nepředstavitelná.

K tomuto znepokojivému trendu amerického chování může přispět ještě jeden faktor. Jak jsem nedávno diskutoval, během posledních tří desetiletí neokonzervativci získali nad naší národní bezpečnostní politikou sevření obou stran, a ať už jsou konkrétní jednotlivci Židé, nebo ne, všichni byli úzce spojeni s podporou Izraele a sionistické ideologické věci. .

Neocons a jejich vzestup k moci

Jedním zvláště problematickým aspektem tohoto mocného izraelského ideologického vlivu byla dlouhá sionistická historie používání atentátů, a to jak před, tak po vytvoření Státu Izrael. Začátkem roku 2020 mě naše zabití Solemaini přimělo publikovat velmi obsáhlou prezentaci této důležité, ale dlouho skryté historie, z níž byl tento odstavec a mnohé z předchozích úryvků čerpány:

Příklon pravicovějších sionistických frakcí k atentátům, terorismu a dalším formám v podstatě kriminálního chování byl vskutku pozoruhodný. Například v roce 1943 Shamir zorganizoval atentát na svého rivala z frakce , rok poté, co oba muži společně utekli z vězení za bankovní loupež, při níž byli zabiti přihlížející, a tvrdil, že jednal, aby odvrátil plánovaný atentát na Davida. Ben-Gurion, nejvyšší sionistický vůdce a budoucí zakládající premiér Izraele. Shamir a jeho frakce určitě pokračovali v tomto druhu chování do 40. let 20. století, kdy úspěšně zavraždili lorda Moyna, britského ministra pro Blízký východ, a hraběte Folkeho Bernadotta, mírového vyjednavče OSN, i když ve svých ostatních pokusech o zabití selhali. Americký prezident Harry Truman a britský ministr zahraničí Ernest Bevin a jejich plány na atentát na Winstona Churchilla zřejmě nikdy nepřekročily fázi diskuse. Jeho skupina také propagovala použití teroristických automobilových bomb a dalších výbušných útoků proti nevinným civilním cílům, to vše dávno předtím, než Araby nebo muslimy kdy napadlo použít podobnou taktiku ; a Beginova větší a „umírněnější“ sionistická frakce udělala v podstatě totéž.

Měli bychom si také uvědomit realitu, že během posledních sedmdesáti let Amerika udržovala největší a nejlépe financovaný program biologické války na světě, přičemž naše vláda během těchto desetiletí utratila mnoho desítek miliard dolarů na biologickou válku/biologickou obranu. A jak jsem diskutoval v dlouhém článku, existují dokonce značné důkazy, že jsme skutečně použili tyto nelegální zbraně během velmi obtížného prvního roku korejské války.

American Pravda: Vedení biologické války

Ron Unz • Recenze The Unz • 9. srpna 2021 • 7 500 slov

Brzy po své invazi Rusové veřejně tvrdili , že USA zřídily na Ukrajině sérii biolaboratoří, které připravovaly biologické válečné útoky proti jejich zemi. Minulý rok jeden z jejich nejvyšších generálů prohlásil , že globální epidemie Covidu byla pravděpodobně výsledkem záměrného amerického biologického útoku proti Číně a Íránu, což zopakovalo obvinění, která tyto země dříve vznesly.

Ruské bezpečnostní obavy ohledně našich vyspělých biologických schopností a extrémní lehkomyšlnost, s jakou bychom je mohli použít, mohou vysvětlit poněkud zvláštní chování prezidenta Putina, když se krátce před vypuknutím krize setkal v Moskvě na jednání s francouzským prezidentem Emmanuelem Macronem a německým kancléřem Olafem Scholzem. Ukrajinská válka.

V té době bylo mnoho pozorovatelů zmateno, proč v každém případě tito dva národní vůdci seděli na opačných koncích velmi dlouhého stolu, přičemž Putin nenuceně naznačil, že umístění mělo symbolizovat obrovskou vzdálenost oddělující Rusko a západní vůdce NATO. Možná bylo to neškodné vysvětlení správné. Ale považuji za mnohem pravděpodobnější, že se Rusové ve skutečnosti obávali, že západní vůdci, kteří se s ním setkali, by mohli být imunizovanými nosiči nebezpečného biologického činidla určeného k infikování jejich prezidenta.

Vezmeme-li v úvahu totální šílenství, které americké vládnoucí elity v posledních letech předvedly, těžko můžeme Rusům vyčítat, že přijali tak neobvyklá opatření, aby zajistili Putinovu bezpečnost. To platí zejména proto, že v dnešním Rusku je nominální a skutečná politická moc spojena, což je velmi odlišná situace, než jaká se často vyskytuje v Americe nebo na velké části Západu, jak jsem poznámek v roce 2015 .

Dnes, když se podíváme na velké země světa, vidíme, že v mnoha případech jsou oficiální vůdci také vůdci ve skutečnosti: Vladimir Putin střílel v Rusku, Si Ťin-pching a jeho přední kolegové z politbyra dělají totéž v Číně a tak dále. . Zdá se však, že v Americe a v některých dalších západních zemích tomu tak je stále méně, přičemž nejvyšší národní osobnosti jsou pouze atraktivními frontmany vybranými pro svou lidovou přitažlivost a svou politickou poddajnost, což je vývoj, který může mít nakonec hrozné důsledky pro národy, které vedou. Extrémním příkladem je opilý Boris Jelcin, který svobodně dovolil drancovat celé ruské národní bohatství hrstkou oligarchů, kteří tahali za jeho nitky, Vzhledem k této situaci si myslím, že je pro svět – a naši vlastní zemi – velkým štěstím, že Rusko i Čína jsou v současné době vedeny extrémně obezřetnými a pragmatickými jedinci ochotnými vzdát se jakéhokoli cyklu odvetné eskalace. Ale vládnoucí politické elity DC by si měly uvědomit, že jejich vlastní osoby jen stěží zůstanou trvale posvátné před strašlivými silami, které, jak se zdá, až příliš touží uvést do pohybu.

“One particularly problematical aspect of this powerful Israeli ideological influence has been the long Zionist history of the use of assassination, both before and after the creation of the State of Israel.”

“Why haven’t the Palestinians found their Gandhi?”

Because every one of their Gandhis was promptly assassinated.

“But if the Palestinians would just protest peacefully!”

Yeah, they’ve been there and done that. The peaceful protesters are quickly dispatched by a hail of sniper fire and foreign media makes the Israelis out to be the victims.

Everything really comes down to who controls the media and how they frame conflicts. Everything.

Agreed. The actual Powers That Be would be delighted — elated — to get rid of Putin, and wouldn't care one whit how it's done. So long as they get away with it, and if nothing else the latest revelations about how the CIA worked with the FBI to fix the last presidential election show that they're not worried about much.

Larry Johnson believes that after the recent ambush of the Special Air Group in the Bryansk region within Russia, that Russia will be forced to take off the gloves and target NATO ISR assets directly. And we could likely see a major escalation and direct NATO-Russia conflict. A lot of the smart commenters on Johnson's blog say Russia has probably gamed this out already.

However, I have never heard that they feared falling to an assassin's blade, nor that King George III ever considered using such an underhanded means of attack.

The Plot to Kill George Washington

<https://www.smithsonianmag.com/history/plot-kill-george-washington-180970729/>

At the start of the Revolutionary War, the governor [appointed by the royal government] and the mayor of New York, both British loyalists, successfully turned some of Washington's personal guards against him. They were ready to strike, but Washington found out. The conspirators were arrested and interrogated in secret. Then Washington gathered 20,000 troops and citizens in an open field and had one ringleader hanged for all to see. That sent a clear message to the Loyalists without revealing the plot.

I'm not going to give the Brits a bit of credit for clean hands on assassinations. My search on the topic found two other instances instantly:

When the British Tried to Assassinate Napoleon and Did Britain try to assassinate Lenin?

The US targeting of Yamamoto was a big mistake – in my own view. The man was making so many mistakes that leaving him in place would have been a wiser decision. IMO it came down to simple vengeance for the Pearl Harbor attack.

I'd never heard of the attempts to kill Chiang Kai-shek or Charles de Gaulle, but I've no reason to doubt the tale. My opinion of the top Allied leaders in WW2 has taken a nose dive in recent years.

Given the total madness that America's ruling elites have exhibited in recent years, we can hardly blame the Russians for taking such unusual precautions to ensure Putin's safety.

This is the precise reason I don't think it's prudent to speculate about any current "statesmen" who might be in danger of exiting Life prematurely. Despite the fact that some appear to be at much greater risk of doing so than others.

But the ruling political elites of DC should recognize that their own persons are hardly likely to remain permanently sacrosanct from the terrible forces they seem all too eager to set into motion.

Where does Nuland like to eat in DC?

Also, you forgot to mention Gen. Patton's assassination by the OSS.

These articles themselves are very potent in a way different from drones or poison – they send neocon readers into tizzies. They cause mental anguish in such subjects, who are then less able to deny/justify reckless and evil USG behavior.

The American oligarchs were angered when Putin took over from the alcoholic Yeltsin and put a stop to the plundering of Russia's natural resources by the West. Ever since the Zionist neocons, who themselves harbor a deep and historic hatred of the Slavic people, have been scheming a way to topple Putin and carve up The Russian Federation into smaller, more easily exploited countries, so as to grasp the bounty of Russia's natural resources. Thus you have the proxy war against Russia via Ukraine, instigated and guided by the Zionist neocon Nuland and her Zionist neocon husband Kagan. The fact remains that very powerful Jews in the Biden Administration and in the private sector seek to weaken Russia and implement regime change, as they did in the Ukraine. As a result a White nation has been destroyed and hundreds of thousands killed or crippled in this vile game of geopolitical aggression underlain with ethnic and racial hate.

If it wasn't a false flag, it is all but certain that the 'attack' on the Kremlin was the result of a local rogue. Someone strapped an IED to a delivery drone. A disgruntled Ukrainian emigre, for example. Russians aren't quite as pathetic as Americans and sometimes use actions to express themselves, not merely words.

American leaders sacrosanct? What is Mr. Unz saying?

The same people behind the scenes who assassinated JFK and RFK (and Dag Hammarskjöld, Patrice Lumumba, Chris Hani, Muammar Gaddafi, etc.) are now thinking on a much grander scale and clearly working (as with Fauci's virus and bioweapons labs in Ukraine) to kill hundreds of millions. Mr. Unz implies this in this very article but fails to name the motive: RELIGION.

The motives of the Talmudists to kill or enslave everybody except THE CHOSEN have been clear since 1242 A.D., when King Louis IX put the talmudists on trial and, upon conviction for their genocidal plots, ordered the public burning of every copy of the talmudic writings in France (10,000 of them!). The talmudists were allowed to defend their position and they lost in a fair trial!

If Louis IX could see it, why can't Mr. Unz? Fauci's motives, like those of Karl Marx, Kissinger, and Chomsky before him are not money or power or reason (this is a fake pass) but RELIGION, which fact appears to be Mr. Unz's blind spot. This will get him in trouble pretty soon (meaning a kind of discrediting that is not becoming to him) unless he wakes up.

To see how the talmudists got going more way more than ONE THOUSAND YEARS AGO with their endless genocidal plots against THE OTHER, read this:

Thank you Ron Unz for this spectacular analysis.

The “malleability” of Western political leaders is precisely the problem. And following up on the Zionist “traditional” use of assassination, I would add that behind those malleable “leaders” we have a Talmud problem.

The criminal oligarchy which, it seems to many, clearly controls the Collective West, coordinating its corporate media, its MIC, its financial sector, and its government officials (elected and appointed), has an exceptional and dangerous animosity toward the people of the Collective West. Thus it is relentless in its deception of the people, in its financial swindles, and in its destructive wars for profit. And it stokes internal chaos in its divide & conquer strategy.

The relentless nature of its animosity comes from the Talmud. The Talmud tells its followers they may deceive, cheat, rob, and murder non-Jews with impunity. This attitude of impunity derives from the premise that non-Jews have animal souls, and were created only to serve Jews. A corollary is that all non-Jews’ property actually belongs to the Jews. Jewish Israeli scholar and whistleblower Israel Shahak has explained this in his book Jewish History, Jewish Religion: The Weight of Three Thousand Years

<https://ifamericaknew.org/curl/sit/shahak.html>

Ron Unz has a more abbreviated discussion of this in his article American Pravda: Oddities of the Jewish Religion

<https://www.unz.com/runz/american-pravda-oddities-of-the-jewish-religion/>

This criminal oligarchy and Talmudist Cult maintains control with bribery, blackmail, and assassination. For example,

American Pravda: Mossad Assassinations

<https://www.unz.com/runz/american-pravda-mossad-assassinations/>

On anniversary of Shireen Abu Akleh's death, new report details Israel's history of killing reporters with impunity

How the CIA, Mossad and "the Epstein Network" are Exploiting Mass Shootings to Create an Orwellian Nightmare

<https://www.mintpressnews.com/cia-israel-mossad-jeffrey-epstein-orwellian-nightmare/261692/>

Some of this Talmudist cult's history is described at

War Profiteer Story

<https://warprofiteerstory.blogspot.com>

Attempts to honestly discuss these facts are met with a barrage of "anti-Semitism" accusations. It is now widely accepted, including by Jewish anti-Zionists, that these accusations are completely baseless, are never backed up with evidence, and are merely an intimidation tactic.

Any discussion of these facts is a double red line for this Talmudist Mafia because it will lead to the unraveling of their many gigantic lies and crimes. For example, the standard story of today's Israel taught to the Collective West is a complete fiction. In reality, the Zionists were the terrorists, not the Palestinians. For example,

Terrorism: How the Israeli state was won

<http://mondoweiss.net/2017/01/terrorism-israeli-state>

War Profiteers and the Roots of the 'War on Terror'

<https://warprofiteerstory.blogspot.com/p/war-profiteers-and-roots-of-war-on.html>

We see this Talmudist doctrine most openly on display in their treatment of the Palestinians, killing and robbing them with arrogant impunity. The Talmudist cult, with its messianic goal of ruling the world from Jerusalem, is keeping the war against Russia going in the Ukraine, against all facts, reason, and justice. As Zelensky has announced, they want to make Ukraine a "Big Israel". And just as they want the West Bank in Palestine, they want the Donbass in Ukraine, Ukraine's most valuable part.

It is they who are stimulating the threats against China. It is they who are orchestrating the repeated financial crises that impoverish populations while enriching themselves. It is they who stoke the distracting political kabuki theater, derailing sane discussions and cooperation. It is they who are precipitating the multiple migration crises through their destruction of the economies in those migrants' home countries.

The signs of criminals controlling our financial system are plentiful. Economist Michael Hudson recently discussed this.

"The financial system is external to the economy. It's like a parasite on the economy, using the government as a means of extracting money from the economy or using its own money-creation abilities to make sure that it creates enough money to make sure that the wealthy financial institutions cannot lose."

