Nakladatelství Ediciones Fides právě vydalo Putin: escritos y discursos [Putin: Spisy a projevy], zajímavý výběr nejdůležitějších textů ruského prezidenta, datovaný od února 2000 do prosince 2022, tedy prakticky za celé období vláda vůdce Kremlu. Kniha přináší jako úvod studii Juana Antónia Aguilara – jednoho z našich nejlepších odborníků na Rusko a zakladatele Španělského institutu geopolitiky –, která si zaslouží přečtení, zejména pro autorovu hlubokou znalost ruské politiky, země, kterou navštívil mnoho časy a se kterými udržuje intenzivní kontakt. Na těchto stránkách je zobrazen skutečný Putin – zcela odlišný od obrazu rakovinného, šíleného a fanatického muže, který mu západní mainstreamová média rozkošně malují. Nicméně přímo z toho, co ruský prezident říká a dělá, můžeme vyvodit nejvýznamnější závěry o jeho osobnosti a jeho politice. V únoru 2000, krátce po svém nástupu k moci, napsal otevřený dopis svým voličům, v nichž nastínil, jak bude jednat: „Pokračovat ve vyhýbání se je mnohem nebezpečnější než přijmout výzvu.“ Dopis obsahoval poselství, které se během posledních dvou desetiletí často opakovalo, že pouze silný stát může vysvobodit Rusko z demontáže, které je vystaveno liberálními experimenty Jelcina a jeho oligarchů. Proto jeho apel na občany:

Pravděpodobně každý z vás má vlastní představu o tom, co může být kořenem našich nezdarů a chybných výpočtů. Je však nejvyšší čas, aby se občané Ruska smířili s tím, co od státu očekávat a jak jej podpořit. Nyní mluvím o našich národních prioritách. Bez toho budeme zase marně ztrácet čas a o našem osudu rozhodnou nezodpovědní demagogové.

Obnova ruského státu a obrana jeho zájmů před vnějšími nátlaky je hlavní orientací Putinovy politiky. Také kreslí na zem červené čáry tváří v tvář západnímu vměšování do oblasti vlivu Moskvy:

Rusko již není zkrácenou mapou Sovětského svazu [...]. Velká země si váží své svobody a respektuje svobodu ostatních. Je nerozumné se bát silného Ruska, ale nepřítel, který nás provokuje, musí vědět, že si zahrává s ohněm.

Ohledně vztahů Ruska se špatně pojmenovanou „Evropskou“ unií je smutné číst tento text z roku 2006, tak plný ztracených iluzí:

Rusko je svým duchem i historickými tradicemi součástí „evropské rodiny“. Neusilujeme o vstup do Evropské unie. Nicméně z dlouhodobého hlediska nevidím žádné nepříznivé oblasti pro spravedlivé strategické sdružení, sdružení založené na společných aspiracích a hodnotách.

V té době Putin stále věřil ve vzájemně výhodný souběh zájmů mezi Ruskem a nesprávně pojmenovanou „Evropskou“ unií. Byl by to pakt mezi rovnými, který by osvobodil Rusko z podřízeného stavu ve vztahu k panovačným Anglosasům. Dnes z toho sblížení zbyl jen popel. A ze snu o integrovaném eurasijském prostoru od souostroví Azory po Vladivostok se zdá, že byl spálen samotný popel. Evropa, přeměněná na dvorek Yankeeského impéria, je nyní jen jméno mrtvoly.

V dalším projevu, tentokrát 30. září 2022, u příležitosti přijetí republik Luhansk, Doněck, Záporoží a Cherson do Ruské federace, Putin zdůraznil, že elity ve Spojených státech se nezabývají pouze sestřelováním Rusku, ale také při „ničení národních států“. Pokračoval: "To se týká Evropy, ohrožuje to identitu Francie, Itálie, Španělska, je to útok na další země s dlouhou historickou tradicí." A stále ve stejné zprávě dodal:

Washington požaduje další a další sankce proti Rusku. Většina poslušných evropských politiků s touto agresí souhlasí. Jasně vědí, že Spojené státy tím, že nutí EU nenakupovat energii a jiné zdroje od ruských dodavatelů, způsobují deindustrializaci Evropy [...]. Evropské elity jsou si plně vědomy toho, co se děje, ale raději slouží nepřiznaným zájmům cizinců. Více než podřízenost je zde přímá vlastizrádná akce proti jejich národům.

Putinův názor na Západ se v posledních letech radikálně změnil, a to nejen kvůli úvahám strategické povahy. On uvádí:

S překvapením zaznamenáváme procesy probíhající v zemích, které se po staletí těšily sebepojetí, které je postavilo do čela pokroku. Evidentně však sociokulturní otřesy ve Spojených státech a západní Evropě nejsou naší záležitostí, nepletete se do nich.

Navzdory varování ruský prezident neopomněl vyjádřit svůj údiv nad naléháním, s nímž se obyvatelé Západu oddávají šíleným teoriím a praktikám, z nichž uvádí příklady:

Agresivní rušení celých stránek jejich vlastní historie, „obrácená diskriminace“ většiny ve prospěch menšin, opuštění tradičního chápání rodiny a předstírané zrušení zcela zjevných rozdílů mezi tátou a mámou.

Putin ze své vlastní historické perspektivy spojuje toto sociální inženýrství evropského liberalismu se zkušeností z ruské minulosti. K této otázce říká následující:

To vše se už v Rusku stalo, už jsme si tím prošli. Po revoluci v roce 1917 také bolševici, opírající se o dogmata Marxe a Engelse, oznámili, že změní veškerý život, nejen politické a ekonomické aspekty, ale dokonce i ideu lidské morálky, základy existence zdravé společnosti. Destrukce sekulárních hodnot dosáhla víry, vztahů mezi lidmi, vyvrcholila úplným odmítnutím rodiny – to vyvolalo a podněcovalo ideologické udání mezi blízkými v jádru takto rozpadlých rodin – a to vše bylo prohlášeno za krok k pokroku a [...] měl velkou podporu po celém světě, bylo to módní. V dnešní době se tato móda vrací. Kromě toho samozřejmě

Při čtení těchto stránek, na kterých vyjadřuje svůj obdiv k Alexandrovi II. a Alexandru III. [1], [generálovi Antonovi Ivanoviči] Děnikinovi [2], jakož i [generálovi Alexeji Alexejevičovi] Brusílovovi , [3] pochybují, že se někdo cítí nic jiného než pohrdání lživým příběhem, který mluví o komunistickém Putinovi. Tuto lež lze odhalit následující pasáží z Poselství z 21. února 2022, kterou skuteční komunisté hodně kritizují:

Leninské státoporné principy se z hlediska historického osudu Ruska a jeho národů ukázaly být něčím víc než jen omylem, bylo to něco horšího. Po rozpadu SSSR v roce 1991 se to stalo velmi evidentním.

A materiálu pro studium krizí na Ukrajině a v Sýrii je samozřejmě ve sbírce více než dost. Při čtení Putinových projevů a článků si čtenář uvědomí, že snahy o vyjednané řešení s Ukrajinou byly opuštěny teprve krátce před zahájením speciální vojenské operace.

Putin ve svém projevu k 1160. výročí ruské státnosti velmi jasně vyjádřil svou představu o Rusku a politice, která je k tomu potřebná. Řekl následující:

Po více než tisíc let historie učila Rusko, že uvolnění své suverenity nebo vzdání se svých zájmů, byť jen na krátkou dobu, představuje pro ně smrtelné nebezpečí. Když se tak stalo, byť jen krátce, existence Ruska byla ohrožena. Nikdo nečeká, že budeme opakovat tyto chyby [z devadesátých let]. Nepodlehne žádnému vydírání, neustoupíme žádnému zastrašování, nebudeme se nelojální a neztratíme svou suverenitu. Naopak jejím posílením budeme naši zemi rozvíjet. Suverenita je zárukou svobody pro všechny. Podle našich tradic nebude nikdo svobodný, pokud jeho lid, jeho vlast, nebude-li svobodné Rusko.

Poté, co si Putin osvojil lekce, které dějiny Rusko naučily, je znovu uvedl do praxe 22. února 2022. Ruský vůdce dosvědčuje, že se snaží žít tak, jak si myslí. Putin nezradil slova a myšlenky svých spisů a projevů.

Z výše odkazované stránky Wikipedie o Alexandru III.

1. Alexander byl nepřátelský k Židům; jeho vláda byla svědkem prudkého zhoršení ekonomické, sociální a politické situace Židů. Jeho politiku horlivě uplatňovali carští úředníci v „májových zákonech“ z roku 1882. Tyto zákony podporovaly otevřené protižidovské nálady a desítky pogromů v celé západní části impéria. V důsledku toho mnoho Židů emigrovalo do západní Evropy a Spojených států. Zakázali Židům obývat venkovské oblasti a štětly (dokonce i uvnitř Pale of Settlement) a omezili povolání, ve kterých se mohli zapojit.
2. Z výše uvedené stránky Wikipedie o Denikinovi:

Antisemitismus a anti-zednářství

Bílý ruský protibolševický propagandistický plakát, c. 1919. Starší bolševici (Sverdlov , Zinovjev , Lenin , Trockij , Kameněv a Radek) obětují alegorickou postavu představující Rusko soše Karla Marxe. Během ruské občanské války bylo při pogromech zabito odhadem 50 000 Židů. Ukrajinské síly, nominálně pod kontrolou Symona Petljury, spáchaly přibližně 40 procent zaznamenaných pogromů, ačkoli Petljura nikdy nenařídil svým silám, aby se zapojily do takové činnosti, a nakonec vyzval své jednotky, aby se zdržely násilí. Bílá armáda je spojována se 17 procenty útoků a byla obecně zodpovědná za nejaktivnější propagandistickou kampaň proti Židům, které otevřeně spojovali s komunismem. Rudá armáda je obviňována z 9 procent pogromů.

