Co se změnilo ve vztahu mezi USA a Čínou, který tlačí obě země blíže k válce?

Zdá se, že to nikdo neví. Čtenáři, kteří pozorně sledují vývoj v Číně, vědí, že vztahy mezi oběma supervelmocemi se v posledních letech stále více napjaté. Ale zatímco USA zaujaly vůči Číně nepřátelštější přístup, nikdo zřejmě neví proč. Udělala Čína něco konkrétního, co rozzlobilo Washington, což vedlo k uvalení ekonomických sankcí, technologických blokad a vojenských provokací v Tchajwanském průlivu?

Ne, nic nenasvědčuje tomu, že by Čína něco udělala. Co se změnilo, byl přístup Washingtonu k Číně. A – jak uvidíte – Washingtonův přístup se velmi rychle a velmi dramaticky změnil. Čína přešla od přítele k nepříteli téměř přes noc.

Zde je důvod.

Po rozpadu Sovětského svazu v roce 1991 USA udržovaly politiku angažovanosti s Čínou, která urychlila její rozvoj a přeměnila zemi na hlavní motor globálního růstu. V prosinci 2001 byl Číně udělen status „doložky nejvyšších výhod“ (MFN), který byl krátce poté následován jejím vstupem do Světové obchodní organizace (WTO). Tento vývoj umožnil Číně přístup na západní trhy, což z Číny udělalo výrobní centrum pro americké nadnárodní společnosti jako Nike, Apple a Dell. Otevření Číny také vyvolalo nárůst zahraničních investic, které napumpovaly růst a zároveň posílily její finanční aktiva a trh s dluhopisy. Stručně řečeno, politika USA položila základy „čínského zázraku“, který připravil půdu pro velmocenský konflikt s USA.

Žádná jiná země na světě není zodpovědná za meteorický vzestup Číny více než Spojené státy. Nyní se však zahraničněpolitický establishment rozhodl, že se mu vlastní tvorba nelíbí. Nelíbí se mu, že Čína využila příležitostí, které jí byly dány, k tomu, aby se proměnila v rovnocenného konkurenta Spojených států. Nelíbí se jí, že čínská ekonomika roste více než dvakrát rychleji než americká a během deseti let by měla překonat USA. Nelíbí se jí, že Čína buduje nejmodernější infrastrukturní síť 21. století, která ekonomicky integruje velkou část Evropy, Blízkého východu, Afriky a Asie do největší zóny volného obchodu na světě. To se mu nelíbí Čínská expanzivní ekonomická/politická strategie nevyhnutelně nahradí „mezinárodní řád založený na pravidlech“ systémem vedený Čínou, v němž je renminbi světovou rezervní měnou a čínské finanční trhy jsou největší a nejlikvidnější na světě. Zahraničněpolitický establishment Ameriky není nadšený z žádného z těchto událostí, zejména proto, že je za všechny z velké části odpovědný.

Nechápejte mě špatně; Číňané jsou inteligentní, vynalézaví, kreativní a pracovití lidé. A Čínská komunistická strana sehrála klíčovou roli ve zvednutí 800 milionů lidí z chudoby a zároveň nasměrovala národní ekonomiku k nebývalému růstu a prosperitě. Pokud by ale Čína nezískala přístup na západní trhy a nevstoupila do WTO, nebyl by dnes žádný čínský zázrak a žádná čínská supervelmoc. Tyto příležitosti byly výsledkem široce podporovaných politik, které byly téměř všeobecně podporovány elitami zahraniční politiky USA. Pokud tedy Washington nyní lituje, že tyto politiky podpořil, může si za to jen sám. Zde je několik dalších pozadí od experta na zahraniční politiku Johna Mearsheimera:

Během studené války a pod politikou prezidenta Nixona se USA rozhodly angažovat Čínu a vytvořit kvazi-alianci s Čínou proti Sovětskému svazu. To dávalo eminentně dobrý smysl. A Nixon měl pravdu, když pomohl čínské ekonomice růst, protože čím silnější Čína byla, tím účinnější byla jako odstrašující partner proti Sovětskému svazu. Jakmile však studená válka v roce 1989 skončila a Sovětský svaz se v roce 1991 zhroutil, Spojené státy již nepotřebovaly Čínu, aby pomohly Sovětskému svazu zadržet.

To, co jsme pošetile udělali, bylo prosazovat politiku angažovanosti, která byla výslovně navržena tak, aby pomohla Číně ekonomicky růst. Jak Čína ekonomicky rostla, samozřejmě se tato ekonomická síla proměnila ve vojenskou sílu a USA v důsledku této pošetilé politiky angažovanosti pomohly vytvořit rovnocenného konkurenta.

Můj závěr je, že politika Nixon-Kissinger od počátku 70. let až do konce 80. let 20. století dávala eminentně dobrý smysl. Ale poté byla angažovanost kolosální strategickou chybou....

USA nejenže očekávaly, že Čína poroste mocnější, ale záměrně Číně pomáhaly, aby se stala mocnější. Dělalo to na základě předpokladu, že Čína se postupem času stane demokracií, a proto se stane odpovědnou zainteresovanou stranou v mezinárodním uspořádání vedeném Američany.

To se samozřejmě nestalo. Čína se nestala demokracií. A Čína se ve skutečnosti rozhodla nastolit hegemonii v Asii a napadnout USA po celé planetě. Nyní máme novou studenou válku." Zapojení USA s Čínou je „strategická chyba“: Mearsheimer, Nikkei

I když souhlasím s většinou toho, co říká Mearsheimer, rozhodně nesouhlasím s názorem, že američtí lídři byli skutečně znepokojeni tím, že se Čína stane demokracií. Demokracie také nevysvětluje, proč se politika USA změnila z oboustranně výhodné angažovanosti na otevřené nepřátelství. Mearsheimer si však neuvědomuje, že západní ekonomiky jsou ovládány oligarchií elit, které nebyly schopny výrazněji proniknout do mocenské struktury čínské vlády . Není tomu tak proto, že by čínská vláda byla zdánlivě „komunistická“, ale proto, že čínští vůdci jsou silně nacionalističtí a odhodláni zachovat suverénní nezávislost Číny proti náporu západních elit. Jinými slovy, vznikající konfrontace s Čínou je boj o moc mezi globalistickou kabalou WEF a čínskými nacionalisty.

Čína v žádném případě nenese odpovědnost za napjaté vztahy, které dnes existují. Nepřátelství a provokace přicházejí ze Spojených států, které se snaží napravit škody, které napáchaly, prováděním politik, které jsou v rozporu s jejich vlastními národními zájmy. Krátce řečeno, Bidenova administrativa se snaží zvrátit 30 let neúspěšné politiky tím, že se podívá do tváře a pak z toho obviňuje Čínu . Je to klasická operace „návnada a vypínač“. Zde je více od Mearsheimera:

Jak čas ukázal, strategie zapojení selhala. Čínská ekonomika udělala bezprecedentní skok vpřed, ale země se nepřeměnila v liberální demokracii nebo „odpovědného držitele skla (hráče se zájmem o udržení současného mezinárodního řádu). Naopak, čínští vůdci vidí liberální hodnoty jako hrozbu pro stabilitu své země. A oni, jak to obvykle dělají vůdci nastupujících mocností, mají tvrdou zahraniční politiku. Musíme přiznat, že ekonomická angažovanost byla kolosální strategická chyba . Kurt Campbell a Eli Ratner – dva bývalí úředníci Obamovy administrativy, kteří přiznali, že angažovanost selhala, a ti, kteří jsou dnes v Bidenově administrativě – píší: „Washington nyní čelí nejdynamičtějšímu a nejimpozantnějšímu uchazeči v moderní historii.“ (Zapojení USA s Čínou je „strategická chyba“: Mearsheimer, Nikkei)

Okamžitě vyvstává otázka: Pokud byla angažovanost tak „kolosální strategickou chybou“, tak proč trvalo 30 let, než se na to přišlo? S populací, která je 4krát větší než USA a HDP roste zhruba o 9 % za 2 desetiletí, mělo být docela zřejmé, že Čína bude v nepříliš vzdálené budoucnosti větší a mocnější než USA. . A přesto se všichni v politickém establishmentu tvářili, že nevidí, co mají přímo pod nosem.

To je šokující. A co je ještě více šokující, je náprava, na které se naši lídři dohodli, aby si udrželi svou současnou výhodu v globálním řádu.

Mají v úmyslu udělat vše, co je v jejich silách, aby sabotovali hospodářský rozvoj Číny. To se dokonale shoduje s

Mearsheimerovým postřehem, že „jediná příležitost, která může změnit dynamiku, je dramatická krize podkopávající neutuchající růst Číny“. A to vysvětluje, co se dnes děje, Bidenova administrativa vyvíjí soustředěné úsilí, aby se zaměřila na zranitelná odvětví čínské ekonomiky a způsobila co největší škody prostřednictvím sankcí, blokad a přerušení dodávek.

Očekáváme, že tato ekonomická válka proti Číně bude v příštích několika letech postupně sílit spolu s novými provokacemi v Tchajwanském průlivu a Jihočínském moři. Pokud je Mearsheimerova analýza správná, pak se stále nacházíme v prvních kolech hybridní války, která se nepochybně protáhne v nadcházejících letech.

Kdy tedy našim géniům zahraniční politiky došlo, že podpora růstu Číny může ve skutečnosti poškodit vyhlídky USA do budoucna?

Konkrétní datum neznáme, ale vypadá to, že někdy kolem roku 2017 se elitní konsensus, který podporoval angažovanost, začal rozpadat, protože si stále více lidí uvědomovalo nedostatky této politiky. Podívejte se na tento komentář přidruženého redaktora Financial Times Martina Wolfa, který vysvětluje, jak rychle se západní elity obrátily proti Číně:

Myslím, že se děje to, že západní politici a především američtí politici rozhodli, že vzestup Číny je hlavní strategickou hrozbou. A to má několik rozměrů. Jedním z nich je, že levice od středu dospěla k názoru, že „No, nikdy se nestanou demokracií, jak jsme si mysleli, že se stanou, a to je problematické. To se nám nelíbí.“ Ale větší prvek – což je názor strategické komunity a poměrně velké části firemní komunity – je, že „Tito lidé (Čína) jsou vážnou hrozbou. Mají obrovské zdroje, obrana je poměrně značná a v některých velmi důležitých oblastech jsou technologicky napřed a my jsme na nich až příliš závislí... Vzájemnou závislost na Číně vnímají jako děsivou a tato paranoia je nylní stát se dominantním prvkem v americkém myšlení... A v Americe se to posunulo velmi rychle a velmi plošně, i když to nyní vidíme i v Evropě. Německá průmyslová konfederace nedávno zveřejnila článek, který v podstatě řekl: „Znáte čínskou technologickou politiku; je hrozbou pro Německo.“ Je to velká změna a stalo se to docela nedávno.“ Čína: přítel nebo nepřítel?, You Tube, 12:35 minut

Watch Video At: <https://youtu.be/TAuXOoiMckM>

Celkové názory na Čínu mezi zahraničněpolitickými elitami se tedy podle Wolfa velmi rychle a velmi dramaticky změnily. (Wolfův popis je podobný mnoha dalším elitám, které vyprávějí stejný příběh.) Zasnoubení bylo stále více vnímáno jako poškozování západních zájmů a začalo se hledat jiný přístup. Co nám Wolf nedokázal říci, je to, co přesvědčilo mandariny zahraniční politiky, že se Čína stala „hlavní strategickou hrozbou“? Bylo to kvůli stále aktivnějšímu dohledu ČKS nad zahraničními korporacemi nebo kvůli odmítnutí komunistické strany zavést reformy jejich masivních státních podniků (SOE) nebo to mělo něco společného s působivými pokroky Číny ve vyspělých technologiích, které daly budoucnost AI a supercomputing up-for-grabs?

Co to bylo?

I když na tuto otázku nemůžeme odpovědět se 100% jistotou, můžeme udělat kvalifikovaný odhad.

V roce 2013 zahájil čínský prezident Si Ťin-pching svůj podpisový infrastrukturní program nazvaný Iniciativa pásu a stezky, což je rozsáhlá strategie rozvoje pro více kontinentů, která je nejdražším a nejrozsáhlejším infrastrukturním programem všech dob. BRI již získala závazky od více než 150 zemí, které představují 75 % celosvětové populace. Stanoveným cílem projektu je „posílit regionální propojení a přijmout světlejší budoucnost“. Ve skutečnosti to vše a mnohem více projekt dělá. BRI zlepší přístavy, mrakodrapy, železnice, silnice, mosty, letiště, přehrady, uhelné elektrárny a železniční tunely. Vytvoří rozsáhlou pavučinu špičkových vysokorychlostních železnic, která sníží náklady na přepravu a zároveň zvýší zisky výrobců a velkoobchodníků. BRI projektuje vizi plně integrovaného světa 21. století, v němž Peking leží v samotném epicentru globálního obchodu. To je důvod, proč jsou USA a jejich spojenci – kteří jsou věrnými obránci archaického, extraktivního modelu neoliberalního kapitalismu – připraveni udělat cokoli, aby vykolejili rozvoj Číny a zabránili tomu, aby tento futuristický plán pokračoval. Takto Sir Malcolm Rifkind, politik a bývalý ministr vlády, shrnul význam BRI v nedávné diskusi o Číně na You Tube:

„Myslím, že pokud se budeme dívat na roky dopředu, myslím, že nejdůležitější je potenciální význam iniciativy Pás a stezka pro vztah Evropy a Číny. Po tisíc let musí mít Evropa a Čína vzájemný kontakt prostřednictvím námořních cest. Ta obrovská středoasijská pevnina byla jako Atlantský oceán bariéra. Co se děje; a když se podíváme na 5, 10, 15 let dopředu – nákladní vlaky již jezdí z Číny do západní Evropy v rostoucím počtu v obou směrech. Takže, co to znamená, že Evropa a Čína by se mohly dívat přímo na sebe způsobem, který Evropa a Severní Amerika dokázaly díky letecké dopravě a protože se Atlantik stal mostem. To by byla historická změna bez ohledu na politiku Číny a Evropy, které by se na sebe dívaly přímo a obchodovaly tímto způsobem. To by mělo obrovské důsledky.“ Čína: přítel nebo nepřítel? You Tube, 1:21:10 min

Rifkind má pravdu. Otevření tranzitních koridorů a nákladních linek mezi Čínou a Evropou jsou „nejdůležitější věcí“, protože sblíží kontinenty do obří zóny volného obchodu, což nevyhnutelně zvýší jejich vzájemnou sílu a prosperitu, zatímco USA zůstanou navenek. . To je důvod, proč je Bidenova administrativa tak odhodlaná zajistit, aby se BRI nestal realitou. Mějte na paměti, že primárním cílem zahraniční politiky Spojených států je „zabránit jakékoli nepřátelské mocnosti ovládnout region, jehož zdroje by pod konsolidovanou kontrolou stačily k vytvoření globální moci“. Obrovské rozšíření čínského pásu a stezky přes euroasijskou pevninu a propojení evropských hlavních měst s Pekingem a Šanghají rozhodně odpovídá tomuto popisu a kvalifikuje Čínu jako smrtelného nepřítele Washingtonu.

Čínští vůdci stále věří, že se jim podaří dosáhnout s Washingtonem takové dohody, která pomůže vyhnout se přímé konfrontaci. Ale červené čáry Washingtonu již byly překročeny a před námi musí být potíže.

Well, the writing on the wall was obvious to any intelligent observer back at the turn of this present century, namely, year 2000, by merely extrapolating some very strong and persistent trend lines which were as conspicuous back then as they are today:

1/. Western Europe and North America will, demographically, have populations derived from a majority non European ethnic stock in the 21st century. By year 2100, the minority status of the European descended population of those continents will be marked.

2/. China will achieve full spectrum global economic, financial, industrial, scientific and technological dominance. Military dominance, as it is inevitably the adjunct of technological, industrial and financial dominance combined with a mass high quality population, will inevitably follow. Concomitant with Chinese hegemony will be a general global shift of emphasis to Asia, in particular eastern Asia.

Point No.1 is by far the most important, No.2 is trivial in comparison – in so far as everyday life for westerners is concerned.

If I could see this, as a strict amateur, in year 2000, then how come the western elites, who are fighting like ferrets in a sack to overturn the only logical conclusion of the neoliberal policies they pursued, not see it?

And, as regards mass third world immigration into the west, they still don't – or refuse! – to see it.

In short, the Biden administration is trying to reverse 30 years of failed policy by doing an about-face and then blaming it on China.

The obvious turnabout came with Trump. There is no question about that. Of course when we say 'Trump' or 'Biden' we understand how it is not those men particularly, but those running US policy.

The US (and it's running dogs—to use the Chinese expression) have essentially declared economic war on China. The house arrest of Meng Wanzhou (from December 2018 through September 2021) in Canada can be cited. It is notable that despite the US charge against her personally, and the instigation of extradition, the US likely never wanted nor expected her to be extradited to American soil. That would have been too much.

The charge against her, of circumventing Iran sanctions, was also likely a facade. The US didn't want Huawei to implement its 5G tech throughout Europe, much less the US, so they sanctioned the company in 2019, using her as a convenient scapegoat. Claiming Huawei tech was essentially an attempt to spy on the West. The spineless Justin Trudeau of course played along with his masters.

The still in memory 'spy balloon' allegations against China, now admitted by both Biden and Milley to be bogus, is an adaptation of the Huawei plan.

Lately there's been talk of further China tech sanctions over China's 'possible' use of AI in subverting our 'way of life' and the 'rules based order'. That seems to be taken out of the 'Tik Tok' sanction playbook.

Really, anything the US can use, even if it's made up, is workable for them. Until the next thing comes along.

War? It would surprise me if there was an actual shooting war over Taiwan. But the mainland is making an 'aggressive' push for peaceful economic unification, and peaceful unification can never be allowed by the US, and their DPP toadies. So I wouldn't rule out some sort of military action.