4 US Banks Crash in Two Months; Banking Crisis Explained

<https://www.unz.com/mhudson/4-us-banks-crash-in-two-months-banking-crisis-explained/>

Economist Catherine Austin Fitts' describes how our financial system is a criminal operation, in a discussion with Kim Iversen. "They're after your Kids" – The Real Agenda Behind The Great Reset | A Conversation with Catherine Austin Fitts
<https://rumble.com/v2m8tig-may-5-2023.html>

Mitch Feierstein describes his pragmatic financial view of the problem in this discussion on The Duran. Planet Ponzi w/ Mitch Feierstein
<https://rumble.com/v2mvfta-planet-ponzi-w-mitch-feierstein-live.html>

Controlling the banking system and the money supply enables swindles on a far vaster scale than controlling the pork bellies market. It enables owning the entire mainstream media, most of the Congress, the MIC, Big Tech, Big Pharma, etc. It enables deceiving the public through a chorus of professional con artists in the media, corporations, and politics. It enables a Surveillance State, with its efforts to micromanage the life of every individual.

We are living in a situation similar to some in the past which gave rise to the stereotype of Jewish financiers controlling a country's media and the politicians.

We need people with the courage to stand up to the bribery, the blackmail, and the assassination threats. Confiscating all their ill-gotten gains (a "criminal gains" tax) would help right our economy. Ending their managed ignorance of our population would help our society flourish. The Talmudist Mafia depends upon secrecy and a few traitorous collaborators. But ultimately they are a tiny minority.

The Golden Rule – treat others as you would want to be treated – underlies the teachings of Jesus, Muhammed, Buddha, Krishna, Confucius, and Lao Tzu. Arguably it also underlies the teachings of Moses. But as Israel Shahak explained (linked above), the Talmud turned it into a “Jews only” rule. Jews are to treat other Jews as they would want to be treated, but treat non-Jews as disposable sub-humans. That is the doctrine that now rules the Collective West, and must be overthrown.

Stephen Cohen, the eminent Russia scholar, has argued that no foreign leader since the end of World War II has been so massively demonized by the American media as Russian President Vladimir Putin. For years, numerous agitated pundits have denounced Putin as “the new Hitler,” and some prominent figures have even called for his overthrow or death.

I am hardly a specialist in modern European history, but after the 1648 Peace of Westphalia ended the Thirty Years War and regularized the rules of warfare, no assassination as high-profile as that of Gen. Soleimani comes to mind.

Slobodan Milosevic was demonized even more (and all Serbs), tortured in The Hague and finally killed. Previously, during the bombing of Serbia, his house was hit with a Tomahawk launched from US aircraft carrier in Adriatic Sea with intention to kill him.

Yes, the Americans have all the means and motives to kill Putin. But flying a drone over the Kremlin is the same as flying one over the White House. Hitting the cupola doesn't mean killing folks meeting in some secure room downstairs. And was Putin even there at the time? A light burning in Big Ben signifies that the British parliament is in session:

<https://www.parliament.uk/about/living-heritage/building/palace/big-ben/news/restoring-the-ayrton-light/>

Neither the White House nor the Kremlin have such announcement lights, as far as i know, and Putin needn't be present at all of these meetings. His itinerary and exact whereabouts will be inside knowledge for a chosen few only. The exploding drone didn't produce a huge blast. It wouldn't have blown off the doors of an armored money transport van.

You could argue that this was a warning. Or a provocation, humiliation, insult or rattling of cages. The US would perhaps do that to an armed faction leader or a mid level foreign politician, but not to the leader of a peer nuclear power. That would be adolescent, as the relations between Putin and Biden are already perfectly clear and utterly hostile and tense, on the brink of a nuclear conflict. A warning is something the mafia does to a citizen or judge, a superpower just goes ahead and does the damage it wants to inflict, adding shock and awe to the mix. Warning a mutual super power would mean that the threatened party would double its preparations and decide on devastating steps right from the start.

The US would not announce attempts to kill Putin. They would just carry them out, preferably by proxy and packed in a lot of distractions. Just like Nordstream. Targeting Putin on his home soil would be stupid. A powerful rocket, killing Putin and much of his government, would be seen by the military commands as a direct attack on Russia itself, and they would unleash gruesome retaliation. Already, most of the Russian population and military top urge Putin to be harder on the West and be less diplomatic, so others with the authority to push nuclear buttons will be found quickly, if Putin is dead and Russia under attack. That's why the US is more likely to look for opportunities when Putin is abroad. A meeting in Saudi Arabia would be an option. Arrange for a hired expert group to fire something odd like a Chinese rocket on Putin and the prince at the same time. Something like that.

The original plane did crash from a bomb explosion in the South China Sea. Most Asians pointed to both Chiang and the CIA for the assassination attempt.

Many Africans blame the US for the death of Lumumba when the West’s puppet Mobutu staged a coup and killed the Congolese Prime Minister by firing squad. It was, however, the UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold who died from the classic plane crash. Hammarskjold was apparently hot on the trail of finding evidence that could incriminate those who subverted the Republic of Congo and had its first president shot.

There is also a pragmatic reason to ban the killing of the enemy's president (aka King). If the King believes he faces certain death in defeat, then he has no reason to accept a compromise peace. That leads to senseless slaughter and barbarism.

This topic was deeply explored by Christian scholars during the Middle Ages. It formed a basis for limiting warfare's destruction.

It's tragic that at least since WWII, our leadership has abandoned all pretense of Jus in Bello. Their barbaric attitude towards civilians is horrifying.

Where “the bulk of” equals “100% of”. No American would survive an all-out Russian thermonuclear attack; and no other kind could happen.

The Russians will not launch a thermonuclear counter-attack unless they are already being attacked with thermonuclear weapons, or Russia itself is in danger of being destroyed in some other way. Under such circumstances, they would unleash everything.

As Mr Putin said, “Who would want to live in a world without Russia?” Ironic of course, as people like Nuland would love to. His point is that under no circumstances will they get that chance.

I have never heard this story before but I think it is plausible. Madame Chiang Kai-Shek spent most of the last years of her life unsuccessfully trying to sue for the return of the Republic of China's gold which had been kept in the United States for "safe-keeping."

You paint a very gloomy picture of the world where so far Australia has not managed to find a way to disentangle itself from the hoped for protection of the US..

Still the quibbles are more interesting. I can't agree with your assessment of Putin as cautious and pragmatic. I suppose murdering people can count but hardly plunging ahead with the death and destruction of his SMO after s big show of humiliating his advisers who may have been a little more cautious.

If you conclude that the alleged assassination attempt on Putin was nothing of the kind, even if it did happen to be, not a false flag, but some pro Ukraine activists or other partisan dissenters creating a lively show of defiance.

I also note that it must be hard to remain a doubter of the Russian state's (and therefore Putin's) pragmatic willingness to engage in targeted poisonings such as thoe directed against the Skripals ("don't think you are going to get away with it" was the message), Navalny and Litvinenenko.

Is it not surprising BTW that there haven't been more murder-suicides of the difficult targets. Putin does seem to be cautious about any danger from someone getting close to him. An elderly cancer sufferer using a walking frame is just one if the many disguises of a suicide bomber one could imagine. And the tipping point for decision could be a large payment to the killer's family.

It is hardly surprising that as U.S. foreign policy has become more closely aligned with Israel's that we might follow their lead in killing foreign leaders and even prominent physicists in Iran.

The principle of diplomatic immunity is ancient and has always protected prominent government officials as well as diplomats and emissaries of every kind. With the assassination of General Soleimani Trump sank into the gutter with Israel's most psychopathic Prime Ministers such as Shamir, Sharon and Netanyahu.

By killing Soleimani Trump was transparently pandering to the Jewish vote in the 2020 election. Will murder and terrorism become part of each Party's platform in next year's election?

In spite of your interesting essay highlighting the reckless behavior of the USA in the department of assassinations, I think this particular case, the drone attack on the Kremlin, had the objective to cause a large fire (starting at rooftops) that would be presented with great fanfare in Western media and spoil Victory Day celebrations. This failed but then the Russians exaggerated it as an attempt on Putin's life to scare Ukrainian leadership over retaliation.

Good comment! And though I think you're right, I also think that it's become pretty obvious that Full Spectrum Dominance is really just Full Spectrum Destruction. The latter making the former an impossibility.

Of course Supremacy Inc., or Zionism, is interested in controlling all of the human and natural resources it can, and is obviously willing to destroy whatever stands in its way, but it doesn't seem to have much interest and ability in managing what it controls. The result is that it's losing control.

The reason is that Supremacy Inc. is operating in the realm of the absolute. Everything is top-down with them. So there is no feedback and correction, the source of human adaptability. They could get away with this in the 20th century. But this rigid top-down approach is fast reaching an adaptationally intolerable level. One can see this in US foreign, domestic and economic policies. This Devil's Pitchfork, as it were, seems to be melting in the virtual hellfire it's being put through.

Put baldly, Supremacy Inc. is like a person of such fixed orientation toward the world that it can not adapt its orientation to changing situations, which necessarily require a restructuring of its interests. Like Milton's God, Supremacy Inc. is becoming increasingly dark with excessive bright, a phrase I never understood until now. Thanks to Supremacy Inc., of course.

All of this is to say that it could not be more obvious that the only real existential threat to the world is Supremacy Inc. The question becomes, What to do about it? Or, What can be done about it? This is arguably the most important question in the world today.

Dear Mr. Unz,

Thanks for this article.

In view of what you are arguing, I should think it is also highly likely that the assassinations of some European politicians (after all, Europe is merely a bunch of US satrapies) were also carried out either directly or under the auspices of US agencies.

I am referring to the killings of, for instance Swedish Prime Minister Olof Palme and Pim Fortuyn of the Netherlands. The latter, a very charismatic figure who in 2002 was widely anticipated to win the upcoming national elections, was assassinated by “a lone gunman” one day after he had a long conversation with the US ambassador, who tried to talk him out of reneging on the deal to buy Lockheed JSF (F-35) fighters for the Dutch Air Force. An extra argument for eliminating Fortuyn was his openly gay lifestyle, which to a great extent made him impervious to blackmail.

The death of charismatic Jörg Haider, who was widely believed to become leader of Austria and to lead his country in directions that were running counter to what the US and the Fourth Reich of the EU had in mind, is also widely assumed to have actually been an assassination.

Haider’s car had seemingly been tampered with, which makes his death in a way similar to that of Lady Di in that Parisian tunnel.

An indispensable source now on the Ukraine conflict is sometimes-Unz-author Rolo Slavskiy, who just covered the important meeting of the Russian 'Angry Patriots Club', most notably involving Igor 'Strelkov' Girkin, the hero of the 2014 Donbass rebellion sidelined by Putin when he was getting too successful against Kiev way back then.

<https://roloslavskiy.substack.com/p/the-strelkov-angry-patriots-club>

These 'Angry Patriots' are doomers suggesting that all these Western voices like Ray McGovern, Scott Ritter etc are in fact uninformed about how desperate & disastrous the Russian side of the conflict really is, given the massive corruption in the Russian military establishment outside of Wagner, and the fact that a good portion of the establishment wants to cut a semi-surrender 'deal' with the West. Regarding Putin himself, Strelkov says:

As critical as I am of Putin, right now Putin is the only legitimate figure in the Russian Federation. His overthrow now, the elimination of illness or, as we joke, I'm tired, I'm leaving. It would mean the collapse of the Russian Federation. At the moment there is no one else in Russia who has at least relative legitimacy and enjoys at least relative authority among the population. And he has created this situation himself. Well, what we have is what we have.

They are quite serious that Russia is on the verge of a catastrophe like Yugoslavia, with its 20% minorities – 3/4 of whom are Muslim, many with historical grudges against Russia – and the fact that the Russian Federation is full of militias and private warlord armies, some of them with ethnic groups in the regions, others being militias for oligarch companies like Gazprom.

Great article, and I believe most or all of what is written in it is true, or most likely true. I think there is strong evidence supporting most of what is said, while a very large percentage of what we have otherwise been told is in fact a lie.

I have read some things David Irving has written too, and he's a great author. Too much time has passed now, so most people from the WW II era are now dead, but Irving would sometimes show up at someone's door in Europe who was involved in something, and he would put a question to them. So fascinating to me.

Regarding America's use of assassinations, Mr. Unz wrote:

“There may be another contributing factor to this disturbing trend of American behavior. As I've recently discussed, over the last three decades the Neocons have gained a bipartisan stranglehold over our national security policy, and whether or not the particular individuals are Jewish, they have all been closely aligned with support for Israel and the Zionist ideological cause.”

I agree with that suspicion, and at the risk of being called names, I'll take this a step further. There are treaties such as the Geneva Convention regarding warfare, and as David Irving has written, the holy allies were the ones who more frequently ignored them.

One such instance is terrorist activity. In combat, soldiers are required to wear uniforms that associate them with a particular country or force, and the USSR did not sign the Geneva Convention. Then, during World War II, they used “partisan warfare”, also called terrorists, as a big part of their strategy. This resulted in retaliation by Germany in the form of mass shootings, but the allied version of history excuses Soviet culpability by calling terrorists partisans. The eastern front was the most brutal theater in the war, and I suspect this played a part in that.

My German mother had an unpleasant experience with Russians and Czechs at the end of WW II when she was captured and held with some other women, and she spoke of the Russians having their own way of fighting in war, meaning an unpleasant way. I have my own thoughts on that. I don't know if the Russians behaved that way in World War I. I suspect that with Jews playing such an important role in the USSR, they might have been responsible for the USSR not signing the Geneva Convention and for the USSR using "partisans" as part of their strategy.

Yes, of course I'm familiar with the accusations against Germans and I'm offering a partial explanation for the brutality on the eastern front.

| “...we had publicly assassinated a top Iranian leader in a drone attack.”

Very peculiar – and revealing – to see the use of the word “we” to refer to President Trump, acting upon the interest of Israelis, who promoted him to commit this act.

The video featuring McGovern is full of idle speculation, even though at least he does not categorically discount a false flag, staged by the Russian government. Alternatively, it might have simply been a demonstration or test of the Kremlin’s defense capability in the middle of the night. Aside from that, there are also Russian opposition groups with such drone attack capabilities, an enjoy support among some dissenters within the leadership.

According to subsequent reports, Putin was not even present at that location at the time of the incident, so it is already far-fetched to indulge in a narrative focusing on the topic of assassination, especially because the most basic premise for such an attempt is to ascertain that the targeted person is actually present where one intends to strike. Unfortunately, the author nonetheless focuses almost entirely on his subjective suspicion that the US was likely to blame for this drone event.

One could argue that it is actually in the interest of the US to keep Putin alive for as long as possible because every passing day that he survives leads to an incremental erosion of morale within the Russian leadership and insider class, and among the educated segment of society that has not already fled the country but has been subdued into silence to speak out, due to the totalitarian control mechanism. The additional time also provides an opportunity to regain territory as it incorporates additional military hardware in a planned counter-offensive.