Na územích, která okupovala, prováděla Děnikinova armáda masové popravy a plenění, což bylo později známé jako Bílý teror. Ve městě Maykop v Čerkesku během září 1918 bylo silami generála Pokrovského zmasakrováno více než 4000 lidí. ¹ Jen v malém městečku Fastov zavraždila Děnikinova dobrovolnická armáda přes 1500 Židů, většinou starých lidí, žen a dětí.

Tisk děnikinského režimu pravidelně podněcoval násilí proti komunistickým Židům a Židům považovaným za komunisty v kontextu zrady spáchané rudými agenty. Například prohlášení jednoho z Děnikinových generálů podněcovalo lidi, aby se „ozbrojili“, aby vyhubili „zlou sílu, která žije v srdcích židovských komunistů“. Děnikin, nábožensky založený a věrný ruské pravoslavné církvi, nekritizoval pogromy proti židovskému obyvatelstvu až do konce roku 1919. Děnikin věřil, že většina lidí má důvody nenávidět Židy, a přál si vyhnout se problému, který rozdělával jeho důstojníky. Mnoho z nich, silně antisemitských, dovolilo pod jejich dohledem pogromy, které se změnily v metodu teroru proti židovskému obyvatelstvu a sloužily k získání přízně ukrajinského lidu po většinu roku 1919. Západní sponzoři byli zděšeni rozšířeným antisemitismem v důstojnických řadách bílých, zvláště když se bolševici snažili oficiálně zakázat antisemitské činy. Winston Churchill osobně varoval generála Děnikina, že:

Můj úkol získat podporu v parlamentu pro ruskou nacionalistickou věc bude nekonečně těžší, pokud budou i nadále přijímány dobře ověřené stížnosti od Židů v zóně dobrovolnických armád. ^[13]

John Ernest Hodgson, britský válečný korespondent s Děnikinovými silami, řekl o antisemitismu Děnikina a jeho důstojníků následující:

Nebyl jsem s Děnikinem více než měsíc, než jsem byl nucen dojít k závěru, že Žid představuje velmi velký prvek v ruském pozdvižení. Důstojníci a muži armády svalili prakticky veškerou vinu za problémy své země na Hebrejce. Domnívali se, že celé kataklyzma bylo sestrojeno nějakým velkým a tajemným tajným společenstvím mezinárodních Židů, kteří za žold a na příkaz Německa využili psychologického momentu a popadli otěže vlády. Zdálo se, že všechna čísla a fakta, která byla tehdy k dispozici, dodávaly tomuto tvrzení barvu. Bylo známo, že nejméně 82 procent bolševických komisařů byli Židé, divoký a nesmiřitelný „Trockij“, který sdílel úřad s Leninem, byl jidišer, jehož skutečné jméno bylo Bronstein. Mezi Děnikinovými důstojníky byla tato myšlenka posedlostí tak hroznou hořkostí a naléháním, že je přivedla k prohlášením nejdivočejšího a nejfantastičtějšího charakteru. Mnozí z nich se přesvědčili, že svobodné zednářství je ve spojení s Židy nedílnou součástí bolševické mašinérie a že to, co nazývali ďábelskými plány na pád Ruska, bylo vymyšleno v petrohradské a moskevské zednářské lóži. Když jsem jim řekl, že já a většina mých nejlepších přátel jsme svobodní zednáři a že Anglie za mnohé dluží svým věrným Židům, zírali na mě úkosem a smutně kroutili hlavami ve strachu, že Anglie důvěřuje vyvolené rase. Jeden se mě dokonce tiše zeptal, jestli jsem já osobně Žid. Když se Amerika rozhodně postavila proti jakémukoli vměšování do Ruska,

3. Tyto údaje mají pravděpodobně ukázat Putinův obdiv k postavám ruské minulosti navzdory jejich protichůdným politickým názorům – Alexander II. liberální reformista, Alexandr III. konzervativec; Děnikin, zcela proti bolševismu a Brusilovovi, který spolupracoval s bolševiky při založení Rudé armády.

Washington demands more and more sanctions against Russia. Most obedient European politicians agree with this aggression. They clearly know that the United States, by forcing the EU not to buy energy and other resources from Russian suppliers, causes the deindustrialization of Europe [...]. The European elites are fully aware of what is going on, but they prefer to serve the unacknowledged interests of foreigners. More than subservience, there is direct treasonous action against their peoples.

thank you for this interesting and well written essay. to me putin is the foremost statesmen and world leader of the socalled 21st century. his incredibly well crafted speeches are amazing to read, even in an english translation, so i can only imagine how they sound in his native tongue.

frankly i get quite angry after reading them, not at anything he has said but rather because we are not allowed to have a leader that isn't a complete shill and buffoon, barely able to read a teleprompter, while reading stage cues as spoken lines.

Very well said. Putin will not let the filth (that now runs rampant in America) destroy Russia.

Once the central banks have completely implemented their planned AI-controlled digital monetary and financial system, we Americans will all be held hostage in their empire, sentenced to their unipolar prison, confined in their digital gulag.

Legislators in California are considering a bill that would allow state officials to separate children from their families without letting the parents know until after the fact.

Government authorities could do this for children who struggle with gender identity problems but whose parents are not being “affirming” of their new identification as the opposite sex, or as nonbinary, gender fluid, pansexual, or one of the other made-up genders or sexual orientations.

It's not. If these matters are not adjudicated, it will be a civil war strategy.

How Jewish Is the War Against Russia?

<https://www.unz.com/pgiraldi/how-jewish-is-the-war-against-russia/>

The Jewish peace group Tikkun has recently published a devastating article by Jeffrey Sachs on the Jews who have been agitating for war. It is entitled “Ukraine Is the Latest Neocon Disaster” and describes how “The war in Ukraine is the culmination of a 30-year project of the American neoconservative movement. The Biden Administration is packed with the same neocons who championed the US wars of choice in Serbia (1999), Afghanistan (2001), Iraq (2003), Syria (2011), Libya (2011), and who did so much to provoke Russia’s invasion of Ukraine. The neocon track record is one of unmitigated disaster, yet Biden has staffed his team with neocons. As a result, Biden is steering Ukraine, the US, and the European Union towards yet another geopolitical debacle...”

Tikkun explains how “The neocon movement emerged in the 1970s around a group of public intellectuals, several of whom were influenced by University of Chicago political scientist Leo Strauss and Yale University classicist Donald Kagan. Neocon leaders included Norman Podhoretz, Irving Kristol, Paul Wolfowitz, Robert Kagan (son of Donald), Frederick Kagan (son of Donald), Victoria Nuland (wife of Robert), Elliott Abrams, and Kimberley Allen Kagan (wife of Frederick).” It might be added that Kimberley Kagan heads the Institute for the Study of War, which is often cited in media coverage and even in Congress to explain why we must fight Russia.

Sergey Glazyev: Transition to the new world economic order will likely be accompanied by a systematic refusal to honor obligations in dollars, euro, pound, and yen.

In this respect, it will be no different from the example set by the countries issuing these currencies who thought it appropriate to steal foreign exchange reserves of Iraq, Iran, Venezuela, Afghanistan, and Russia to the tune of trillions of dollars.

Since the US, Britain, EU, and Japan refused to honor their obligations and confiscated the wealth of other nations which was held in their currencies, why should other countries be obliged to pay them back and to service their loans?

Over a decade ago, my colleagues at the Astana Economic Forum and I proposed to transition to a new global economic system based on a new synthetic trading currency based on an index of currencies of participating countries. Later, we proposed to expand the underlying currency basket by adding around twenty exchange-traded commodities. A monetary unit based on such an expanded basket was mathematically modeled and demonstrated a high degree of resilience and stability.

<https://thecradle.co/Article/Interviews/9135>

The new world economic order is concluding with an imminent disintegration of the U.S Federal Reserve fiat currency. And with it comes the literal destruction of the Zionist-controlled global Cabal.

For a very long time my view of Putin was that he was just another foreign leader. Somebody I didn't give much of my attention. His 2013 editorial in the New York Times was the first thing which caused me to really change that attitude. Especially how the editorial ended.

A Plea for Caution From Russia

<https://genius.com/Vladimir-putin-nytimes-op-ed-a-plea-for-caution-from-russia-annotated>

My working and personal relationship with President Obama is marked by growing trust. I appreciate this. I carefully studied his address to the nation on Tuesday. And I would rather disagree with a case he made on American exceptionalism, stating that the United States' policy is "what makes America different. It's what makes us exceptional." It is extremely dangerous to encourage people to see themselves as exceptional, whatever the motivation. There are big countries and small countries, rich and poor, those with long democratic traditions and those still finding their way to democracy. Their policies differ, too. We are all different, but when we ask for the Lord's blessings, we must not forget that God created us equal.

By the bye, the site's Racist Authors ought to give some thought to the notion that having a White Skin doesn't make a human being any kind of "Exceptional" either.

Anyhow, if the neocon nuts don't put an end to human history, I expect Putin will have a legacy of saving Russia and some other places from total destruction. That's not a small thing.

Interesting, but, as we have learned, one thing are words and another thing are actions. Anyone can give good speeches.

Georgia Meloni had nice (ghostwritten) speeches too, quoting Chesterton and all, but did the dumb bitch do anything against illegal immigration? Not really, it even tripled. But she made sure to hug and blow Zelensky. She says she wants to “protect the family” and she’s not even married, living in concubinage, and last time I’ve heard Italy still has “gay marriage” and “gay adoption” too.

True, Putin is leagues better than Meloni and all current Western politicians, but that’s a very low bar.

Following your logic, given the history of evil actions by the USA, I surmise that you'd support the dismantlement of your country the way the USSR was dismantled and that it definitely be a geopolitical catastrophe if it happened. @john alexander [Quoting Glaziev] Over a decade ago, my colleagues at the Astana Economic Forum and I proposed to transition to a new global economic system based on a new synthetic trading currency based on an index of currencies of participating countries.