Unfortunately for the US, it is bogged down in the Ukraine, with Russia playing rope-a-dope, evidently in no hurry end the war. As long as that continues, there is no way the US can ever hope to engage China militarily. And even without the Ukraine, the logistics of a US 'defense' of Taiwan Island precludes any effective 'limited' hot war. It would require the US attacking the mainland. In this, they would expect the participation of Japan and possibly Australia. Not sure those countries are on-board with anything like that.

However it is, if the US is going to go to war with China, they need to do it soon. Both the technological and economic window is closing on the US fast. Not to mention the downward American domestic situation, which appears to be in free fall.

china made the critical error of showing the world, that it was possible to transform a nation and better the lives of over a billion people, in fifty years, while running a meritocratic political system.

the russians made an even bigger blunder, proving that a thoroughly entrenched parasitic oligarchy, could be overturned and replaced with a functional meritocracy, while simultaneously rebuilding their economy and military/industrial complex, in two decades (at a tenth of the u.s. budget).

what a bunch of dumbasses.....and so of course, china delenda est, russia delenda est...

As I recall, it was Donald Trump – the man whom the neoliberal/Economist establishment HATE with a rabid fixation and obsession who first started ‘taking a tougher line with China’, albeit he was mainly vexed about China’s massive trade imbalance with the USA, and dared to voice the option of tariffs, something which the neoliberal/Economist Deep State fled from like the Devil from incense. ‘Protectionist!’ The Economist brayed, in its typical loud mouthed low browed way.

Ironic to see that the Deep State approved Biden administration is going hammer and tongs with trade disruption against China – and the Economist/neoliberal cabal is egging him on.

The reason why no one knows why such a war is coming is that there IS no reason and there are no causes for war, the “threat” being propaganda for U.S. consumption. Mao was financed by U.S. secret services as a war measure against imperial Japan and the PBOC since 1949 almost certainly has been an asset of the Tribe analogous to the Fed. Why would the talmudists attack themselves?

The only war of concern to Unz.Com readers is the dangerous NATO proxy-war against Russia. Even the Russians don't realize who the enemy is—they keep saying it's “the West.” But as their chief ideologist Dugin points out continually, the real enemy of national Russia is the liberalism—the talmudism within—left over from seventy years of communist rule.

For a valiant sketch of the genocidal talmudic enemy of Russia and all Mankind, see:

“No other country in the world is more responsible for China’s meteoric rise than the United States.” – Mike Whitney

Typical American exceptionalist BS. The country that is most responsible for China’s rise is China itself. It is the Chinese people that drive the growth, not US government nor the US people. And next in line that contributes to China’s rise are countries, regions, and peoples in East Asia like Taiwan, Hong Kong, Singapore, Korea, and overseas Chinese. I would say even European countries like Germany contributes more to China’s rise than US did.

“But if China was not given access to western markets and entered into the WTO, there would be no Chinese miracle and no Chinese superpower today.”
– Mike Whitney

Ahh, another meaningless and feel-good “if” statement: If American never genocided the natives, there would be no America superpower today.

Preventing China from access to US markets would only be a temporary setback for China and an enormous handicaps to American economy and American companies vs their foreign competitors. China, for example could re-export its products through other Asian “tigers.” An illuminating parallel today is the solar panel market where US effective bans China with punishing tariff of over 200% since 2012. That didn’t stop China from dominating the world market and became the tech leader in the industry. Currently, America has to import Chinese solar panels through ASEAN, and Biden recently extends tariff waiver to those imports even everyone knows the original source of the products. Without the market and investment opportunities in China, America economy would likely suffer huge inflation, and most profitable American companies like Tesla and Apple would failed to exist.

It is also doubtful America could permanently stop China from entering WTO. ROC was a founding member of GATT, the predecessor of WTO. So PRC possessed plenty of legal, moral and popular supports to join WTO. Recall that in the 1970's, US couldn't even prevent PRC from entering the UN to become a permanent member of the Security Council because two-third majority of UN members voted China in. China has always been the most productive economy in most of the recorded human history – this is something a few policy makers in DC couldn't stop from happening.

| “What changed in the US-China relationship...” – Mike Whitney

There is no change. US always wants to remain #1, and its fundamental attitude and view with China (or with Russia, or Japan, or EU countries, etc) has not changed for decades. If anyone thinks that the US tech sanction against China was new, he probably never heard of CoCom, Wassenaar or the plethora of tech policies under various American administrations. If he thinks US is playing a new Taiwan card, he likely didn't know the multiple historical Taiwan Strait crises. It is only because Chinese economy grows, tech upgraded, military capability increases, etc, that cause the strategy, tactics and scale against China to be modified to be effective, or at least to look “effective.”

as much as i hate to admit it, trump was right in placing tariffs on china, who in turn, should also impose tariffs on the west. there's nothing wrong with tariffs, what wrong are "free" trade agreements, arranged by globalist scumbags, that saddle the working class with the tax burden, while enriching themselves at tax payer expense.

the 16th amendment, illegally and unconstitutionally ratified in 1913, (the same year the "federal reserve" seized control of the central bank, coincidence i'm sure), taxed workers earnings for the first time in u.s. history. up to that time the federal government was funded by tariffs and excise taxes. ask yourself what happened after 1913 and realize the cause, as well as who the profiteers and war criminals are, that have orchestrated the final controlled demolition of our "republic". well someone please tell ben franklin, that the center couldn't hold.

Mr Trump is doing it all wrong.

According to some experts in our country (China), they are completely unable to understand why Trump would do this, because the tax hike itself is actually making the American working class pay for it. We're actually the least affected.

Because it's a free market, there's always an alternative.

Later, Trump told them that it was just a political show to make American farmers feel represented and to pressure them into a trade war with such meaningless actions, but it was clear that his men were a bunch of losers.

It must be done because of Trump's own inability to do what would actually benefit American farmers.

Therefore, from his own background and his acting performance, he is no different from those in the deep state, who are sacrificing the working class of the United States, just because of his poor ability, so he is looked down on by the deep state and thinks he is just a clown.

Trump's intention is to deleverage, because the Deep state bureaucrats and the Obama administration used a lot of high-stakes and high-cost levers, such as the CIA staging coups, promoting cyber war, and bombing refugees.

I do agree that the more the Obama administration adopts this method, the more violent the backlash, due to the war, Syria, Libya, Afghanistan refugees will eventually flood into the United States. Legalization of drugs has allowed zombies to thrive. When his actions touched the interests of some in the deep state, he was immediately ousted from office.

The major problem being that the US/NATO is far too weak to fight either one conventionally, and certainly not the two as allies, so that would tend to mean nuclear war...Which would wipe out our "elites" as well...So a real war won't happen, and it will be more like a sniping affair, which won't accomplish anything...

AUKUS may try something because they're desperate.

CHN+RUS just assured broke free from the Grasp of the Hegemon-Plutarchy.

Now the stages are set for Asia+Africa Trade+Commerce to engage WITHOUT the USD, EUR, and GBP – nor through their Commodity Exchanges.

The SCO+SilkRoad, BRICS, and RCEP_Asia host the Nation-States who have their Economic+Technological Development/Growth Momentum; and they'll be Financially supported by the BRICS_NewDevBank and CHN while Fueled by KSA, IRN, UAE, and RUS.

Add in the Gold held – which can be used for Barter and TradeAcctSettlements – the Major BRICS/OPEC Currencies currently being used by these Trade Pairings, you're getting the Picture...

Meanwhile, ZATOceania+EURoGarden are going through difficult Economic+Conflict Scenarios.

USD, EUR, and GBP and their Exchanges are probably going to start losing their Customers and quite possibly their long term Valuations.

And Huawei just Walked Over Brandon's Final Industrial Hurdle/Economic Containment Corral Fence with their new Satellite-capable Phone made with their own Microchip.

GBR are desperate; but they're beginning to Transition their BlueWater Navy into a BrownWater Navy as their Carrier "Prince of EpicFails" can't sail from their HomePort – casting doubts to their abilities to even make it to the SouthCHN Sea...

Former Colonies IND, SGP, and Hong Kong aren't available to cover them...

Against the Odds, the Self-destructive GBrits and Murica just might start a War, which may quickly escalate into a massive Ass-Kicking across the Far East and Oceania – with KOR, PHL, AUS, and NZL being mowed over by CHN+Friends for good and Murica+GBR ever diminished...

I'm a 2nd Gen US 7thFleet Sailor. CHN are nigh invincible within a triangular region Cornered by CHN, SGP, and AUS-NZL. CHN now have the BlueWater Navy, Air Cover, Airlift/Sealift to dominate that region. Simply too far for Murica+GBRittania Fleets to Fight Near Peer / Superior Forces in.

@Biff

I'm gonna call that bullshit. China on its own is itself responsible for its' success.

Anthony Sutton's career disagrees.

So does the Trilateral Commission, Henry Kissinger, and the entire steel industry (for example) of North America. ALL of that knowledge and production was exported to China in the 1970s on, not to mention the market for them to sell their crap to.

If you doubt this then ask yourself – why didn't China rise BEFORE this transfer? We've been robbed of tax money to implement this, we are footing the bill for a foreign power, eventually an enemy.

This is giant corporations (extensions of governments) hitting the western public with a hammer called "China."

This relationship has for a long while been a "push – pull" "flow – ebb" situation and thus is always heading a messy end.

The only things we make in North America anymore are tools and weapons. We send our resources to China and they send us finished products.

Look no further than the environmental regulations that have strangled production of anything. The insane liberal dipshits have been convinced that the Chinese poisoning the planet twice as badly for the same goods produced, not to mention the waste of transporting it across the world, is somehow BETTER FOR THE ENVIRONMENT.

This has happened over time so slowly that no one freaked out about it at the time.

Try and set up any primary industry besides resource extraction to export to China. Try to build a factory that will belch out chemicals or affluent of any kind. The NIMBY's will shut you down so fast your head will spin.

When industries such as sawmills in Western Canada heats up (2006-10), suddenly there's no steel and the price goes crazy high "because China." Why can't we make our own steel? "Because China."

"China" is the answer to every question when it comes to our industrial independence, not to mention semiconductors, electronics in general, from tractors to military equipment. This is entirely now at this time an existential crisis.

We are going to have to build our own things. We don't need the latest and greatest processors to run plants (say PLCs or PICs), there's no reason that we can't have small-scale ASIC production for small jobs here and there. Most electronics does not need the latest and greatest, that's only for video games and nebulous government "research grants" (processing power to spy on all of us more efficiently and monitor communications).

We've got to dump our elites before they use China to do even more serious damage.

Is China funding terrorist and separatist groups to overthrow local governments?

If engagement was such “a colossal strategic mistake” then why did it take 30 years to figure it out?

The “engagement” formally came about in a major policy shift in May 1994 under President Bill Clinton, when he de-linked China’s Most-Favored-Nation trade status with Human Rights issues, which was a euphemism that served as a proxy for a transformation toward democracy. This occurred slightly less than five years after the violent Tiananmen Square crackdown on public dissent.

It was a controversial move because it was already well understood by many observers thirty years ago, including apparently Clinton himself, that such a decision, when taking into account the implications that could be anticipated, would turn out to become a huge blunder in the long term. Yet Clinton was known to be corruptible, and for people like that “money talks”.

<https://apps.dtic.mil/sti/pdfs/ADA442614.pdf>

PROFITS OR PRINCIPLES?

CLINTON'S 1994 DECISION TO DELINK
CHINA'S MFN STATUS AND HUMANRIGHTS

Abstract:

On May 26, 1994, President Clinton announced his decision to renew most-favored nation MFN trade benefits for China and to delink Chinas progress on human rights from its eligibility for MFN status In explaining his decision, Clintons justification echoed that previously advanced by President Bush, which then candidate Clinton had criticized as coddling Chinese dictators. Now that he was President, Clinton decided to cast aside both his campaign rhetoric and his 1993 Executive Order that had formally tied MFN to human rights This essay will examine the reasons behind Clintons policy reversal.

Conclusion:

Another key factor in understanding Clinton's decision was the effective lobbying campaign waged by business interests.

But the sad thing is, the U.S. is making the same greed based policy in dealing with India. Will the U.S. regret 20 years from today, how it was mistaken to favor India over China.

If the U S. doesn't want other countries to challenge its hegemony, then it should not develop/empower nations with population of 1.4 billion people.

It would make more sense for hegemony to work to develop/empower nations with 30-40 Million people. Taiwan, South Korea, etc are a good examples.

MW said “No other country in the world is more responsible for China’s meteoric rise than the United States. Now, however, the foreign policy establishment has decided that it doesn’t like its own creation.”

BULLSHIT! America was victimized vandalized raped by the Oligarchs and their privately owned NHOs in order to cause the meteoric rise of China. Americans fought as hard as they could against the Oligarchs and their privately owned corporations closing up shop in America with prospect of doubling and tripling profits by moving industrial operations to China and other Asian nations. Government policy was adopted as an after thought, the Oligarchs and their multi national bigger than government corporations did the deeds.

The nation of America fought tooth and nail with their government (the USA) and with the leaders of the corporations that owned the copyright and patent monopoly powers vested by rule of law in the private corporations; the very corporations that were the industrial base in America. It was not foreign policy that caused the run on the American owned industrial base, but greed on the part of the Multi-national companies that had done so well in America for so long. The Oligarchs that owned these monopoly powered industries moved the industries they owned, out of America to China, because producing in China was more profitable than producing in America. Treason is what the Americans called it at the time. And treason it was.. I think any corporation that moved its operations to China should be denied access to the USA markets for ever delist them off the exchanges, and deny them permits to do business in America.

Americans don't need traitors in the American market place. BTW, the American Market Belongs to Americans, not to the USA the USA controls access to the American market place.

It was "Attractive Benefits": [non-union slave wages, no environmental regulation, low cost of Property, plant and equipment, no government regulation, in the East, not USA foreign policy that drained America of its industrial base. it was home grown Oligarch treason and stock market greed that drained America of its industrial might] that gave rise to China's market power.

In the USA, Oligarchs own and control all of the powerful Non human organizations (NHOs).

These NHOs include corporations, partnerships, governments, their agencies and NGOs, trusts, think tanks, markets for stocks and bonds, etc.. It was the oligarch favorable legal shenanigans, no tax on the rich and powerful, the beefing up of copyright and patent laws, the privatization by contracts and other means of government monopoly power into private hands, etc] which made the Oligarch owned corporations more powerful than government itself, that enabled the few to control everything. It was these shenanigans which moved monopoly powers rightfully owned by public and government into Oligarch owned Non human private enterprises.

China is but one competitor in the global sphere. The USA, by its policies, has restrained Americans from competing in the global world market; this began after Nixon went to China, but industry insisted Nixon go. IMO China's expansive economic/political strategy would never have been in contention to replace the "rules-based international order" with a Chinese-led system if these traitors had not attempted to deny the Americans it governs competitive access to the world markets.

Once again Mike you are off base. The USD is not doomed because of the effort of China. The continued attempt to destroy competitors (like by Sanctions and military policies) explains why the world is seeking an alternative currency. The Renminbi is just one challenge faced by USD currency hegemony, Russia has proposed a swap of each nations currency as a method, and BRICS is working on another system; etc. China's financial markets are the largest and most liquid in the world because of treason committed by the oligarchs doing business in America. The oligarchs own the USA and the industries that used to constitute the American industrial based.

What is happening is that the USA can no longer control access to .. markets and membership in the WTO.. it must negotiate and compete with others in the world.

If you analyze carefully, the world is worse than ever due to the wrong Western direction.

The nuclear monopoly that forced the world to accept Western demands in 1945 does not exist. And you cannot cover the sun with a finger, the conflicts that the world faces today are due to the economy and the racial privileges of white people.

And Western racism renounces colonial treatment of the rest of the world or will have to defend its privileges with nuclear weapons.

It is only a matter of time before half of the countries possess nuclear weapons to ensure the defense of their human rights against white racism.

Don't think anyone cared about China becoming "democratic." But the elites did think China would open itself up to liberal global capitalism. That like America and Europe it would become just another economic zone for Megacorp, essentially post-national. They didn't expect the Chinese state to keep capital under control as they have. They've now realized that China will acts a discrete political unit keeping national interests at the forefront.

Or maybe that's just how it was rationalized as they were busy making big profits in the short-term. After all it's not like American and European elite have exhibited long-term thinking in other domains.

This is why China will always remain a laggard. Their language is much too complex.

Written Chinese is non-alphabetic logographic. Spoken, it is tonal. Character simplification has happened, by the way. In spite of the many dialects, the written language, at least on the mainland, is standardized.

Using phonetic alphabetic input methods, it is quite easy to enter Chinese characters as text onto a PC, phone, or tablet screen.

As far as your comment about the society remaining 'laggard' because of it? The proof against that view is for all to see, highlighted in Chinese techno development, over the past fifty years.

From a literary or poetic standpoint, because of the many homophones present in the language, Chinese offers a richness in flexibility for literary expression. Even in 'translation', as one encounters with (to cite an example) Ezra Pound's 'interpretations' (you can't call them translations, strictly speaking) of both Chinese poetry and Confucian texts.

But there is no doubt that the language is difficult for most Westerners to comprehend. Machine translations are about 70% there. The next ten to twenty years should significantly reduce AI mistranslation.

As far your point about 'simplifying' a language in order to intellectually speed things up? Often this sort of thing results in an overall cultural devolution. One can easily point to how traditional English is being transformed rapidly within the vernacular, resulting in a degradation of corresponding richness in thought.

Much of that is due to the 'niggerization' of spoken English among the young, along with the prevalence of the the so-called Tweet, which limits the number of characters used to express verbal content, but has now become somewhat a standard for linguistic expression.

Additionally, censorship in the form of 'hate' speech restrictions destroys expressiveness within the English language, but that is another topic.

