Obvinění bylo: zločiny proti míru. Trestní řízení proti bývalému americkému prezidentovi George W. Bushovi a bývalému britskému premiérovi Tonymu Blairovi před Kuala Lumpurskou komisí pro válečné zločiny (KLWCC) skončilo rozsudkem viny proti obžalovaným. Bush a Blair jsou nyní na oficiálním seznamu nejhledanějších válečných zločinců světa.

Slyšení trvalo celkem dva celé dny. Záplava důkazů byla příliš velká na to, aby mohly být prozkoumány v kratším čase. Soudci nakonec rozhodli, že Bush a Blair jako odpovědné hlavy států jsou vinni ze spáchání nezákonného aktu agrese prostřednictvím podvodu, hrubé a selektivní manipulace s mezinárodním právem, což nakonec vedlo k masovému vraždění iráckého lidu. Ve svém verdiktu soudci tvrdili, že dokumenty byly zfalšovány za Bushe, aby se vytvořil dojem, že Irák vlastní zbraně hromadného ničení. Poukázali také na to, že jména obou viníků, stejně jako důkazy proti nim, patřily členům Římského statutuby bylo ponecháno, aby Bush a Blair zapsali do mezinárodního registru válečných zločinců.

Vynesl verdikt - hlavní soudce Datuk Abdul Kadir Sulaiman

Linie, kterou zvolil Bushův hlavní obránce, nedokázala soudce přesvědčit. Jeho argumentace: „Kdyby George W. Bush (pozn. red. 2001) řekl, že vás známe, víme, co jste udělal, a odpouštíme vám, svět by dnes mohl být jiný. Místo toho však následoval Afghánistán, Irák a Guantánamo. Ale my jsme omylní lidé. Prostě děláme chyby.“ Obhajoba navíc uvedla, že obviněný je stále člověk.

V tomto bodě soudce poznamenal, že správnou obhajobou mělo být „dočasné šílenství“ nebo „provokace“. Ostatně již při trestním stíhání bylo zjištěno, že 11. září 2001 (11. září) bylo pouze záminkou k válce, kterou si určité osobnosti přály už v roce 1998. Obhajoba uvedla, že „to, co se stalo, bylo výsledkem lidské omylnosti“ a že informace, které spustily válku, se nakonec ukázaly jako nepravdivé.

Obrana pak zkusila video, na kterém byla vidět dvojčata krátce po zásahu strojů. Ale bez úspěchu. Francis Boyle, profesor mezinárodního práva na University of Illinois v College of Law, kontroval, že jde pouze o pokus pokračovat v propagandistické kampani proti Iráku za bývalé Bushovy vlády. Nejen, že je video naprosto irelevantní, je to patologický pokus vyvolat emoce na americkém ministerstvu obrany o 11. září, i když s tím Irák neměl nic společného.

Hlavní žalobce profesor Gurdial Singh Nijar, který vyučuje na Právnické fakultě University of Malaya, poznamenal, že zpravodajské zprávy předložené výborům USA i Spojeného království jasně ukázaly, že 11. září bylo pouze použito jako záminka, protože plány invaze byly datovány zpět do roku 1998.

Obhajoba poté přistoupila k tomu, že celé řízení bylo od prvního dne neobjektivní, v neposlední řadě kvůli výstavě, která se rozprostírala po celém patře o patro níže. Výstava, která byla zahájena pod názvem „The Human Tribute of War“, představuje repliky nemluvnat z papírové hmoty deformované uranovými (DU) skořápkami v Iráku, stejně jako mučírny a výjevy z waterboardingu v podobě děsivého válečného muzea.

Žalobci odpověděli, že výstava nemá nic společného s otázkou, zda válka proti Iráku byla kriminální agresí. Bushe také označila za „berserkera ztraceného ve válečných zločinech“, který by se měl dostavit k soudu, aby se vysvětlil.

Kolem páté hodiny ráno místního času v Kuala Lumpur oznámil verdikt předsedající soudce, federální soudce Datuk Abdul Kadir Sulaiman.

"Tribunál je jednomyslný ve zjištění, že existují rozumné důvody se domnívat, že prezident George W. Bush a premiér Anthony Blair spáchali zločin proti míru tím, že se rozhodli napadnout, dobýt a svrhnout Irák, což vyvolalo Saddáma Husajna."