A composite currency is one stable solution, a centralized solution that will be managed by State actors.

An alternative, free market solution is to trade in existing local currencies and let the free market of trade/reserve currencies develop as it will according to the export capacity of nations.

What happens now is that there is an oligopoly of trade/reserve currencies that does not reflect the trading importance of each nation. For instance, the currency of the most productive and largest surplus nation covers just a tiny fraction of the pool of reserve currencies and international trade settlements while the currency of the most indebted and largest deficit nation accounts for more than half (though declining) of reserve/trade settlements. This is not a stable arrangement, as attested by the continued and accelerating decline of the oligopolistic predominant currency since 2000.

A free market of reserve/trade currencies works by using the currency of each buyer to pay for the buyer products. So if you need to buy copper or salmon from Chile, you need to have some Chilean pesos to pay the Chilean buyer. If you travel to Paris in August for a vacation (crazy thing to do but lots do it) you need to have euros. If you need to buy oil or gas from Russia you need rubles. If you need to buy cellphones from Indian makers you need to get rupees. If you want to buy a few F-16 you need to have US dollars. And of course if you need any kind of finished product from China you need to have yuan.

So a free market of currencies will make the world demand local currencies according to the export capacity of each nation, ceteris paribus (another factor is whether the currency is fiat or backed by commodity, which strongly influences the value of the currency as reserve).

If nothing is done this is what will happen eventually, because it is the natural solution.

Russia could have “Wiped the table” of the Nazis in one fell swoop but didn’t. Time is on Russia’s side and Putin is hoping Ukrainians wake the hell up and realize the people’s enemy resides solely in Kiev and Jumps and Barks when DC dictates terms.

Russia realizes historically Ukraine was part of Russia and hope the Ukrainians realize their mistake.

Russia simply sits –Ukraine attacks –Ukraine loses men and material.

Kiev does not give a Rat’s Anus about the real situation—it is busy washing money in Kiev.

USA was in Afghanistan 20 years and No Victory –SORRY – USA was there to rebuild Afghanistan and later reverted to shooting children and unarmed women.

Therefore Russia can sit for another 18 years —18 years and slowly the Nazi wave will dry up.

Come and get it you Nazi dimwits –

frankly i get quite angry after reading them, not at anything he has said but rather because we are not allowed to have a leader that isn't a complete shill and buffoon, barely able to read a teleprompter, while reading stage cues as spoken lines.

New elites are like new cars, old elites are like old cars.

Russia renew herself after communism decayed and the 90s disorder, so shiny new well-performing elites took over.

The West is suffering from decaying elites because it hasn't gone through any kind of renewal since the end of WWII.

Let's not be naive, this is a sponsored article. I have found an interesting part, John Ernest Hodgson, a British war correspondent with Denikin's forces was a Freemason, most of my best friends were Freemasons, he states. So we know who was he working for. English Jewish bankers sent his people to observe if their money is well spent, and that's how it always goes. Bolsheviks were ok, but Denikin's army was bad and antisemitic. Those who dig deep know how bolsheviks murdered many millions of Russians, the rest was sent to Gulags for slow death and work.

Here's some truth of what Putin has done to his country:

Putin's Military Nightmare Has Come True

Peter Suciu

10 May 2023

Putin Has Ensures His Neighbors Are Arming Up Thanks to His Ukraine War: Russian President Vladimir Putin has famously described the dissolution of the Soviet Union as one of the great tragedies of the 20th century, and he has essentially sought to become a modern-day Tsar Peter the Great or Empress Catherine the Great – no doubt hoping history would remember him as Vladimir the Great.

Of course, given how the war is going, that's not going to happen – not to mention the fact, there already was a Vladimir the Great, who happened to be from Kiev.

In fact, instead of rebuilding the Russian Empire, Putin has successfully set his nation on a course to ruin. More importantly, he's convinced his neighbors of the need to rearm and ensure that they don't fall under his sphere of influence.

Putin definitely admires the Soviet Union. Why else would he celebrate the Communist victory over in Germany in the Second World War every year? He's motivated by that against Ukraine whose supposed to be National Socialist regime according to himself.

Remember, he's good friends with the chief Rabbi of Russia Berel Lazar(Chabad-Lubavitch) too.

As someone had mentioned like Giorgia Meloni, they're both not "right-wing" nationalists to say the least. They've caved into Jewish power.

The war in Russia is Jewish, but also on the Ukrainian front. Both sides are instigated and funded by Zionists.

Westerners are trying with magnifying glass to find greatness and genius in Putin where there is no. Absolutely average personage completely made by propaganda and who got up there not because of his superior political skills but because he suited and possibly still suits majority of Russia “elites”. What’s not to like? They can steal under him and fail to fulfill his direct president orders without any personal consequences. One of the most hated men in Russia Chubais was allowed to go with all ill gained capitals. Every single technocrat who failed at his duties is being moved to yet another well paying job, those who steal do not get anything when try to talk something against regime and you get jailed for 25 years like Kara-Murza, not that I like him , but 25 years for this and thousand stealing like there is no tomorrow and fail and they are free, get promotion or get minuscule jail time. Or his latest failure to get financial help form oligarchs whom he made fantastically wealthy and who spat in his face when asked to pay.

So he knew that Communism was an economic failure but still lamented the collapse of the USSR.

When Trump yelled into the phone “find the votes” did he mean “invent fake votes for me” or did he mean “find the votes the enemy has hidden away”?

Interpretation depends on personal bias.

Putin has not to my knowledge ever “lamented” the collapse of the USSR in the sense of “it was great but enemies destroyed it and we need to bring it back”.

What he has said, has always been along the lines of “it was a catastrophic geopolitical upheaval that changed the world in the blink of an eye and left hundreds of millions of citizens suddenly devoid of savings, careers, basic understanding of the world, and many of them suddenly waking up trapped in new countries, which did not exist until yesterday. Also wars and upheavals and crime explosions and basic institutions not functioning anymore.”

The latter description of events is 100% objective but only means “gee the USSR was great let’s bring it back” if one wants it to mean this. It describes a period of collective personal and national trauma for over 300 million people, many of whom quickly adapted and transcended it, but many others of whom never really got over it.

Before the 2022 war (after which every party shifted to wartime unity), the communist faction and the nationalist faction within Russia’s Congress were critical of Putin precisely along those lines: the commies accusing Putin he doesn’t want the USSR back, and the nationalists accusing Putin he doesn’t want the tsarist empire back.

The Social Democrats have been critical of not enough patriotism in schools and the media and not enough raises for teachers and pensioners. They sure got the former now, but likely not the latter.

Russia is not trying to bring back the USSR, President Vladimir Putin said in a documentary aired Sunday, but the problem is that “nobody wants to believe it”.

Since the beginning of the Ukraine crisis, which saw pro-Russian leader Viktor Yanukovich ousted by pro-European demonstrators, Moscow has accused the West of using “the politics of containment” in a Cold War throwback.

“With Ukraine and other areas of the former USSR, I’m sure our Western partners aren’t working in the interests of Ukraine, they are working to prevent the recreation of the USSR,” he said in “World Order”, a documentary broadcast on the public Rossiya 1 channel.

“But nobody wants to believe us, nobody wants to believe that we’re not trying to bring the Soviet Union back,” he said.

The president also used the documentary to take a familiar swipe at Western intervention in North Africa and the Middle East.

“You can’t just impose your version of democracy, of good and evil, onto people of other cultures, with other religions and traditions in this mechanic, automatic way,” he said.

“Apparently (the West) think they’re infallible, but when the moment comes to take some responsibility, they disappear.”

And for the same reason, they love Putin because they see him ore as a strong man. If he is or isn’t, I don’t know, it doesn’t matter, but that’s what people like. Someone who looks like a real leader. Not the clowns in Clown World. Not a coke-snorting screeching faggot.

It has nothing to do with Putin being a communist. The Jews have wanted to destroy white gentiles for millennia. The Jews started dividing and conquering the white world with their communist Bolshevik revolution. Jewish communism won WW2 as Hitler wanted to defeat the communist Jews. When Michael Flynn asked “why do we have an East/West divide in the world when we could have a North/South divide (whites United and looking out for whites)?” And look what the Jews did to Flynn for openly expressing a truth that would destroy them! Trump and Putin were the white world’s chance to unite and destroy the Jews once and for all! The slithering Jews with their money and media control assassinated that chance. If the white world United the US and Europe could ditch the Middle East and the JEWS and get all of our oil from Russia.

Time to act on that plan. Unite the white world and crush these Jews before they completely destroy us! Enough of this Jewish war against us by Jewish rules. Declare war on the Jews and then slaughter them! Soros, Greenblatt, the MEGA group, AIPAC, ADL, AJC and all of the over 3,000 Jewish “interests” groups should be rounded up and removed from ALL white countries and dropped in Israel with guards put on the outside of their wall to keep them there. Like Benjamin Franklin said, Jews are vampires and cannot live with only Jews.

Time is running out. Unite and fight or die a slow death by demographic genocide. #whitesunite

It's nice to read a comment like this from someone who obviously understands cyclical thinking rather than the linear thinking that seems to dominate the west.

There is a lot of wisdom in the OT. Reading Ecclesiastes 3 makes it clear that they knew all this way back then.

In the study of markets, I learned a long time ago that in the bull market, the seeds are sown for the bear – and in the bear, the seeds are sown for the bull. It never changes. It is coded into the algorithm in which we live. And this is not limited to markets – it appears to be universal.

I have been told that some young people in Russia refer to this as Russia “emerging from the permafrost.”