As the article states that with the collapse of the Soviet Union, America did not need to build up China – but it did. Who and Why ? – The bloody Clintons – that is Who; and they did that to destroy the working class in America. And Why? To destroy the working class from sharing in the proceeds from the digital economy and provide a permanent “reserve army of unemployed” cited by Marx as necessary for the capitalist class to prosper. I still remember that swine, Bill Clinton, waving his fat finger and saying – “we’re not going to offshore any good jobs overseas – only the bad ones.” Right!

And why is China now an enemy — I’ll bet anything that America’s elites tried to muscle in on China’s “gravy train” and got told, “Buzz Off, Shlomo, these goodies are for the average Chinaman, not you!”

China got a good head start from the enemies of the American working class, and now our enemies want us to fight them, because they won’t share the loot.

What we foolishly did was pursue a policy of engagement, which was explicitly designed to help China grow more powerful economically.

US government policy wasn't explicitly designed to help China grow more powerful. It was the result of Western corporations independently competing with each other to exploit the massive profit opportunities of producing at Chinese prices and selling at Western prices – all enabled by digitalization, the internet and Chinese development.

The US government just tagged along with it.

The unwritten NWO deal was that China would slot into the political aspects of the globalized world (banks, media, government, international institutions etc.) which China refused to do. Hence the anger. They refused to comply in the same way as Europe/Korea/Japan.

...the entire steel industry (for example) of North America. ALL of that knowledge and production was exported to China in the 1970s on..

You're definitely uninformed on some basic data; some examples:

–US annual steel output hit the peak in 1969 at 141 million tons. China is the only country in history that has ever produced over 1 billion tons/yr. The most important steel technology china has imported was Continuous Casting from Japan.

— China has 2.56 billion KiloWatt of installed electricity generation capacity. I'm not sure about chinese installation cost but I read that it costs the yanks US about $2000/KiloWatt for fossil fuel fed power plant(+related infra-structure); one can do the rest of the math. Present China electricity production is about twice that of US.

Let repeated what I posted sometime ago: Lets categorise chinese industry into 3 types:

Labor intensive/low value added like apparel making—Such had helped urbanisation & provided employment to rural migrants but it can't accumulate enough revenues for other big projects. Such industry actually have been gradually moving out to places like vietnam, bangladesh.. as chinese wages rise, even before Trump started the trade war.

Core heavy industry—The only type the yanks have invested heavily is the auto industry. Just how much Hi-speed rail mileage the yanks have,eh?

Hi-tech industry—have been under severe yank sanction

People don't like to admit it, but it really is a racial thing. I have witnessed it myself from white American libtards that I know personally. The same exact people who put "black lives matter" signs in their yards will sound like 19th century British imperialists when it comes to China (it seems inconsistent but makes sense when you understand that "black lives matter" is an expression of their paternalistic "white savior" complex). Of course, they will always hedge this by saying they only hate the Chinese government and not the people- without mentioning that the Chinese government has overwhelming support of the Chinese people (pretty much higher support than any western government has ever had outside of war time) and that Chinese people view their government as the actual embodiment of their national will.

You are right. The only alternative is biological warfare. I am sure there is a rush for measures and countermeasures between and the West and the East going on right now. Covid19 is just a start. A test run. It did slowed down China but the economic impact is more severe in the West. Third world countries suffered the most and were ripe for regime changes. The inept Washington talking heads couldn't do it. Instead many are siding Russia and China. Even Saudi Arabia is leaning towards China.

No one begrudges China for transforming itself into a self-sufficient nation which takes care of its citizens. The problem is that they want to be the next hegemon by biting the hand that fed it over the last half a century. Of course it is a racial thing. From my experience, Liberals are hypocritical racists. Their anti-racism is just a projection of their own racist beliefs. "Lesser" races are not threatening to them therefore are promoted to maintain their own racial superiority. Chinese.... well, they are a cultural existential threat to these Anglos. They exposed the hypocrisy and the BS these liberals have been feeding the general public. The zenith of such hypocrisy is when they weaponized victimhood to the max.

My experience with conservatives is more positive.

Conservatives respect self reliance, hard work, discipline and delayed gratification, no matter what race. Conservative gripes with the Chinese are more economic. Right or wrong, in their eyes, if the Chinese "played fair", whatever that means since the US doesn't play fair, then all is good.

I think you are right. The U.S. is clearly declining economically and the woke nonsense is fracturing the country's social fabric. So, what to do? All the current policies (open borders, "green" energy, cultural Marxist ideology, ADL/DOJ collusion, etc.) only exacerbate the decline. We were a great power due to our industrial strength, that is no longer true. We can't even produce the weapons to support our proxy war in Ukraine.

So what do we do? Like the Brits in the early 1900's when they saw Germany as an economic threat and orchestrated a war to totally destroy Germany rather than compete with them, we are also on the path to war with China and Russia that we will lose.

Look no further than the environmental regulations that have strangled production of anything. The insane liberal dipshits have been convinced that the Chinese poisoning the planet twice as badly for the same goods produced, not to mention the waste of transporting it across the world, is somehow BETTER FOR THE ENVIRONMENT.

Exactly. It was the environmentalists who chased out our factories. As leftists, they hated corporations, and in the early 70s they opened a second front against them with environmentalism (the first front being labor unions). Corporations realized it was easier to deal with them by moving things overseas (out of sight, out of mind, apparently, for the greens). Never mind that this didn't help the workers at all.

Many of those idiots are still here, continuing to believe that in spite of reality it was meant to gather important intel from top secret military bases in the Dakotas, or elsewhere along its rather randomly windblown flightpath.

I admit that there was a funny ending to it all. First, Blinken making an even bigger fool of himself than he usually is, by cancelling his intended rapprochement with China that week.

But even funnier was sending up a fighter plane to shoot it down over Scotty's Surfside Beach Bar. A regular Ghost of Kiev moment for the US Air Force. Ted Cruz even congratulated Biden for that, saying it took real 'guts' to shoot it down, although keeping to partisan politics, the Cruzmeister said he'd have shot it down much earlier.

Too bad, though, about the junior high school kids who also had their weather balloon shot down. But that's the price of freedom for you.

| ...this began after Nixon went to China, but industry insisted Nixon go.

I would be interested to know which industrialists ‘insisted’ that Nixon make the trip? At the time China was still closed, and there was (as far as I know) little expectation that the Chinese under Mao would, or could, be interested in expanding their own industrial output (which at the time was minimal) by way of association with US capitalists.

The precursor trip to China was kept under wraps within Nixon’s own administration; relatively few knowing about the plan. Also, I’ve never come across anything that indicates that his diplomatic initiative was more than geostrategic maneuvering directed toward countering (or triangulating against) the Soviet Union.

Of course at that time one had to consider the possible political points that Nixon might have been able to gain from his trip (not wholly welcomed at all within Congress), but more importantly accruing from any assistance the Chinese might have been able to provide toward ending SE Asian war—which meant attempting to influence Hanoi to be more willing to negotiate in Paris.

I’m not saying that there was not hope among certain business interests to support the trip, but I never came across that as a significant explanation or motivation for Nixon’s diplomatic coup (if you can call it that).

As an aside, but actually related, during the meeting with Nixon, one of the principle concerns of China was reunification with Taiwan. This issue has always (well, at least since 1949) been a primary concern for the mainland, and to think that China will somehow walk away from Taiwan would be naive on the part of anyone.

As many say, in order for the New World Order to arise the Old World Order has got to go, and that means all existing countries on planet Earth have to collapse, both in the West and the RoW. Plus, fewer people are easier to manage. So both the destruction of all countries in the world is required, and massive reductions in population as well.

Since it is obvious that the West can't conquer Russia, both Napoleon and Hitler were not able to get it right, plus the West after WW2 couldn't even conquer Russia with nukes as the West had too few nukes to reliably do the job. So it was hoped that an empowered China would be able to do what the West couldn't, which is to conquer Russia. The process of empowering China started with Kissinger's visit in the early 70's. Probably Russia and China would fight each other to a standstill, and then the West could walk in to take over afterwards, same plan as was tried with Hitler and Russia during WW2. And then its welcome to the New World Order's One World Government.

However Russia and China are still not at each others throats, while the West has progressed far down the path of destroying their own countries both economically and socially already. With the collapse of the West China will collapse also, because, as many have said, America and China are joined at the hip, neither can exist without the other, China needs the West to buy its manufactured goods. Some Chinese believe that China has a big enough market within itself to survive a collapse of the West, but that is not true. The West had hundreds of years to accumulate / steal its wealth, China only some few decades, so China doesn't have the market size to purchase its own goods.

Countries outside the West don't really have that mind numbing kind of consumer culture that China needs for its exports. So a proper war between the West and China is next to impossible.

What all of this means is that currently both the West and China are at a disadvantage, while Russia can still just keep on being Russia without difficulty. How this all is going to end up is anyone's guess, resource poor China is going to have to expand its territory if it wants to maintain its power, at looks like biologicals on a global scale is the only hope for the One World Government to achieve its country and population collapses.

Despite what a great many damned fools might think or say, India will NEVER replicate the Chinese economic miracle, and will NEVER come close to the full spectrum dominance that China is achieving.

The Indian elites full well know this, it's only damn fool Economist whipped westerners who make noises in that direction.

Consequently, Indian elites know full well that India will NEVER be able to support its burgeoning, enormous population to any approximation of a decent life, therefore they are fixated on exporting as many of their people as possible to the west. This serves the Indians three purposes, one, it serves as a check against political unrest at home due to thwarted opportunities, two, it accrues massive foreign exchange remittances back to India, three, eventually, for sure, Indian elites will form the political/professional elites of the west, and will steer western foreign policy as to exclusively benefit India – Indians see this as particularly pertinent in their ongoing campaign of Muslim control and encirclement.

Regarding all western diplomacy towards India, we see that the Indians always but always hold out for 'free immigration of Indians' as a negotiating red line, whatever the subject of negotiation is, and it always is something absolutely nothing to do with immigration.

The Indians, as I've said, are an extremely subtle, cunning and deceitful people. They know a fool when they see one. So much for the Economist run west.

Michael Hudson really has the right analysis here. US policy is the policy of bankers. They are using the United States to bully the world into opening up to financial capitalism as opposed to industrial capitalism. What turned the US against China is its resistance to the penetration by financial capitalism. The policy of the United States does not benefit the United States but only its banking class who cares nothing for US welfare. The military industrial complex with its bloated budgets requires the US to borrow trillions. China's restrictions on financial capitalism is what the US wants to break. Since financial capitalism is unproductive its growth will inevitably put an end to the dynamic industrial capitalism of China.

To add my two cents worth, it's quite easy to debunk the oft-repeated myth that the Nixon-Mao meeting in 1972 somehow led to the opening up of China's economy under Deng in the 1990s. The historical fact is that Mao never agreed to open up China's economy to foreign investors. That happened only after Deng made his famous speech on "I don't care if the cat is black or white, so long as it catches mice" (不管黑猫白猫，能捉到老鼠就是好猫) during his historic Southern Tour in 1992. Three years before then, the USA had imposed sanctions on China after Tiananmen in 1989, with US-China joint ventures such as McDonnell Douglas, American Motors, AT&T, etc. formed in the 1980s either withdrawing from China or collapsing completely thereafter. What happened next was that both Asian and European investors poured into China to access the Chinese market, so much so that the Chinese economy had grown big enough to supply the world market by the time of its accession to the WTO in 2001. The reason why the Clinton Administration granted MFN status to China in 2000 (which paved the way for its accession to the WTO) was due to the fear of US multinationals of losing the Chinese market to their Asian and European competitors, especially in the auto industry. That was the same rationale for ratifying NAFTA in 1996, effectively outsourcing auto manufacturing jobs to Canada and Mexico, in order to save US automakers from bankruptcy. Now, China's entry to the WTO did allow the rapid growth of China's exports to the USA but that came to a halt in 2008 due to the Global Financial Crisis. That was when China started to restructure its economy away from exports to the USA which has fallen to about 3 percent of its GDP today. In fact, China's biggest export market today is ASEAN, followed by the EU with the USA in third place. The fact that China became the industrial powerhouse it is today has very little to do with the USA which imports more from North America than from China. If access to the US market were the key enabler for China's rise as an industrial powerhouse as claimed, then Mexico or any of the ASEAN countries would be industrial powerhouses today as they started earlier than China in exporting to the US market.

Xi Jin Ping is too much of a nationalist megalomaniac like Trump and did not heed Deng Xiao Peng's advice that China must quietly bide its time and never take the lead, i.e. walk softly and carry a big stick. His 2 big initiatives announced at the annual CCP congress soon after taking office that included 1)BRI and 2) "Made in China by 2025" set off alarm bells in DC, resulting in technological cutoff from US before China is fully ready to produce its own chips.

Meanwhile domestically the change in China has so far been cosmetic. Great modern infrastructure for sure, but the people are still stuck in their ancient age old ways. Corruption is rife and people are cut throat and soulless, only care about making lots of money so they can get the hell out.

But let's not make it sound like US/Europe helped China develop out of the goodness of our heart or some democracy naivete. Our multinationals and the greedy Jews on Wall Street couldn't wait to move all our factories there to take advantage of their vast pool of cheap labor, take away power from the white middle class and also to tap into their vast market that's growing richer by the day. The two countries are now too intertwined to go to war.

Nikki Haley's confusion says it all. She claimed we should keep letting China make our stuff real cheap, selling them lots of goods and services while at the same time go to war with them, Imao. That's America's genius confused policy in a nutshell. At the end of the day every president's biggest concern is to protect the stock market, look at how much Trump tied his achievement as POTUS to how high the Dow was? Jews want total control of the world, but they don't want to bankrupt themselves to get there. In the end they love money above all and if threat of war can't bring China to heel but runs the risk of bankrupting themselves, they'll jump in bed with China(literally, by marrying sons and daughters of rich and powerful Chinese en masse) and try to destroy them from within through a couple of generations of mudbloods, same way they conquered the West.

Yep, BRI was a wake-up call.

But it's even simpler: Americans think they have a God given entitlement to be No1.

Above all by total $GDP.

They are also, not quite unreasonably, convinced that this particular ranking equates to the one reg. global power.

So they are determined to fight against maths, against the law of big numbers and, in essence, against humanity's progress, measured by GDP/capita, which they are intent upon holding down for China&co now, although its rise would objectively be good for GDP/capita of Americans too.

But the GDP=power ranking of the USA trumps the GDP/CAPITA of Americans big time for the elite American decision-makers.

Very good article Mike. i like it so far. I would make a clarification though about the following statement,

“The hostility and provocations are all coming from the United States which is trying to undo the damage it did by implementing policies that ran counter to its own national interests. ”

Giving away the industrial foundation of the US as it happened starting in the 70's was foolish to start with if we forget that globalization is pursued on the essential basis that the US remains in control of the whole world.

The statement quoted above applies to a zero-sum type of relationship as the US wants it to be. By contrast, China sees it differently and would like it to be a win-win type of relationship. Indeed, the US has gained a supplier of inexpensive goods thus freeing cash in the US to rebuild the infrastructure in the US itself and thus to create employment. Washington gave away the money to corporations instead of rebuilding the US itself.

The election of Xi Jinping in 2013 was the turning point after which the relations with the US and friends started deteriorating. Japan elected the tougher Abe in response to Xi's assertive posture as Xi claimed an island close to Taiwan at the far end of Japan to be part of the PRC. Then followed the Chinese claims in the Paracelse islands and finally came the Belt and Road Initiative.

The elites in Washington are being pushed back by Xi and Washington now resorts to military threats because everything else they have tried to contain Xi has failed. The verb “to contain” is a favorite of Washington's rhetoric, while the expression “to cooperate with” is not often heard from them.

The US is fighting for hegemony while Asia can't care less about the hegemonic claims of Washington.

If China becomes a true enemy, why would they invest and buy our debt, to go to war with them?

The NeoClowns have to start a war with China that would destroy both countries for the benefit of the British FUCKING Crown and all the inbred cousins across their poor continent.

Have you ever noticed who rejects a petroleum and commodities based economy? The Europeans who have neither.

Europe, the British Crown and their fuckery division MI6 continue to spread corruption on death so they can keep metering, piping or putting a toll on everything. They want to meter our lives with CBDC. They are breaking down their own people and the economy in Europe to prime their system of control before declaring it a defacto system over the World, why? Because they have said so for the last 500 years.

There was an episode of Shark Tank where this entrepreneur had a great idea for something to do with automobiles, can't remember off hand exactly what it was except that he managed to grab the interest of two of the four of the venture capitalists. they were fighting for a piece of the pie until that is one of the sharks talked about going to China with his contacts there etc etc. The entrepreneur however, upon hearing that his invention was going to be produced in China was dead set against it wanting it American made. I'm American I remember him saying and he was proud of it. That however, got him into trouble with the sharks and as much as they tried to talk him out of it he lost them all. I remember their arguments that it can't be built cheaply enough here to make it work in the market place yadda yadda, yadda? For me that raised so many questions and still does and a friend who is a shipping manager at an industrial firm here in Canada we talk about so many things and how is it i ask him that with shipping costs and traveling times that something can still be produced on the other side of the globe cheaper than what can be done in our own backyard. As for these venture capitalists or vultures rather how much money is enough already? I'd say what began with the oligarchs and bankers has found itself in the pockets of one and all.

And why is it that we can't produce in our own country socks, underwear and shoes. I think even toothpicks come from China?

| It was a republic of China then so what changed?

The Republic of China was what the KMT called all of mainland China (including Taiwan), and was established after the 1911 revolution that overthrew the Qing Dynasty.

In 1949, after the KMT fled the mainland, Chiang in effect moved what he considered the mainland Chinese capital from southern China (various places) to Taiwan Island.

So there was never two countries: an independent entity called ROC located in Taiwan, separate from the mainland, and another called the Peoples Republic of China with its capital in Beijing. Both the mainland and Taiwan were always considered one China back then, and still are to this day.

Unless they have changed recently, the KMT still considers itself the legitimate heirs to the one, eventually to be unified, China. That is and has always been their goal.