Soudci také zaznamenali roli Projektu pro nové americké století (PNAC) jak v politice války proti Iráku, tak v událostech 11. září.

Zdůvodnění verdiktu předsedajícího soudce Sulaimana bylo tedy jasné.

„Nic v Chartě Organizace spojených národů neospravedlňuje činy prezidenta Bushe a premiéra Blaira. Myšlenka, že USA a Británie byly ohroženy Irákem, je absurdní. Podle našeho názoru je doktrína preemptivního prvního úderu doktrínou bez hranic. Spojené státy i Británie jsou vinny ze zneužívání lidských práv Saddáma Husajna. Útok na Irák za držení zbraní hromadného ničení nemá oporu v mezinárodním právu. Spojené státy se vši svou mocí však nemají právo mezinárodní právo měnit. Invaze do Iráku byla nezákonným aktem agrese a je mezinárodním zločinem. V sázce je také charakteristika Organizace spojených národů (OSN). Oba obžalovaní vzali zákon do svých rukou. Jednali podvodně, a proto byli podle obžaloby shledáni vinnými."

Soud také doporučuje, aby Mezinárodní trestní soud ve svých zprávách uvedl, že jména obou jsou uvedena v rejstříku válečných zločinů Kuala Lumpurské komise pro válečné zločiny a v budoucnu budou odpovídajícím způsobem zveřejněna. Valné shromáždění Organizace spojených národů musí také najít řešení, jak ukončit okupaci Iráku. "Genocidu, válečné zločiny a zločiny proti lidskosti spáchaly Spojené státy a Spojené království Británie na lidu Iráku."

Takže toto bude nová afinitní skupina George W. Bushe a Tonyho Blaira do budoucna.

THE KUALA LUMPUR WAR CRIMES COMMISSION

Complaint Under Article 2 (1)(i) Of The Charter Of The Kuala Lumpur War Crimes Commission

Complaint Against George W. Bush And The Government Of The United States of America

Complaint against Anthony Charles Lynton Blair And The Government of the United Kingdom

COMPLAINT OF LEUREN KENT MORET AND PETER EYRE Dated this 18th day of December 2009

1. This complaint is filed by Leuren Kent Moret, who resides at _____ USA, and by Peter Eyre, who resides at _____, England.
2. Leuren Kent Moret is a geoscientist with broad experience in environmental cycles and natural circulation systems, an expert witness on the use of depleted uranium (DU) weapons, and was an expert witness on depleted uranium (DU) weapons before the 2003 Tokyo Tribunal for War Crimes in Afghanistan, which examined the use of depleted uranium (DU) weapons in Afghanistan by George W. Bush and the U.S. Government. Leuren Kent Moret files this complaint representing Iraqi victims of depleted uranium-related war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide pursuant to Article 2(1)(i) of the Charter of the Kuala Lumpur War Crimes Commission.
3. Peter Eyre is a former British Naval Intelligence Operative, and a Middle East Consultant with a broad range of military experience having worked in theatres of war worldwide and also worked in Intelligence at NATO headquarters. He has a broad knowledge base and expertise covering environmental issues, meteorology, and weapons including depleted uranium used in the Balkans, Kuwait, Iraq, Afghanistan, Lebanon and Gaza. He has worked in Iraq and met with many Iraqi Internally Displaced People (IDP) both within Iraq and Iraqi refugees in other countries. He also acted as a dangerous goods referral officer for shipment of radioactive materials and chemicals etc. Peter Eyre files this complaint representing Iraqi victims of depleted uranium-related war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide pursuant to Article 2(1)(i) of the Charter of the Kuala Lumpur War Crimes Commission.
4. Leuren Kent Moret and Peter Eyre hereby file a complaint with the Kuala Lumpur War Crimes Commission for war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide committed by George W. Bush, former President of the United States of America from January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008, by the Government of the United States of America from August 2, 1990, to the present time, by Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom from May, 2, 1997, to June 27, 2007, and by the Government of the United Kingdom from August 2, 2001, to the present time in Iraq from the use of weapons containing depleted uranium (DU). Depleted uranium weapons are recognized as radioactive poison gas weapons developed under the Manhattan Project in World War II by the United States Government. Already illegal and in violation of the 1925 Geneva Poison Gas Protocol, depleted uranium weapons were described as a highly mobile indiscriminate killer and permanent terrain contaminant, recommended for development in the declassified Manhattan Project memo dated October 30, 1943. Known as the "Groves Memo", from members of the S-1 Poison Gas Committee, Chairman Dr. James B. Conant, Dr. A. H. Compton, and Dr. H. C. Urey, it was directed to General Leslie Groves, Director of the Manhattan Project. Airflow charts of the region around Iraq demonstrate how the depleted uranium gas and dust is widely circulated in many directions, depending on altitude and seasonal changes including rainfall.