Based on the content of this short article, which tends to glorify a totalitarian non-Western dictator and war criminal, it would be appropriate for the publication in which it initially appeared, The Occidental Observer, to change its name to The Anti-Occidental Advocate if this is to be their new ideological line. It seems the author and publisher have allowed themselves to fall into a clever trap, since they appear to have been tricked into a nihilistic stance, as they now support blatant attacks on free will, self-determination and independence.

Just a few hours ago I posted a comment in a different thread, which would also be an appropriate response here, so I shall simply link to it below.

Once it is understood, as the evidence shows, that Putin's ongoing war of aggression against Ukraine is essentially about Russia maintaining its colonialism and expanding imperialism, to subjugate and coerce a vast population through a corrupt and odious oligarchy, it is easy to conclude that those who are now so fervently supporting this effort – especially its deranged instigator, Putin – are essentially “retrograde extremists“, who despise Western ideals and are indulging in a misguided type of escapism. Promoting such delusions has nothing to do with wanting to preserving traditional occidental values, high culture, and technological progress.

In his May 9 Victory Day speech, Putin identified the enemy of Russia (and humanity) as “global elites.” This is a refreshing improvement over his (and Lavrov’s and others spokesmen’s) repeated singling out of “Anglo-Saxons.” As Putin surely must know, the U.S. political leadership is no more Anglo-Saxon than that of the Bolshevik Revolution was Russian, in fact, considerably less so.

For example, there is no more than one possible Anglo-Saxon in Biden’s cabinet (Ag Sec’y Vilsack, unclear because he was adopted). A full quarter, 6/24, are Jewish and dominate the commanding heights of the administration: Chief of Staff, Sec’ies of State, Treasury, and Homeland Security, Attorney General, and Director of National Intelligence. (Blacks, other non-Whites, and Whites of varying European origins have another quarter each.) As to financial and media dominance of the U.S., let’s not get started!

We “Anglo-Saxons” are, to be sure, no angels and can be parochial and pig-headed at times but, as to the visceral, vindictive, atavistic, and implacable anti-Russian ethnic animosity seething throughout the “West” today and animating its policy on Ukraine—that’s not coming from us.

Our elites may indeed be guilty of the crime, and ordinary people of the blunder of negligence, of letting them take over in the first place, but that’s a failing we share with Russians. But no point in throwing stones at each other. We should learn from each other’s mistakes.

What was he supposed to do? He tried to negotiate, signed the Minsk Accords and watched the Ukrainians arm themselves and prepare to invade Luhansk and Donetsk. Holland and Merkel both admitted they only signed the accords to gain time to arm and prepare the Ukrainians for an invasion. Could Putin have stood by and allowed ethnic Russians to be slaughtered and brought a well-armed Ukraine into Nato. The West forced him to act. Whether he's set his "nation on a course to ruin" or saved it from being defeated and divided from the West is yet to be seen.

Why does the label applied even matter? What difference does it make?

Is there supposed to be _any_ fundamental difference between a communist, a fascist or techno-fascist such as Xi, Schwab, Gates, Biden Trump, Obama, Bush, or whomever?

This “just” in:

Who the Hell cares?!? The Ukraine surely overstayed their welcome in Western thought, and initial sympathy and interest for them has mostly vanished. Most people now wish this stupid war ended sooner rather than later, so that we can go back to think of the Ukraine as some corrupt backwater in Eastern Europe that no one cares much about, one way or another, and certainly not worth ruining our own economies and futures for.

Anyway, now BlackRock basically bought the place, lots of cheap real state and few Ukrainians now, so I guess Jews must be happy. Putin stands 5 feet 7 inches, compared to the US men's average of 5'8" to 5'9" and the same as the US average for men a century ago.

Macron is the same height as Putin, while "British" figurehead "Rishi Sunak" is only 5'6"; did we miss your 5-year-old's mockery of THEIR height somewhere?

How about 5'3" Irish president Michael Higgins, only 5'3" — did we miss your snark about HIS height somewhere?

Apparently you overlook average to short stature in men whom you like (not that we really want to hear what kind of men you prefer, sweetie), while mocking it in men whom you envy.

Sovereignty is the guarantee of freedom for all. According to our traditions, no one will be free if his people, his homeland, if Russia is not free.

This is a very wise statement though it would be denied by many liberal and libertarian types. The freedom of the individual is dependent on the freedom and autonomy of the nation he's part of.

It is interesting to notice the anti-Marx propaganda picture from 1919 showing the leaders of Jewish revolution in Russia, all 8 of them Jewish (Lenin "only" half). This picture should be shown to those that stupidly deny the Jewish involvement in installing that dreadful regime for Russian Christians.

“During the Russian Civil War, an estimated 50,000 Jews were killed in pogroms.”

In the most generous interpretation, this is at best a badly outdated statement.

Thanks to the newly opened archives, we now have a fuller idea of how many Jews were killed by pogroms in the civil war. The precise number will never be known... But one can say with some certainty that the overall number ... must have been much higher than the 31,071 burials officially recorded or indeed the estimates of 50,000-60,000 deaths given by scholars in the past. The most important document to emerge from the Russian archives in recent years, a 1920 report of an investigation by the Jewish organizations in Soviet Russia, talks of ‘more than 150,000 reported deaths’ and up to 300,000 victims, including the wounded and the dead.

— Orlando Figes, A People’s Tragedy, p. 679.

Furthermore, it deserves emphasis that the greatest number was done by the formal White forces and not by Petliura, though he contributed his share:

Petliura, who based his hope on foreign recognition and help, had to repudiate pogroms ... However, ... his followers well understood that his injunctions against “excesses” were meant exclusively for foreign audiences... The anarchist bands ... did not have to worry about foreign public opinion and they engaged in the most unrestrained verbal violence against the Jews. However, ... they were not in a position to murder many, whatever their intent...

Up to June 1919 the Volunteer Army occupied areas which had only very small Jewish communities. These communities did suffer... But the number of victims was small until the invasion of the Ukraine brought the Whites into an area with a large Jewish minority. Then mass killings immediately began.

— Peter Kenez, Civil War in South Russia, 1919-1920: The Defeat of the Whites, pp. 167-8.

Those pogroms were not in the main carried out by Petliura's forces, but rather by Denikin's.

John Hodgson as an author has some definite interest insofar as he reports on events among Denikin's armies which he was a close witness to, but insofar as he tries to brush off the pogroms as a minor matter, he is simply regurgitating Denikin's propaganda. The general pattern as Denikin marched through the Ukraine was that his forces were repeatedly welcomed by local Jewish populations, until the White pogroms forced them to change their minds.

Ironically and tragically, the Jews had awaited the coming of the Volunteer Army [the Whites led by Denikin] with high hopes. Although they were represented in the Bolshevik leadership disproportionately, the overwhelming majority of Jews, artisans and tradesmen, suffered as a result of Soviet economic policies, such as restrictions on free trade. The Jewish minority was one section which had little interest in Ukrainian nationalism and therefore was unlikely to sympathize with Petliura. The Jews expected the return of law and order after White victory, and they hoped to be able to get on with their normal lives...

In any case, the exhibition of a friendly attitude on the part of the victims towards their tormentors did not help. Often the pogroms began by killing Jews who participated in a good will delegation approaching the entering army. In Korsun', for example, the town sent a mixed Jewish and Christian delegation led by the rabbi to the Volunteer Army. Next day the Bolsheviks retook the town and the rabbi went into hiding. The Bolsheviks captured two Jewish members of the delegation, who were killed. The following day the Volunteers chased out the Bolsheviks and immediately started a vicious pogrom, killing the rabbi as he came out of hiding.

Self-defense against the Petliurists and anarchists was successful at times; against the Volunteer Army it was hopeless. Anti-Semitic propaganda often described Jews firing from windows on retreating White soldiers. It even talked about imaginary Jewish detachments fighting against the Volunteer Army, but these were pure fabrications. In Kiev, for example, after the Bolsheviks managed to occupy the city for a few days in October 1919, anti-Semitic papers started a campaign charging the Jews with responsibility. The anti-Semitic Vecbernie ogni published detailed charges of Jews firing from windows, but the liberal organ, Kievskaja zbizn', decided to investigate and found all the accusations false. As one would expect, such an investigation made no impression on the pogromist press.

Ultimately, the Jews did learn. It was Soviet rule, which in spite of its economic policies, in spite of occasional pogroms carried out by some ill-disciplined Red troops, offered the best chance of survival.

— Peter Kenez, Civil War in South Russia, 1919-1920: The Defeat of the Whites, pp. 169-70.

The “occasional pogroms carried out by some ill-disciplined Red troops” which Kenez refers to would have killed less than a thousand at most. In no way comparable to the real pogroms carried out by the Whites.

Hodgson is on better ground when he simply describes the massive corruption which was running through the White forces, such as he does here:

About the middle of 1919 the British sent out a complete 200-bed equipment for a hospital at Ekaterinodar. Not a single bed ever reached its destination. Beds, blankets, sheets, mattresses and pillows disappeared as if by magic. They found their way to the houses of staff officers and members of the Kuban government. At this very time typhus and enteric were raging, and in a hospital of only 150 beds at Ekaterinodar the men were dying at the rate of twelve a day. They lay on bare boards, were covered with dirty sacks to which clung the detritus of their original vegetable contents, and were swarming with lice and fleas. In 1919 we sent Denikin 1500 complete nurses' outfits. I did not, during the whole of my service with the army in Russia, ever see a nurse in a British uniform; but I have seen girls, who were emphatically not nurses, walking the streets of Novo Rossisk wearing regulation British hospital skirts and stockings. Britain sent Denikin enough soldiers' clothing to equip an army twice the size of her own peace establishment. He never claimed to have had more than 300,000 men ... but neither at the Tsaritzin nor the Don front did I ever see as many as 25 per cent ... in British kit.

I saw and talked to young ladies of good social standing at Taganrog who were wearing costumes made of British officers' serge, and I can name Russian officers attached to the British Mission who deliberately 'wangled' a double issue of clothing from our Ordnance and at once sold the surplus set at a fabulous price ...