What McGregor said at the beginning of the interview is probably true: “When you’re winning, you don’t need a false flag.”. The corresponding contrapositive statement is that if you deploy a false flag, then you are not winning. However, McGregor is apparently delusional in his belief that Russia is “winning” the war, however that may be defined. By reasonable analytical accounts, Russia is definitely losing. (A week ago I claimed that this already became apparent after three days, when Russia’s initial coup attempt had failed.) Therefore, McGovern’s distorted assessment, and presumably also that of the author, who says he essentially concurs with McGovern, logically forbids him to entertain the likelihood that the US was not involved.

Leaving aside all the sensationalistic aspects, the narrative presented here essentially derives from the wishful belief that Russia is in an overwhelmingly advantageous position and, by implication, in full control, just when the opposite situation is being acknowledged, even by Russian observers. From these premises, one should conclude that this article is highly biased and unreliable but has a certain degree of entertainment value, to placate those readers who desperately seek to reinforce their continued desire that Russia is currently winning its misguided war.

Well, the president of Belarus is currently ill and missing all public appointments.

It's not impossible for two reasons

a) past history, especially past Israeli/Jewish history and the neocon tail wagging the US dog

b) to a much greater extent Western "leaders" are placeholders. No one believes that US or British policy towards Russia would change were Biden or Rishi Sunak to meet with an unfortunate accident. OTOH Putin is sui generis, a one-off, whose deal with Russian oligarchs was IMHO a personal one.

But in opposition to that idea, the drone looked more like a firework than a killer (though who knows what was in the fire), and president Assad, in some ways a very Putin-like figure, is still intact in Syria.

A lot going on at the moment, with Zelensky/WAPO floating the idea that the Wagner Group head is a traitor to Russia – presumably an attempt to sow FUD and divide the military leadership – the UK/French Storm Shadows already being used, and something I crave your indulgence to ask about here, as Steve is on holiday and takes forever to approve my comments.

There are reports in (as you might expect) pro-Russian Telegram sites saying that elevated gamma-ray readings were recorded in Khmelnytsky, where a missile strike caused a huge explosion a few days back. Theory is that a large amount of DU ammunition supplied by UK and others went up.

New footage of the colossal detonation of an ammunition depot in Khmelnytsky, Ukraine, early this morning. pic.twitter.com/b49ltSWPQ5

— Clash Report (@clashreport) May 13, 2023

Be it ammo or fuel (certainly a lot of secondary detonations on the sound) I thought this was odd in that the “standard” decay pathways I could find didn’t show any gamma radiation from either U-238 or U-235 in their long journey to lead.

Forgetting for a moment what went bang, how radioactive is DU?

DU isn’t bereft of U-235, a/c/t wiki it has about half the amount that normal uranium has.

But even pure U235 only appears to produce alpha and beta in its decay chain, if Wiki is right.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Uranium-235#Natural_decay_chain

However it looks as if the standard decay chain diagrams ignore gamma radiation. Wiki again on U-238 decay chain

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Uranium-238#Radium_series_\(or_uranium_series\))

“when starting with pure ^{238}U , within a human timescale the equilibrium applies for the first three steps in the decay chain only. Thus, for one mole of ^{238}U , 3×10^6 times per second one alpha and two beta particles and a gamma ray are produced”

So 238 grams of U238 (1 mole), not a huge amount, if that stat is kosher, in 1 second 3 million alpha particles, six million beta particles and 3 million gamma rays. That seems like an awful lot of radiation – is it really that much? A single M829A3 DU round as used on Abrams contains 10kg of DU, so IF those figures are correct that’s a lot of radiation.

Also here

http://www-eng.lbl.gov/~shuman/NEXT/MATERIALS&COMPONENTS/Background_measurement/natural-decay-series.pdf

We are told that U235 (still present in DU at about 0.3%) is “a significant gamma emitter”.

So if these sources are right, gamma radiation may be a byproduct of DU conflagration. It should in theory be possible to measure the energy of the gamma rays to see what radionuclide(s) gave rise to them.

We have a few physicists here – what gives? Is DU really that radioactive or is Wiki telling us porkies?

And why don't the decay path diagrams include gamma emission?

Good article, many thanks to Ron.

Please don't forget the assassinations which have taken place within the U.S. which were, most people assume, perpetrated by pro-izzie or izzie-sponsored groups.

One example of such crimes is the case of Alex Odeh, a Palestinian Christian man who taught university courses in the California State Univ. system. The so-called "Jewish Defense League" is the prime suspect. The suspects are living in israel after having fled there after the murder.

please see here: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Alex_Odeh

What is more disgusting: the fact that an American was assassinated within the U.S. for his criticism of izzie policies, or the fact that the 'Merikun gov't won't do a damned thing to disturb the izzie criminals responsible? (hell, American taxpayers probably picked up the tab for the flights to israel!)

Good article, Mr. Unz.

Just three points.

N.S. Germany had large stocks of nerve gas, Sarin, Tabun, and another I forget the name of, Hitler personally forbade their use, though if they'd been used in an obvious (withdraw, drop the gas, win) way at Stalingrad, in particular, they'd have won the battle.

The U.S.A. had no particular expertise in chemical or biological agents at the end of the Pacific war. All of the expertise in the former came from Germany, in the latter, from an Operation Paperclip style recruitment of former members of Japan's Unit 731. This was applied in parts of both China and Korea, until the Korean armistice.

The U.S.A. also very frequently resorted to assassination in Vietnam, generally in ways that did not help their own cause. This started years before Operation Phoenix, and I would guess that many Op. Phoenix targets were wrongly selected, in fact, people whom the NLF and Viet Cong wanted hit.

Willingness has got nothing to do with it. The response is in a manner and time under the totality of the circumstances.

As my previous comments attest, the Iran Air Flight 655 and Pan Am 103 pairing is notable. The USS Vincennes shoots down a commercial airliner, Iran retaliates in the Lockerbie bombing, and the resolve comes in the form of making Libya the dirty dog.

No escalation. Just a bunch of dead innocents to square the books.

The salient details and context surrounding the Soleimani assassination were quickly memory holed. I won't belabor them because nobody listens. Instead, I suggest, with the benefit of hindsight, it's glaringly obvious that if that drone strike had no occurred Trump would have put together the rapprochement with Iran that he had carefully laid the predicate for, beginning with cancelling Obama's deal.

our government provides all their funding, intelligence, and control, and such a momentous act must have been fully authorized by top American officials.

One of the most notable things discovered from the recent intelligence leaks is that the U.S. intelligence community appears to have penetrated and has a much clearer look into the Russian military (largely through SIGINT) than it does into the Ukrainian military, for which it provides ISTAR. Likewise, the leaks make it pretty clear that the Ukrainian government does not reciprocate and does not fully share intelligence with the USG and keeps its own counsel, so it is inaccurate and misleading to suggest that the USG controls or authorizes Ukrainian military and intelligence operations.

People with little to no experience in American foreign relations tend to not realize that American funding and beneficence often do not correlate to similar influence, let alone control of its allies' actions (indeed, William Gleysteen, who was the U.S. ambassador to South Korea in the late '70's, once wrote a book titled, Massive Entanglement, Marginal Influence: Carter and Korea in Crisis, to illustrate this point).

By the way, Mr. Unz, you wrote over two months ago that, if Ukraine will have collapsed "in a month or two," Douglas MacGregor will have been proven right. I checked in with you a month ago and now the second month is up. Has Ukraine collapsed yet?

If it played out as reported then it seems it could have been more of a high profile stunt rather than an actual attempt, getting fairly far inland before being brought down. Were Putin to suddenly pass from the scene (he's been reported dying for years now from this or that disease in the Western media) does anyone think he'd be succeeded by someone softer? They're already committed and are probably getting impatient so the next president would probably be a hardliner who'd ratchet things up.

US openly threatens assassination at present, showing a sense of impunity. Americans don't seem for the most part to question the notion they have the right to roam around the world bombing and invading wherever they please. It must be a cultural deficiency of sorts. Assassinations are killing on a retail level, the wars are killing on a wholesale scale of anonymous low level people. What can one expect from a group that's willing to destroy other countries, cause millions to die and become refugees and try to frame it as doing good deeds as in 'spreading democracy'? It's just gangsterism on a world scale.

There may be another contributing factor to this disturbing trend of American behavior. As I’ve recently discussed, over the last three decades the Neocons have gained a bipartisan stranglehold over our national security policy, and whether or not the particular individuals are Jewish, they have all been closely aligned with support for Israel and the Zionist ideological cause.

Given this situation, I think it is very fortunate for the world—and our own country—that both Russia and China are currently led by extremely cautious and pragmatic individuals willing to forego any cycle of retaliatory escalation. But the ruling political elites of DC should recognize that their own persons are hardly likely to remain permanently sacrosanct from the terrible forces they seem all too eager to set into motion.

The duplicity of the Deep State is horrendous, and they are playing for all the marbles.

Wise words; thanks, Ron.

@JWalters

For Jesus also the “Golden Rule” only applied to those within the fold, and he made it clear at various occasions. His only point of disagreement with the Jewish establishment on that matter is that he found the latter way too open-border and proselyte as regards the fold’s extension, and called for the exclusion of many sects he judged heretical out of the fold, though himself also was willing to admit a few people from outside the Judaic world of then, but only a few and not on an equal basis.

In particular Jesus was most firmly opposed to Philo and Hillel’s hellenized interpretation of the scriptures as a message of universalistic humanism, as in reality that abstract universalism was pushed by the same who had phased out the Jubilees and considered all debts as impervious to cancellation or new deals. Jesus saw a “do good to all” attitude as tantamount to an “open borders” policy forced onto a non-consenting clientele. In particular “love of one’s enemies”, “turn the other cheek” ... applied only within the group and was meant to consolidate the group over the individuals’ particular interests. The latin word used is “inimicus”, people you tend to quarrel with among your frequent acquaintances, or who tend to be disagreeable towards you. Enemies from outside, “hostis”, about whom you knew they worked at destroying your community either militarily or ideologically, were never to be befriended nor to be considered for any fair deal.

And Jesus expressly forbade to even pray or even harbour good feelings for humanity at large, for the Nations (goyim) or for the world. Jesus made it clear that the great mass of humans would always be accursed and bound for final destruction. If anything Jesus was far more rigorous on that matter than most Jews of his times or of now, proclaiming that universalism or attachment to the progress of humanity at large only helped the cause of Pharisaic hypocrisy or that of the Temple's merchants.

That was to be confirmed just later on by the behaviour of the early church as set up by the apostles or by those of claimed of that status, as well as by the church as defended later on by Saint Augustine : people from outside the Church or from the secular world and institutions had to be treated, especially when a Christian was to be involved in the political arena to defend his fold, like the presumed natural-born scoundrels they were by action of the original sin, not like believers, as the latter would always be a numerically negligible minority.

The only point where Jesus might have looked more universalistic than the Jews as we know them know or as Shahak denounced them was that he considered any people he frequently dealt with as his presumed neighbours and de facto fellow souls (unless they explicitly rejected or refused to hear what he said, or proudly indulged in manifest polytheistic customs or pagan-style life, in which case he chased them with physical violence and curses), but that concerned only a few occasional acquaintances bound to remain a minority, never a surrounding population outside from outside the fold. Jesus would in particular have cured the sick and saved the endangered lives among his physical neighbours sent to him by life without checking for their belonging to the right families of origin or school of conduct, but he would have never approved of any kind of universal healthcare system to care for the distant unknown. Anyway the early church always pushed for its adherents to remain among co-believers or co-belongers as systematically as possible and avoid people from outside except under dire necessity, like commerce (in that case customers from outside the fold had to be treated as recommended by the Talmud, that is to say with cheating encouraged), employment or servitude (in that case the boss was to be regarded as God's representative, as the Talmud also commands when goys happen to be bosses or rulers so as to dispose them well towards one's group) as needed for day to day survival. In particular it was none of the lay people's business to convert people in the streets, that was to be done only on the authorities' initiative.

Dear Ron,

Thanks for addressing what is an very important issue for discussion to which the perspective I would like to share is that the Assassination of President Putin would be on the orders of the British Crown, and thus through proxies inclusive of the United States and Israel, and represent an assassination against all nation states, to which Russia represents, through historical ties to the American Revolution and the Union in the Civil War, along with the work with FDR against the Nazi's. And thus it should be understood that FDR was opposed to Churchill and the continuation of the British Empire, and thus the assassination of FDR is plausible relative to the stakes and the fact that Henry Wallace was no longer Vice President.

<https://americansystemnow.com/fdr-versus-the-british-empire/>

And thus it should be further understood that the leading opponent to the British Empire has been since the assassination of the Kennedy's has been by Lyndon LaRouche and his associates around the world, who among other breakthroughs accomplished the rediscovery of the American System of Economics that was made possible through LaRouche's critique of Marx and revival of Rosa Luxembourgs contributions, in a unique coincidence of opposites that resolves the false dialectics controlled by the financial oligarchy with headquarters in London and Wall Street.

And thus it should be noted that this revival of the American System would be of interest to those like Sergi Glazev who is the principle architect of the reapplication of the American System to Russia and through the BRICS and Belt and Road and cooperation with China acting in the same manner, that the general welfare of the people is promoted. And it is this system that is the arch enemy of the British.

Of course assassination of Putin can come with funeral cards delivered by Kinzel need to understand the role of the British in the murder of the Kennedy's, to whom Israeli Zionist fingerprints of the red herrings of Disraeli's gears...so to speak...

The Neocon/Israeli/Zionist angle does serve as a red herring and smelly having passed through Disraeli's gears, for it is the British Empire that the entire great game is the understood leader of the west to which

Targeted assassinations: If the Zionists can do it so can we

It was Putin that started first by putting a hit on Zelensky:

<https://nypost.com/2022/03/01/ukraine-says-it-has-neutralized-chechen-zelensky-hit-squad/>

The dome attack was unlikely an assassination attempt.

He wouldn't be in the senate building and certainly not at night.

Putin rarely makes public appearances and he is known to live in a bunker outside of Moscow.

Most likely a false flag or Russian partisans. It was amateurish just like the bridge attack.

Russians later arrested partisans in the bridge attack and yet some of you were certain it was the CIA.

The bridge would not be standing if it was the CIA. The pipeline sabotage was also amateurish.

If the neocon/communist/zionists think that assassinating Putin would solve their problem with Russia , they are mistaken, the next in line would make Putin look mild in comparison, Russian leadership is far more aggressive toward the war in the Ukraine than Putin has been.

The problem with the ZUS and ZNATO is they are under zionist control and thus the continual wars , beginning with WWI and right on down to the war in the Ukraine, all the wars have been zionist agent provocateur caused wars and these wars have been financed by the zionist privately owned FED and their privately owned collection agency the IRS and when both of these were saddled on America in 1913, the die was casted, for unending wars and unending debt and unending deaths all for the benefit of the zionist banking kabal.