It is really only recently, with the US supported DPP, that secession is contemplated, the goal being the establishment of two Chinas.

Interesting reflection. You say: “Xi Jin Ping is too much of a nationalist megalomaniac..”

It’s difficult to share that picture of him. I would rather say ‘optimally megalomaniac’.

But the whole idea of a multipolar world is not based on the idea that there is only one superpower in the world and China is not seeking the same kind of hegemony that America has. We can assume C probably understands the fact that seeking this kind of hegemony it would soon face the same fate as America today and therefore will not fall into that trap, but avoids the dangers involved and C may also feel strange the whole idea that there should be only one superpower in the world because it wants and is able to cooperate and share responsibility with other poles. It is therefore difficult to believe that the danger you mention exists at all.

“On the other hand, if China makes sure that membership of the Communist Party is not given to non-Chinese, it can/at least in theory ensure that power in the country remains in the hands of the Chinese people alone, as no non-Chinese can get into leading positions in the country, but only members of the party.

The West had a 500 year head start. China has caught up and for all intents and purposes has surpassed the West. In only took China 30 years!

Why? Because the economies of the West have not been real economies since 1913. The Jews and no one else set man against man and country against country in an extension of inherently malignant Jewish nefariousness they were long know for. What they have done on a large scale is no different than the small scale of village life.

One does not to have to be religious to understand the difference between Christianity — in practice an ideal — and Judaism as practised. The idea that the thing described as Judeo-Christian is something other than a Chimera is foolish.

Jews in general are a malignant growth attached exactly like a leach attaches itself to a host! A leach sucks the blood from its host, engorging itself at the hosts expense. It is a parasitic arrangement.

A parasite moves onto its next victim until the host offers no more substance. The left right construct is artificial. ...and a deceptive lie. The left right construct veiled the intentions of the Jew from the Christian host.

Unfortunately the rest of the world has no interest in joining the West as a host for the Jew. Jewish Ponzi scheming is now common knowledge. Certainly China understands the dynamics of the long game. The parasite is a short game.

Xi Jin Ping is too much of a nationalist megalomaniac like Trump and did not heed Deng Xiao Peng's advice that China must quietly bide its time and never take the lead, i.e. walk softly and carry a big stick. His 2 big initiatives announced at the annual CCP congress soon after taking office that included 1) BRI and 2) "Made in China by 2025" set off alarm bells in DC, resulting in technological cutoff from US before China is fully ready to produce its own chips.

After the 2008 financial crisis, the US ran out of money and China came in with more than half a trillion dollars to bail it out. In came Obama and initiated the "Pivot to Asia" with aims in containing China. From China's perspective, here we are, just bailed your azz out..... Since then, to China, the US can't be trusted.

In reaction to a hostile USA, Xi Jinping was appointed soon afterwards. He was chosen to chart a path that can withstand adversarial USA. Every policies, projects, and initiatives since then were designed to operate sustainably if China decouples from the US.

So to think the US can now impose more sanctions, more than "Pivot to Asia" will have an effect, is 10 years too late. Today, China's exports to the US is less than 3% of its GDP.

About self sustainability, China's imports are only 2.7% of its GDP and the US at the same level about 3.2%. Both countries along with Russia are not as vulnerable as the rest of the world.

>“The Chinese problem” in a nutshell. It is about “an oligarchy of [tribal] elites who have been unable to make any significant inroads into the Chinese government’s power-structure” but also are declared (unofficially of course) persona non grata in the future too.

Not just the government, and not just of China per se.

(THEY) have been simply locked out of any real access to any sort of influence or power across the Chinese-world/Sino-civilizational space. In every sphere. They can live and be safe amongst the Chinese, they can make money there, but no outsider can ever subvert the cohesion of the Chinese, in the long run. The people themselves will not allow it.

{The y} did manage to briefly, with their manipulated golems, suppress and exploit China – the Century of Humiliation. BTW, the Chinese elite, and the better informed masses, know who did what to China.

Note the choice of words: Suppress, exploit, NEVER subvert. [Trials] attacked China from without, since they could not make a dent in the identity and cohesion of the Chinese from within – and they will never be able to. In this, (they) have not been singled out. The inner core spirit of China is simply inaccessible, full stop.

It’s just that China is the world’s most ancient and most historically established identity, OLDER and even deeper than that of the [Tribe]. [[Those of Kaifeng]], living in China but clinging to their culture for the past 1,400 years, are still seen as aliens – IMHO, rightly so.

You know all those books and media extolling (tr i ba l) ways? Serving to educate on how they infiltrate, network and subvert? Teaching the patterns and methods, using terms of awe. Those aren't a sign of love. They serve to inoculate the general population by telling them, instructing them how the subverters operate. "Know your enemy" wrote Sun Tzu.

It's like if there were an explosion of works in America on "Secrets and Mysteries of Government, Wall Street, Mega-Corporate and Media/Educational Wealth and Power". All written in tones of admiration and approval. None advocating violence. But the effect would be to make average people aware, alert and on guard. People would be talking among themselves. A mass movement in the popular mind, which would be unstoppable.

And such books simply cannot be banned on any grounds. And why ban them, they after all take an approving tone -surely the authors are supporters of these institutions?

They want to hustle and make inroads into the Sino-Ethnos? They've already lost, in that case.

That might be why there is a war against corruption—it can not be done overnight. Anyways—many Triad drug bosses working the Golden Triangle – headquartered in Hong Kong –had to get out. Many ditched prior to 1997 and took up residence in Canada.

2019 –the rioting was Paid for the Triads because if they are hauled to Beijing it will be short trial and execution –extortion- drug trafficking- prostitution – bribery – theft – etc.

Odd —20 of Beijing’s MOST WANTED now live in Canada – many in Vancouver in big mansions or Toronto near the harbour and are included in the Federal Political scene –making speeches in DC about having relatives back in Hong Kong — being targeted -for what? Going to the movies?

Joe and Hunter Biden no doubt on the Triad pay roll along with Nancy Pelosi.

About time to get that List and deport them –The Triad boys who manufacture fentanyl in Vancouver and operate Casinos on Native Indian reservations for washing coin and keeping puppets like Trudeau and Chretien well stocked —

And send Trudeau on a one way ticket to Khalistan— the Punjab Sikh Paradise along with Jagmeet Singh—more terrorists in Surrey than India has curry.....

Lin wrote:

“The most important steel technology china has imported was Continuous Casting from Japan”

True. From the early 1990s, partly because of its CC technology, Japan was the largest steel producer until China took over that spot in 1996. About four years later China produced as much or more steel than the rest of the world combined.

The 1989 worker unrest at Tiananmen, later joined by students, was mainly a demonstration against neoliberalism. As usual that demonstration was twisted by the western mass media as a protest for “democracy” instead of worker rights. Pickets against crony privatization and protesters’ songs of the Internationale were omitted from Western reports. For the first time since 1949 two Chinese heads of state were dethroned one after the other to preserve the position of Deng Xiaoping who nevertheless was also released of his party post soon after Tiananmen.

Though the party did decide to implement Mao Zedong’s Four Modernization program as clarified by Zhou Enlai at least twice before his death, the profits-above-everything neoliberalism promoted by slogans such as “to make money is glorious” continued, resulting in long hours and low pay for workers. That was one reason why the West, which earlier had boycotted China because of Tiananmen, returned to participate in the Chinese market with a vengeance.

Another reason was the enthusiastic participation by Greater China (HongKong and Macau, Taiwan), South Korea and Japan in the China trade. Western threats notwithstanding, most Chinese actually preferred Japanese civilian goods than what they thought were generally inferior products from the West. Besides, military or even so-called “dual use” goods involving “high tech” had always been banned for sale to China since 1949. The one product that could be termed as “high tech” were chips from South Korea and China. The US itself sells mostly lower grade chips.

In short, Western trade, or basically US trade with China, were and still are mostly limited to low tech stuff like Nike shoes, clothing or vitamins. Because of cheap labor, many American companies decided to move their factories producing civilian goods in China.

Such goods are hardly the stuff that make for a formidable scientific nation. To attain such a status China had to turn inwards and develop its own core technologies, as it did during Mao’s time when the country produced its own satellites, nuclear subs and intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Next major conflict Front Page material will be “Canada Against India !!”

Can you just imagine it—Justin Trudeau held hostage in India because his plane does not function and then telling Modi the Singh terrorist in Surrey was Assassinated by some Indian government officials and then Trudeau tells Modi that Khalistan separatists in Surrey are the good guys.

It now makes sense that Justin is partner with Jagmeet Singh and Khalistan rabble rousers are NOT terrorists.

Joe Biden pointed his index finger against Justin and it might just be the case that if Justin takes on Modi —Amtrak Joe and Zylenskyy might enter the fray and this would force Vlad to enter and then Rishi Sunak would come to Modi’s side while Punjab residents in Yorkshire would cheer on Khalistan’s justifiable existence.

All began 300 years ago —Britain enters —draws lines on maps on paper and lumps people together who were —different —very different and one side later persuaded to join Mother England with orders to kill all Hindi leaders who wanted England OUT of India.

Gotta go now —Monty Python rerun time —today — “The Meaning of Life” with Mr Creosote—

As far your point about 'simplifying' a language in order to intellectually speed things up? Often this sort of thing results in an overall cultural devolution. One can easily point to how traditional English is being transformed rapidly within the vernacular, resulting in a degradation of corresponding richness in thought.

As for grammar, English has become much simpler than its Germanic or even Latin roots. If one regards simplification of grammar as a feature of greater development of a language, then Chinese is even more developed than English. No tenses, no inflexions, no plural etc.

The thing that Western idiots like this one like to harp on is the writing system. Little do they realise that China has been exposed to alphabetical systems for 3000 years, but has declined to use them. Like in all systems there are advantages and disadvantages. One should ask the Japanese why they continue to use Chinese Kanji ideographic characters together with their own 2 indigenous alphabets/syllabaries.

IMHO the main advantage for China to use its ideographic system was the ease of administration of different parts of the country. Idiot Westerners like this one do not know that China was formed of many different ethnic groups with their own languages, customs etc. Rather than the royal/imperial courts having to translate their communications into 50 different languages, they sent out a SINGLE text of ideographic characters, which would then be read in the local tongue.

I just came back from a trip to Japan. Even though I do not speak Japanese, I could drive around the country reading their road signs, and order from restaurant menus because I understand the meaning of the ideographic symbols, even though I am unable to say it in Japanese. If I want to communicate with a Japanese person, I just have to write it down.

Now Western idiots like this one should try doing the same thing the next time he is in France.

It is difficult to tell who really controls the show in the US. The levers of power lie in the State and Justice departments and other large agencies with the complicity of influential senate committees. The White House nominations are a crucial factor in controlling that orchestra. The White House staff needs to be very efficient. Many staffers come from Think-tanks and the think-tanks are financed by people or groups who end up having great power over the legislative agenda. Other rich people and groups act as lobbyists or campaign sponsors.

Many believe that a loose group called the Neocons, the Straussians or the Kaganists have taken control over key positions in the administration over the last thirty years.

Those people are viewed as ideologues because they promote ideological talking points as opposed to promoting pragmatical problem solving. The purpose of the ideological toolkit is to create a form of dictatorship. That is what the US foreign policy now looks like to many other countries: a dictatorship.

They are also viewed as ideologues because they don't seem concerned by the facts and because they act ruthlessly.

Although those staffers look like intelligent hyperactive middlemen they don't show much good judgment themselves.

There must be agents outside the administration who informally set the agenda. Rich people not currently making much money in China are likely bankers or financiers living on money lending or some shenanigans they wish to establish in the rich Asian market. They use the US as their lever to force countries to open their doors to their projects. This process has been going on since the US has an army.

One little tidbit of info you might find interesting.

The PRC's claims over the South China Sea islands....these claims were inherited from the ROC.

When the ROC still represented China, the US regarded these islands as part of China. In fact at the end of WW2, it was the US navy that helped ROC soldiers retake the islands vacated by the Japanese, since the Chinese navy was destroyed in the war.

A few years later, when the PRC defeated the ROC in the mainland, suddenly the US decided that the islands are not longer Chinese, and that China is being aggressively expansionist. It is totally two faced

The same applies to Tibet, Xinjiang, Mongolia etc etc

Neither the WEF globalist cabal or Chinese nationalists can disguise or nullify the underlying issue of how to maintain economic and military parity fifty years into the future. There are limbic-system emotions at work here and apply to every last human including monkeys! Recall the nationally televised experiment where two monkeys were in full view of each other receiving reward (treats) for some given task. Both animals insisted that they receive the same token of gratitude with an edible fruit for the same job done. The researchers fairness was scrupulously monitored by both monkeys. This fundamental animal reaction runs deep in our subconscious. The original paper was submitted by one, Frans De Waal. He demonstrated the now famous Capuchin monkey fairness test. It shows just how important underlying emotions are when linked to unjustifiable prejudice (applied here- in the broadest sense of the word). This is an interesting psychological observation that can be applied in many spheres of human interaction such as work environments, political debates, contract and treaty negotiations etcetera...

Readers may conclude that these reactions are merely shades of jealousy, envy, insubordination, revolt against authority, immaturity but whatever the reasons, leaders everywhere must take stock of this “equality trait” built in us all. With this new awareness about ourselves, the old historical considerations e.g., military concepts of Carl Von Clausewitz, his “Six Lessons for the Modern Strategist” or for that matter the theories behind the Thucydides Trap must take a back seat just long enough to try and comprehend how the human mind is really wired- emotionally.

Be it the USA 5 Eyes, EU, SCO, BRICS alliances all share, on an individual basis, one essential feeling. It lies far below the granular level of negotiation(s) that is to say; Do you get more than me? how come you get more and I don't get the same reward? I don't have the same things you have?? how come U get the grape and I get the cucumber? This interpretation goes down to the very marrow of our animal nature and instinct.

Clausewitz went on and on with his thesis about war and war making, he said it should not be compared to art but to commerce, "which is also a conflict of human interests and activities." He almost hit the mark but missed it entirely. The aforementioned examples of inequality and lack of fairness can be detected and resented even in monkeys...This thinking process, however primitive, is at bottom of what incites mistrust, anger and hatred..These are the fundamental building blocks of war not the Thucydides Trap or Clausewitz' historical cycles that bring forward then retract titanic forces used for economic and or military gain.

Hopefully tomorrows world will embrace a better understanding of human psychology, what motivates leaders and the citizenry at large to take up arms or make efforts to secure a lasting peace. It's time to dump Carl Von Clausewitz, dump so called realities of the Thucydides Trap and finally, dump fascism, Crony capitalism and the return of feudal lords!

In the three decades between 1990-2020 while China was rising the US wasn't exactly sleeping. It was busy making war on the Middle East on behalf of Israel.

Both China and Russia used that breathing space to develop their economies. Meanwhile the US was attacking and destroying the whole Islamic world. They certainly succeeded in that as the Middle East is in shambles while Israel is prospering.

The cost to the US was blood on their hands for 10+ million murders, $10+ trillion in war spending and 30 years of lost time. An even bigger cost was the loss of respect in the world. The US and the West have proven themselves unworthy of leading the world of the future.

@Miro23

It will not work out.

Only American citizens of the Old Type even care about tiddly-wink issues like “debt”. Our Dreamer replacements do not care, and probably never heard of such things to begin with. You are certainly aware of Peter Brimelow’s old quote, attributed to a Mexican enricher. The fellow said “Those gringos sh!t money.” I’m sure you remember it.

Point is that where our replacements are concerned, the ordinary laws of human commerce simply do not apply. And where China is concerned it’s not only a replacement for a certain demographic. China is our replacement CIVILIZATION.

China has everything the Soros-Gates mindset wants. The social credit system, the total state as the answer for everything, the substitute of discipline for freedom. All that.

As the USA works at building a totalitarian civic structure along Chinese lines you can bet our upper class only wishes Americans would just roll over and let it happen. But we disappoint them in so many ways. We insist on owning guns. We persist in our freedom of speech.

They’re just getting fed up with us. For so many reasons.

The 1972 Nixon-Mao meeting led to the US-China detente which was a quid pro quo, as follows: China would stop supporting the Vietnamese Communists while the USA would stop supporting the Chinese Nationalists in Taiwan. Contrary to popular misconception, Mao never agreed to open up the Chinese economy to foreign investors which happened only under Deng after his famous Southern Tour in 1992, two decades later. And US multinationals didn't move in to China until 2000 after the USA lifted sanctions imposed after Tiananmen in 1989. By that time, Asian (Japanese) and European (German) investors were already well-established in China whose vast market the American investors craved. That's why the Clinton Administration granted MFN status to China in 2000 which paved the way for its accession to the WTO in 2001 on the condition that China open up its market to US multinationals while adopting the USD as its foreign reserve currency.

Lets start with the simplest of reasons: China holding a few trillions of American debt; when it finally realized there is not much that can be bought with these trillions, and the American oligarchy can freeze these trillions any time it wants, it started to offload it slowly. Slowly, because it does not want this debt turn into worthless paper – then China will lose its hard earned export earnings.

Then the next one – in the NWO, China is supposed to be a perpetual slave labour state. That is the only way the western oligarchs could retain their control over the western masses: the oligarchs will release IOUs a.k.a FRNs to the western masses, who will use it to buy cheap Chinese goods, then the Chinese will turn those FRNs into T Bills, hoping that some day these T Bills can be used to buy technology from the West, so that the Chinese slave labour can churn out further cheaper goods... Got the trend? It will be the best perpetual motion machine ever invented. The West will supply the tech, the East will manufacture it, and the West will ride on it...

But the Chinese are not Indians; they can learn, improvise, understand and create.

By industrial capitalism, he means activity that produces benefits for the the whole population in the long-term. By financial capitalism, he means activity that produces profits for passive investors but do not necessarily create a net positive on the whole in the long-term. Is this correct?