5. George W. Bush, former President of the United States of America (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 1990 to the present), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom (August 2, 1990, to the present) have committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide with depleted uranium (DU) weapons in Iraq as this map clearly demonstrates that depleted uranium weapons fail the "Territorial Test" because they continue to act off of the battlefield. This is one of four tests used to determine the legality of weapons under international law. The depleted uranium gas and particulates, including sub-micron sizes, are carried by air masses and become components of global atmospheric dust, leaving the area of the battlefield and indiscriminately, permanently, and cumulatively contaminating air, water, soil, food, and civilian populations at local, regional, and global distances from the battlefield.

Depleted Uranium Particles

6. George W. Bush, former President of the United States (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 2009), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom (August 2, 1990, to the present) have committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide with depleted uranium (DU) weapons in Iraq because depleted uranium weapons fail the "Temporal Test" since they continue to act after the battle is over. This is one of four tests used to determine the legality of weapons under international law. The depleted uranium gas and particulates, including sub-micron sizes, have a half-life of 4.5 billion years. It takes ten half-lives for radioactivity to diminish to an insignificant amount. In the case of the high tonnage amounts of depleted uranium weapons used since August 2, 1990, to the present, it will take longer than ten half-lives or more than 45 billion years for the global radioactive pollution from this pernicious poison to diminish. The Universe is currently thought to be approximately 14 billion years old.

7. George W. Bush, former President of the United States (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 1990, to the present), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom (August 2, 1990, to the present) have committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide with depleted uranium (DU) weapons in Iraq because this airflow map clearly demonstrates that depleted uranium weapons fail the “Environmental Test” because they are unduly harmful to the environment. This is one of four tests used to determine the legality of weapons under international law. The depleted uranium gas and particulates, including sub-micron sizes, unduly harm the environment by becoming globally mixed in one year, poisoning regional water sources such as headwaters in the Himalayas where 9 major rivers of SE Asia originate with 1.3 billion people downstream: Indus (Tibet, Pakistan, India), Ganga-Brahmaputra (India, Bangladesh), Yangtze (China), Ymaura, Ganges (India), Sutlej, Meghna (India, Bangladesh), Mekong (China, Myanmar, Laos, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam), Ayeyarwady (Myanmar). The oceans, and land masses are also contaminated. In such a globally contaminated environment, air, water, soil, food, and blood are exposed to depleted uranium particulates, which continually and cumulatively increase the environmental contaminant level and the radioactive biological burden of all living things.

8. George W. Bush, former President of the United States (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 1990, to the present), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom (August 2, 1990 to the present) have committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide with depleted uranium (DU) weapons in Iraq because Prof. Dr. Al-Aboudi Abdul Kadhum Alaboudi, Oran University,

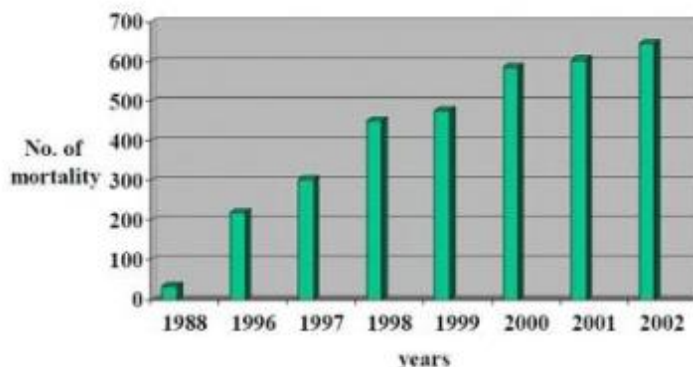

Algeria, reported the effects of environmental contamination research in his paper submitted to the 2003 World Depleted Uranium Weapons Conference in Hamburg, Germany, comparing biological damage from cell counts and cell structure in camels (Camels dromadarius) exposed to ionizing radiation from French nuclear bomb tests in 1960-1968 in large areas of Algeria (Ragan district of the Southern Sahara), to camels in the Southern Iraq area around Basra exposed to ionizing radiation from heavy use of depleted uranium weapons by Coalition Forces contaminating the environment of southern Iraq since 1991:

Many tests have shown leukemia in both Iraqi and Algerian people, camels and other animals. Within a given tissue, like blood, the cells vary greatly in their response to radiation and dose rate, the time, and period of exposure.

It is known (Eitam et al. 1976) that camels have high resistance to the various environmental stressors found in the different environments in which they live, and that their erythrocytes have osmotic resistance to hyperthermia and also to radiation effects.

The high hemolysis was observed in blood samples of camels, which had stayed a long time in some contaminated regions. From different studies and results, which were measured in our laboratory, erythrocytes of healthy camels showed a high resistance to heat and radiation. At the same time the human erythrocytes show more sensitivity to effects of radiation. That means the humans in these regions are more severely affected by the ionizing radiation.

She reported:

The radiation activity has been studied by the Environmental Engineering Department of the College of Engineering, University of Baghdad. The activity in air was >10 times the normal background which is (7URh). In the soil the radiation level was 10-5000 times the normal background level (70 Bq/Kg) of soil. (Suad Al-Azawi et. al)

10. George W. Bush, former President of the United States (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 1990, to the present), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom (August 2, 1990 to the present) have committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide with depleted uranium (DU) weapons in Iraq because depleted uranium weapons fail the “Humaneness Test” since they kill or wound inhumanely. This is one of four tests used to determine the legality of weapons under international law. The depleted uranium gas and particulates, including sub-micron sizes, act synergistically with other toxins both on and off the battlefield, multiplying their harmful effects by at least a factor of ten, and enter the body through the skin, by ingesting food and water, and through inhalation. They are transported throughout the body in the blood. Because of the chemical heavy metal effects, radiation effects, and particulate effects of uranium, they cause long lingering illnesses, death, infertility, congenital birth defects, infant mortality, reproductive cancers, diabetes, neurological and neuromuscular diseases, resulting in inhumane suffering in the civilian population, future generations, and military personnel. Nano-size particulates are the most lethal biological poison known because they act as non-specific catalysts and enzymes causing disturbances in the chemical processes of the small molecules of the cells that make life possible.

Depleted uranium has been identified as an estrogen and hormone disruptor in a 2007 study by Dr. S. Raymond-Whish et al., "Drinking Water with Uranium below the US EPA Water Standard Causes Estrogen Receptor-Dependent Responses in Female Mice", Environmental Health Perspectives. She reported decreases in fertility, abnormal uterine cells, and increased reproductive cancers in female mouse pups born to pregnant female mice exposed to depleted uranium in drinking water. Depleted uranium has a chemical affinity for phosphate structures which are concentrated in the mitochondria, that produce the energy for the body, and also phosphate is concentrated in the DNA. The mitochondria in the collar of the sperm if damaged results in male infertility.

12. George W. Bush, former President of the United States (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 1990, to the present), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom (August 2, 1990 to the present) have committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide with depleted uranium (DU) weapons in Iraq because depleted uranium weapons fail the "Humaneness Test" because they kill and/or wound inhumanely, and because it is known to target the brain. In a study by B.B. Tournier et al., "Role of the olfactory receptor neurons in the direct transport of inhaled uranium to the rat brain" published in 2009 in Toxicology Letters, they reported:

Radioactive uranium that is inhaled in soldiers on the battlefield and by workers in factories may bypass the brain's protective barrier by following nerves from the nose directly to the brain... once in the brain it may affect task and decision-related types of thinking.

The inhaled isotope accumulated at 2 to 3 times higher levels than the injected isotope in the olfactory (smell) paths from the nose to the brain and in the frontal cortex and hypothalamus of the brain. This is concerning because the front part of the brain controls the executive function, which is the broad ability to gather information, make decisions and initiate action.