As long as the FED aka central bank and IRS aka graduated income tax exist, which are 2 of the 10 planks of the communist manifesto and are unconstitutional, as long as they exist American will remain slaves on the zionist plantation.

The ZUS is by way of the Act of 1871 a corporation owned by the zionists, if anyone doubts this , tgoogle the Act of 1871 the US is a privately owned corporation, it is a fact.

Zionists are destroyers of nations and humanity, it what they do and George Soros said that the culmination of his life's work will the destruction of America, a true zionist, his true feelings about America.

(45.000 children slaughtered with gas and chemical weapons).

The West silence at his genocide in Syria was because it was convenient for them...and for Israel; they were all scared of the awakening of the Caliphate.

How can it be that no one ever struck back at high quality “American” targets after the assassination of Ghaddafi or Soleimani? Are the two oceans sufficient borders that “American” leaders never pay a price for Serbia, Iraq, Libya, Syria, Russia, Afghanistan, and Iran? No .Russia did not try to kill Zelensky . Bennet from Israel asked Putin.

Putin kills own allies over minor sleights and you think it is implausible that he put out a hit on Zelensky?

Full list of Russians that have fallen out of windows since Putin invaded

<https://www.newsweek.com/full-list-russians-fall-windows-putin-ukraine-war-1781790>

Putin flatly told Binnet that they were not at all interetsed in killing him nor they tried .

Putin flatly told all envoys that the war wouldn't happen and that it was all training exercise.

Remember that? When his envoy to the UN went on a massive rant about how it was all a CIA conspiracy? And when Scott Ritter told us that Russia would never do such a thing?

Zelesnky now confident and assured of his bodily preservation ,came out in public after long hiatus and claimed that he was not afraid of dying .

He has never been afraid of dying. He makes public appearances but they are normally unannounced and only a few have been near the front.

To believe the hit didn't exist would require that paid Chechens were lying and were dropped into Kiev for some other undisclosed mission.

I'm far more inclined to believe Chechens than a lying little KGB rat who executes his own allies for merely criticizing the war. Where is Lukashenko?

Emotionally attaching yourself to a psychopath like Putin will only lead to disappointment. They are just as contemptuous of their friends as they are of their enemies.

All the brains at NATO came together and decided on a short range drone that didn't have enough payload to crack a dome over top a building that would have been empty? And certainly wouldn't have Putin inside?

This is a NATO conspiracy assassination attempt? Was there a taped X where he was supposed to stand under the dome at night?

For once, however, I have to agree with the Zionists: would that assassinations were generally considered fair play in warfare – I think there would be much less war if the instigators themselves would have to consider personal, lethal consequences from making enemies on behalf of their countries.

The Constitution has proven to be a huge stumbling block preventing a dire situation like the one we're in from occurring. The Constitution stipulates that the president has a 4-year term. And, unless there is a veto proof majority in Congress, nothing can stop the current regime from starting a nuclear war.

He'll never be removed by the 25th Amendment and impeachment is just for show. Congress has given up its power to declare war, allowing the all-powerful executive to run amuck. And the corrupt In-Justice Dept. is not about to prosecute their party's senile leader. So, apparently, we must hold our breath hoping that the war doesn't go nuclear before the next election. And that assumes that the party in power loses the presidency and is not replaced by crazed neocons in the other party.

Guaranteed 4-year terms for an incompetent executive regime may prove to be the world's undoing. If we must keep a sham democracy, where ignorant people are automatically given the vote, we should at least have a parliamentary system where the PM can be voted out by No Confidence votes, as occurred recently in GB where Liz Truss was ousted after a few weeks. Sadly, Richy Sunak isn't much better.

Ron, I can't believe you overlooked the current bioweapons assassination attempts on both Erdogan of Turkey and Lukashenko in Belarus!

Both Erdogan and Lukashenko have been targeted by the CIA in the past few years and now while we're in a largely covert WWII, the West wants regime change as part of its war against Russia and neither Erdogan nor Lukashenko has acquiesced to the West in this operation.

Turkey's President Erdogan back on campaign trail after illness

The UK refused to allow the Czar's family to go to England.

They were happy to see them killed. The assassination of Franz Ferdinand was not done on the Serb's own initiative.

“Why haven’t the Palestinians found their Gandhi?”

Because every one of their Gandhis was promptly assassinated.

Your favorite example of Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi is inappropriate here; because, Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi was actually “...the most trusted and the most loyal stooge of the British Crown, [who] served the British interest through his “Satyagraha” or the [so-called] non-violent freedom struggle.”

In history, Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi of Indian subcontinent was actually a Boris Nikolayevich Yeltsin of the Russian Federation!

Aside from that, the word “Palestine” was a Roman invention.

‘Before 1948, the territory that now encompasses the modern state of Israel had been called Palestine.

The Romans used that term to refer to that territory after they conquered the ancient state of Israel.

...the place name Syria Palaestina, which was then shortened to “Palestine,” was given to the Roman province of Judaea in the early 2nd century A.D.

The re-naming is often presented as having been performed by the Roman Emperor Hadrian — who was a Christian-convert, not a Pagan — in the wake of the 132-135 A.D. Bar Kokhba revolt.

Scholars suggest, it was enacted to “disassociate the Jewish people from their historical homeland.”

Certainly “Palestine” helped to efface the Jewish connection to the land that had been made manifest in the toponym “Judea.”

So to this day, the Christian Church has kept the fictitious name “Palestine” alive just like British Christian imperialists created “Pakistan” in Indian subcontinent.

Let’s remember that our nation cheered when told Osama bin Laden was assassinated. President Obama boasted about it and made it part of his reelection effort. They made no attempt to arrest him, because he had plenty of secrets about his dealings that the US Government wanted to bury. I don’t accept the official story about his death, but he was never indicted for the 9-11 attacks and there was never any proof presented that he was involved. He was only wanted in connection with two embassy bombings in Africa. A Kuwaiti was accused on organizing 9-11, but he remains at Gitmo awaiting trial, because they probably have no hard evidence that he was involved.

How is no one threatened by the fact that Putin said if there is no Russia there is no world?

There was no threat in his words . Putin was arguing certain countries policies and actions and he stated that we wanted to live in peace. And the only time that Russia will have to respond would be if other countries will decide to attack Russia (remark against USA as they always attack other countries when they feel like it). Putin said that Russia never used nuclear weapon as oppose to other countries – USA attack on Japan. Then Putin said Russia wanted to live in peace but if we had to respond to the external attack on the country there won't be a world after it. And why do we need such a world without Russia? Why?

(please don't answer, as i already know why, ((heavy sigh)) well here is what a real world leader sounds like:

For us, for Russia, there are no unfriendly, hostile peoples either in the West or in the East. Like the vast majority of people on the planet, we want to see a future of peace, freedom and stability.

We believe that any ideology of superiority is inherently disgusting, criminal and deadly. However, the Western globalist elites still talk about their exclusivity, pit people and split societies, provoke bloody conflicts and upheavals, sow hatred, Russophobia, aggressive nationalism, and destroy family, traditional values that make a person a person. And all in order to continue to dictate, to impose on the peoples their will, their rights, rules, and in fact, a system of robbery, violence and suppression.

Great article.

Did a Russian Missile Strike Kill 200 NATO Officers in a Ukrainian Bunker?

Returning to your article about incredulity re that story, the basis of which is, in part, that there are not many foreign advisers let alone NATO advisers, on the ground in the separatist state.

Well, in the video you have included in this article:

Napolitano and McGovern openly discuss that event.

From my side, if analysts are discussing hundreds of NATO soldiers and officers as advisers, the number will certainly be thousands. Even the US mercenaries are up there in the thousands.

Best research thus far: the bunker was a command centre outside Lvov; the number killed was over 300 soldiers; 80 NATO officers. Yes, it was a fortified underground bunker.

Also note that Russia does not trumpet its great successes, in addition to this one, there was the 600 man attack on the Zaporozhye Nuclear Power Plant, commando style using a flotilla of small landing craft, a 100% wipe-out. She is quite happy for the West to think of them as bumbling drunks and fools.

This is correct, Russia bombed Syrian civilians on a deliberate basis and called them terrorists or rebels. The same people on here that are against US bombing raids on Muslim civilians white wash Putin's bombing raids over Muslim civilians and call them terrorists while neocons call American bombing raids over Muslims as bombings of terrorists instead of civilians. What it all boils down to is optics and the need to kill Muslims for greater Israel and to scatter brown Muslims into Europe to cause strife and make Jews more wealthy and powerful. If any clown here thinks Putin or even Iran is against Zionist power they need to reassess their intelligence and stop being dumbasses.

Pollack is a propaganda mouthpiece. The CIA has a history of assassination. They overthrow Governments using the assassination tool as one of their Coup tactics. Mossadegh in Iran. Sukarno, Pinochet...I hope Pollack chokes on the money he's being paid to mouth his CIA propaganda.

It's certainly possible that Pollack was lying, but I don't think so. Didn't you read my immediately preceding paragraph?

At the height of the Cold War, our CIA did involve itself in various secret assassination plots against Cuba's Communist dictator Fidel Castro and other foreign leaders considered hostile to US interests. But when these facts later came out in the 1970s, they evoked such enormous outrage from the public and the media, that three consecutive American presidents—Gerald R. Ford, Jimmy Carter, and Ronald Reagan—all issued successive Executive Orders absolutely prohibiting assassinations by the CIA or any other agent of the US government.

All the incidents you describe came before those Executive Orders were issued.

Trump is an American product. Like most Americans and immigrants and their decedents today, he worships money. The American political establishment was caught flatfooted when he was elected but soon recovered. They soon had Trump grovelling and debasing himself to the real masters of USA and he left no stone un-turned to prove his loyalty to the Jews and deep state.

He gifted the Golan Heights to Israel as if it was his to give. He then droned (Murdered) a real enemy of terrorists in Iraq and then went on to betray all the poor Americans who protested on Jan 6.

His grandfather ran a hotel/whorehouse and he (Donald) was bailed out by the Jews when he was bankrupt.

Your post is based on false assumption(s) propagandized by so-called clandestine American government's fiction-writer Seymour Myron Hersh.

American Navy Seals did not kill Usamah bin Laden during the reign of America's first Muslim president Baraq Hussein Obama, Jr.

To enter a Pakistanian military enclave in the dark of night — for very noisy military activities — without co-operation from Pakistan's Inter-Services Intelligence is (was) an impossible task.

American Navy Seals might seem to be as powerful as the heros of DC Comics, Inc.; but, it is indeed very comical to think that, American Top Gun Mavericks are capable of doing anything more than drinking-drinking-fking women — let alone assassinating Vladimir Putin or Xi Jinping or Kim Jong Un or Muhammad bin Salman.

Good to see that the resident Putintards haven't reacted to your post so, hopefully, we'll have conversation without skipping their replies.

These "doomers" make good points, but, they also pump it up a bit because they ARE true Russian patriots. They hope (wrong, IMHO) that their works will prompt Putin to start doing right things.

So, let's assume for the moment, that the coming NATO offensive works as planned: put that road to Crimea under observed tubed artillery fire, at least. Nothing will happen in the Russian power structure.

Kremlin has been very effective in managing any internal dissent.

Besides, the world (not USA...) TPTBs don't want any splinting of the Russia. On the contrary. They want well managed Russia to deliver what it's supposed to.

We'll most likely in Zaporizhzhia see the repeat of the Kherson offensive. Nothing more.

In my post I stated I didn't believe the official story, and I did this video to explain it. However, when Obama bragged that he ordered a successful assassination, Americans cheered. Reporters didn't ask why he wasn't arrested and brought to justice. The part about dumping his body at sea is absurd along with a dozen other claims.

Also, President Obama wasn't Muslim, he was raised by a white Christian family and his career was funded by the CIA, just like his Dad.

@JWalters

There's another underlying aspect to all this.

Jews have experience many expulsions over the centuries and have always favoured gravitation to centers of power for their new homes – the last major move being to the United States in the 20th century.

Problem that over the last 50 years globalization has made the world a much smaller (more interlinked) place. One result being the rapid rise of China which is very open to trade while paradoxically being a very closed ethnically aware society. Most of the Jewish counter-cultural activities that plague the West have little or no impact there. Jews can't activate their traditional hooks into power and they also can't pass as ethnic Chinese.

That makes for a serious problem if Jews are chased out of the US. They basically have nowhere left to go.

Putin broke their power in Russia (hence the hatred and the Ukraine war) and the other alternative – India really can't compete despite its delusions of grandeur.

So it's the USA or nothing. They're locked into the place, generating the prediction that they'll convert it into the most extreme dictatorship, disposing of all dissent. Truly Bolshevism II. Jews would of course control the US nuclear arsenal and evaluate using it if it would further their power.

134. Derer says:

the word is Trump didn't even know about it beforehand: US Deep State in cooperation with Israel or on Israel's orders, planned and carried it out.

After the fact, Trump claimed responsibility — so as not to look stupid or impotent.

This is entirely plausible, since the Neocons he hired in his Admin (including the reptilian Jared) thwarted Trump every step of the way.

This does not mean of course that Trump didn't go out of his way to curry favour with the Israel-First crowd. He did. But who do you vote for ? Biden ? dim-witted Camela? Who?

There are 5 pillars of Islam:

The Shahada or profession of faith that “there is no God, but Allah, and Muhammad the Arabian was last or final messenger of Allah (i.e., because our 4.5 billion-year-old earth was coming to an end very soon in 7th century A.D.);

The Salat or a specific set of daily prayers (i.e., as a form of daily physical exercise);

The Zakat or alms-giving (i.e., charity only to Muslims, not to non-believers);

The Sawm or fasting for a month (i.e., by eating a lot of food at one time in a day);

The Hajj or pilgrimage to Mecca (i.e., because fictitious Islamic Allah resides in Saudi Arabia);

That’s it.

A person who fully embraces the 5 pillars of Islam is considered a Muslim.

Based on the above, can anyone prove that American ex-president Baraq Hussein Obama, Jr., actually renounced the 5 pillars of Islam when he bowed before the Saudi King?

Of course, there are practicing Muslims and there are non-practicing Muslims in this world.

So, American ex-president Baraq Hussein Obama, Jr., was (is) a non-practicing Muslim.

@Zachary Smith

Has Zachary Smith or anyone else with at least half a brain actually read this ridiculous article? In that it is virtually as loaded with partiality and cherry-picked data as a typical “news” item from the New York Times or the Washington Post, its author, Anna Diamond, is clearly one of the museum’s million or so Jewish or affirmative-action employees.

Save for pointless and inaccurate denigration of Washington’s steady accumulation of military experience and insight—readers of either Flexner’s or Freeman’s magisterial biography will immediately know what I am talking about—the story spends less time on Washington and his inept would-be assassins than on sentimentalization of the domestic politics of the Revolutionary era.