That seems right but in addition China also seeks to champion Chinese firms and restrict foreign ones. So it should be called industrial national capitalism or long-term national capitalism. Hudson seems to have a more post-national outlook.

But if China was not given access to western markets and entered into the WTO, there would be no Chinese miracle and no Chinese superpower today.

The author makes it sound like it was a gift, like we were doing China a favor for “giving” China access to Western markets. Yet doing the opposite would have been going against our professed belief—sincere or not—in the sanctity of free markets and the principles of comparative advantage. More important, we did ourselves a favor: for decades, we got inexpensive, affordable goods—practically everything in Walmart and Target—significantly decreasing our cost of living and giving us access to high-quality products like iPhones whose manufacture would hardly have been possible without the low-cost/high-quality labor in China, from assemblers to tooling and industrial engineers. And of course, US corporations came away with runaway profits.

I agree with the author in questioning Mearsheimer’s assertions, specifically that US officials did what they did under the assumption that China would become a democracy and therefore would become a responsible stakeholder in an American-led international order. [Mearsheimer].

It’s far more likely that they simply needed cover for opening our markets, sending jobs overseas, and entering China into the WTO—a hard sell in the case of an authoritarian, communist country. Any objections could be met with, “But we’re doing this for democracy!” Did anyone really believe this? Mearsheimer’s argument also implies that the US’s current problems with China have to do with it being authoritarian and a hegemon, particularly in Asia (as if this is the preordained role for a certain country on the opposite side of the globe), when in fact it has more to do with China becoming an emerging economic competitor—just like Japan was in the 1980s. The difference is that we could strong-arm Japan, a “responsible stakeholder” that was beating us in our “rules-based system,” into abiding by a new set of rules which would soon drive it into economic stagnation so that it could no longer pose a challenge. We cannot do the same to China. And so yes, war with China is inevitable if China does not make like Japan and stop growing. Our leaders will see that this is so.

We used China to make money. Why do you think China got the MFN status? Its manufacturing kept our inflation down while we invaded other countries for the last 20 years. We were hoping the Chinese leaders were stupid enough to not develop their country like the Indian leaders. Turns out, China got super smart elites who aren't all extractive.

The above is pretty much the US in a nutshell.

The West banned IQ studies but like the stereotypes of non-Whites. All non-whites are the same. Indians, Chinese they are all stupid. Anything good coming from them are just copies or clever mimicry. Just a look at the IQ averages of all the countries, one would have guess which countries will and can do well and which will always be poor. Easy as that. The IQ chart never fails.

The only reason that China is where it is at today is because the USA and other Western countries offshored our factories to them. We brought them into the 20th century, pulled them up by their own bootstraps as our corpocracy stupidly focused on gaining more profits, which allowed the Chinese to steal Western technology and use it to compete with us.

If we cut off Chinese access to the latest Western technology, China will flounder. They are taught to be followers, not creators. Their thinking processes and minds are strictly regimented.

Neither is happening. China's economy has stagnated and the entire developed world (and much of the under-developed world) hates them now. They have no reproductive capabilities and will go out with a whimper as their women refuse to breed (with them).

China's birth rate is slightly less than the US. Both below population replacement rate. All of Europe are below replacement. South Korea, Japan and Taiwan are even lower than China.

China has 1.4 billion people and the US has 332 million. Do some math, with similar birth rates, what is the population of China and the US 20 years from now? I am not even touching on the subject of types of births. China is pretty much Han people so most of the births will be Hans while in the US we are seeing an increase in Hispanics while a dramatic decrease of White births.

The birth rates that are above replacement are South Asian, South American and African countries. With climate change, food scarcity.. These people will want to migrate to Western countries. China, not so easy to migrate to. Desert on the Western side, the Himalayas on the Southwest, oceans on the left side. It has been that way for thousands of years. If it is that easy, many Chinese would have looked like those people in Bhutan, Nepal or Nagaland in India. Or the people of Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan or Uzbekistan.

I see a Brazil type of demography in most Western countries, while China will have a smaller population in the future, it will remain mostly Han and will be the most productive. In 50 years, we will see Whites and other East Asians working with the Hans for their own self preservation.

The “China is a threat” thing is a short term strategy that will have a massive blowback in a few decades.

Love and reason are different things. Reason must dominate the politics. Love is important in life but it is not able to solve problems and that’s true with hate too. They mostly only cause/create problems.

Most problems nations/we all have to day are problems of the weakness or lack of reason and can only be solved with reason, not with feelings of love or hate which often resist the voice of reason/are irrational.

This excerpt from the article of Dugin (Eschatologies of multipolar world) explains better what was meant in my previous comment when I said that

“China probably understands the fact that seeking this kind of hegemony it would soon face the same fate as America today and therefore will not fall into that trap, but avoids the dangers involved ..and C may also feel strange the whole idea that there should be only one superpower in the world because it wants and is able to cooperate and share responsibility with other poles”

[7 civilisations (1 against 6)]

But at the XV summit, held from 22 to 24 August 2023 in Johannesburg, the final formation of the multipolar club took place. The entry of three Islamic powers – Shiite Iran and Sunni Saudi Arabia and the UAE – was fundamental. Thus, the direct participation in the multipolar world of the entire Islamic civilisation, represented by both branches – Sunnism and Shiism – was assured.

In addition, along with Portuguese-speaking Brazil, Spanish-speaking Argentina, another strong and independent power, joined the BRICS. Even in the mid-twentieth century, theorists of South American unification into a consolidated “Greater Space” – primarily Argentine general Juan Perón and Brazilian president Getúlio Vargas – considered a decisive rapprochement between Brazil and Argentina to be the first principle of this process. If this is achieved, the process of integration of the Latin American ecumene (term of A.Buela) will be irreversible. And that is exactly what is happening now in the context of the accession of the two major powers of South America, Brazil and Argentina, to the multipolar club.

The admission of Ethiopia is also highly symbolic. It is the only African country that remained independent throughout the colonial era, preserving its sovereignty, its independence and its unique culture (Ethiopians are the oldest Christian people). Combined with South Africa, Ethiopia strengthens by its presence in the multipolar club the African continent as a whole.

In fact, the new composition of the BRICS gives us a complete model of uniting all poles – civilisations, “Greater Spaces”, with the exception of the West, which desperately seeks to preserve its hegemony and unipolar structure. But now it faces not disparate and fragmented countries, full of internal and external contradictions, but a united force of the majority of humanity, determined to build a multipolar world.

This multipolar world consists of the following civilisations:

The West (the USA+EU and their vassals, which includes, alas, the once proud and sovereign Japan now degraded to passive puppet of the Western conquerors);

China (+Taiwan) with its satellites;

Russia (as an integrator of the entire Eurasian space);

India and its zone of influence;

Latin America (with the core of Brazil+Argentina);

Africa (South Africa+Ethiopia, with Mali, Burkina Faso, Niger, etc., liberated from French colonial influence).

Islamic world (in both versions – Shiite Iran, Sunni Saudi Arabia and UAE).

At the same time, one civilisation – the Western one – claims hegemony, while the other six deny it, accepting only a multipolar system and recognising the West as only one of the civilisations, along with others. May be still strongest (relatively and not for too long) but not unique.

So the rightness of Samuel Huntington, who saw the future in the return of civilisations, has been confirmed in practice, while the fallacy of Fukuyama's thesis, who believed that the global hegemony of the liberal West (the end of history) has already been achieved, has become obvious. Therefore, Fukuyama is left only doomed to lecture the Ukrainian neo-Nazis, the last hope of globalists to stop the onset of multipolarity, for which Russia in Ukraine is fighting today.]

While the vast majority of the U.S.' growth is non-white (immigrants included) and who are, let's put it, "less than qualified", and China's growth is that of its native ethnicity, it still erodes China's advantage, the pool of skilled producer/consumers of China.

China will have to encourage healthy population increase, or fall behind.

While the fall in births would have happened as China got richer, the CPC really over-did the One Child Policy, enforcing it for too long. The Once Child Policy began in 1980.

It really should have been eased to 2 children by 2003 (after 9/11), 3 children by 2013 (BRI start) and by 2016, completely removed. Beyond that, pro-natal policies (maternal leave, day care etc.) and media encouragement/propaganda (shows, movies, news) across China. If they had done that, we'd be seeing a good trend in China now.

Competent as the Chinese are, they fucked this one up.

The crucial point is this:

By end of century, the small minority of Americans who are white will have to fight for their own existence, in the land of their birth, against a majority population of natives of the same land who hate and despise them – and by this time the non white population will hold all political and military power.

In contrast, China will still be vast majority Han.

And anyway, a lower population in China, a nation of around 1.5 billion, can only be a benefit.

Tell me, where is the growth from? Quality immigrants? No. AND... The difference in population growth between US and China is 870,000 per year. Let's say the trend remained constant for 50 years. In 50 years, US's population will outgrow China by a measly 43 million people. Remember, China has 1.4 billion people. Zero impact.

While the fall in births would have happened as China got richer, the CPC really over-did the One Child Policy, enforcing it for too long. The Once Child Policy began in 1980.

This I agree but it is a blessing in disguise. With the current slow down of growth, the population will stabilize to a level where the standard of living of Chinese people will increase as you have less people chasing more resources.

Rather than compete for Chinese markets, why didn't the Clinton admin force Europe and it's Asian allies to sanction China? America was far more powerful during the 90s.

Believe it or not, it's called 'Capitalism'. The Asians and Europeans had no desire nor interest in sanctioning China for its alleged 'human rights' abuses in Tiananmen. All they ever wanted was to make money selling to the vast Chinese market. As did the Americans. That's why US companies like Motorola, Nike, Qualcomm, etc. applied for and received approval for exemptions to the US sanctions in order to access the Chinese market. Either that or they cede the Chinese market to their Asian and European competitors which prompted US companies like Boeing, Ford, GM, GE, etc. to lobby the Clinton Administration to grant MFN status to China.

Jeffrey Sachs that the economic policies America has implemented against China during the past few years are having a big effect. That it's the key to the big Chinese 2023 slowdown. How can that be if they barely depend on exports to America, especially considering workarounds like reexports?

There's a lot of popular misconceptions regarding China's exports to the USA which consists of two types of products: 1) US-branded goods made in China, and 2). Chinese 'intermediate goods'. The former had already been relocating to other countries like Vietnam, Indonesia, Bangladesh, Mexico, etc. BEFORE the Trump Trade War. Nike, for example, now produces more than 90 percent of its shoes OUTSIDE China with the remaining 10 percent serving the Chinese market. However, Trump didn't put tariffs on Apple's iPhones because Tim Cook lobbied against it as Apple had no other locations outside China to manufacture them. However, Trump did put tariffs on Chinese 'intermediate goods' like solar panels, LCD screens, lithium batteries, electric motors, etc. in the hopes that US manufacturers would source these components from domestic manufacturers. Instead, US manufacturers moved their factories overseas to escape the tariffs, mainly to Mexico. Those tariffs did affect the supply-chains of US manufacturers who now had to move their factories around the tariffs.

One last thing, the slowdown over the past couple of years has nothing to do with the Trump Trade War but everything to do with the Covid-19 pandemic.

For anyone who is interested in Dugin here is more about his 4thPT

The Condensed Dugin: A Review of Alexander Dugin's The Great Awakening vs The Great Reset, by Nelson Rosit
The Book

The Great Awakening vs The Great Reset
Alexander Dugin

London, Arktos Media, 2021

If you are curious about the analysis of the Russian geopolitical philosopher Alexander Dugin, but do not want to tackle his Foundations of Geopolitics[1] or The Fourth Political Theory[2] you might consider this slim volume.

The Great Awakening vs The Great Reset is the condensed Dugin. It is also the topical Dugin in that he discusses developments in America 2020–21. In fact, this book seems to be aimed at an American audience. I certainly do not want to discourage anyone from reading the above-mentioned longer works because even when he is vague and contradictory Dugin is interesting.

Even when you disagree with his thinking, his writing is engaging.

Also, what would happen if the Chinese government says "it is now the patriotic duty of every fertile family to bear one more child. The state will give hefty cash bonuses, and all childcare and related cost to be borne by the state including medical, schooling, childcare etc. In addition both parents and grand parents will receive yearly state gratuities for life."

Please don't give them ideas because many people think they are too dumb to think of this themselves.

Trump's approach was to use economic levers to start treating China like a peer competitor in fight for global dominance.

The approach of the neocons and the liberasts is to try to ferment war and coups and starve people out.

Both are approaches "to contain China" (or any other target), but one is a far cry from the other.

Introducing tariffs, demanding better deals, and trying to wind down existing wars is one thing, while trying to throw half the globe into a war and starve the rest is quite another thing.

A ginormous debt bubble. A real estate sector that is like a bodybuilder on steroids. Environmental issues galore. Bad food. A totalitarian government headed by a dictator who lives in a Chicom bubble eating Maoflakes for breakfast. Commie cadres completely out of touch and corrupt to the core. Grand Theft of intellectual property. Rampant cheating. Scams. Foul air quality.

If you consider how many fires in Canada this summer were started by our governments or greenie wheenie sympathetics, then you may agree our air quality (or at least New York's) is foul.

The rest sounds exactly where the former west is headed, because China is the model.

No one begrudges China for transforming itself into a self-sufficient nation which takes care of its citizens. The problem is that they want to be the next hegemon by biting the hand that fed it over the last half a century.

No, the problem is that America wants to dominate the world and it is fearful that it may lose its grip. Thus Americans are paranoid: they see threats everywhere, and they lash out. It's why they took Japan down, they are taking Germany down, and they're attempting to take down China.

In spite of US propaganda, people in Japan didn't want their country to become "the next hegemon"; they only wanted to be left alone. Thus the title of one of their best-selling books: "The Japan That Can Say NO". Of course, Americans were extremely affronted that anyone would dare to say "no" to an order from the mighty USA and moved to take down the miscreants. The US was successful: to this day, decades after the Plaza Accord of 1985, Japan is mired in stagnation.

At one time, the European Union led by Germany was rivalling the US in its economic weight. Thus the Americans moved to cut the Germans down to size. The whole EU was forced to stop accepting Russian energy; to toughen the starvation diet on the Germans, the US blew up the Nordstream pipelines. The resulting economic strangulation is working: Germany is in recession, is visibly de-industrializing before our eyes, and is likely to enter a long depression.

China's next. The US would love to make the Middle Kingdom the next victim, but its economic warfare is not working. This year China will have robust growth and low inflation; meanwhile the US has low growth and high inflation. Which is clearly suffering more? If you are an American, brace yourself: Russia and Saudi Arabia are cutting oil production, causing prices to soar; more economic pain is coming for you. The US may be slamming head-first and at full speed into a BRICS wall.

If [the Chinese] were not to dig their own grave then they would have been alright but they couldn't leave the Pandora's box alone and now the plague will be upon it.

We'll see how much the Americans enjoy the high price of gasoline.

Mearsheimer: “However, once the Cold War ended in 1989 and the Soviet Union collapsed in 1991, the U.S. no longer needed China”

When Nixon shook hands with Mao in 1972, the greatest threat to the U.S. came from immigration activists, not the Soviet Union. And today, the White man’s worst enemies are in the White House and the media, not in China. Chinese influence in East Asia should not matter to us.

Helping China industrialize was a good idea, to end poverty in China and bring us the benefits usually associated with free trade. But helping China industrialize didn’t mean we had to accept our own deindustrialization.

It looks like a lot of factories were sold to China and moved there. That was not the way to do it. It must have been very profitable for the bankers who sold the factories, but it was a disaster for the U.S. I think the American government probably let it happen because both the government and the financial sector were dominated by Jewish politicians, Jewish businessmen, and a Jewish free-trade ideology. The government didn’t protect the common interest of the nation.

The Jewish bankers acted in their immediate financial interest and probably made a lot of money. Now there is no factory left to sell to the Chinese, there is no strong American industry to support the Jewish investors, and they find that they cannot penetrate the Chinese financial sector. So they are souring on China. If that’s the case, then the right solution is to take protectionist measures and try to reindustrialize the U.S. I think that’s what Trump was trying to do. The idea of declaring war on China is crazy.

According to some Chinese foreign Ministry sources, it is difficult to know who is in charge in the United States.

I guess this is probably because America's elites themselves are fighting among themselves over the use of LGBTQ and other ideas.

Here is a vivid example to illustrate.

“How can our own people believe that ? our policies are designed to divide those at the bottom and make sure Occupy Wall Street never happens again.” says one American elite.

But it seems like Musk's son really believes in that set of theories and went transgender.

So there are not a few elites who believe in this set of theories.

I guess this is probably because of the game and conflict between different interest groups behind this, leading to the lack of real leaders in the United States, and the United States is actually in a state of anarchy.

In fact, ancient Chinese history has tried similar methods, such as promoting ethnic minorities, promoting drug abuse, promoting homosexuality, but basically these practices, can lead to the collapse of the country.

Canada now a homeland to international terrorists of any stripe and color –WHY –each of these groups pays Trudeau big coin to enter Canada and enjoy human rights –freedom and Democracy.

The Punjab terrorists in Surrey—the Banderite Nazis in Ontario and Alberta –the Italian mob in Ontario and Quebec —the French connection in Quebec —and it all comes down to Wealth.

Wealth created by having many renters paying sky high rents—a criminal code where murderers are given 10 years then a release so they can offend again—fentanyl in BC —all those Casinos coast to coast washing money faster than the Irish washerwoman—lots of immigrants —Punjab Khalistinian hopefuls in Surrey BC —Hong Kong —triads in Vancouver and Toronto and by sheer coincidence

China has managed to lift itself from the 3rd world into the 1st world on the backs of cheap workers, no cares about environmental damage and IP theft. In the next 5 years, it's cheap[er] workers are going to be neutralized by humanoid robots that will be able to do most manual labor labor jobs or factory automation, which will displace many of its workers.

What will it do with all its excess bodies then that it won't be able to feed or support? Send them to the Soylent Green tanks? Harvest their organs and see them?