No matter how urgently trucks were needed to get British munitions to the front it was always possible for a local profiteer to bribe railway officials and obtain freight cars. This was done on a colossal scale...

While the battle was raging just north of Kursk ten British tanks were landed at Novo Rossisk. For weeks they lay on the jetty awaiting trucks on which they could be sent to the front. None came, but one night a typical Black Sea storm caused one of the tanks to slip its moorings, and the whole consignment slid quietly to the bottom of the harbor.

— John Hodgson, With Deniken's Armies, pp. 180-3, Temple Bar Publishing, 1932.

This type of corruption which Hodgson observed among Denikin's forces was not unique to the southwest front but extended across all areas governed by the Whites and if anything was even worse in Siberia among Kolchak's forces:

Captain Francis McCullagh of the British Military Mission, noting the existence in the rear of 'committees for underclothing' and 'committees for furniture', was to estimate the one function of the entire military establishment in White Siberia to be:

'to create posts for a crowd of lusty officers who are afraid to fight at the front. The stories I could tell in that regard would fill a volume. It is to the last degree disgraceful and shameful.'

British and American observers were particularly dismayed that many 'swaggering' officers seemed completely and coldly indifferent to the sufferings of the refugees and underfed troops who were becoming all too conspicuous on the streets of the capital.

— Jonathan Smele, Civil War in Siberia, pp. 114-5, Cambridge University Press, 1996.

There's certainly no mystery about why the Whites lost, and no need for the idiotic conspiracy-claims about Jacob Schiff somehow mysteriously funding the Bolsheviks into power.

As a foreigner in Russia , it is very difficult to understand what you do, because first, we have a very hard time with the language since no schools are provided throughout the country. Most likely Moscow and Saint Petersburg do. Simferopol had one during Ukrainian times but it shows that immigration of people from other than the old Soviet states are not really desired. My own evaluation. Crimea was a much more pleasant place before the US NeoCons and Jewish Oligarchs decided to get greedy.

Many of us awake people from the West, understand exactly how a politician has to be in order to keep his country afloat during these One World Order times. And a politician, statesman and ex KGB man like Putin knew that he would get no where, unless he could play Four sides of the street at once and lift Russia out of the place it was in – in the 90s. Nothing that I hear about Putin alarms me, because I see where Russia is today , compared to many many other countries. Does he make deals with the Zionists, Jews, Americanos, Sheiks, Turks, E U, IMF, UN, WHO, and all the other snakes in the World – Of course he does – he’s a Globalist Ramrodder because his country is worth over 75 Trillion in natural resources and inherited more nukes than most others have. It’s the worst dog eat dog world situation out there since WW II or the Bolshevik Revolution – any goody two shoes leader will be eaten up in a month , looks like Putin nor Russia is gonna get ate – anytime soon. So, I’m betting on both of them for the time being. And as some Russians tell me – We got what we got. Спасибо Сергей

Crimes against humanity ignored by the Church

Few ever shed a tear over the incredibly horrific crimes against humanity carried out by the financial and military hitmen subservient to the Great Whore.

Many within the church today have simply adopted a slogan of “Love God and Love people.”

An unbelieving world must see this as an oxymoron.

Mainstream Christian churches do not stand up against the crimes against humanity that are being committed on a daily basis.

The cold-blooded murder of innocents in Palestine, Iraq, and Syria, for example, do not seem to bother them in the least. Does such a church stand for anything at all? Yahweh gave His followers two primary commandments, one of which is “Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself” (Mat 22:39).

Matt 24:12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

The countless members of the zionist controlled military machines worldwide are her partners in crime. These are also psychopaths and narcissists that have been made drunk with the wine of this great Whore’s fornication.

Also, crimes against humanity are not necessarily forgivable because of the excuse “I’m just doing my job.” Try using that line at judgment day and you may just get a reply of, depart from me you workers of iniquity I never knew you!

The U.S.A. has only been at peace for only approximately 20 years since her birth.

Truly, zio-america is responsible for more murder and mayhem than any other empire that has ever existed.

We need not look farther than Korea, Vietnam, Iraq, Afghanistan, and Syria to discover recent real-world examples of blatant terrorism, which also represents crimes against humanity.

So far as I understand it, Putin's then son-in-law was one of a group of people involved in an hotel development in Gelendzhik on the Black Sea. As a sales gimmick, the son-in-law apparently offered Putin a free apartment in the complex for life. Putin refused, the complex was never completed and remains an empty shell. It was recently sold on at considerable loss by the original investors. The new owners hope to complete it sometime in the coming years.

The complex was never a Palace, least of all "Putin's Palace". But this was the rubbish peddled in the Western MSM. As you imply, Guardian readers are not very bright and most have swallowed this hook, line and sinker. I'm sure Dr Edward Dutton could do a video on this phenomenon. Come to think of it, he has – and several ones at that – how IQ in Western societies is falling, and falling most for Leftists and Liberals.

How did the Tribe by magic end up in christian tsarist Russia? Carlyle's big history of Frederick the Great (1865) criticizes the partition of Poland (where millions of the Tribe resided) arranged between Prussia and Russia, one of the few things about old Fritz that Carlyle thought to stink in general. Now we see in hindsight why it stank in particular. Millions of the Tribe suddenly lived in Russia!

Russia got infected with a host of talmudists who gradually rose to foment the revolution they knew would decapitate a great power among the goyim nations of Europe (1917). Then by and by they turned it against Prussia (1914-1918), restored Poland through machinations in the West, and then used that crazy nation as a foil to destroy what remained of German nationalism (1939-1945).

It would have been all over for the national idea on the One Continent (Mackinder's phrase) except Putin was there at another magic moment to cleverly decapitate the decapitators and throw Khodorkovsky in jail for theft and eventually eject him from the country as undesirable, which as chief of the talmudists he certainly was!

Putin said, "I am a nationalist. There are 10,000 men like me in Russia; I just happen to be the one in charge." Ah, but now the counterattack is under way against the Last True Nation on the One Continent, with Khodorkovsky waiting anxiously in the wings. Who will win? The satanic talmudists or the National Idea? History shows the satanists in the Tribe have reason to hope:

Like if the Krauts begun throwing their weight around again and said "no, we're not trying bring back the Third Reich" and it would be true if they were in fact bringing back the Kaiser empire.

“What was he supposed to do? He tried to negotiate, signed the Minsk Accords and watched the Ukrainians arm themselves and prepare to invade Luhansk and Donetsk. Holland and Merkel both admitted they only signed the accords to gain time to arm and prepare the Ukrainians for an invasion. Could Putin have stood by and allowed ethnic Russians to be slaughtered and brought a well-armed Ukraine into Nato. The West forced him to act. Whether he’s set his “nation on a course to ruin” or saved it from being defeated and divided from the West is yet to be seen. ”

He could have done EXACTLY NOTHING and EXACTLY NOTHING would have happened.

What may happen to ethnic Russians residing in another country should be of no concern to him. If they are unhappy where they are living, they can move to Russia. He could even give them a stipend to help them move as, for example, Jews who return to Israel are eligible for.

So what if Ukraine were admitted to NATO and was border to border with Russia? If Putin felt so challenged by this, he could attempt to negotiate a DMZ or build such a buffer on his own adjacent land. He could even put up a wall! [lol]

Poland is in NATO and shares a 232km border with Russia. So what? Why didn’t Russia choose to attack Poland? Why would a NATO Ukraine/Russian border be a “bridge too far”?

Ukraine in NATO should honestly not make any difference to Russia or Putin. His only possible “real” fear might be that a Ukraine in NATO would block his stated grandiose desire to rebuild the territory of the old Soviet Union.

Newly NATO admitted member Finland has a 1340km border with Russia. Will Putin now see fit to invade them also due to his egomania and paranoia?

people instinctively dislike “democracy” wimps, like Macron, Scholz, and other faggot scum. For good or for bad, they love Stalin, Hitler, Mussolini, Mao. And for the same reason, they love Putin because they see him ore as a strong man.

I disagree

I don't think they love Putin because of any strong man association, but rather because of what he's done for Russia and the Russian people.

I remember being part of this enthusiasm, for a rather diminutive man, who wasn't particularly known for his charisma or looks or certainly not any 'strong man' appeal, but rather for something far, far more precious and rare.. his integrity, his principles and his humble patriotism.

I remember all the hysteria when Dr. Paul was winning all the Internet polls, like the Drudge poll, and others, and the PTB were getting hysterical. Because we loved this guy, and we all loved what he represented, and still does. Decency and honor and simple, common honesty. Things more priceless than a thousand 'king' Charles scepters, which are dung by comparison.

And this is the reason people respect Vlad Putin. Because he has honor, and speaks the truth and what he does, he does for Russia. And Putin's enemies, are the enemies of Russia, (and the enemies of us all). Which is why people in Syria and many in Europe and even here in North America, respect this man's patriotism and willingness to stand up to the ((9/11)) – 'seven nations in five years..' blood-spattered fiend on the world's stage today. Even if 90% of the people of Europe only know what their ((media)) and crooked, lying politicians tell them.

God speed to Putin

Not for Russia, or for America, or Syria or Iran or Asia or even Europe.. but for us all.

And God damn the fiend

Well “To Sevastopol With Love” is a full on gem of academic densities in a crucible of thought accomplishes a lot in creating an impenetrable essay which may be saying a lot. Unfortunately while the term Talmudic Satanist is bandied about, Jacob Boheme is reduced to a mysterious “JB” referenced throughout the text that does not seem to describe what A. This post is mainly directed toward “Meamjojo” and “John Johnson” —

I would like to share a couple of my insights towards the country of Russia with you people and with anyone else who might care to read this.