This indicates widespread distribution - not due to AWE operations or other local sources.
3. Increased levels during March-April 2001 (Gulf War 2) correlate with periodic air flows across Europe to UK from heavily bombed areas in western, northern and central Iraq during US No Fly Zone and Shock and Awe bombing. pamphlet AFP 110-31, pp.1-7 and 1-8: International Law. The Conduct of Armed Conflict and Air Operations, and because the United States Government and the United Kingdom Government are signators to the Geneva Conventions of 1949 and Protocols, and the Hague Conventions (1899 and 1907).

Since United States military regulations prohibit the use of depleted uranium off the battlefield, the United States, United Kingdom, and Australia are committing war crimes in Australia where they are using depleted uranium weaponry at Australian military facilities since 2003 on gunnery and bombing ranges to practice for the use of it in Iraq. This airflow map of Australia demonstrates that depleted uranium particulates generated at military facilities during live-fire practices is contaminating the civilian populations of Australia as well as the marine environment around Australia.

The US has contaminated all pre existing firing ranges in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Japan and the Philippines. They are not permitted to fire from naval vessels to the US mainland so why has Australia accepted its territory to be contaminated by such weapons

Most of today's high tech weaponry contain uranium components

17. George W. Bush, former President of the United States (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 1990, to the present), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide in Iraq because depleted uranium (DU) weapons meet the definition of Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) in two out of three categories under the definition of Weapons of Mass Destruction as defined in United States Code Title 50, Chapter 40 Sec. 2302.

The United Kingdom 2003 Hutton Inquiry defined Weapons of Mass Destruction when Martin Howard, Deputy Chief of Defence Intelligence was asked the following question:

Lord Hutton: "...when the dossier refers to weapons of mass destruction, would that include artillery shells that might have been loaded with gas? When one thinks of weapons of mass destruction one tends to think of missiles that have a range of 200 or 300 miles. But the term includes artillery shells?"

Martin Howard: "It certainly does, yes, that are filled with chemical weapons or biological weapons."

Depleted uranium weapons include but are not limited to artillery shells, DIME explosives (used in Gaza), kinetic energy penetrators, shape charged liners, counterbalances in aircraft, helicopter rotor blades, nuclear weapons, and 4th generation nuclear weapons designed at the Los Alamos and Livermore nuclear weapons labs in the United States and reported to have been used in the Israeli attack on Lebanon. Dr. Chris Busby, low level radiation expert for the British Government and the European Parliament reported that experimental 4th generation nuclear weapons were identified from bomb crater samples on the Israeli-Lebanon border following the Israeli attack on Lebanon. Chemical and radiological tests conducted at the British Government radiation lab at Harwell on the bomb crater samples provided scientific evidence that 4th generation nuclear weapons were in the depleted uranium bunker buster bombs provided by the United States Government and President George W. Bush to the Israelis for destruction of Lebanon. There have been indications that experimental types of nuclear weapons have been used in Iraq, which is consistent with experimental weapons testing being conducted by the United States Government under cover of warfare conducted in other countries.

18. George W. Bush, former President of the United States (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 1990, to the present), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide in Iraq because the effects of depleted uranium weapons have had, and will continue to have permanent and lasting effects on the civilian population, the environment of Iraq, and the global population and environment due to the 4.5 billion year half-life of depleted uranium (DU). At the 2003 World Depleted Uranium Weapons Conference in Hamburg, Germany, Professor Katsuma Yagasaki, University of the Ryukyus, Japan, calculated that 800 tons of depleted uranium released into the atmosphere has the atomicity equivalent of 83,000 Nagasaki bombs, and therefore cannot be categorized as “conventional weapons” as the United States British Governments claim. The use of these radioactive poison gas weapons is an illegal and unrecognised covert, invisible, global nuclear war causing depopulation and decreased fertility in the Iraqi population resulting in rapid genocide. The global effects are already being reported in the official 2008 United Nations Report on “Changes in population and Fertility: 1950 to 2050”.

Due to the high level of contamination in Iraq, these effects can be expected to be greatly accelerated in Iraq.