I wouldn't want to be in Xi's shoes now. He should have retired.

World's first humanoid robot factory set to open this year

Robot mass production may soon turn into a reality.

Mrigakshi Dixit

Sep 19, 2023

The world's first humanoid robot manufacturing factory in Salem, Oregon, may open up later this year.

Company Agility Robotics recently announced that preparations are in all swing for the opening of this manufacturing unit named "RoboFab." The Agility's press release mentioned that the facility's construction began last year.

"The opening of our factory marks a pivotal moment in the history of robotics: the beginning of the mass production of commercial humanoid robots," said Agility Robotics' co-founder and CEO Damion Shelton.

The last thing China needs right now is more bodies and more mouths to feed.

The last thing any place (town, city, state, or really anywhere) ever needs is a crashing population, second to last is one that is growing too slowly.

China went too far with that s-t-u-p-i-d One Child Policy. WAY too far, and it lasted much longer than it should have. A little was great, a moderate amount was better, too much was pure poison. It's clear now.

It's pretty obvious, to the Chinese themselves, that they better reverse course, very hard, and go pro-birth and pro-family big time, for the foreseeable decades. Countries' birth rates decrease as they get richer. That's been known for a long time.

The Chinese were too single-minded to see that coming, so they put their foot on the gas, and really screwed up their healthy population increase.

It seemed that things were going fine in Japan and Europe (to include Germany) as their populations stagnated in the '90s. Now, it's biting them all in their asses – not enough consumers, producers and taxpayers. Pathetic growth, in comparison (until recently) with the U.S.

But, we'll be joining them there shortly. America's "solution" is to open our floodgates, letting in colossal numbers of the unskilled and untrainable, plus money printing. Not "racial" btw, we should not let uneducated Europeans in any more than uneducated non-Euros.

The commenters here should stop focusing on the next 10 years. That is nothing especially to China. Look ahead 20 years, and China will be in real trouble.

If China had wanted to be hegemon, it would have destroyed India after winning so decisively in 1962. The Indians had certainly deserved a drubbing, as they started the war (see Nehru's Forward Policy of slowly grabbing Chinese territory). After losing, India was defenseless. China may not have been able to subjugate the entire subcontinent but could have wreaked enormous devastation on it: for example, only a few kilometers away from the front line was New Delhi. China withdrew though, which proves that the Middle Kingdom didn't have hegemonic ambitions.

India, I am certain, can take care of itself and it isn't my concern but I will tell you this ...

India had been subjugated for 250 years and had just gotten its independence from Britain and had gone through Partition which was brutal at best. From 1947 to 1962 isn't enough time to build up a military force that could have fought Mao's battle tested army and he knew it along with Nehru's own desire to be well liked by him. Mao and China knowing full well weaknesses of the newly independent but poor India took advantage of it and yes, India lost territory as well as face.

We're in 2023 and times have changed. If you think you can defeat India you are welcome to try it. It's my personal belief that this time it'll be China who will tuck its yellow tail between its chow-chow arse and run back to Peking. I think you would need to defeat India before tangling with US because you'll be brutalized.

P. S. Eventhough I am not an Indian, I am battling twenty of you yellow rats alone ...

By the same author, English edition:

<https://www.goodreads.com/book/show/53127602-the-capitalists-of-the-21st-century>

Ruegemer presents a typology of the new financial players who became dominant since the deregulation and the last financial crisis. Large capital organizers, private equity funds, hedgefunds, venture capital investors and private investment banks became much more influential as the traditional banks. These new financial players organize worldwide selling, buying and restructuring banks, companies and public enterprises. They exercise no responsibility against the national economic situation. Influencing governments and international financial institutions they lower the labour incomes and increase the part of private gains, also by using financial havens. They act in collaboration with law firms, rating and PR agencies, management consultants, chartered accountants and central banks.

The author outlines the relations between the European Union and the USA concerning transatlantic capital, military and secret service interlocking and the open also as the latent conflicts.

The book shows also the other way of capitalism under state directory in the People's Republic of China: How the imported capitalism from the USA, Japan, Taiwan and western Europe is in the process of transformation. So the incomes of all classes and also especially the labour incomes are continually rising. China is shown with his alternative way of globalisation which is not accompanied by military expansion.

Finally the book asks about the way of the human society if it follows the international law of the UNO and the human rights including social and labour rights.

Conquering New Delhi and then ruling it would have been difficult but I wasn't talking about that. Destroying the capital city (as punishment to India for igniting the 1962 war) would have been much easier.

As for supply issues, China could have seized a port and shipped in massive quantities of men and matériel. Again, China would not have needed to conquer the subcontinent; simply destroying key parts of it would have been adequate if China had wanted to dominate.

China didn't do any of that; instead, it withdrew. Which proves that it had no intention of becoming the hegemon.

As tech advances, use of robots in factories, agriculture etc, the need for human hands to make things will decrease. Humans will continue to be needed to maintain and monitor those machines. It seems that the most important factor influencing the ideal population of any country is the amount of arable land it has which is fixed.

I wonder what is the ideal population of China.? 800 Million?

A rack of articles from Business Insider tells me there is, and people who live there tell me there is, so there obviously is SOMETHING of the sort going on.

And why a problem if there is? The Eisenhower years in the USA had a social credit system, however informal. Getting drunk in public back then was grounds for being thrown out of an Episcopal Church as a foolish old neighbor of mine found out the hard way. And there was general agreement that the church was quite right in doing it AND MAKING IT PUBLIC KNOWLEDGE.

It was a better country for all that. So this is not judgemental in any way.

I really doubt it. Back to England—they were clever. They enlisted the Punjab Sikhs into the military and asked they do one major work project —go to the rest of India and fight the Hindi leaders who wanted Britain out of India.

Therefore – the terrorists now residing in Surrey BC Canada have had a long history of terrorism –justified terrorism —just like NATO not expanding one inch eastward but suddenly bio labs pop up in Ukraine and a color revolution.

Jagmeet Singh KNOWS Canada is a safe ground to put together the necessary plan to split Punjab from India and call it Khalistan —not Palestine.

“Gunga Din —not a fighter —simply a good old grinning and grunting—Ganga Din —”

Remember, Gunga Din was the better man per the script.

Having had a moment of hilarity, it seems to me you’re diverting from the issue of China and India. Perhaps I can enlighten you a bit ...

Does the Jew fight his own war unless he has to in case of the 1967 or 1973 wars? No! He does not and lets the gullible goyim fight for him. I believe Indian mindset is the same in the sense that as long as the Sikhs and Gurkhas are willing to fight and die for pay then let them but when the push comes to shove they will fight for every inch of the Indian territory. And Pakistan is also aware that if India gave up any of its land to crazy turbans then they would also be under pressure to give up a large part of Muslim Punjab because that’s where some of the holy places of Sikhism are located, including a place called Gurudaspur. Between India and Pakistan, the Sikhs aren’t going to get shit no matter how much they jump up and down like monkeys at the command of their new master, the faggot son of crazy Margaret Sinclair (the bitch had to be nuts to marry that old foggy, Pierre... just as bad as Miss South Carolina, Nancy Moore marrying 61 year old Strom Thurmond when she was ripe at 21), the crybaby Justin, the blackface. It’s like a few nutty Chicanos demanding repatriation of the Southwest US to Mexico ... are we going to give it up even if China was supporting them with arms, materials, money and intelligence? I do not think so!

I thought you’re smarter than that JR!

It seems that the most important factor influencing the ideal population of any country is the amount of arable land it has which is fixed

Arable land, fresh water, sunlight – sure, all fixed.

But food supply is not fixed, neither is fresh water. Technology continues to advance; in fact, it's accelerating.

What is the food potential of a pre-agricultural society? That of one which plants and harvests, but with hand tools? One with pre-mechanized food production? One with mechanized food production but no space/drone monitoring of crops? It's all a balance.

Population control has helped China. Population crash will harm it.

China agrees; now all couples can have as many kids as they want. But there will be a cratering in China's numbers for some time.

Even the Most Repressive Regime Can't Stamp Out Independent Thought

By Ian Johnson – Mr. Johnson is a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist who spent two decades in China.

Sept. 21, 2023

In 1959, a group of university students in the northwestern Chinese city of Tianshui embarked on a quixotic plan. China was in the midst of the Great Famine, a catastrophe caused by government policies that would kill as many as 45 million. These young people had witnessed farmers starving to death and cannibalism; they also saw how the government had brutally punished or killed people who appealed for help. They felt someone needed to do something to spread word of what was happening. They decided to publish a journal.

The students called it Spark, after a Chinese expression, “xinghuo liaoyuan,” or “a single spark can start a prairie fire.” They hand-wrote the essays onto plates and, with the help of local officials, used a mimeograph machine to run off copies.

At just eight pages, and with no photos or graphics, Spark looked primitive. But it was filled with articles that got to the heart of China's authoritarian politics — then and now: Farmers weren't allowed to own property, all of which belonged to the state; top leaders brooked no opposition; corruption was endemic; and even critics loyal to the regime were persecuted. The lead article on the first page set the tone:

“Why did the once progressive Communist Party become so corrupt and reactionary less than ten years after coming to power, with complaints and rebellions at home, and falling into an embarrassing situation abroad? This is because the people's world is regarded as its private property, and all matters are managed by party members.”

There would be no second issue. Within months, 43 people associated with the magazine were arrested. Three were later executed, and the rest were sentenced to years in labor camps.

You probably underestimate how fast shipping could be. Today, at least one company can ship from Hong Kong to Mumbai in under 17 days (link). That's for commercial cargo; military ships can presumably go faster. As we're talking about 1962, let's say three weeks from China to India.

So China could definitely have continued the war in India, regardless of the state of the supply lines over land.

Destroying India, a potential rival, would have been excellent strategically if China had wanted to be dominant. But China withdrew, which proves that it had no intention of becoming the hegemon.

Here's a general rule I like to follow: if ZOG MSM and politicians seem to be uniformly pushing an idea, then it's usually subversive as all hell to the goal of securing a homeland Whites can call our own. Their current incessant screeching centers around peddling a supposed dire need to start WWIII with China, coupled with this idea that curry munchers shall be the salvation of the White race.

Hence we've nonstop loosened immigration restrictions on these turdkins, push them in positions of power, and hand over high skilled jobs, all while we march into a conflict that is guaranteed to permanently cripple any remaining strength the White race has to secure a nation for itself. You're either a mouth breathing cretin without two brain cells to rub together, or you're a Jew/curry muncher.

War with China is coming whether you like it or not. It's not all Jews (yes, they're powerful but not that much) but the old line Christian White Anglo-Saxon elite as well (they've got certain dislike of the Chinese and the Indians) but you being most likely a lower class white (I hate the pejorative term white-trash) and not going anywhere, anytime soon, economically speaking, would not understand and shows his ignorance by describing brown skinned Indians as you do. I personally do not care for Indians but I do care that China remains a second class power vis a vis US and using Indians to achieve that goal seems like the right thing to do and notwithstanding your tirade without substance about getting homeland for the lower classes (my class certainly do not want to live in trailers with the likes of you, white skin or no white skin). So, take a pill and go to sleep because there's no future for you in the resurgent Trump America.

Similarly, on July 28, 1984, Ajaib Singh Bagri, a leader in the Khalistani militant group, Babbar Khalsa International (BKI), declared at a public rally in Canada that “I give you my most solemn assurance that until we kill 50,000 Hindus, we will not rest!” The crowd of thousands of pro-Khalistan supporters responded with chants of “Hindu dogs! Death to them!”

BKI, along with International Sikh Youth Federation, were later designated as Specially Designated Global Terrorist (SDGT) organizations by the US Department of State under section 1(b) of Executive Order (E.O.) 13224.

Maggie Sinclair who married Pierre Eliot Trudeau was a Vancouver hippie-dippie who had affairs with Mick Jagger in the Big Apple and had a fling with Cobra Singh of All Star Professional Wrestling -the real father of Justin Trudeau.

Cobra Singh was misclassified as " the Hindu from India" and this faux pas by announcer Ron Morrier led to the issue that many Punjabi entered Canada as being Indians and Ottawa got mixed up and thought these Indians were those Indians who had earlier left Canada to see the world but were now returning.

Now –Justin true to form is supporting the Separation of Punjab from India and this new state Khalistan will invite Justin Trudeau to arrive and sit as an honorable member in the Senate.

India assassinated the Punjab terrorist —Justin read it in the National Lampoon.

Agreed. Any sudden population change would be difficult to adapt to.

In the longer term future, say 100 years from now, it is probable that there will be general population decline. If China succeeds in what she is setting out to do....to prosper the world, then a prosperous world would naturally have a lower birth rate.

My hunch is that in 200 years, we as the human race, will no longer be so concerned about how we feed ourselves, but how to responsibly return the earth to the creatures that live on it.

In a way, we will be like an adult, leaving his nursery where he grew up, and readying it for the next race of beings to be nurtured here.

Of course, that is if we don't vaporise ourselves first.

“Destroying India, a potential rival, would have been excellent strategically if China had wanted to be dominant.”

How do you destroy hundreds of millions of people in those days when China didn't have nuclear weapons? It's all fantasy! Had you been successful, though highly doubtful, to cross the Himalayas, you would have been brutalized in the hot plains of Northern India, let alone going into the heartland and the South. The problem with the chinks is that they have only fought each other (it's like watching two faggots fighting) and not outsiders (if you recall how Vietnam kicked your arse) but when that time comes even your lord Tao won't be able to save you. My advice is to keep your aggression to yourself and keep acting as the factory for the world and try not to temp the powers more stronger than you, lest you find the Middle Kingdom destroyed.

YOU: How do you destroy hundreds of millions of people in those days when China didn't have nuclear weapons? It's all fantasy!

ME: China detonated its first nuclear weapon on October 16, 1964, less than two years after the Sino-India War which began on Oct 20, 1962 and ended on Nov 21, 1962.

Thanks for honesty! You proved my point for me. Yes, Chinese army in 1962 was superior but to destroy a colossus like India would take more than what you had. And today, both are capable of destroying each other, therefore, a truce, albeit tentative, exists between the two giants ... only the US is capable of destroying both of you in one go.

I don't believe you are white. Your comments are posted under anonymous handles which means you're either posting from different devices or it's more than one party involved in attacks. I think it's the latter. The article is about a possible war with China but your digression is towards India which tells me a trolling is involved. I have read many of comments by Aleatorious and he has so often attacked Jews and Israel that it isn't funny and also he has defended White Christians more frequently than I can count which leads me to believe he is not Indian but American. Now why he defends India so vehemently, I can't answer. Perhaps, he is married to an Indian or he is one of those hippies who just loves India like Beatles and hates China for taking over Tibet and barring the Dalai Lama from reentering it. But whatever he or she is, I am pretty certain that you're pretending to be a white person and that is absolutely a no, no.

Why do you bother with Chinese trolls? Don't you know they're trying to bait you? It's their modus operandi to attack anyone against China by taking turns? They're like automatons in that they don't have differing opinions and as if they all take marching orders from the same entity. Don't waste your time with them for nothing they've to say is very meaningful. It's like you are fighting against an army of demons.

My reply was to intended to clarify your claim that China did not possess nuclear weapons at the time of the Sino-Indian War in 1962. But China did come to possess nuclear weapons less than two years later. Besides nuclear weapons, China had also developed ballistic missiles which could reach New Delhi in a few minutes from Tibet. And therein lies the strategic dilemma that India faces vis-a-vis Tibet which the Indian elites since Nehru have tried to destabilize against China. While Tibet is sparsely populated, New Delhi and its environs are densely populated making them vulnerable to missile attacks from Tibet. India could attack Tibet but that would not have much of an impact on China proper while the opposite is the case for Chinese attacks on New Delhi and its delibitating impact on India.

Of course, you’re odorous curry muncher but of the yellow kind with slanty eyes and a pussy to match. It is funny how quickly you devolved from wanting to be a wasp (you ain’t no WASP) to be a shitskin (whatever that means) but you remain a yellow skinned rat. You are uncouth like the rest of your kind. The big difference between you and the curry munchers is that what you eat is filth and yet you have the gall to turn your noses up to curry (it must be difficult with flat schnauzer), a favorite of the British (you don’t see whites embracing dogs and cats in their diet, now do you?). Behind those coke bottle glasses you’re a weak yet very grotesque people (too bad you didn’t learn a thing from the superior Japanese) and time doesn’t favor you. Attacks from the yellow rat brigade even to a mildest criticism is a clear indication that you feel threatened but perhaps rightfully so because the big daddy is getting ready to tear up your hindside. So grease up boys and enjoy the rough ride!

Anyhow, since you're a clear curry munching larper who needs some major English lessons, I suggest reading some books. If your degenerated brain can handle it, I recommend "The Camp of the Saints," by Jean Raspail. Absolute masterpiece that any person from the West should be acquainted with.

The fertility rate for Chinese ethnic females in Singapore is already under 1 and Shanghai will be the same, with the rest of China following down that road. It's a mix of Asian Princess Syndrome, working and career women, shortages of Mr Rights (too many Mr Wongs:), high housing costs, small apartments, lack of spaces for privacy to indulge in lovemaking, and many other factors. Japan and South Korea are already there. Not sure what will stop or reverse this trend. In the West the birthrate is propped up by low class slutty types having babies by multiple partners and raising them on welfare with the leftist governments cheering it on. Free or subsidized housing plus free money. What a deal.

That doesn't happen in Asia. There are no free roast ducks in China.

Add in the mother in law conundrum. Traditionally Asian women were expected to move in with their husband's parents and start doing housework, all the time being criticized by the mother in law who thinks the wife is not really good enough for her wonderful son.

It's always the human factor.

“Anyhow, since you’re a clear curry munching larper who needs some major English lessons, I suggest reading some books.”

Thanks for the advice but I am following Late Harold Bloom (a Jew), professor of English Literature at Yale University and his list of the Western Canon. I have gone through a few hundred books and God willing, I will read the rest of the list before kicking the bucket. But before I go, I will post a quote just for you, for I think it’s very apropos to you:

Philip Sidney, 1554 – 1586, The Countess of Pembroke’s Arcadia, Book I ...