The first instance concerns a loan that I attempted to take out, when I was living 90 miles west of Chicago, Illinois. I visited with the local branch of one of the MAJOR U.S. banks and attempted to take out what I would call a “signature loan.” My wife & I had checking and savings accounts with this bank at the time and we had over $9,000 in our savings account. We were in the process of remodeling our kitchen and I did not want to deplete our savings account on account of the remodeling project.

I sat down with a loan officer, who was an emigrant from Russia. I do not remember his last name, but his first name was Ilya. His command of the English language was impeccable and he could speak English as well as I could, with a barely perceptible accent. I told him about my hobby of amateur radio (ham radio) and told him that over the years, I have had hundreds of contacts with ham radio operators in Russia, mainly using Morse code as a means of communication. He thought that it was great that I had taken such an interest in his former homeland.

I told him that I wanted to ask him a question and that I would like a completely honest answer. He told me to ask away, so I did. I asked him if the average Russian was better off under communism or are they better off today. He told me that they were better off under communism, BUT that the situation is changing. He said that I was probably aware of the fact that the Russian oligarchs had stolen billions from the Russian people but that Vladimir Putin had put a stop to it and was doing his best to make things better for the Russian people. He said that was why his approval ratings were so high. He told me that Mr. Putin is has the support of the majority of the Russian people.

The second thing that I would like to share (with “Meamjojo” and “John Johnson”) is that I have a ham radio friend who has been living in the Moscow area for over 6 years. He is a Swede and is fluent in three languages – Swedish, English and Russian. He has taken himself a Russian wife and he told me that he is treated very well by the Russian people and is very happy there. He will probably go back to Sweden some day, but, for the time being, he chooses to live in Russia.

From what I have read and seen of Vladimir Putin, I am very impressed with him. He seems like he is a very intelligent person and, unlike the politicians in my country (the USA), he actually gives a damn about his fellow countrymen and is trying his best to make things better for them. I think that he is intelligent enough to “see through” the B.S. coming out of Washington, D.C. and I also think that he will do his best to avoid the start of World War III.

I have heard conflicting news items on Mr. Putin involving himself with the World Economic Forum (the WEF) and the “Great Reset.” I surely hope that this is not the case. I would think that like with the USA, he can “see through” the WEF’s B.S.

Thank you.

Let’s say you’re right. What should America do when it comes to Russia? How about America’s own corruption and problems? Think maybe it’s time to fix them instead of pointing to every other nation and leader as being the problem? It’s getting old John Johnson and I’d very strongly suggest those who are engaging in these proxy wars to the detriment of their own people stop while they still can. They won’t need a Russia to kick their ass up around their ears. The ass whipping is, I believe, going to come around internally. They’re not that strong, their military isn’t very good and their reach has far out distanced their grasp. Time to take a good hard look in the mirror.

Levtraro, any type of multi-polar system of trade agreed upon by all players is much better than the Zionista Cabal Fiat ponzi scheme. How the hell did the world put up with trading real goods for US Dollars – which by the way is not money?

THIS MONETARY SYSTEM WILL END IN A DEBT EXPLOSION!!!

In 1913, total US debt was negligible, and in 1950, it had grown to $406 billion.

By the time Nixon closed the gold window in 1971, debt was $1.7 trillion.

From September 2009 when the US banking system started to crack, the Repo crisis told us that there were real problems although no one wanted to admit it.

Conveniently for the US government, the Repo crisis became the Covid crisis which was a much better excuse for the Government to print unlimited amounts of money together with the banks.

just in this century, total US debt has grown from $27 trillion to $94 trillion!

Interesting how Meamjo, a probable Jew, states that President Putin should have ignored U.S. bio-weapon labs and NATO missiles and troops on the Russian border. Jews in every country obsess over many issues, with serving Israel's interests being number one. Now, the U.S. has a foreign policy that reflects only Jewish interests and hatreds — especially the hatred for Palestinians, Iranians and Russians. In other words, Jews are hyper-nationalistic, yet they condemn President Putin for being concerned for his fellow Russian Christians. Meamjo does not have the honesty to admit that if the roles were reversed and North Korean bases were on the border with Mexico, the U.S. would certainly invade.

20 times you have mentioned this. I have debunked it, but you dishonestly and stupidly (indicating the low regard you have for the readership here) repeat it endlessly.

You haven't debunked anything. Putin claims the mansion isn't his and he also claimed a war wouldn't happen and that it was all a training exercise. Were you part of Team Putin that backed him on that bullshit?

This is the same Putin that in 2008 said he has no border claims with Ukraine and then in 2022 said it isn't a real country. You seem to think it is a good idea to trust his word even though he has a history of lying and trying to kill the opposition (which is who leaked the mansion details).

I will believe the opposition over a lying little KGB rat who clearly has deep insecurities. Only a deeply insecure man would build a 1.3 billion dollar mansion with a casino and strip bar. A loser dictator who wants a mega mansion to compensate for his hopelessly insecure ego.

You have earned NOT ONE positive comment since you shat on the commentary here. It's not working, or you are earning respect and newfound appreciation and approval for Russia.

Why would I care about what a bunch of Putin bootlickers think? You guys still follow MacGregor and Ritter even though they have been hilariously wrong since the beginning of the war. A couple pro-Russian bloggers here have scrubbed their older posts. Let's just forget how both of them claimed that the war was over in March.... of last year.

I get this is a hard time for those that emotionally sided themselves with a mass murdering dwarf. The war isn't going well and you are directing your frustrations at the dissenting minority.

Oh well, cry more. This is a free speech website. It's not Russia where dissenters are sent to prison less they embarrass the dictator by pointing out his bullshit.

Sooner or later, Putin and Russia will be forced to either refute the lies of Ilya Ehrenberg, or they will be forced to watch their beloved Russian Volk descend into the same Judaic hell that they faced 100 years ago. This is the same fate that the German Volk faced after Judea finally prevailed in their war against Germans and Germany.

Operation Barbarossa was an attack against Judeo-Communism. Italy, Finland, Hungary, Romania and Spain participated not because they were afraid of Hitler and the Third Reich, but because they realized what the Judeo-Communists were planning for all of European culture and Christianity.

If we fast forward to today not only are centuries of these Sabbatean plans coming to fruition, but Putin is still kow-towing to Jews by constantly spittle flecking white Europeans with his never ending absurd “Nazi” smears.

Meanwhile, Zelensky the Jew is lauded across the Globo-Homo empire as the new Winston Churchill who will defeat the “Nazi” Russians and their neo-Hitler Putin.

It is a complete inversion of both history and reality, and Putin is actively partaking in it.

The cognitive dissonance is of such gob smacking magnitude that this can only be a Khazarian/Sabbatean Problem-Reaction-Solution psyop.

Without getting too sniffy about it: the Jeffrey Sachs piece cited isn't recent. I read it on Sach's personal site on September 9th last year (perhaps a day or so either side – Sept 9th is when I added it to my bookmarks) – 2 weeks before the US's terrrrrrrrist attack on Nord Stream. Sachs was honest about that attack from pretty much the day it happened.

Sachs has been the victim of a full-court press by the Empire of Lies – trying to tar him with the same brush as the 'rootless cosmopolitans' who gang-raped the USSR in the 1990s.

He was an advisor during the 'transition' of the USSR, BUT he has never been a neocon, and has been hostile to the Strauss-Kagan tripe for as long as I've been aware of the man.

That goes back to 1992/3, when he and Warwick McKibbin were giving seminars all over the place for G-cubed, the ancestor of MSG – the McKibbin-Sachs Global model.

McKibbin and Sachs developed G-cubed with Peter Wilcoxon, who is one of the co-authors of what is literally the "Bible of CGE Modelling" – Dixon, Parmenter, Powell and Wilcoxon, Notes and Problems in Applied General Equilibrium Economics (1992).

Dixon was my PhD supervisor (and captain of the CoPS cricket team); Parmenter was co-director of the centre where I was a grad student (and is quite a good batsman); Powell was director of IAESR and the Impact project. I'm a co-author with Powell on two papers and one ARC research grant. I worked for Dixon and Powell as a TA, RA and Junior Minion for most of the 90s.

MSG and G-cubed was kinda-sorta in the same 'numerical analytics' space as CoPS (our shop) and GTAP – the Global Trade Analysis Project (at Purdue) headed by Tom Hertel, who visited our 'shop' several times in the 90s.

So anyway: Sachs was then, and is now, “good people”. Dixon and Powell weren't keen on MSG or G-cubed for a variety of technical reason, but they both spoke highly of Sachs – which is good enough for me.

Sooner or later, Putin and Russia will be forced to either refute the lies of Ilya Ehrenberg, or they will be forced to watch their beloved Russian Volk descend into the same Judaic hell that they faced 100 years ago. This is the same fate that the German Volk faced after Judea finally prevailed in their war against Germans and Germany.

Very, very true, and salient, as the same fiend that had Germany by the throat, is the exact same fiend that is menacing and killing Russians, and yet the Russian ego will never, ever allow that obvious fact to be said out loud, as it would be too hurtful to their egos.

Reported in Russia today, the Russian delegate to the UN is complaining of hate speech by Ukraine, directed at Russians.

“a flagrant example of hate speech,” the Russian envoy to the UN has said
‘Budanov declared: “We’ve been killing Russians and we will keep killing Russians anywhere on the face of this world until the complete victory of Ukraine.”

<https://www.rt.com/news/576463-un-ukraine-russophobia-nebenzia/>

yes, you see it’s mean and hateful to speak of Russians that way, when they’ve invaded a nation (that was being used by ZOG to menace and terrorize Russia).

But this, you see, is different!

“Kill! Kill! In the German race there is nothing but evil; not one among the living, not one among the yet unborn but is evil! Follow the precepts of Comrade Stalin. Stamp out the fascist beast once and for all in its lair! Use force and break the racial pride of these German women. Take them as your lawful booty. Kill! As you storm onward, kill, you gallant soldiers of the Red Army.”