With regard to those political and social conditions, the article crucially omits to mention that, since the events described took place in June 1776, the American colonies were still a full year away from being in a state of open rebellion against the crown. As far as the 90 percent of elected and appointed officials—including the Loyalist governor of New York and Loyalist mayor of New York City, the only Crown officials ever implicated in the assassination plot—and the 60 to 75 percent of the population that was and remained Loyalist straight through to Cornwallis’s surrender were concerned, Washington and the mostly armed irregulars under his command were little better than common criminals and enemies of a morally legitimate royal government.*

The rebellious Patriots’ disgraceful and largely immoral but at least intelligible treatment of the overwhelmingly Loyalist population of the Thirteen Colonies both during the Revolution and for forty years subsequently is far less well understood today than it was a century ago. Along with everything else about the American past and present, it is a story that is constantly being rewritten to accord with the ever-changing requirements of the Judeo-Bolshevik Ministry of Truth.

Cf. Doctor Johnson's influential 1775 essay "Taxation No Tyranny."

[the word is Trump didn't even know about it beforehand: US Deep State in cooperation with Israel or on Israel's orders, planned and carried it out.]

Stop your propaganda at once. That Zionist servant, Trump, assassinated General Soleimani, because Israel wanted and was involved in the assassination. The FDD and his son-in-law were pushing him and he did it, I am sure he received a lot of money for it. He knew what he was doing.

Trump is a traitor selling the office for money. He did everything for money and made billions of dollars during his term.

He freed many Jewish mafia criminals, few with 20 year prison sentence, demanding millions of dollars. He wanted to attack Iran but he couldn't because this was NOT US policy, only Israeli policy where I am sure will take it into their GRAVES. US knows that they cannot attack Iran at this point, because like other places, they will be DEFEATED.

Remember when Flight Attendant Shelly Kelly emerged from the wreckage of the 737 that Ron Brown was on unscathed, and was seen to be walking around without any help by the villagers! Then, she died mysteriously between the time she was picked-up and the announcement of her death at the hospital?

No witnesses...typical of the similar 'CLINTON DEATH LIST'...! JFK Jr.- Piper Saratoga possibly sabotaged with detonation cord placed inside the rear of the fuselage, since he was going to meet with the Democrats regarding a run for the New York Senate Seat that Hellary Klinton eventually ...'won'...via vote fraud, no doubt!

Soooo many assassinations, usually sanctioned by the CIA, US Secret Service AND the Israeli Mossad, the latter which leads the number of 'hits' worldwide, and never atones for such as we are just useless and inferior 'Goyim'!

No justice for the USS Liberty, Rachel Corrie, and Shireen Abu Akleh, and there NEVER will be until Israel disappears via total sanctioning (never will happen), with-holding of US Taxpayer Funded money in the form of 'Foreign Aid', that in turn is used to commit International Human and Civil Rights violations against the Palestinians, of which we are all now an extended group that shares the suffering of the same!

Assassinating Putin.

Why can't people see the modus operandi of the people who sits in high buildings looking out the dark glass windows or at the Pentagon secret rooms or in the backyard of the white house, smoking cuban cigars and drinking Hennessy while planning how to use fuckers like Putin, Saddam Hussein, Kaddafi, Bin Laden or Al Baghdadi and even the Iranian regime?

They have them do the dirty work, carry the guilt of the multiple crimes and then those guys I mentioned -holding the big cigars that you can't buy at Mohammed's 7/11- just get rid of them.

So yes, Bin Laden didn't get away with shit, he was used to bring the towers down, attack the Pentagon, and then they killed him in Abbottabad. (At least that's what 97% of Americans believe).

That's the meaning that I get from the title of this article; people who are used by the Powers that Be, people like Al Baghdadi here, Bin Laden there, Putin Here, Chavez there, Ron Unz here, Khameney there. They see gain in them and when they are of no more use they get rid of them.

BUT THEY KEEP FALLING IN THE TRAP.

Business as usual.

Trump is a charismatic salesman-huckster who revels in his ignorance and greed.

We loved it when he mocked the Establishment until we realized we were just the rabble and he was our rouser, albeit a colorful and entertaining one.

He promised affordable health care and stopping illegal immigration but failed to deliver either one. In all fairness, he did try to achieve rapprochement with Russia but was blindsided and overwhelmed by the Russia Hoax, which was possibly the most vicious and well organized propaganda operation in our political history.

Hopefully, Americans now realize that we are in a life-or-death struggle with the Oligarchs and their Deep State minions who will do anything to dominate us and preserve their international conglomerate.

We must be even more ruthless than they are if we want to restore populist rule.

Mr Unz, you are still a beacon for me. Have followed you on this Covid-19 issue and now on these very troublesome times. I'm a neophyte in these geopol issues being mainly trained in engineering in communications and in computer science but my graduate management courses indicated to me the importance of characterising your business environment for decision purposes and that is what has attracted me sources such as yours and that of Larry Johnson, Douglas MacGreggor, Gregg Hunter and others.

You touched upon the zionist ideology cause, I think that with financial power behind the frontline people serving them I really think we are facing a historical battle and that the reason they are pushing so hard is because they know they are targeted. But according to Laurent Guyenot's book "Du Yahvisme au Sionisme", they are absolute fanatics who serve first and foremost their ideology of world domination and for them there is no life after death. There lies the danger before us. Does that mean that they will lead us to a Massada II?

But don't be fooled. Partially-depleted-uranium munitions should be banned. In Jesus' story of the good Samaritan he portrays two officials of the Jewish religion ("in the fold"), a priest and a Levite, who withhold help from someone outside "the fold" (the wounded man). The priest and the Levite follow the Talmudic Law (which you claim Jesus supports) and avoid the wounded man. Then a Samaritan (a non-Jew at that time) comes along and takes care of the wounded stranger.

Jesus clearly intends the Samaritan as the model of how to behave, and the Talmudic priest and Levite as examples of un-Godly behavior. In other words, he directly condemns the Talmudic Law of Jewish supremacism.

Your comment looks like fake erudition, with no evidence or citations given, with long meandering sentences and a few fancy words, designed to trick people with a lesser education into thinking you are some sort of intelligent authority.

This is a classic Zionist disinformation tactic. Pretend to oppose Jewish supremacism, and then attempt to sow confusion and misunderstandings in those who waste their time reading your long-winded verbiage.

| Have somebody openly run on defunding the US Military and see how the average normie reacts.

That's a bad way to frame the issue, though. That sounds like an attack on the troops themselves.

Candidates should campaign on removing treasonous parasites who send Americans over to die in unnecessary wars that make America weaker. Think about Trump in 2015-2016, who openly called the Iraq War terrible and promised to "drain the swamp". That didn't happen in the end, but that was the correct formulation.

| You can't blame all this on neocons.

Why not?

The Global War on Terror only happened because of 9/11, which the Bush neocons and the Mossad orchestrated. How popular do you think wars in the Middle East would've been among conservative normies in August of 2001?

The current Ukraine War is the Obama and Biden neocons' handiwork and has happened really without any public input. Very negative opinions of Putin and Russia among liberals have been shaped over the last decade by the mainstream media, which works hand in glove with the deep state.

Excellent point about the Talmudists having nowhere to jump to this time. I suspect they thought they would jump to China back when they moved America's manufacturing over there. Then China wised up and blocked them from taking over the banking and money supply. Suddenly China flipped from being our BFF to our worst enemy.

And I think you're right that this may be driving the desperation we're seeing from the ruling oligarchy – the insane military operations in Ukraine, the insane policies toward Russia, toward China, and sanctioning two thirds of the entire world!

And the insane levels of censorship in America – “Bolshevism II” – are becoming obvious to so many. Ultimate they will, I believe, run aground on the 1st Amendment. It's all becoming too obvious. Can't happen too soon, before they go Samson Option.

Russia has an important role to play in dismantling the corrupt American military empire by supplying America's economic competitors with vital raw materials and energy. As the savior of his nation from greedy Western opportunists, Putin has put Russia in a secure and independent position in the world, capable of militarily fending off NATO's proxy army in the Ukraine while providing prosperity and security for the Russian people. Obviously, US political elites loathe him for threatening US world hegemony. And while the US government recognizes no moral limits to actions in aid of preserving US world power — eg blowing up the Nordstream pipelines, unleashing the Covid virus, attempting to assassinate heads of state, and engineering color revolutions in non-allied nations — it is domestically trying to make neocon power election-proof through censorship, election rigging, open borders, and judicial persecution of political opponents. As the primary threats to the neocon monopoly on power from within and without, Putin and Trump are naturally the top enemies of the DC establishment, who would like to terminate them both with extreme prejudice.

All parties to war believe they have truth on their side – certain of victory. But much of what we think of as “fact” is propaganda and impossible to verify: so it becomes myth. Only historic pattern can reveal the truth – only it can predict the future. But nobody accepts the prediction they don’t want.

Crimes against humanity is a term of art meaning “what Nazis do.” Considering Hitler’s finicky aversion to germ warfare and other barbarities, we need a new term of art meaning what CIA does.

The CIA regime has one vital interest, impunity. Their invariant conduct and policy is “What are ya gonna do about it?” CIA’s common plan and conspiracy spans sneaky perfidious nickel-and-dime stuff like assassination and sabotage, inhuman treatment at industrial scale, and mass destruction weapons of the most indiscriminate, even uncontrollable, sort. CIA’s use of force in WW III is already total war justifying nuclear attack in historical legal precedent. The question is not if but when. Fortunately, as Hannah Arendt notes, totalitarian states are easy to decapitate and replace. We could luck out with like 40 million dead, if Shoigu’s in a good mood.

That sounds wise until you think about it.

| All parties to war believe they have truth on their side – certain of victory.

Well no. Not all Russian military people close to Putin or German generals close to Hitler were “certain of victory: – far from it.

More obviously, not a single Belgian in 1914 could have expected victory against the Germans

| Only historic pattern can reveal the truth – only it can predict the future.

That could be very helpful if there was any truth in it. So perhaps you could encourage your readers by giving one example of a historic pattern which revealed the truth and gave rise to a true prediction of the future.

targeted poisonings such as those directed against the Skripals (“don’t think you are going to get away with it” was the message), Navalny and Litvinenko.

LOL! None of these things happened. Nobody was dosed with Novichok. If they were, they would be dead, period. The Skirpals were dosed with BZ by the MI6 to frame Russia. They were double agents anyway so they were expendable. The BZ was found in their blood and their symptoms resembled BZ poisoning.

Novichok poisoning is fatal, period. Later, pure Novichok, not weapons-grade, was added to the blood samples by Porton Downs chemical warfare lab in the UK which produces chemical weapons for the UK. It’s been proven that this was added later on.

Remember how the story kept changing all the time? That’s how you know it’s a false flag. In false flags, the stories keep changing every day. If one lie fails, a new one is put out to see if it works. It fails too and then a new one is put out. Remember how many times the Skirpal story changed?

The Skirpals said that they wanted to go back to Russia. The British refused to return them. Their relatives kept trying to contact them but the British would not let them. Then both Skirpals vanished off the face of the Earth.

The British said they were being hidden so Russia wouldn’t kill them, when Russia had actually invited them back into the country. They were last seen in the company of the British, who said they were in a secure location. They have not been seen since. People fear they may be dead. Where have the British hidden these poor people?

Navalny was not poisoned with Novichok either. He had some sort of a medical crisis and almost died. Extensive testing found no Novichok or any other toxin in his blood. The West demanded he be shipped to the West and he was sent to a German hospital that works with German intelligence and NATO.

German intelligence, the BND, then reported that they found Novichok in his blood where no one else had found any. Russians asked to see the samples to check them but the Kraut dogs refused. Then a phone conversation between the German BND and a Baltic country was captured by Belarus and released in which the BND said that the whole thing was a gigantic fake and there was no Novichok.

Notice how that story kept changing too? If that Novichok had been on that man's underwear or in his water bottle in the hotel room or any of the other fake places where they found it, that man would have been dead. Period. And everyone around him who breathed the fumes from that bottle in that room would be dead too. And the people around him on that plane would be dead from his underwear. That's how strong that stuff is.

The man who invented Novichok saw a tape of Navalny in the hospital three weeks later and said he had not been poisoned by Novichok because at even 1/300th of a weapons grade dose, he would have had pinpoint pupils even three weeks later, and he did not.

The Litvinenko story, another fake with a double agent who the UK apparently view as expendable, seems dubious. The retired head of French intelligence recently stated that the British MI6 had poisoned Litvinenko themselves with polonium as a false flag to blame on Russia. The Russians always denied and it didn't seem like something they would do. The Russians even said that they did not care about Litvinenko themselves so there was no reason to poison him.

All of these poisonings were fakes! One was a real false flag that killed the victim. The second one they were dosed with something else and then lab results were tampered with, then the victims were disappeared or murdered. In the third case, nobody was poisoned at all. A man had a medical crisis which was changed to a fake poisoning plot and then lab results were again reportedly tampered with, but there was no way to check as the West would not put the samples out for review.

I always thought Russia would not murder dissidents, especially overseas, with toxins. They had never done it before and even the Soviets never stooped that low.

The problem with your theory is that I voted for Trump twice and am deeply against the Republican establishment. That's in my history here and I have many posts describing why I believed Trump was the better candidate. I was also quite critical of Trump fans for ignoring polling data in his reelection attempt as I was concerned that he would lose. I've actually been ex-communicated by a few people for voting for Trump. Yes even to this day.

I'm also not a boomer and am quite critical of them. That's also in my history. I do admire Unz but the rest of the lot should be airdropped in Zimbabwe where they can work out their competing right/left race denial theories.

You are correct on phosgene, though it was very seldom used and only late in the history of over a century ago.

The nerve agents were not developed by 'Nazis' but by German chemists, and as I correctly state, never used because Chancellor Hitler had ordered non-use, although there was a large stockpile that, if it had been used at certain points, would have been very effective in military terms.

Another irony is that the post-war traitor, Albert Speer, had almost certainly been the coordinator of the stockpiles.

Of course, the Yanks and Brits had no compunctions about endlessly terror-bombing civilian populations, when the mainly Jews running the Yanks made a couple of atomic bombs that they wanted to drop on Berlin, but they couldn't because Germany had already fallen, they had no compunctions about dropping them on two cities in Japan.

A balance to consider.

The reason the British did this and Ukraine, the US and the rest of the NATO Nazis signed on is because all of that DU cancerous radiation was going to be polluting the Donetsk, Lugansk, Zaporozhye, and Kherson regions which Russia has annexed and are full of Russian ethnic “separs” or separatists, who, according to NATO Nazi logic, all deserve to be killed, following Ukrainian Nationalist Nazi rhetoric.

It wasn't their own people who would be getting cancer. It would be those scummy Moskals and a number of Ukronazis have already stated that 2-3 million Russian “separs” in the East can either choose to leave or be killed, as they are “superfluous.”