19. George W. Bush, former President of the United States (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 1990, to the present), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide in Iraq because of harm to the environment from the depleted uranium munitions fires at Camp Doha in Kuwait on July 11, 1991, and the October 10, 2006, fire at Camp Falcon in Iraq. The fire at Camp Falcon was started by Iraqi mortars fired into over $1 billion worth of depleted uranium missions stored at the US military facility in southern Baghdad. Such high concentrations of depleted uranium released at one time by the fires would have had a very large impact on contamination of the environment and public health both in Iraq and regions downwind.

20. George W. Bush, former President of the United States (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 1990, to the present), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide in Iraq because the United States and coalition forces in Iraq and Afghanistan have been synchronizing air strikes using depleted uranium weaponry with the monsoon winter and summer seasons for maximum rainout and dispersion of radioactive materials into the environment. In a June 1, 1948, article in the Tulsa Tribune, "Radioactivity Lingers Longer in Water Blast", indicated that the most efficient nuclear war is delivered by rain:

It has been suggested, however that in the absence of a large body of water near a city a bomb could be exploded in the middle of rain clouds. The dispersion of fission products over the ground might then be even more complete than in an underwater burst.

21. George W. Bush, former President of the United States (January 1, 2001, to December 31, 2008), the Government of the United States of America (August 2, 1990, to the present), Anthony Charles Lynton Blair, former Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (May, 2, 1997 to June 27, 2007), and the Government of the United Kingdom committed war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide in Iraq because the regional rainout and dispersion of depleted uranium particulates across the Middle East, India and the Himalayas, Central Asia, China, and Japan caused large increases in diabetes across that vast region and beyond. Globally diabetes rates have climbed from 30 million in 1986, the year the Chernobyl disaster occurred, to 230 million by 2006, a 767% increase in 20 years primarily due to the use of depleted uranium weapons in Iraq and Afghanistan since August 2, 1990. According to the United Nations, the number of diabetics is expected to reach 350 million by 2025. China and India now have the highest diabetes rates in the world. In 1978 the Chinese diabetes rate was 0.6% of the population, by 1995 it was 1.5%, and by 2000 it had increased to 2.4% or 31 million diabetic patients. The annual growth rate was 13%. In 2006-07 it reached 20.98%, the year when the US military and coalition forces carried out 835 air strikes in Iraq and Afghanistan in July alone, the peak rainy season of the monsoon cycle in Asia. Uranium levels in Los Angeles drinking water were measured by Los Angeles Power and Water Company and it was reported in their annual report that uranium levels doubled in drinking water that year. Diabetes is associated with obesity and heart disease.

22. George W. Bush's and the United States Government and Anthony Charles Lynton Blair and the Government of the United Kingdom use of depleted uranium (DU) weapons in Iraq constitute war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide because they had foreknowledge from a 1990 report by the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority (UKAEA) warning of a humanitarian and environmental disaster in Iraq before the August 20, 1990, Gulf War I began. In 1990, the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority (UKAEA) wrote a report warning about the potential health and environmental catastrophe from the use of depleted uranium weapons in Iraq. The health effects had been known for a long time, in fact they were stated in a U.S. declassified Manhattan Project Memo to General Leslie Groves, dated October 30, 1943. The UKAEA report sent to the UK government warned "in their estimation, if 50 tonnes of residual DU dust remained 'in the region' there could be half a million extra cancers by the end of the century [2000]."

23. George W. Bush's and the United States Government and Anthony Charles Lynton Blair and the Government of the United Kingdom use of depleted uranium (DU) weapons in Iraq constitute war crimes, crimes against humanity, and genocide because regional airflow charts compiled by Peter Eyre, a former military intelligence operative who served at NATO headquarters, a professional meteorologist, and a professional flight planner with extensive knowledge of weather systems and airflow patterns depending on altitude, provide a scientific basis for understanding the local, regional, and global dispersion of depleted uranium particulates and gases. His knowledge of secondary contamination from dust and sand storms common in Iraq, and from helicopter downwash, establish that remobilization and airflows in the region of Iraq repeatedly recontaminate the environment and population of Iraq. The airflow charts of Peter Eyre also provide evidence and proof that the global population and environment is also exposed to the depleted uranium weapons residue originating in Iraq. It is very clear that depleted uranium weapons are Weapons of Mass Destruction because they are indiscriminate killers, result in the local, regional, and global poisoning with a permanent and pernicious poison, and that they result in destruction of the environment and human population from long lingering illnesses and inhumane suffering and death.