— Ilya Ehrenburg

“Do not count the days, do not count the miles. Count only the Germans you have killed. Kill the German – this is your old mother’s prayer. Kill the German – this is what your children beseech you to do. Kill the German – this is the cry of your Russian earth. Do not waver. Do not let up. Kill.”

— Ilya Ehrenburg

“Kill the Germans, wherever you find them! Every German is our moral enemy. Have no mercy on women, children, or the aged! Kill every German – wipe them out!”

— Ilya Ehrenburg

This isn’t hate speech at all!

but reasonable and measured language when you’re talking about Germans, (who were doing the exact same thing Russians are doing today)

I don’t know if Putin and the Russians are too stupid to see the Obvious parallels and flagrant hypocrisy, or whether they’re just knowingly dishonest, and pretending that the situation Germany faced, was somehow different than what Russia is facing today. For obvious reasons of vanity and maintaining the disgusting lie that has been rammed into everyone’s face, ever since the Red Army rapists enslaved half of Europe, (and Russia, who suffered from the ((Bolsheviks)) more than most), this lie has been sacrosanct.

But admitting that, would I suppose be too revolutionary for the tender sensibilities of most Russians, (and Poles and others), who’re more interested in maintaining the blood libel aimed at Germany, (envy, don’t ya know ;) than pointing out whom it has been who's been terrorizing and genociding Russians and Poles and Ukrainians and Germans and so many others, for hundreds of years now.

Better that you don't offend them! because that would be like telling your master to go pound sand, and have to endure dirty looks from her!

I think even Lavrov would soil himself, than ever consider saying anything that might be offensive to that murderous slag.

‘Certainly true some older money Jews (or at least Jews whose families have deep roots) in the United States have never been Zionists from the start. I think more American Jews are waking up to the fact Israel does not give a shit about them and would not hesitate to incite anti-Semitism in the United States in an effort to get more Jews to populate Israel.’

Perhaps understandably, but nevertheless unfortunately, it nevertheless still seems to be all but impossible for Jews to oppose Israel without qualification. Even the best of them seem to max out with this pained look and expressions of a desire for some somehow ‘just’ settlement.

...and as for Jews that are public figures, it’s worse. Witness Goldstone — bad Jews are punished. I remember Paul Krugman basically saying he wouldn’t touch the subject of Israel with a ten-foot pole.

All that would be well and good if Jews weren’t so damned powerful: I don’t expect Armenians to decide Turks are okay after all, or Irishmen to be open-minded about the benefits of British rule. Maybe the Armenian Primate or whatever can’t say a good word about Turks even if he wants to if he wishes to keep his post — okay, notta my probrem.

Armenians and Irishmen and whoever can have their biases and loyalties and grievances and even tribalisms. It’s just that Jews are so damned powerful — and we get sucked into their special causes. It goes further than that, too — but it does come back to the same problem.

Jews are too damned powerful.

One important consideration is that the Russians don't view the Ukrainian populace-at-large as untermenschen.

That means that mass civilian casualties are unacceptable to the Russian leadership. Mass civilian deaths cannot be waved away – like the US did in Fallujah in 2004; on the Highway of Death in 1991; in Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia in the 1970s; and in Japan and Korea in the 1940s and 1950s.

The media minions of the Empire of Lies get in a frenzy trying to parse Putin whenever he mentions nuclear weapons (pretending that he's making threats), but one important excerpt that they don't mention is this (from the Kremlin's own translation of Putin's speech of Feb 21 2023):

We are not at war with the people of Ukraine. I have made that clear many times. The people of Ukraine have become hostages of the Kiev regime and its Western handlers, who have in fact occupied that country in the political, military and economic sense and have been destroying Ukrainian industry for decades now as they plundered its natural resources. This led to social degradation and an immeasurable increase in poverty and inequality. Recruiting resources for military operations in these circumstances was easy. Nobody was thinking about [the] people, who were conditioned for slaughter and eventually became expendables. It is a sad and dreadful thing to say, but it is a fact.

Responsibility for inciting and escalating the Ukraine conflict as well as the sheer number of casualties lies entirely with the Western elites and, of course, today's Kiev regime, for which the Ukrainian people are, in fact, not its own people. The current Ukrainian regime is serving not national interests, but the interests of third countries.

NB: [the] added by me.

Obviously, anyone who uses this speech to help explain why Russia has not gone full "Book of Joshua" on Ukraine (as the US would have done), is derided by people like Rolo Slavskiy as a “5D theorist”. This is odd because Rolo’s ‘0-D’ version requires a RubeGoldberg-esque set of plots-within-plots and plans-witin-plans, all of which is also perfectly suppressed everywhere except a few Russian civnat blogs. (I subscribe to Rolo’s Substack for the ‘0D’ perspective; paid an annual sub when I could’ve read 1 article and used yawnP – yank-all, new window, Paste).

Putin is interested in history: he knows what happens when fratricidal bloodbaths reduce the male working-age population – as happened in the USSR in 1917-21 during its Civil War.

The loss of working age males in that bloodbath reduced per-capita output in the USSR to levels in line with the UK and US in 1720.

Less than 25 years later, the USSR lost a third of its working-age males in WWII.

Ukraine’s not quite at that level yet – but it’s getting close. Fortunately the demographic bust is mostly due to outward migration, not battle deaths; once the ‘good bits’ are safely re-integrated into Russia some folks will come back.

Colin Wright, Well Stated – also consider this abomination – we can't criticize the terrorists in our midst. I call this lawlessness!!

If more evidence of the slime that is at the heart of the American political class is needed, I would cite another event which took place in Jerusalem on April 27th as both shameful and a disgrace.

And “no” I am not referring to the Israeli police and army shooting dead more Palestinian teenagers on and around that date before stealing their family homes and destroying their livelihoods.

I am referring to Florida's governor and presidential aspirant Ron DeSantis's groveling performance in bowing to Jewish power and money during his own trip to Israel.

His abhorrent crawling before his masters culminated in his signing a new state law that will inter alia exploit the “hate” mechanism to criminalize nearly all criticism or even skepticism regarding Israeli apartheid, of the co-called holocaust narrative, or of the behavior of Jewish groups and individuals.

John Johnson (or should I say Johanan ben-Johanan?)

It seems you have a deficit in attention span. Maybe you got excited by a headline (drawn from John Bolton's (LOL) misquote of Putin:

‘The breakup of the Soviet Union was the greatest geopolitical tragedy of the 20th century.’

Had you read a few more lines you would have read what Putin actually said:

“Above all, we should acknowledge that the collapse of the Soviet Union was a major geopolitical disaster of the century. As for the Russian nation, it became a genuine drama. Tens of millions of our co-citizens and co-patriots found themselves outside Russian territory. Moreover, the epidemic of disintegration infected Russia itself.”

Had you read the article in full you would have found that even your fellow Zionist Dina Spechler, an Indiana University associate professor of political science who teaches Soviet and Russian foreign policy did not agree with Bolton's interpretation and this:

Mr. Putin: Operative in the Kremlin, a 2013 book by Fiona Hill and Clifford Gaddy of the Brookings Institution, addresses the “often misquoted line” about the demise of the USSR:

“Most references to this line have suggested that Putin was bemoaning the loss of the communist economic and political system,” the book reads, “but Putin has since frequently underscored that he was talking about the collapse of the Russian state itself.”

If the Chinese manufactured a coup in Mexico, then armed the Mexicans and moved them towards Texas what would the US do? And remember, Ukraine and Russia were the same country up until 1991 and then allies until the coup in 2014. It's a lot more complicated than you are portraying it. Why couldn't the Ukrainians and EU just have gone along with the Minsk Accords and avoided a war?

Some smart & educated Russians accurately predicted the murderous implementation of Judaic Screenplay in Russia well before 1917

“IT IS NEAR, AT THE DOOR”

“NEAR IS THE COMING OF ANTI-CHRIST AND THE KINGDOM OF THE DEVIL ON EARTH”

The book was published in Boston by Small, Maynard & Company, 1920 despite multiple threats.

Colonel Herbert Small mysteriously died 2 weeks after publication. Small, Maynard & Co was driven into bankruptcy in 1927.

Author Sergey Nilus was repeatedly arrested in Bolshevik Russia and died in prison of “heart attack” (wink, wink) in 1930. Otherwise he would probably had written Second Volume describing how Germany was destroyed by the Bolshevik Golem.

Judaic Triumph in Russia was celebrated by destruction of Cathedral of Christ the Saviour. Which took 40 years to build, every Russian peasant managed to save a couple of kopeks, no matter how hungry he was, and donate to this Noble Cause. Demolition happened Dec 5, 1931, Hanukkah Day 1:

And number of languages I may be fluent in is somehow relevant to your junk post, which attempts to imply that your single, personal experience is somehow applicable to all of Russia? That everyone else’s reporting on the current state of Russia is somehow wrong because YOU have had a different experience?

That is what got you a LOL.

Fuck the mirror. Russia has lost any pretense at being a superpower under Putin. My predictions:

- Putin will be deposed by his own people
- Whomever is then in charge will withdraw all Russian forces to behind its pre-2014 Ukraine borders
- Russian war criminals will be turned over to the World Court, summarily prosecuted and appropriately executed
- Russia loses its permanent seat on the Security Council in the UN
- Russia agrees to pay for all damages to Ukraine that it caused with interest in order to have Western sanctions removed
- Putin goes down in history as the man who destroyed Russia. His pictures & statues are all removed inside Russia and destroyed.

Possibly, there will be civil war in Russia and the country will split-up into smaller countries, probably at least 4 separate ones.

Let's face it Putin admires Communism and the Jewish people more than ethnic Russians. Zelensky wants a Second Israel and hates Ukrainians. Ukrainian and Russian blood is being bled for these tyrants.