You can't kill enough Russians to please the Western Nazis, so they signed on to the project.

Notice that Serbia and Iraq also got polluted to Hell with this radiation? We don't pollute our own countries with it! We only pollute our enemies' lands!

Notice how wicked the British dogs are being now? They're worse than the Americans. The British hate Russians way more than Americans do and the hatred goes back much further, all the way back to the 1800's. It's the hate that's lasted forever, rivalry between two vast empires.

Given that Russia's ICBMs are hypersonic, the bulk of the population of all NATO countries would be exterminated in well under one hour, especially since there has been a Russian ballistic missile submarine stationed just outside our east coast territorial limit since we started surreptitiously funding and supplying the increasingly desperate Ukrainian defense to the unfortunate but completely justifiable Russian SMO.

One of the most notable things discovered from the recent intelligence leaks is that the U.S. intelligence community appears to have penetrated and has a much clearer look into the Russian military (largely through SIGINT)

Aren't you assuming that the leaked documents are accurate about the internal Russian military information they provide? Why would you be sure about that? Obviously, the Ukrainian casualty figures are totally fraudulent, telling our government what it wants to hear, so I'd think the Russian info might be just as unreliable.

By the way, Mr. Unz, you wrote over two months ago that, if Ukraine will have collapsed "in a month or two," Douglas MacGregor will have been proven right. I checked in with you a month ago and now the second month is up. Has Ukraine collapsed yet?

Nope, I'm still waiting.

The very long-awaited Ukrainian counter-offense seems to be similarly delayed, and Macgregor says that the same factor is responsible in both cases, namely that the thick mud makes major armored attacks almost impossible until it dries. Maybe he's just providing a convenient excuse but maybe not.

I found Ron's use of We very insightful. The dichotomy between public and government promotes impunity for crime by encouraging moral bystander effect.

I realized it few years ago incidentally. It was some news scene of a bombed out city by US aggression and there were some relief workers distributing goods in packages by US Aid. It was almost funny... One hands gives and the other takes away. What was written on the packages was even funnier- From the American people. I thought-the statement would be complete if it was: From American people, through a C.I.A conduit!

Secondly. there is no justification in a democracy for people to distance themselves from the actions of their government.

Americans “must support the troops.” As long as that attitude prevails, Americans deserve whatever their elites do to them.

Why wouldn't the typical American support the troops? Don't ordinary people in all countries support their troops?

Every Jesuslander who now thinks the wars in the Middle East were bad presumably blames Bush and/or Obama for them, not the troops themselves.

That cabal or whatever term you want to use would be powerless in a non-Anglo society.

There's no non-Anglo country that has been a global hyperpower. The neocons need to operate within a supremely powerful country like the U.S. in order to do their thing.

Regardless, if the neocons hadn't been in power over the last 30 years, then America wouldn't have fought or provoked any of the wars it did. They need to be removed from power.

Would you be fine with us selling weapons to those groups on the cheap and then claiming to be apolitical?

Maybe we should just take the Russian route and proclaim neutrality as M-16s show up in every Arab rebellion.

Qaddafi was a bastard and his people would have gotten him without our help. They stormed his palace with their own weapons. They chose to murder him instead of having him stand trial.

That is the creep that kept people he executed in giant freezers as trophies. He would go in and talk to them as mockery of their death.

The US is not the cause of all problems. Psychopaths like Qaddafi predate the existence of America. Sometimes the people get fed up and go after them. Syrians would vote to remove their unwanted royalty and also the Russians if they had the choice.

Russia is not the only place where Novichok is being produced. You're just parroting the lies from the Guardian and other Western garbage press without a modicum of questioning. The formulas (there's eight known variants of Novichok) are so old and known by now that probably everyone who needed them have them.

If Putin "kills people the old-fashioned way", as you claim, and it works without fail, why would he ever want to resort to some exotic poison, known only by its Russian name, that already failed twice, that would implicate him straight away and put him in the public spotlight like an amateur?

Or polonium, for that matter? Why would he use such an expensive and attention-grabbing thing like that to clandestinely kill unimportant people, for crying out loud?

The answer is – he wouldn't and he didn't. If you can't see the obvious Western frame-up, you're beyond help. Then again, all Putin-haters are beyond help.

Russia is not the only place where Novichok is being produced.

I said we all know the origin.

We know the origin because Russian opposition leaders and critics are the ones that are poisoned.

People in the US and Britain don't randomly get killed by Novichok and Polonium. It's obviously a Russian affair and especially given that his critics "just happen" to come down with a case of Novichok after trying to flee.

You seem to trust a dwarf dictator who started this war by lying and claiming it was all a training exercise.

I'll go with the opinion of the Russian opposition. It's obvious to everyone that Putin is afraid of competition and accountability. He just sent a journalist to 25 years in a hard labor prison for criticizing the war:

<https://www.cbsnews.com/news/russia-ukraine-war-critic-vladimir-kara-murza-prison-sentence-opposition-vladimir-putin/>

If Putin "kills people the old-fashioned way", as you claim

It's not something I merely claim. I linked to an article that lists the number of Russians that have fallen from windows since the war started.

Maybe you think they are all accidents.

There are former allies of Putin that describe him as a ruthless tyrant that kills the opposition.

Are they lying as well?

Your days of delusion are slowly coming to an end. His Jewish chef has supposedly consorted with the enemy. This would be a good time to quit defending the dwarf and move on.

Or polonium, for that matter? Why would he use such an expensive and attention-grabbing thing like that to clandestinely kill unimportant people, for crying out loud?

It's a calling card and threat to potential critics. What do you want him to do? Have the opposition shot and brag about it on TV? He still tries to maintain an image for his followers. His core support comes from ex-USSR boomers that watch State TV and think he is Orthodox. They are easily fooled with the suggestion that it could all be a conspiracy and not the will of Putin.

So it's the USA or nothing. They're locked into the place, generating the prediction that they'll convert it into the most extreme dictatorship, disposing of all dissent.

It's amazing how often a simple and obvious truth remains unknown until it is clearly stated.

Right, Judaism is locked out of most of the world, and now it's losing the US as well (or perhaps has lost it, see:

<https://www.takimag.com/article/hollywoods-jews-get-their-wandering-papers/>). The alliance between Saudi Arabia and Iran, coupled with the in process decline of US power and probable decline in world trade, is pretty much the end of Israel.

Judaism's power might just barely manage a retreat to South America. It has already been ejected from Africa, where it apparently hoped to retain its influence in the Union of South Africa.

There is a species of Electric Eel lives in seasonal ponds. They dry up every year. The eel burrows into bottom mud, while there is any, and wraps itself in a sort of water-tight envelope while the mud is still liquid. It then estivates until the next rainy season. The genetic record of the Ashkenazi suggests that it did much the same after the Kitos War (~115) and the subsequent Bar Kochbar revolt (<https://www.grunge.com/997034/how-the-kitos-war-reignited-conflict-between-the-jewish-community-and-rome/>) discredited Judaism in the Roman Empire, and the subsequent centuries long decline of the Western Roman provinces led to an Ashkenazi genetic bottleneck of around 300 at around AD 700 (<https://systemsbiology.columbia.edu/news/study-sheds-light-on-ashkenazi-jewish-genome-and-ancestry>) , which was long after Western Europe had been lost to Constantinople, about the time that the Islamic expansion into Europe was ended by Charlie the Hammer (Charles Martel), and about a Century after Pope Gregory the Great made a Europe-wide influence/communication net for the Roman Catholic Church (RCC), establishing RCC as the dominant religion in at least Western Europe and Italy.

Apparently this “exploit the area until you get a strong reaction” business has been going on for quite some time (<https://www.nytimes.com/2022/11/30/science/ashkenazi-jews-genetic-history.html>), in which case the loss of the USA with no place to go save for a bolt hole or two would just be part of Judaism’s life-cycle.

Once Darwin’s granddaughter asked him “Why does it have to be so brutal?”. Good question.

I'm not sure if Novichok has ever been used as a chemical warfare agent to attack or kill a single soul other than the accidental poisoning of one of the scientists who discovered it. IOW, it's never even been used!

I'd like to see some good evidence of these Novichok poisonings from somewhere other than the lying Nazi NATO countries and their controlled press machines.

I'm not even sure about Putin having people killed. I think he did have some spies killed who were double agents. That doesn't surprise me at all. But I've never heard of him being implicated in any other deaths.

He didn't kill that opposition guy outside the Kremlin. Chechens did that.

I went through the list of journalists killed in Russia, and the rate of their killing was far higher under Yeltsin than it was under Putin. Most of it was connected to the Chechen Wars. The rate went way down under Putin. I could not connect him to any journalist death other than possibly one, and there were over 100 listed. Most were killed by common criminals or organized crime and quite a few seem to have been offed by local politicians at the municipal, state, and regional level.

I'm quite sure that either Putin or his allies has journalists beaten up though. I'm aware of one obvious case.

The problem is that everyone making these claims are NATO Nazis or the Russian opposition, both of which are the most incredible liars. Both have already told countless lies about Putin and Russia even if we only look at the last year. I'd really like to see a look at this question from an unbiased source or better yet, a pro-Putin source.

Putin is giving people what they want, no? He has 83% approval ratings. That's nothing to shake a stick at. It looks like Russians are quite happy with his type of governance. Who am I to complain. National sovereignty. People have a right to run their countries in any way they see fit as long as they are not committing mass human rights violations against their own people.

Are you in a position to give an accurate account of what ALL the Western MSM said wrt false flag and how they approached it? Of course not. But even seen through your prejudices did you notice the variations in approach and who was actually asserting 'false flag' and why?

Does it occur to you that what was undoubtedly false and a clear set up for Russian threats was a mere popcorn firework attack on a vast edifice in the most visible TV viewable way that never had the slightest chance of killing Putin? C'mon: switch the brain on.

Also, by the time the V I appeared, I think Hitler would long have given up on ending hostilities with GB, although it had earlier been his strategic goal and desire, and really, the aim had been to have none.

Even allowing the Dunkirk evacuation was a graceful gesture in that direction.

Unfortunately, offhand slandering of Christians is a popular sport hereabouts. It has no shortage of either players or enthusiastic spectators.

Although I have profited greatly from many of Carlton Meyers's videos, hearing John Pilger complain about Obama amounted to eavesdropping on a disagreement over tactics at the socialist/communist family dinner table. Neither one of them gives a damn about actual white Americans.

I have 't seen anything g to suggest that the Ukraians are not taking it steadily seeking rewarding bites wherever opportunities are detected, hammering logistics and forcing Russian forces into inferior defensive positions. Crimea is an obvious target but maybe too obvious and the Crimean campaign might be counted a success if the destruction of the Kersch bridge was completed. Maybe for the Ukrainians it is enough to get the Russians bogged down for another winter well behind most of their existing defense positions and with supplies and logistics badly damaged.

Right, QCIC re 250, DeSantis was a torture shyster, producing what the HRC calls “legal pretexts for manifestly illegal acts.” He decided when and why they slit your dick or bury you alive or drown you or freeze you or stuff socks down your throat and asphyxiate you.

When the treaty bodies, charter bodies, and special procedures called CIA torture systematic and widespread, formally designating it a crime against humanity, they specifically extended command responsibility to CIA billboard lawyers like DeSantis. Since there’s no statute of limitations on crimes against humanity, Russia can sweep up all the DeSantis-type torture cowards and stuff em in the Black Dolphin, when the war is done.

The wishful thinking of a true Banderite fan-boy. You can almost hear Top Level's grand-pappy, in 1942, mumbling that the Fuhrer's beloved Sixth Army was proceeding cautiously, grinding the Moskali Communist cockroaches to dust in Stalingrad.

Taking their time, detecting 'opportunities', forcing the dreaded Russians back into defensive positions.

When one considers the frantic, hysterical, dedication of Anglosphere Rightists like Top Level to the neo-facist, Banderite cause you must recollect that much of the Anglosphere would gladly have supported Hitler et al. And, after WWII, wherever there was some pseudo-fascist, tin-pot, butcher despot eg Pinochet, Videla, Banzer, Rios Montt, Batista, Somoza, Duvalier, Mobutu, Savimbi, Kagame, Sadat, Saddam, the Shah, Thieu, Diem, Rhee, Suharto, Zia etc ad infinitum, there was the West, led by the USA, with its Five Eyes buddies following like jackals, supporting them all the way.

I remember well how the Top Levels of the day, for decades, supported apartheid South Africa with vigour, as they support the Jewish apartheid State today. It is NO wonder that the Banderite fascists enjoy Top Level et al's febrile support today-fascists recognise their own. Always have, always will.

This subject has already come up here numerous times and Sachs has discussed it himself in several of his interviews, so apparently you haven't been paying any attention. Here's one of the more recent links:

I have the impression that you're just a typically ignorant activist-type, who probably knows very little about what happened in 1990s Russia excerpt perhaps through an article or two in the Nation or maybe the Naomi Klein book. I'm hardly an expert myself, but Sachs' explanation seems sincere and plausible to me.

More importantly, the Russians themselves obviously have 100x the detailed knowledge of the disaster that befell their country under Yeltsin, and yet they always seem to treat Sachs in a very respectful and friendly manner. If Sachs had any significant share of the blame, why would they act that way?

Ok, but the Chinese national anthem glorifies the soldiers who fought against the Japanese during their occupation of Manchuria. I think reverence for soldiers is pretty common across countries.

Yes, American worship of the military went into especially high gear because of 9/11. You can thank the overwhelmingly Jewish neocons in the Bush administration for 9/11:

If Sachs had any significant share of the blame, why would they act that way?

Looks like Jeffery Sachs has a plausible explanation in his own words. According to him, after helping implement a successful economic turnaround plan in Poland, he was invited to join a similar team of advisors in Russia in the early 90s. Ultimately, while the looting of the Russian economy did happen, Dr. Sachs says he argued for larger amounts of Western aid to Russia which never materialized. Whether this is sincere or merely blame-deflecting subtlety I don't know. In any case here is Jeffery Sachs' paper, "What I did in Russia":

Aren't you assuming that the leaked documents are accurate about the internal Russian military information they provide?

Leaked satellite photographs back up the signal intercepts:
<https://www.washingtonpost.com/national-security/2023/04/14/leaked-documents-russian-spetsnaz/>

This image is part of the leaked classified material that was circulated in a Discord chatroom and obtained by The Washington Post. The Post informed the Pentagon that this imagery would be published with this story. The document shows satellite images of the 22nd Separate Spetsnaz Brigade's motor pool in southwestern Russia. The images were captured, from left to right, in November 2021 and November 2022, showing a depleted force following its return from Ukraine last summer. (Obtained by The Washington Post)

The hollowing of these units appears to be evident in satellite imagery featured among the leaked materials. Before-and-after photos — showing a base used by the 22nd Separate Spetsnaz Brigade in southern Russia, according to the document — reveal that “all but one of five Russian Separate Spetsnaz Brigades that returned from combat operations in Ukraine in late summer 2022 suffered significant losses.”