“Shallow brookes murmure most...”

But since I am so grateful to your generosity, I feel compelled to cite one more quote by ...

Thomas More, 1478 – 1535, Utopia

“For if you suffer your people to be ill educated, and their manners to be corrupted from their infancy, and then punish them for those crimes to which their first education disposed them, what else is to be concluded from this, but that you first make thieves and then punish them?”

Somehow, I think those great English men had you in their mind, the lost yellow sheep.

Not yet.....if they ever feel the need to anyway.

There will come a time when the likes of Elon Musk would rather pick up a Chinese passport than an American one.

But even if they don't which to allow immigration, they could quite easily reverse the effects of the One Child Policy if they ever say the need to do so.

Imagine them declare that "it is now the patriotic duty of every fertile couple to produce one more child. All costs related to the extra child will be borne by the state including childcare, education, health etc. In addition, the parents and grandparents will receive a generous yearly gratuity for life".

Can the Chinese feed themselves without the help from Brazil, Canada and US?

Unlike the chinks, the Indians don't mind the world knowing whenever a rape occurs you simply hide it ... is it because as a godless race you are amoral?

I have eaten both Indian as well as Chinese foods and it's like dung, bovine and swine respectively.

As to the Indians wiping their asses with water and hand, all one can say is that at least they do clean it but the Chinese are devoid of any good hygienic practices altogether.

Please let me observe that as the number one and two countries in terms of the overbred populations both India and China are menace to the world and unless they reduce their numbers voluntarily, we'll have to do something about it.

Of course, in the end we may not have to punish them as it seems they're heading in that direction all by themselves without any outside interference with their 150 and 350 nuclear weapons. India with its smaller stockpile will be completely destroyed but China will also be decimated. So in the end it's your asses, clean or unclean that will be "wiped" out.

And one more thing: that 2019 study was conducted before Trump's China travel ban which would have drastically reduced the number of illegal immigrants from China due to Covid restrictions during the years 2020 to 2023. By contrast, the number of illegal immigrants from Latin America should have increased significantly due to the open borders policy of the Biden Administration since 2020. Note that four of the top five countries of origin are in Latin America with India as the only Asian country. With the mass hiring of Indian H1-Bs during the Covid pandemic and mass firing afterwards, many of them could have overstayed their H1-B visas, which would have increased the number of illegal immigrants from India as well during the last three years.

FYI.

The China friendly US administrations have been fudging the Unauthorized Population numbers for a long time. The eleven million figure has been bandied about since the the early 80s. The more likely number is closer to thirty million. During that time, many Chinese have snuck into the country (even Coney Island wasn't spared) to add to a much higher Chinese population already existent in the country. The number of Indians and Chinese is lopsided but given the prejudice against both, the Chinese have fared much better but that perception is changing fast due to perceived or real harm or contributions made by each group. Only time will tell (assuming illegal immigration is stopped) how many of whom have come in. So let's wait before throwing out fake numbers by biased organizations.

The pissing contest between one Aleatorius (a possible dothead of long US residence though his posts regarding matters pertaining to US problems all point to someone who favors the White Christians over Jews and Blacks) and numerous Chinese commentators, be they in the US or China is way too HILARIOUS, whereas, other Indians like Malla who is too cut and dried, almost lacking in humor and data driven, mostly other sources, there's one Mehool Bhai who is so India-centric that is funny and not so funny at the same time and then there's R J McCready who is totally against India but he also favors the White Christians like Aleatorius. I am getting kick out of these inconsequential threads and though I have no dog in the race, I must go with the underdog. Let the best breed win!

@Aleatorius

I disagree as the number of illegal immigrants from China should have fallen due to three factors:

- 1). The spectacular rise in China's GDP per capita over the last thirty years which would have induced a reverse migration back to China;
- 2). The dramatic rise in illegal immigrants from Mexico and Latin America which would have deterred Chinese workers from competing for the same service jobs in the USA;
- 3). The rapid increase in Indian techies on H1-Bs which would have the effect of squeezing out Chinese techies on H1-Bs, forcing the latter to return to China.

If anything, I think the numbers for China are inaccurate as US immigration do not track the return rate of illegal immigrants which is quite high for China. As an example, the return rate of Chinese students has reached 90 percent by 2020 whereas it used to be 10 percent during the 1990s and 2000s. Unless they have family or relatives already in the USA, there is no reason — social or economic — for them to overstay in the USA.

Chinese tourists likewise join tour groups to visit the USA which makes it impossible for them to overstay in the USA. And given the Covid restrictions over the last three years, the number of Chinese students, tourists or workers in the USA would have declined drastically.

Here's more facts and figures:

No number of H1-B visas holders, legal or the ones who may have overstayed, would be comparable to the number of all illegal Chinese citizens. You are comparing apples to oranges.

Personally, I would like to see ALL illegal aliens deported back to their respective home countries from these United States.

You sound pretty stupid since the US was founded by people who fled Europe. Here is a fact. Citizens of the US and the PRC live outside the country at about the same percentage. Another fact is FAR higher percentage of whites live outside of Europe than Chinese left China in the past 400 years. So your assertions are as stupid as your complaints about neighboring empires who used to try to invade Han Chinese territory and got absorbed in the end. You never have anything of substance to say but troll trying to stir the pot. In person I'm sure you are a coward anyway slight correction to an otherwise fair comment... It was under Abe that Japan started acting tough. They nationalized the Diayou islands when they agreed with China in the 70's to not do so. And they know deep down that island was taken from China when they took Taiwan in the 1800's. The US refused to give it back to China after WW2 (in spite of the Potsdam and Cairo Declarations) in order to start problems. The ROC government on Taiwan also protested the U.S. action. The US had NEVER been a friend of China.

The Paracel and Spratly islands were claimed by the Republic of China on Taiwan and Japan renounced claims in the Treaty of Taipei. It is only because Beijing won the civil war it is even a debate now. Fact is Obama and his pivot to Asia is what made Beijing start to get serious about fortifying the claims

Don't forget legal immigrants too, Poojeet! Listen, I empathize. You wanted to get out of a third world shithole run by subhuman curry munchers. But have you ever considered that we, too, wouldn't enjoy being around a bunch of odorous shitskins?

It'll be a good thing for you as well. I think a lot of your anger stems from the fact that each and every day you're confronted by how subhuman you are when seeing everyday Westerners. You wouldn't be faced with such a depressing reality if you were to just go back.

When I got out of high school, my number came up to go to Vietnam but luckily the Paris Agreement was in the offing and it finally put an end to the war.

The reason I brought up the past is because since that time the White Christian lower class, like yourself, is getting dumber and dumber putting strain on the productive economy and I am tired of paying for the welfare bitches like you. You’re the reason Brandon is in the office and the two-bit Chinese are on their way to economic if not military parity. So listen to me you little wannabe cunt: get off the couch and go do some hard fucking work and stop wasting my tax dollars. And if you have Indian poop fetish then get someone to poop on you till you are in an orgasmic Valhalla.

But if you are a yellow fellow pretending to be white trash then ignore the post and go back to posting the link showing how Indians defecate in public places... I will understand your psychosis.

Do you know the difference between Antipathy, Sympathy and Empathy? Or even Apathy? I didn't think so! But since you're the punk who prides on his prowess of language and likes to recommend insignificant books, here is a quote just for you from the English poet John Dunnes from his Devotions Upon Emergent Occasions, XVII.

Now, this bell tolling softly far another, says to me: Thou must die. Meditation:

“No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main. If a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontory were, as well as if a manor of thy friend's or of thine own were: any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind, and therefore never send to know for whom the bells tolls; it tolls for thee.”

Modi's India is promoting the export of Indian techies to the USA with H1-B visas:

Watch Video At: <https://youtu.be/yTpS8illKqk>

Even Canada is now allowing Indian H1-Bs to work there:

Watch Video At: <https://youtu.be/Kvn8ZByVqr8>

In 2022, Indians accounted for 72.6 percent of the total 441, 502 H1-Bs issued that year, not counting their spouses and children who could qualify for family visas. That's 320, 791 H1-Bs issued to Indians in 2022 alone. If we include their spouses or children, then Indian H1-Bs and their families should easily exceed half-a-million every single year. How many of them will stay permanently in the USA? Legally, they could easily apply for 'Green Cards' and legally stay as immigrants. Otherwise, they would have to overstay and become illegal immigrants in the USA.

How many H1-Bs were issued to Chinese nationals in 2022? 55,038. That's 12.5 percent of the total H1-Bs issued in 2022.

In other words, the number of H1-Bs from India is almost six times those from China.

Here's the link:

https://m.timesofindia.com/nri/us-canada-news/with-3-20-lakh-h-1b-visas-bagged-in-fy-2022-indians-continue-to-top-the-charts/amp_articleshow/100772292.cms

The so-called Chinese food abroad is not really Chinese food.

It's just made to cater to the low-end tastes of foreigners.

Also, Chinese food itself is divided into many different factions, and to hate eating Chinese food without saying which faction

you hate shows that you have neither knowledge nor attempt to understand the culture.

My suggestion is that you should consider going back to elementary school to help increase your credentials.

Those young Chinese you see who don't respect their elders are the ones who have become Americanized. In China – respect for elders still exists very much (and the diaspora in South East Asia). Maybe not as much as the past when families were larger – but they still exist.

And yeah there are plenty of idiot Chinese parents in the west that don't teach their children to learn to defend themselves like generations ago. But again that is often why they are in the west in the first place.

I don't think that guy is Indian at all. His writing style doesn't seem so. Plus based on his details about brothels in South Brooklyn and riding the subway – he must live (or lived in NY). His sole purpose is only to stir up hatred between Indians and Chinese. He plays psychological games. My guess is maybe he is a long time New Yorker who grew up in South Brooklyn and resents the fact that Chinese migrants have been buying up houses in businesses in the former white neighborhoods like Bensonhurst and Bay Ridge. Chinese you know are not “supposed to be able” to succeed and buy those houses and businesses. He probably took up Yoga and fell in love and then studied Indian culture and since they are less of a “threat” found it ok to love them. His love of Yoga probably made him study Indian religion further and so now he identifies with Indian culture. I have seen that with those who love Japanese anime and start to study Japan. They become more pro Japan than Japanese. Granted there are many who study Chinese king fu or Caligraphy or porcelain and learn Chinese culture and become pro China.

Either that or just a plain sock puppet trying to stir hatred between the two largest Asian people.

You're one angry slave. Your ancestors were slave to vodka and usury back in the day and you're yet slave again in America to Jews. You're a perfect Slav ... don't change a thing about yourself ... just wallow in the mud of self pity ... but you do have one saving grace and that's belief in Christ Jesus which will make you free from slavery in the next world. Best of luck!

That really hurts Mulga, especially, coming from a thoughtful person like you. I don't hate China, I am against trolls in dozens ganging up on one. But you are not like the rest, so I am disappointed and will try not to hurt your sensibilities. But back to the headline about a possible war between America and China, I say it is increasingly inevitable simply because the western elite won't give their control of the world so easily and you'll have to fight them for it. China could have ruled the world with help of India but they chose confrontation over sharing Tibet (not because that barren land has anything but austere Buddhism and the headwaters of all rivers of Asia) so now India has no choice but to align with forces it's truly not comfortable. Poverty aside, both are boondoggles and 20 percent (China may a bit higher) of the populations are worth if anything but the die has been cast and future must take its course notwithstanding our opinions. Good luck to you!

It's not just that they won't offer a seat to an elderly person of their own race in crowded trains, and they're increasingly so due to the busing of migrants from Texas, but they do not bother to offer assistance to an old woman if she is trying to get upstairs given that there is paucity of elevators throughout the subways due to old infrastructure. I should like to think that they should show respect for their elders, even if they are not close relatives. Sometimes American ways can lead people astray.

Hey Crusty Precum, so I've actually been reflecting on your earlier, wisdom-filled comment concerning the meaning of empathy. It weighed on me heavily, and I now feel compelled to say that I really regret everything. It is indeed true that we must pass through the darkness to reach the light. I realize now, that in my arrogance, I had a completely warped view of what it meant to be empathetic, whilst fool-heartedly assuming that I embodied it.

To you and @Aleatorius, my brothers from another stage of hominid evolution, I offer my deepest apologies. I reflected and realized just how hard life must be for Satan worshipping turd eaters, erm... I mean, dignified Hindoo adherents of "Sanatana Dharma."

And I'm especially sorry for making fun of curry, which really seemed to upset Aleatorius. I opened my ears to the lips of wisdom, and discovered that curry was actually an ingenious shitskin invention from 2600 B.C. that saved the country from a devastating famine caused by shitskins breeding too quickly for cow poo production to keep pace with. It was made to very closely imitate the color, texture, smell and taste of genuine cow poo. A sort of "Beyond Poo" counterpart to our modern day "Beyond Meat," only thousands of years ago! Truly, the hominids of India are remarkable.

Indian civilization is indeed wise, so I want to close this off with a profound Indian maxim I discovered, once uttered by a famous poo:

"Bumba dalli hababa charniggar dhadra dilly mollabolla"

– Pradeep Turdeater, 10,000 B.C.

Let's hug it out, frens

You have a point. I was not sure and was feeling him out. He has knowledge of things Indian that ordinary Yanks don't, so there is certainly some connection with India. He did say that he is a old hippie and that is why he has some inclination towards them.

One thing is certain. The majority of his posts are in the China threads. He either finds it amusing to troll, or has genuine misgivings about China. My strong hunch is the latter.

Deep down inside there is an anxiety about the decline of his country. Add to that the Pavlov Bell used by his MSM, and he now reflexively focuses his hate on China.

He never does ask himself the obvious question: "The sources that lie to me all the time about the economy, race relations, government policy etc.....should I also believe them when they tell me that China is evil?"

Frankly I do not believe anything useful can be gained from engaging him. His replies will be nothing but trite dismissals and obfuscations. We will just have to let him live a few more years and let his own eyes show him reality.

I don't know if he can tell the difference between a Chinese and all the other slanty eyed yellow ant people.

At home in my travels, I have noticed some nationalities will offer seats readily to the elderly on the subways/buses. These are:

South Indians

Burmese

These I have noticed will never offer seats:

Vietnamese

Filipinos

Indonesians

Japanese (This surprises me. Next time you are in Japan, see if your observations are in line with mine)

I just came back from a trip to Japan. One person in my party was a 77 year old gentleman with a full head of white hair and a little frail. The Japanese studiously ignored him and not once did they offer a seat. Fortunately we were able to find him a seat somewhere in the subway car most of the time.

Japanese are consistently courteous all the time, so their reluctance to offer a seat to an elderly person rather surprised me. Perhaps this is due to the Japanese quirk of not wanting to stand out.

The one time anyone gave a seat to his elderly gentleman was when a white couple were occupying red Priority Seats and played with their phones while my friend stood in front of them. Only when I asked them to let him sit did they "realise" that he was there, and gave up a priority seat for him.

Ah those massage girls.

Every time I want a fleeting ego boost, I walk down the local “naughty street”, there is the best Vietnamese food there. Over there the Vietnamese girls will open with “按摩吗, 帅哥?” literally meaning “A massage, handsome?”. It is just their way of flirting to get custom. They use the same line on every man, no matter how ugly he is.

I suppose in the US it gets translated into “Hey you are so handsome.....it makes me want to give you a massage”. But it is quite sad if men take it literally, and think that the massage girls actually consider them good looking.

I don't think Filipinos even charge for sex with White men. They're known to sleep with White men as long as they get impregnated in order to sire half-White mestizo kids which gives them a high social status back in the Philippines. Even the Filipino maids in HK and Singapore are known to moonlight as part-time girlfriends in sleazy expat bars during their days off. And that's why White men from Western countries flock to the Philippines to seek mail-order brides.

That is not in the New Testament but in the Tanakh, the Bible of the Jew. Christ Jesus preaches nothing but love. You're confusing the Old “angry” Testament with the one about the Nazarene. It's understandable given that you're most likely an atheist or a Buddhist, Mister Wing.

Well actually it was in a Psalm. It didn't say to actually do that. The people were under Babylonian rule at the time. The writer was saying the next empire that came and overturned them would be happy to smash the children against stones. As in they in their might and power would do the same thing the Babylonians had done. Context is important.

The power of Christianity lies in the flexibility of it's core teaching. You can find some passages in it to justify anything. The fact that the two Testaments contradict each other in spirit is just ignored.

When you accept $p \cdot \sim p$ without encountering cognitive dissonance you are capable of anything, like smashing babies on rocks.

If you want to share Tibet with us, why not share all of India with us?

Legally speaking, the Indians were conquered by the Mongols who are now part of us and established the Mughal dynasty, so the whole of India should belong to us.

But we don't have to do the kind of things that low-IQ babies like you do.

We don't even bother to encroach on land in a rubbish country like India.

The territory of Tibet has always belonged to us and will always belong to us, and if you try to occupy what you do not want, you will not end well.

Wake up, ignorant and shallow Indians.

We are not trying to conquer your territory, and we can even set aside our disputes for the sake of peace, but the foundation headed by the Jewish Soros is driving peasant protests in your territory. Trying to tear your country apart and rob you of your wealth.

So what are you waiting for? Conquer India now before those crazy Hindus bitch slap you and snatch Tibet away from you. And you must know Muslims are itching to take back East Turkmenistan. Going forward you will many enemies, if not the whole world save Solomon Islands, and that would not pretty. And don't count on Russia because deep down they know you can't be trusted. First of all, Mongols are of mixed descent with us, and we can claim to be the legitimate heirs of Genghis Khan and the Golden Horde.

But in the history of China, there has never been a country with an absolute religious character.

We would try to exterminate all religions in the world if we could. Religion itself is foolish, used to fool those who cannot understand the truth of the world.