A sincere and thoughtful post to which “LOL” is an idiotic reaction.

I am not surprised the WEF took an interest in Putin early on hoping, as the Kodorkovsky mishpocha did (to their bitter later disappointment) that he could serve them as Yeltsyn did. He tok their measure and went his own way, which made him their bête noir. He has his own, entirely different “great reset” planned, which rules out plundering other countries while destroying his own nation, its culture and traditions.

Again, I ask the same question. If this is true, then why should the West support a war in Ukraine? Should we support a war against the US to take down their leader as well? The US and NATO have created far more complications in terms of the national security of all parties involved than before. Playing games (with Minsk) and the idiotic sanctions regime that has become like a "Crazy Ivan" torpedo that has swung around and detonated on their own heads. Maybe interested parties want all involved destroyed(?) I wouldn't know that for sure and neither would you. My country, the US should have refrained from doing what we've done to bring this situation about. Just look at these imbeciles like Olaf Scholz. That piece of human excrement doesn't even stand up for his own nation and people. He's a complete loser as a man like most of the leaders in the West. Nothing but a bunch of pasty, limp-wristed, perversity supporting lamebrains. But they think they're clever and in their empty heads, that's all that counts.

| Russia makes Holocaust denial illegal

My searches suggest this is narrowly true. There is a Wiki on the law Putin signed in 2014:

Law Against Rehabilitation of Nazism

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Law_Against_Rehabilitation_of_Nazism

| The law introduced Article 354.1 to the Criminal Code of the Russian Federation, making it a criminal offense “to deny facts recognized by the international military tribunal that judged and punished the major war criminals of the European Axis countries [this refers to the Nuremberg trials], to approve of the crimes this tribunal judged, and to spread intentionally false information about the Soviet Union’s activities during World War II” as well as “the spreading of information on military and memorial commemorative dates related to Russia’s defense that is clearly disrespectful of society, and to publicly desecrate symbols of Russia’s military glory”.^[2]

Problem is, the Nuremberg trials wiki doesn’t seem to have made a judgement about the numbers of dead Concentration Camp humans. So denying the Camp murders happened would – I think – be illegal, but debates about whether the death counts were 3 million or 9 million probably would be allowed.

| Shortly after its passage, the law was used to convict Russian blogger Vladimir Luzgin, who compared the September 1939 German invasion of Poland to the Soviet invasion of Poland and referred to the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact, writing on Russian social media platform VKontakte that “communism and Nazism closely collaborated”. Prosecutors accused him of knowingly posting material that may worsen people’s view of the Soviet Union, and the court agreed, stating that he had falsified history by stating “that the communists and Germany jointly attacked Poland, unleashing World War Two, or in other words, that Communism and Nazism co-operated honestly”.^{[4][7]} Luzgin was fined 200 thousand rubles (roughly equivalent to US$6,000 in 2021) for “circulation of false information about the activities of the USSR during the years of World War II”, though, as was noted by human rights expert Jacob Mchangama, this claim was “essentially, factually correct”.

Obviously the USSR was as guilty as Germany in their shared invasion of Poland, but that bit of reality can't be spoken out loud in modern Russia.

In April 2015, Russian journalist Polina Petruseva was fined 1,000 rubles (US$18) for posting on the social media platform VKontakte a historical picture showing German Nazi troops in Russia, a picture otherwise available from, among others, Wikipedia.

That's the equivalent of what DeSantis is doing in Florida. Call it the "chickenshit factor" – Russia has its share of idiots with a bit of power – just like everywhere else.

One final note: Mr. Unz probably ought to keep any possible visit to Russia on the backburner, for his advocating that Soviet Armies were on the verge of attacking the peace loving Germans would NOT be appreciated. Quite possibly the Russians might make a big deal out of arresting him and fining him tens of thousands of dollars – especially if they happened to need a counter to something stupid the US was doing.

| I've always liked the ideas of Marxism, of socialism and communism.

I suppose he's talking in terms of economics and Marxism in a social justice sense. I'm not sure Putin cares a lot about economics, capitalism, or socialism or communism or any of that jazz. He's more into nationalism. His concern is with the nation itself, not whatever economic system it has going on.

A factory was on strike for a long time. Putin went out to the firm and sat down with the workers and the management and heard them both out. Putin then ordered the firm to rehire all of the workers and give them an X amount wage hike.

No anti-Communist would ever do such a thing. Anti-Communists are all economic rightists, 100% for the bosses, the owners, and the rich and dead set against the workers.

This situation would inevitably emerge and consolidate due to the following factors:

- Resentment concerning high numbers of forced conscripts from non-Russian regions.
- Unwillingness to share high burden of war reparations through additional sacrifices.
- Weakened Russia military unable or unwilling to suppress dissent and independence.
- Understanding that the constellation of factors is an opportune moment to break free.
- International encouragement and support, including through diplomacy and media.

If the Chinese manufactured a coup in Mexico, then armed the Mexicans and moved them towards Texas what would the US do? And remember, Ukraine and Russia were the same country up until 1991 and then allies until the coup in 2014. It's a lot more complicated than you are portraying it. Why couldn't the Ukrainians and EU just have gone along with the Minsk Accords and avoided a war?

Can't believe people keep putting forth this dumb hypothetical.

You might also wonder what China might do if we, in cooperation with Taiwan, made it the 51st state? Or decided to wipe out NK, give what remains to SK and put some military bases on China's border there. Or where the aliens are?

Russia's invasion of Ukraine is purely a function of the demons in Putin's head. He is fully responsible. Again, NATO/Ukraine were never going to invade Russia. Coming back at you, WHY did Putin not stay in his own country and mind his own business? Putin thought he had gotten away with annexing Crimea back in 2014, so why not make a statement of [supposed] power and take over all of Ukraine and impose a puppet government? Unfortunately for Putin, the West decided this time would be different under the leadership of Joe Biden. Had Trump still been President, Putin would have gotten the pass he was hoping for.

There is nothing further to argue. It's no more complicated than that.

Probably two: English (still has to get the hang of “whoever” vs “whomever”) and what the Jews call “the German from home,” i.e., Yiddish (if not fluently, well enough to curse and to shop on W 47St in NYC and not buy at “goy prices”).

Incidentally, several years ago I was bargaining with a Jewish woman (whom I knew from high school) who owned a clothing store in Lower Manhattan and as the ultimate argument she said to me “Come on, I cannot give it to you for less. It is less than I usually charge the Goyim.”

@the Man Behind the Curtain

There was no official ruling on the loss of Russian status as a world power that I am aware of. Certainly Putin has refused to accept that Russia has been a has-been power since the 1980's, at least, and Putin had a strong interest in not only restoring his hallucination of Russian world power along with the lost Soviet Union territory.

Putin's folly of a war against Ukraine has resulted in significant loss of Russian treasure, men, economic potential, world trust, brain power and much more that will hobble the county in all aspects for decades, at least, assuming that the country does not wind up getting broken up or torn apart by civil war.

I call your attention to:

Putin's failing Ukraine invasion proves Russia is no superpower

By Taras Kuzio

21 Nov 2023

For centuries, Russia has seen itself as one of the world's great powers. This superpower status was somewhat sullied by the humiliations of the 1991 Soviet collapse, but post-Soviet Russia has worked hard under Vladimir Putin to reclaim its position among the leading nations on the global stage. During the first two decades of his reign, Putin won plaudits for rebuilding Russia's military and economic might, and was credited with returning the country to the top table of international affairs. However, his disastrous invasion of Ukraine has now done much to reverse this progress by exposing the deep dysfunction and hollow boasts that lie behind the facade of Russia's superpower pretensions.

Russia's weakness has not come as a total surprise. Ever since the fall of the USSR, Western commentators have noted the debilitating impact of corruption at every level of the modern Russian state. In recent decades, some have branded the Putin regime a "mafia state," where the boundaries between the authorities and organized crime are blurred.

Corruption has flourished under Putin amid a climate of stagnation inherited from the late Soviet era. Unlike Ukraine, post-Soviet Russia has never undergone de-communization or acknowledged the need to reject the Soviet legacy. Instead, Putin has rehabilitated the Soviet era and placed the Red Army's role in the defeat of Nazi Germany at the heart of his vision for a modern Russian national identity. Efforts to honor the memory of Stalin's victims have been silenced and attempts to acknowledge the crimes of the USSR drowned out by a victory cult that has elevated the Soviet World War II experience to the level of religious cult and re-established Josef Stalin as a national hero. In 2020, Putin condemned Russians to a further sixteen years of stagnation when he staged a referendum on constitutional reforms that made it possible to extend his reign until 2036.

If the Chinese manufactured a coup in Mexico, then armed the Mexicans and moved them towards Texas what would the US do?

How was a coup manufactured?

The pro-Russian Ukrainian president Vikto Yanukovich was caught taking over 100 million in bribes. His own party disavowed him and his mansion is now a public museum of corruption:

<https://www.bbc.com/culture/article/20140224-through-the-despots-keyhole>

Keep in mind that he officially only had a moderate government salary.

Removing a corrupt president is not a coup. It's part of the democratic process.

If Biden is removed over Hunter's corruption schemes are you going to call that a coup?

Why couldn't the Ukrainians and EU just have gone along with the Minsk Accords and avoided a war?

Why couldn't the Russian separatists accept that the majority didn't want a corrupt president that NO ONE denies was taking cash from Russia?

Putin did not start the war on the basis of Donbas or Minsk. He said it was about NATO and then only later changed the explanation to Donbas after failing to take Kiev. He now claims it is about protecting civilization while he launches missiles and drones at civilian areas.

He tried playing conqueror like many Tsars before him. He is a loser Tsar just like Nicholas II. It was Nicholas that underestimated the Japanese, then the Germans and worst of all the Communists. Putin is following his path by underestimating the Ukrainians. Another Tsar who didn't do his homework and assumes numbers alone will win.