The slide includes two overhead images, one taken in November 2021, months before the invasion began, and another captured a year later. The former shows a bustling motor pool teeming with vehicles; the latter reveals what U.S. officials concluded is a state of extreme depletion months after the brigade’s return home with fewer than half of the Tigr tactical vehicles it had before the deployment. The 22nd and two other spetsnaz brigades suffered an estimated 90 to 95 percent attrition rate, the assessments say.

Compounding Russia’s problems is the loss of experience within its elite forces. Spetsnaz soldiers require at least four years of specialized training, the U.S. documents say, concluding that it could take as long as a decade for Moscow to reconstitute these units.

The documents do not say how many spetsnaz troops are estimated to have been killed or wounded in Ukraine, but the materials, citing intelligence intercepts, assess that one unit alone — the 346th — “lost nearly the entire brigade with only 125 personnel active out of 900 deployed.”

Nope, I’m still waiting.

How long are you going to wait? 2 years? 10 years?

The very long-awaited Ukrainian counter-offense seems to be similarly delayed, and Macgregor says that the same factor is responsible in both cases, namely that the thick mud makes major armored attacks almost impossible until it dries.

You should have been listening to me, not Macgregor. I stated numerous times in correspondences with you over these months that the so-called “Spring Offensive” would likely take place summer-to-fall. And it has nothing to do with mud – the mud season is over. The “delay” as such stems from the delivery of equipment and the continuing training of elite Ukrainian units in the West, the latest cohorts of which won’t arrive in theater until early summer.

The Russians are responsible for the 90s in Russia, period. They were corrupt to the bone, coming out of a losing ideology without any moral retrain or value system paradigm except "anything goes", pretty much like today's Ukraine.

@Levtraro

If they are so responsible, why did they erupt in fury over the Western colonization and mass murder of Russians (15 million killed in the 90's) and elect a nationalist, Putin?

Why did the people vote Communist and anti-Yeltsin in 1992 to such extent as to create a Parliament that refused to go along with the Western mass rape of their country? Why did Yeltsin have to attack his own Legislature with the army and tanks, killing 600 people, because they would not go along with his program? Why did the US and the West cheer ecstatically as Yeltsin massacred his own Legislature?

Why did Yeltsin have to win in 1996 by fraud? Remember the suitcases full of cash delivered to Yeltsin from the US Embassy?

If they were so ecstatic about it, why did they elect Putin, a nationalist, to put an end to the nation-sellers and traitors?

Communism was the exact opposite of the Wild West laissez faire capitalism that followed under Yeltsin? How on Earth did Communism lead to its exact opposite?

Blame the victim!

We know that Putin has poisoned people. He poisoned that anti-Russian leader in Ukraine. But it wasn't fatal.

If this friend got dosed with Novichok (which has never been used on any human beings anywhere ever), why isn't he dead? A weapons grade dose of Novichok is fatal! Period! If you don't die, you are massively damaged and will be dead in five years with a steadily deteriorating course.

Why on Earth would Putin give these people sub-lethal doses of Novichok so they would survive and blow the whistle on him?

Remember the call intercept between German intelligence and the Baltic official where the German said that the whole thing was faked to blame Russia and there was no Novichok?

Why did the story change every time we turned around? It's like on lie failed so they tried a new one to see if that would fly. Stories don't change every other day in actual events.

The Skirpals' symptoms did not resemble Novichok poisoning, and their quick recovery means the drug was not used. Their symptoms resembled BZ poisoning and indeed, the first blood samples sent to a non-corrupt Swiss lab found BZ in the blood of both Skirpals and no Novichok. That was declared to be in error, and a new sample, this time rigged with Novichok from Porton Downs, was sent in. But it was laboratory Novichok, not weapons grade, and while it was said to be three weeks old, it was fresh as the day it was made. A real three week old Novichok presence in the blood would have deteriorated a lot by that time.

Why did the story keep changing every other day? That only happens in fake stories and false flags.

Also, about dissidents in Russia, there are 15 million adult dissidents in Russia who oppose this war. That's a lot of people! A British reporter recently went to Moscow and interviewed people on the street and everyone he met was against the war and many people said they were supporting Ukraine against their own country? Why are these people not poisoned, thrown out of windows, or locked up in prison? They're walking around free as the day they were born.

@Been there done that

Win, lose or draw, the facts about whom exactly is running the USA is no longer obscured behind the screen of sympathy promulgated by years and years of propaganda and lies. Tribal affiliation among a small minority of highly structured and organized inclusiveness has cost the United States dearly.

That the U.S. has an exogenous extraterritorial jurisdiction almost entirely inhabited by people of that tribe, and that the American people have been inveigled into considering it as essential to American interests to protect that minorities interests — wherever they reside in the world — when in fact the U.S. is today a satrapy of that distant remove from American shores, is nothing if not uncommon.

Are there any policies done in government at any level that are not done to advance Israelis interests whether they harm American interests or not? Clearly, that this question is asked is disclosure!

Israel has soldiers. Israel has weapons. How many of Americans enlisted men and women are soldiers? Clearly Israelis know how to kill. Why are American citizens doing the dirty work advancing Jewish interests in Ukraine? Why are ordinary Russian men and women being killed defending their nation against Israeli and Jewish interests whom are the obvious instigators of the conflict?

The majority of Bolsheviks were Jews. The Jews intentionally sought to make Russia — after promulgating the revolution of 1917 — a satrapy for Jewish bankers interests — as was done in the United States in 1913.

Jews in the United States were denied control over banking certainly by Andrew Jackson in the 1830s and Jews never gave up promulgating Jewish banking interests throughout the decades until Jews successfully gained control with their privately owned Federal Reserve founded in 1913.

The history of banking is the history of America. In fact unless it is widely understood the extent of banking and bankers interests in financing long before 1495 — and all the corollary aspects of banking Jews perfected long before 1495, in Europe, the Middle East and Asia — Americans will continue to be misled.

It is not in the interests of the Jewish oligarchy that the history of money is taught. Or for that matter anything about Jewish control over the American economy. Almost any event coincident with the historical events with which most people are generally familiar cannot be understood without understanding the influence of money; wars, borrowing, lending, taxes, illicit and licit trade, taxation, interest rates, depressions, inflations, brokerage, mergers, acquisitions, revolutions, etc.

We are constantly bombarded with news about events — the what! But the how, why, when and whom are obscured; intentionally so! One can study economics until the cows come home and never understand the economy. One can study history and still know nothing worthwhile about the events degreed historians study.

There is nothing new about trade today that wasn't practiced 5,000 years ago. Debasing the currency is nothing new. Elites tend to be avaricious and greedy and manipulative and driven by lust and pride, thus they are easily manipulated. The interests of the state are bent towards profitable endeavours; wars and exploration require funding, as does exploitation and acquisition.

Bankers are ever ready with their advice. Bankers are loyal to profit taking. It should go with out saying that money interests promulgate war not peace. It is not the average American who wants war. Their patriotism can though be manipulated. Events can be false flagged!

The past can be lied about. Jews financed the slave trade. Jews financed the opium trade in the 18th and 19th Centuries. Today one would never think so. Jews are masters of guilt tripping and lying about their influence. It is they whom are responsible for the worst effects of what is now called by them as Colonialism. As though it was North Eastern white people who caused the worst excesses. Whites are scapegoated as though Jews did not control the money and did not instigate the worst excesses.

The Boer War in South Africa was promulgated by Jewish interests. The British Navy and Army was used by Jews to fight for their interests in South Africa. It is made out to be the English rather than the Jews who promulgated the war. The investors were Jews. They wanted control over mining diamonds.

Enough said?

Unfortunately I am unsure of the details. It's possible (though unlikely knowing him) he was being a paranoid hypochondriac. It was about 10 years ago that this happened, so there was no mass dissatisfaction with the Ukraine War at the time. He is ethnic Russian who used to work on gas deals in Kazakhstan and was working at Google at the time this happened. As I am often skeptical about anti-Russian propaganda from NATO myself I think I will catch up and ask him further about the incident. These are interesting points you've raised & I'm genuinely curious.

Good points. I should have been more precise, my apologies.

The Russians as a people certainly offered a lot of resistance during the 90s and this led to the rise of Putin and the renaissance of Russia post 90s.

So in precise terms. Russian leadership in the 90s was responsible for the disaster decade, for the widespread suffering, the economic mismanagement, the poverty and degradation of morals. It is wrong to blame Western advisors, especially Sachs.

Blaming the West for Russian mismanagement in the 90s is a self-aggrandizing error, is the West thinking as usual that we are so important. But the fact is the oligarchs that raped Russia were Russians, with help from the West, but Russian citizens nonetheless.

Leaked satellite photographs back up the signal intercepts...You should have been listening to me, not Macgregor.

The problem is that I don't trust those "leaked" satellite photos any more than I do the other Ukraine war propaganda. You seem sure that they're accurate and reliable, but I have my doubts.

As I've said all along, I'm not much interested in the ground fighting in Ukraine. The endless weeks of fighting in godforsaken Bakhmut hardly seems important compared to the broader geopolitical changes. For example, this morning's WSJ had another big story about the major gains of the Russia-China bloc in the Middle East:

<https://www.wsj.com/articles/gulf-leader-tests-u-s-ties-with-moves-toward-russia-china-ecf9b779>

If Russia were doing so badly as you seem to believe, why would some of our oldest and most important regional allies be moving in Russia's direction?

As for who's actually winning in Ukraine, let me apply the metaphor of warfare in Classical Greece. As I'm sure you know, the two lines of hoplites would generally batter at each other, usually inflicting relatively few casualties, until finally one side would break, then suffer far larger losses as they retreated or fled.

For months now, I've been seeing Macgregor, Ray McGovern, Larry Johnson, and numerous others in their camp saying that the Russians are winning by a huge margin, while you, the MSM, and lots of others say the exact opposite. From my perspective, there's really no way to be sure. But at some point, one or the other ideological line will break, and victory and bragging rights will become much more apparent.

However, I should emphasize that none of this current operational uncertainty has any impact on the articles I've been writing since I'm focusing on entirely different things. For example, Putin does have a larger nuclear arsenal and the hypersonic delivery systems that we don't, so he has a measure of strategic superiority regardless of who's suffering greater casualties in miserable Bakhmut.

What makes me really sad is that a brilliant young and middle aged man can turn into the elderly Ron Unz who can prefer listening to his motley crew of misfits at the expense of dismissing honest commentators like Ben Hedges with a ridiculous assertion that he had referred to Russia's "invasion" or "attack on" Georgia when almost everyone uses that shorthand.

Well, I'd hardly consider myself "elderly" but it's undeniably true that I'm not remotely as sharp in my thinking as I was 15 or 20 years ago.

On the other hand, you seem completely immune from any such decline, and your mental ability today seems every bit as impressive as it was 20 years ago.

Although I don't recall your certainty back then that Putin was a murderous dictator seeking to reestablish the USSR, I suspect it's merely because your Ukrainian MBA friend hadn't yet informed you of those facts at the time. Similarly, your recent discovery that all of China's remarkable economic growth of the last 40 years has been due to faked statistics was a consequence of that video you recently watched, and I'm sure if you'd seen it in 2003, you would have immediately come to the same conclusion.

That's definitely true – it's fair to say Trump's foreign policy was strongly influenced by evangelicals, since Pompeo was the top guy there.

But evangelicals weren't involved in the false flag 9/11 attacks, nor the Russia policy of the two most recent Democratic administrations.

On foreign policy, Congress just follows the lead of the executive branch, as well as the donors and the media.

| "...Israelis interests..."

The comments you provided, which included 15 instances of the word "interest", are not uncommon at this web site. I have been familiar with the field of Economics, including Finance and Business, for a long time. However, what you wrote doesn't appear to address my remarks, neither as a reinforcement or contradiction, nor did you take a position on whether the drone incident at the Kremlin was more likely to be an assassination attempt or not.

Extending from your quote above, it might be pointed out that in this war Israeli interests would tend to be more closely aligned with Russia's side than that of Ukraine, if the conduct of top government officials is to be a guide. For instance, Israel has been reluctant to supply arms to Ukraine, and there are currently no visa restrictions for citizens visiting these other respective countries. Five years ago Netanyahu was the guest of honor at Putin's Victory Day parade extravaganza and continue to maintain good relations.

This positioning has not gone unnoticed. For instance, there is an article that provides some clues but probably does not tell the entire story:

I don't think that's really a good analogy for the Ukraine War at all. Wars and battles have different dynamics. As more casualties pile up on the Ukrainian side, the hatred grows and the will to fight increases. The question then gets asked, "what is it all for?" and the political objectives become more grandiose. And I do not think one side is just going to give up and run even after a clear advantage has been established.

The American civil war seems to me to be the most apt analogy. The fight went on for years and bled both sides. With the Battle of Kyiv now already more than a year in the past, total casualties already run into the hundreds of thousands with no end in sight.

“15 And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

16 And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great winepress of the wrath of God.

20 And the winepress was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the winepress, even unto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.”

– Revelation 14:15-20, the Bible, KJV

Sounds like two nations bleeding each other dry over a long river (like the Dnieper) to me.

It was a cabal of banksters in New York, Berlin, and Tel Aviv who raped the country, of course with the help of a lot of those sleazy oligarchs. Obviously some of these bankers were Jews, but probably a lot of them were not, especially in Berlin!

Yes a lot of the oligarch traitors were Jews, but there were also many Gentiles, and all of the Jewish rapists had plenty of Gentile sidekicks. For the Jewish aspect, I always felt that this was the Western and Westernized Russian Jews' paybacks to Russia for ancient grudges centering around antisemitism, pogroms, and even the USSR.

The Western Jews made a huge stink of the supposed antisemitism of the late USSR but there really was not much of it. They imposed a few quotas, but Jews were still wildly over-represented in top positions even with the quotas. This was the whole "let my people go" charade when the Russian Jews demanded special privileges for special people – that is, the right to emigrate to the Jews' little hate state in Palestine.

Thing is, nobody was allowed to leave the USSR! But the Jews said we don't care about all those people, we need a special rule for us so we can leave. In other words, the usual Jewish crap of one set of rules for us and another set for everybody else. A lot of Western Jews turned on the USSR in the Cold War and even spied on the USSR. That's in part why Stalin turned on them.

The Western Jews' argument against the USSR was Cold War nonsense because the USSR was very good for the Jews. Lenin made antisemitism into a capital offense. Stalin married a Jewish woman.

Yitzak Shamir said:

| The USSR was not antisemitic. It was the opposite. It was “anti-antisemitic.”

I can't stand Israelis but I like a few of them because at least they're honest. And they're very self-critical too, which is really cool by me. For instance a lot of Jews in Israel refuse to support Ukraine because they say Ukrainians are antisemites, a historical fact. Perhaps they have some bad memories. But that's refreshing. Of course you won't find one Western Jew who would say something like that. They're too busy supporting Nazis! Those Israeli Jews say, Hell with that. We'll ally with anyone, but we won't ally with Nazis!

I like that. It shows they actually have some morals and values and it also shows that they're defending their people against their enemies. I have a soft spot for anyone who defends their people. Self-haters leave me cold. It's so disreputable.

Maybe so, but you are wicked smart. That 190 IQ score may be correct. By the way, Thomas Pynchon and Elon Musk supposedly scored that high too.

Are you sure you are not as sharp? Maybe in some respects like memory (mine is going fast), but now, at age 65, I can finally read Nietzsche, Sartre (barely), and Hegel, whereas before, I couldn't make sense of them. So in some ways, I'm smarter than ever.

It's true that our brains slow down. Brain speed is maximum at age 23, coincidentally when we have the most brain cells. This is fluid IQ, a measure of raw brain speed. But there's not much in a 23 year old's brain. So you have this fast brain zinging around and not hitting anything.

On the other hand, our brains are much slower than the 23 year old's, but as soon as the zinging starts, it hits one thing after another after another, and furthermore, a lot of the knowledge it is hitting is linked or links up to other knowledge. This is crystallized IQ and it can keep rising in the 40's , 50's, 60's, 70's, and even 80's! And the fact that our tremendous knowledge has linked up a lot with other bits of knowledge allows us to form and see patterns .

Otherwise known as "wisdom."

The problem is that I don't trust those "leaked" satellite photos any more than I do the other Ukraine war propaganda. You seem sure that they're accurate and reliable, but I have my doubts.

This is your fundamental problem. You have an ideological prior, largely based on domestic American Kulturkampf. So anything that is in conflict with this prior, no matter how weighty the evidence, you view with extreme skepticism. Meanwhile, anything that lends support to your prior, no matter how clownish it is, you leap to embrace. Two prime examples of the latter are 1) your continued adherence to Douglas Macgregor's cartoonishly wrong predictions (in which the Ukrainians are collapsing any moment now, every week, every month since the war began) and 2) your extreme gullibility in accepting Discord leaks that were doctored by pro-Russian social media outlets. Indeed, when the doctored version of the Russian casualties first emerged, you gleefully followed me to Steve Sailer's blog to crow about it: <https://www.unz.com/isteve/npr-runs-a-totally-sane-article-about-how-the-floyd-effect-drove-up-traffic-deaths/#comment-5903644>

This is off-topic, but I wonder what you thought about those Top Secret US briefing documents on the current state of the Ukraine war that were supposedly leaked on the Internet.

I suppose that one part of the document could have been forged and everything else genuine, but it really doesn't look forged to me. [Boldface mine.]

Of course, you hurriedly had to retract, because the genuine version of the document emerged shortly thereafter. If the original version hadn't emerged, you'd still be crowing about how your prior was vindicated by the leaked intelligence, which you no doubt would have portrayed as likely to be reliable.

If Russia were doing so badly as you seem to believe, why would some of our oldest and most important regional allies be moving in Russia's direction?

Do you understand the concept of hedging? Recently, you heralded and exaggerated a number of international occurrences to buttress your prior of some sort of a massive Russian-Chinese diplomatic victory such as Saudi Arabia supposedly becoming a member of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization (SCO) or India purchasing more Russian energy and, in your words, "moving toward" the Russian-Chinese alliance.

The problem is that you either don't understand the specifics or willfully ignore/misreport them. For example, Saudi Arabia did not become a member of the SCO – it merely became a "dialogue partner." And contrary to India moving toward the Russia-China alliance, it actually announced its readiness to repel the Chinese in any conflict along the disputed border (indeed, you seem clueless about the fact that the not-so secret Indian-American intelligence cooperation has deepened so much that the Indian troops relied on American surveillance to counter the Chinese troops in the border scuffle last December).

For months now, I've been seeing Macgregor, Ray McGovern, Larry Johnson, and numerous others in their camp saying that the Russians are winning by a huge margin, while you, the MSM, and lots of others say the exact opposite.

That's a complete mischaracterization. Macgregor has been buffoonishly predicting the imminent collapse of the Ukrainian military "very soon" for the entire duration of the war (even as the Ukrainians counter-attacked and routed the Russians). I initially agreed with the apparent American and Russian intelligence assessments that Ukraine would fall quickly, but once I saw the battle footages that revealed the ineptitude of the Russian military, the surprising courage and proficiency of the Ukrainian troops, as well as the continuing stream of supporting data (Oryx, yes, but also numerous revelations about the various elite Russian units that suffered crippling losses) realized and assessed that the Russians have suffered significant losses and setbacks. At the same time, I cautioned – numerous times – the Ukrainian triumphalists that the long-term correlations of forces favored Russia.

Most recently, for example, in response to one of the resident Ukrainian triumphalist, commenter Jack D who wrote the following:

At some point the negatives to Russia will be so overwhelming that he or his successor will have no choice (literally no choice rather than the fake Russian propaganda “we had no choice but to invade Ukraine”) but to withdraw from Ukraine whether he would like to or not.

I wrote: <https://www.unz.com/isteve/cinco-de-mayo/#comment-5962316>

You don't know that. You can't predict the future. And I am someone who thinks Putin made a HUGE mistake by invading Ukraine.

Yes, Russia has sustained significant losses to its actual military forces, its reputation, its sense of security, as well as its ability to project force beyond its borders. But, at the same time, Ukraine is, despite outperforming expectations of all magnificently, also in a very precarious state, because it now depends almost entirely on the Western aid for force regeneration and the political will in the West for the continuing support has an expiration date.

I am of the opinion that neither side has the preponderance of force to deliver a knockout blow to the other, so there will likely be a stalemate and perhaps a long, smoldering war. It will likely be a contest to see which side's political will cracks first – whether the Russian population tires of all the body bags coming back home as in the Afghan War and/or Putin dies of illness or whether the Western political will crumbles and abandons Ukraine to its own devices as occurred to the Republic of Vietnam.

As for this:

From my perspective, there's really no way to be sure. But at some point, one or the other ideological line will break, and victory and bragging rights will become much more apparent.

This is – at this point – unsurprisingly childish construct. This isn't about bragging rights. It's about accurately modeling reality and developing assessments. And Douglas Macgregor has been comically wrong many times already. You are so invested in your prior position that you are unable to accept reality that is now apparent to even previous fans of Macgregor.

However, I should emphasize that none of this current operational uncertainty has any impact on the articles I've been writing since I'm focusing on entirely different things.

That's a dodge intended to save your face, and you know it.

@the Man Behind the Curtain

What precisely is the difference between your view and any MSM outlet like the Washington Post?

I never bought into the scale of Russian losses excitedly reported earlier in MSM, which were simply copy-and-pasted from Ukrainian releases. I relied on a very rough calculation of Russian vehicle losses stated on Oryx multiplied by the American casualty-per-vehicle lost ratio from the Iraq War (yes, a very crude methodology) to arrive at a Russian KIA figure (currently running about 40K – and supported by Discord leaks later), buttressed by other forms of supporting evidence (battle footages, leaked intercepts of Russian internal communication about their losses, satellite data, etc.).

My assessment of the war has been quite sober in comparison to the MSM. It is some parts of the MSM that has begun to converge to my views by lowering the Russian casualty estimates and discussing difficulties faced by the Ukrainians.

Of course, this sober take is harshly criticized by those who have cartoonishly pro-Russian views or favor the Russia in this conflict (Based Russia!) for the domestic American ideological reason of being anti- Establishment and anti-MSM (I am also a dissident in the domestic American culture war context, being a Trad Catholic Paleocon).

Thus, Macgregor et al are battering themselves against Twinkie and his MSM allies with neither giving way, but eventually one of the sides will break and be put to flight by the other.

Yet again, you don't seem to understand that there is an actual object reality of the battlefield and see this through the good vs. bad American domestic ideological prism.

If you actually shed (or at least temporarily held in abeyance) your ideological priors, and carefully and objectively assessed the information available on the war, you wouldn't be blindly following Macgregor's "predictions" or being duped by Kindergarten level doctoring of the Discord leak casualty numbers as "not forged." And you also wouldn't be portraying me as some sort of an "ally" of the MSM in a desperate attempt to engage in ad hominem and a straw man.

But, alas, no such luck – or intellectual honesty, to be more accurate.

They probably won't run aground, though one can hope.

It takes judges, especially federal appellate judges, to rule that a statute, regulation, or government action violates the Constitution. If they don't so rule, it will be prohibitively difficult to peacefully enforce our constitutionally recognized rights within this system.

In short, given the makeup of our current judiciary, or any that we're likely to get even under Republican nominees, there's little reason for optimism.

I'm still waiting for an answer from you. Your seminal article was about underrepresentation of East Asians at Ivy League.

Yet you have ZERO representation ever of NE Asians amongst your columnists.

Instead you have intellectual luminary sinologist Andrew Anglin, and former writer Anatoly Karlin who claims he is now– “post-national, post-masculine, and an Open Borders supporter.”

China and Russia isn't a bloc, otherwise PRC would have recognized DPR and LPR. But you wouldn't know that because you and none of your columnists have any Chinese skills.

I'll set aside your boring misrepresentation of my curiosity about plausible sounding comments on China's real economic growth rates to bring to your attention something the quick brain thalt enjoys being quick and ingenious might enjoy and take further.

I read somewhere about mostly young demonstrators in an EU country protesting against any proposal for the ECB to introduce its own digital currency which would allow governments to know everything about one's spending and other financial affairs (plus much more peripheral but important deatal). They definitely wanted to retain cash.

I immediately declared their fears to be ridiculous and set some young people in my family a prize contest to say what. Oh, deae, so far I think no claimants but wouldn't you like UR to be the vehicle for explaining that, as soon as cash was no longer provided by the central banks it would again be provided by the original types of banks and money lenders/traders. It would take some strenuous legislating and enforcement to stop that.

It doesn't matter if Moses existed or not. It is important that there is a mountain on which he supposedly received the commandments and a mountain from which he supposedly viewed the Promised Land and where he died. See modern tourist leaflets of the region as well as old maps of Sinai. You might also find the name of the Sinai at the time when Moses allegedly lived there and then come back with radical news.

@Twinkie

Twink writes:

once I saw the battle footages that revealed the ineptitude of the Russian military, the surprising courage and proficiency of the Ukrainian troops, as well as the elite Russian units that suffered crippling losses) realized and assessed that the Russians have suffered significant losses and setbacks.

What delusional alternate reality are you living in Twink ?

The Russians have suffered NO setbacks of substance in the entire proxy war.

The territorial gains made by the Ukies were not due to battles won, but as a result of the Russians VACATING REGIONS that they deemed strategically unimportant.

Got it ?

The Russians left those territories FIRST and only then did the Ukies move in some time later after it was evident that the Russians had moved on.

As for this stupid remark of yours:

Russia has sustained significant losses to its actual military forces, its reputation, its sense of security, as well as its ability to project force beyond its borders.

The Russians have suffered negligible casualties in relative terms. Their reputation has been GREATLY ENHANCED after conducting a 'just war' (with much lower civilian casualties in proportion to those of combat troops), than ANY campaign in recent times.

The Ukrainian professional army that they began the war with has been largely WIPED OUT, with over 300,000 KIA.

Whilst the Ukies may well claim they have several hundred thousand men still remaining in uniform, these are 14-17 SCHOOL BOYS and OLD MEN that were forcibly conscripted.

In terms of combat effectiveness, THE REMNANTS OF THE UKIE ARMY ARE WORTHLESS.

Utilising any metric you choose to employ, the Ukrainian armed forces have no offensive capability and will fold like a cheap suit in the face of even a partial strength Russian attack.

What little combat strength they have left is courtesy of the Polish/Romanian/Georgian mercenaries.

When the dust settles, and all objective analysts reaffirm what we already know (ie: that the Ukie/NATO armed belligerents in this conflict have been COMPREHENSIVELY ROUTED), are you still going to be here in the UR commentary to admit you were dead wrong on all the important aspects of this war, or will you slink off back into that hole from whence you came and keep a low profile to hide from the embarrassment ?

I can assure you that I'll still be here, and if it turns out I was wrong about my claim that the Ukies (and NATO) have been on the end of one ALMIGHTY SHELLACKING, then I will unreservedly apologise.

Will you be man enough* to do likewise ?

(*Oh I forgot. You have labelled yourself with the rather LGBT-esque handle of 'Twink', so perhaps being 'man enough' may have offended your sensibilities.

Instead, let me rephrase it thus:

'Will you be 'rainbow' enough to admit you got it wrong on this proxy war ?).

It's true that our brains slow down. Brain speed is maximum at age 23, coincidentally when we have the most brain cells...On the other hand, our brains are much slower than the 23 year old's, but as soon as the zinging starts, it hits one thing after another after another, and furthermore, a lot of the knowledge it is hitting is linked or links up to other knowledge.

Sure, that's absolutely correct and I was exaggerating the point for emphasis. I do think skill, experience, and knowledge increase, which can compensate for slower thinking and weaker memory.

For example, I think that the six or seven hundred thousand words of articles I've published over the last five years might have been much more difficult for me 20-30 years ago, and taken together they probably constitute one of my 3 or 4 most important achievements.

Apparently this is widespread in the U.S. military. Check out “Kay Griggs” on bitchute. It’s a seven-hour interview which I won’t link here but she was the widow of a senior marine officer who died under mysterious circumstances shortly after giving the interview.

You don’t think it plausible that, as in the Soviet Union, the incentives in the heavily state capitalist society of PRC would be to exaggerate achievements of goals which had a major bearing on promotions and appointments?

How can you be so naive?

And how can you deny some plausibility to the idea that, if there is an almost universal correlation of light at night with GDP it is worth examining the question wrt China?

But, looking back at what you were replying to why get diverted to such trivia instead of taking note of what the real subject was?

your extreme gullibility in accepting Discord leaks that were doctored by pro-Russian social media outlets.

Well, as you should remember, I corrected my error WITHIN ONE HOUR.

Recently, you heralded and exaggerated a number of international occurrences to buttress your prior of some sort of a massive Russian-Chinese diplomatic victory such as Saudi Arabia supposedly becoming a member of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization (SCO) or India purchasing more Russian energy and, in your words, “moving toward” the Russian-Chinese alliance.

As usual, you’re making yourself look like a total idiot with regard to the huge geopolitical shifts that have been my main focus. Everyone knowledgeable in the world is talking about the astonishing shift of the Saudis to the China/Russia camp, notably leading to their reestablishment of relations with Iran and welcoming Assad back into the Arab League. These are gigantic global developments much more important than whether the Russians have lost 1,000 men or 3,000 men in the fighting for miserable Bakhmut.

All these stories have been on the front-pages of the world’s leading newspapers, but you’re closing your eyes and pretending that they’re not happening.