For example, the so-called Mahatma Gandhi was nothing more than a spokesman supported by the British, the purpose of existence is to disrupt your right to oppose the British armed action.

In fact, you should thank CPC, if it wasn't for them, Chinese would be worse than fascists. Just like keeping a pet, if you dare to harm one of us, we will use your city for a blood sacrifice.

Domination of the entire world is our ultimate goal, which is what the name Sino itself means, and we are destined to be the Kings of the world.

With the US military bases set to return to the Philippines after a three decade absence, the number of GI brides from the Philippines is expected to explode as Filipino sex workers impregnated by horny GIs sire half-White mestizo children who would be entitled to child support from their GI fathers if their Filipino mothers move to the USA and eventually divorce their GI husbands. This GI bride phenomenon happened in the past when the Philippines hosted the largest U.S. military bases in Asia until the 1990s when South Korea took the top sexpot after the U.S. military bases got kicked out of the Philippines. Now it's the Philippines which would enjoy the dubious distinction of becoming the top sexpot for US military personnel in Asia after the return of U.S. military bases to the Philippines.

The economic value-added of Chinese factories to iPhones assembled in China is quite small, around 5 percent, with the rest of the cost going to materials and components. So iPhones being assembled in India would not necessarily affect the Chinese economy that much as seen in the case of Samsung's decision to relocate its smartphone manufacturing facilities from China to Vietnam. Chinese tech companies have been moving away from those labor-intensive assembly-type manufacturing industries about a decade ago as industrial automation became the norm for Chinese factories. What matters is the technology and the marketing behind smartphones such as the iPhone whose IP is owned by Apple which derives 50 percent profit margins from its IP such as its iOS software, Axx SoC, AppStore, Apple branded accessories, Apple Stores, etc. But Chinese companies such as Huawei have come up with their own IP such as its HarmonyOS software, Kirin SoC, Huawei-branded ecosystems in wireless broadband, autonomous vehicles, smart appliances, cloud computing, etc.

While it is well-known that the Western MSM panders to White racism by scapegoating China, that poster must be suffering from the symptoms of a deep-seated anxiety bordering on psychosis as he continues to imagine events which don't exist. For example, he claimed that the massive hordes of illegal migrants now crowding the streets of NYC must be from 'Communist' China which I rebutted with facts and figures from US immigration. And yet he kept on denying the stark reality staring in his face while dismissing US immigration data as 'concocted' by the US government. Worse, he goes out of his way to defend 'dot' Indians who are now being actively recruited by the US ruling class to replace White Americans like him in positions of power in the USA including possibly even the next GOP Presidential nominee. Unless he works for the US Deep State, what's his motive for kissing Indian ass in a public forum like UNZ while claiming to be a White Nationalist?

who knows? Some people just “loooove” what they advocate for. Like this animal expert who rapes puppies:

<https://www.freepressjournal.in/world/popular-british-zoologist-adam-britton-makes-shocking-admission-says-raped-tortured-killed-dozens-of-dogs>

But seriously tho. I have noticed something about the guy. With commenters that are more forceful with him, he avoids, and is almost meek before them. With other commenters who patiently try to reason with him, he continues to taunt and troll them.

I don't know if that is a cultural thing, or particular to his personality. But that is something I have noticed that is quite pronounced with in Indian society....If they can dominate you, they will.

Quite a contrast with E Asian culture where people are expected to know their own limits, and not infringe on others.

Didn't the Chinese build the Great Wall to keep out the Mongol Horde? The world is under the impression that the ethnic Han and the Mongols had an adversarial position vis a vis territorial claims. Unless it's different with the Chinese, wherever the Mongols had conquered they raped and pillaged the local populations and if it wasn't any different in China then I would not take credit to be the heirs of those rapists murderers. You ought to have more sense than that. For whatever it's worth, the Chinese are much smarter than the Mongols.

Those crazy Hindus will never choose the West and if anything, they would have chosen your kind but they are leary of your global ambition and thus take non friendly posture with China. Indian mindset doesn't forget that easily any wrong done to them, be it colonial British or the Muslims. I should know because I travel to India often enough for yoga sessions. For some odd reason, the Indians (Hindus) have turned against Chinese in the last few years (their elite are egging them on or it could be the media or both) which was not the case before. Yes, they were always worried that China and Pakistan would attack them together but they did not actually hate the Chinese, whereas, they have had hatred of Pakis since day one. Lastly, it's China that had hitched its wagon to the West, in spite of the opium humiliation and now it's time to pay the proverbial piper and I'm afraid it won't be a pretty picture ... I guess the Tricky Dick (Richard Nixon) and his portly sidekick, Henry “The Jew” Kissinger did trap China in.

Racially, the Mongols are of the same East Asian Mongoloid stock as the Han Chinese. Same with the original Turkic tribes which conquered and settled much of Eurasia. The Northern Chinese are in fact the descendants of Han, Mongol, Turkic, Manchu and other tribes in the same way that the Southern Chinese are the descendants of Han, Yue, Min and other tribes. The Hui Muslims are the mixed race descendants of Han, Iranics, Aryans, Arabs and other Muslims from Central and West Asia.

Be that as it may, the Mongols employed lots of Chinese engineers/soldiers in the Mongol Armies which succeeded in conquering much of Eurasia using Chinese military technology. In fact, there were more Chinese soldiers serving in the Mongol Armies than any other nationality. That's true even during the Mongol Conquest of Song China when the Mongols deployed Chinese-built ships manned by Chinese sailors.

The difference between the Mongols and the Chinese is not racial but cultural and ideological. Indeed, after the Mongol Conquest of Song China, the Mongols themselves became Sinicized over time so much so that when the Hans expelled the Mongols from China, the Mongols retreated to Mongolia where they established the Northern Yuan Dynasty. And that's when the Mongols became Buddhist rather than Muslims. In other words, the Mongols became Chinese ex-post facto, i.e., after the dissolution of the Mongol Empire which was founded by East Asian Mongoloids. Likewise, the Mongols in Central Asia became Turkic-speaking Muslims whose descendants such as the Turco-Mongol warrior Timur founded the Timurid Empire while his great grandson Babur founded the Mughal Empire.

Since no one is paying any mind to your incisive musings, out of charity, I'll address two of the points.

As to the Swedish wife and Abdalla, at least they're both enjoying themselves because he has never had a piece of ass in all his life and she's has not been touched by the Swede ever since he had said I do (as in marriage vow).

As to Poopjeet, it's more likely that he would want to be fellated by the Southerner than the other way around. And it's a good thing that it's Johnny Rebel not you Slavinski because you're more likely to be prettier.

Now do show US more pooping Indian videos or cartoons, my little lonely Pollock ...

During the Yuan Dynasty, the lower class Mongols were completely Sinicized, and a large part of the Mongols were integrated into the Han Chinese. Even Mongolians at the top who remained intermarried married into Han Chinese.

We therefore have a legitimate claim to be the rightful heirs of the Golden Horde.

After all, today's Han Chinese are mostly mixed with some nomadic genes from the north.

India's rule of law, by contrast, is a ludicrous legacy of his colonial master, Britain.

When the British decided to create a bit of chaos, Pakistanis and Indians, who were supposed to be one, killed each other for the hilarious reason of religion.

And when Sunak became the British Prime Minister, stupid Indians were complacent about what the British had given them. Yes, while Indians have got rid of the state of being colonized, they have not got rid of the mentality of being colonized, or even the aftereffects of the caste system.

While there are these upper-caste Indians outside who have left the cesspool of India early, there are crooks inside who pretend to be immortals.

Crooks like PM Modi, Yogi in Uttar Pradesh are able to cheat with a swagger.

So we look down on Indians, they are not qualified to enter our vision, the future of the world only the Jews can compete with us.

Westerners have lived in the last 200 years in nation states. So their notions of countries are in terms of ethnicity. Add to this the current obsession with race in the USA, commenters from that country can only understand in terms of race.

It would boggle their minds to realise that China is a civilisation-state, not a nation-state.

China is both a civilization-state and a nation-state, with its Humanistic Civilization based on its Confucianist-Buddhist ethos and its traditional nationality based on Han cultural identity. The modern Chinese nation-state is based on its Chinese Socialist ideology with its Technocratic Civilization based on its neo-Confucianist ethos which started as early as Song Dynasty.

“–Domination of the entire world is our ultimate goal, which is what the name Sino itself means, and we are destined to be the Kings of the world.–”

I'm a bit surprised about that because I just read this article on Moon of Alabama:

<https://www.moonofalabama.org>

September 28, 2023

China's 'Shared Future'

The U.S. fears that China's growth will lead to a competition between the countries over hegemony on earth.

But China rejects hegemony. No only the one the U.S. is obviously trying to achieve but, more general, also for itself.

Yesterday the Global Times editorial pointed to a new guideline paper issued by China's State Council:

On September 26, China's State Council Information Office released a white paper titled "A Global Community of Shared Future: China's Proposals and Actions." Against the backdrop of the 10th anniversary of President Xi Jinping's proposal of building a global community of shared future, China has introduced the theoretical base, practice and development of a global community of shared future, and points the way toward a better future for the world. Anyone, be they are developing countries seeking to learn from China or individuals from Western countries who are interested in gaining a deeper understanding of China, will find inspiration in it as long as they approach it without biased views.

The paper is available here.

https://english.www.gov.cn/news/202309/26/content_WS6512703dc6d0868f4e8dfc37.html

The most interesting part is probably this paragraph:

There is no iron law that dictates that a rising power will inevitably seek hegemony. This assumption represents typical hegemonic thinking and is grounded in memories of catastrophic wars between hegemonic powers in the past. China has never accepted that once a country becomes strong enough, it will invariably seek hegemony. China understands the lesson of history – that hegemony preludes decline. We pursue development and revitalization through our own efforts, rather than invasion or expansion. And everything we do is for the purpose of providing a better life for our people, all the while creating more development opportunities for the entire world, not in order to supersede or subjugate others.

IMO Of course China can dominate/or lead the world if it becomes the most successful country in the world and other countries will follow its way to live and build their countries according to its model.

Kek. Hello fren, I wrote this apology to both you and your friend Crusty Precum. It's rude to ignore someone trying to make amends, dontcha know?

Hey Crusty Precum, so I've actually been reflecting on your earlier, wisdom-filled comment concerning the meaning of empathy. It weighed on me heavily, and I now feel compelled to say that I truly regret everything. It is indeed true that we must pass through the darkness to reach the light. I realize now, that in my arrogance, I had a completely warped view of what it meant to be empathetic, whilst fool-heartedly assuming that I embodied it.

To you and @Aleatorius, my brothers from an entirely separate branch of hominid evolution, I offer my deepest apologies. I reflected and realized just how hard life must be for Satan worshipping turd eaters, erm... I mean, dignified Hindoo adherents of "Sanatana Dharma."

And I'm especially sorry for making fun of curry, which really seemed to upset Aleatorius. I opened my ears to the lips of wisdom, and discovered that curry was actually an ingenious shitskin invention from 2600 B.C. that saved the country from a devastating famine caused by shitskins breeding too quickly for cow poo production to keep pace with. It was made to very closely imitate the color, texture, smell and taste of genuine cow poo. A sort of "Beyond Poo" counterpart to our modern day "Beyond Meat," only thousands of years ago! Truly, the hominids of India are remarkable.

Indian civilization is indeed wise, so I want to close this off with a profound Indian maxim I discovered, once uttered by a famous poo:

“Bumba dalli hababa charniggar dhadra dilly mollabolla”
– Pradeep Turdeater, 10,000 B.C.

Let's hug it out, frens

In case you couldn't find your way to the comment by General Robert E. Lee of the Mayflower fame who dresses you down a peg or two, I am reposting it for you, you lazy bum:

“I gotta say I am disappointed in you son but them is the breaks. I reallyed hope you was a true blue American and a Confederate like me. But you ain't one of them Ukrainians sucking blood out of our country people.

I guess you is a little better than them kikes, niggers, chinks, spics, dotheads, wetbacks, towelheads, sand niggers, injuns. You take care now, you hear.”

And I know you didn't get the insult he delivered, let me decipher it for you ...

Basically, he states that eventhough you're not as bad as the Ukies, you're not a genuine American because you're born of inferior people and haven't done jack for the country. Ouch!

And then the General deliveres the coup de grâce by “you is a little better than” meaning you ain't any better at all. Double ouch!!

I know you don't have any self-respect (probably sold it for some fentanyl) but for the sake of King Jan Sobieski who saved Europe from the Turks, will you go and commit Seppuku.

It would be the honorable way out of misery for you! So long sucker ...

And I can't see at all

And even if I could it'd all be gray,

But your sperg outs on this board,

It reminds me, that it's not so bad, it's not so bad

Dear Praturd, I wrote you but you still ain't calling

I left my cell, my pager, and my home phone at the bottom

I sent two letters back in autumn, you must not've got 'em

There probably was a problem at the post office or something

Sometimes I scribble addresses too sloppy when I jot 'em

But anyways, fuck it. What's been up subhuman? How's

@Aleatorius

First of all, religion itself is deceptive.

They are liars at heart.

For example, Jesus was a relatively successful liar who was killed by the Romans.

You think they are good people just because you are Indian and you are Hindu and they seem to be doing the right thing for Hinduism.

But really?

The religious practices they practice are essentially deceiving and taking your religion in the wrong direction.

You see, belief in Shiva, Vishnu, that's the mainstream of Hinduism, right? But Shiva didn't ask you to attack Muslims, did he?

However, people like Yogi and Modi do often incite you to attack or prevent Muslims.

The famous love jihad?

That's funny.

You guys are so unsure of yourself.

When a Muslim marries a Hindu woman, why is it not that Muslims are Hinduized, but that Hindu women are Muslimized?

This is the most ridiculous thing about your religion, that you don't even have confidence in your own superiors, but to incite you to attack others and eradicate dissent.

According to Xuanzang's record of the Western Regions of the Tang Dynasty, during the reign of the King of India, India was actually holding a large number of debate competitions, and that period can be called inclusive.

So, modi and yogi are just two clowns for private gain, you can look at the plutocrats behind them, Adani family, Chudgar family, where were you when they were making countless profits?

Modi is playing with fire by promoting Hindu nationalism against Muslims, Sikhs, Christians, etc. in India. Canada's current diplomatic row with India has become an international crisis for Modi whose government has been implicated in the killing of a Sikh leader of the Khalistan movement in Canada. Ironically enough, Modi is taking advantage of 'multicultural diversity' by lobbying Western countries to admit Indian immigrants in the name of 'Wokeness' while simultaneously opposing 'multicultural diversity' at home in India under the guise of Hindu nationalism.

Modi wants to have his cake and eat it too. But to the Woke West, you can't have it both ways, baby.

Mothers Russia (with a plethora of toilets and a PhD in good, clean ass wiping to boot) failed in her first attempt to put a probe on the south pole of moon, whereas, India (uncouth in anal hygiene and lacking in outhouses) put it in one attempt.

Like the poopjeet turd, you're murky in your identity but at last you've revealed yourself to be a Russkie. Very interesting indeed! The West has always hated you, including Poland but now even lowly Ukraine, the one place that ought to have been your true friend, has begun to despise you with passion. What's up with dat? It looks like you, as a people, are born fuckups, Fren!

And now your Putin has greased his head up the Kim Jong Un's arse to save Russia from being gobbled up by the covetous chinks who are just salivating to takeover Siberia for their military aid. From Peter the Great to the judo midget. How pathetic is that?

But here you're pretending to be an American when you should get your fentanyl laced arse back to Crimea to help save it from the penis-piano-man, Zelensky the Jew, who can't wait to put his kosher schlong up your tuchus.

So it's not surprising the honorable General Robert E. Lee of the Mayflower fame sees you as an Untermensch? A stepchild of Europa!

Pride and honor are two different things. The former is a sin while the latter is a virtue but being a hubristic punk, you wouldn't know it.

@新世界秩序

You've addressed a lot of things in one go so let me attempt to answer it ...

“You see, belief in Shiva, Vishnu, that's the mainstream of Hinduism, right? But Shiva didn't ask you to attack Muslims, did he?”

You left out Brahma the Creator before Vishnu the Sustainer and then Shiva the Destroyer. It's Indian Trinity and the most basic tenet of their religion known mistakenly as Hinduism. Indians refer to it as Sanatana Dharma meaning one's universal duty. Naturally, Shiva did not want Muslims to invade the Indian Subcontinent ...

“When a Muslim marries a Hindu woman, why is it not that Muslims are Hinduized, but that Hindu women are Muslimized?”

It's same with Chinese and Christian women who marry either Jews or Muslims. They take on the faith of their husband's. Look at Ivanka Trump. She married a Jew and she converted to Judaism. Look at Amy Lynn Chua, Chinese woman who penned 'Battle Hymn of the Tiger Mother', she married a Jew and converted to it. It's the nature of women. They have weakness and are susceptible to flattery and cock and once a man has showed them both, they go ga-ga over it. Besides, Muslims and Jews won't marry them unless they convert.

“So, modi and yogi are just two clowns for private gain, you can look at the plutocrats behind them, Adani family, Chudgar family, where were you when they were making countless profits?”

Now you're totally disingenuous ... President Xi Jinping and the Communist Party are sitting atop a four trillion dollars reserves and are operating like the plutocrats of America. Can the average Ching, Chang and Chong force their hands? Anyone who gets in their way will find himself in the same Gulag, educational camps, as the lone man who tried to stop the tanks in the Tiananmen Square or Jack Ma of Alibaba. So, please don't be ridiculous!

| Nehru's the idiot thought Mao the Liar was his big brother

Nehru the nutter thought India's purpose of being was to put China in its place and he came to grief trying to do just that:

We unilaterally drew borders that even the British, a more powerful nation, took care not to. Having drawn them, we transgressed them with bravado not matched with military and political capability, paying a heavy price not only in lives but also in morale and national shame for an adventure that could have been avoided and settled on the table.

Even if negotiations failed and we did not unilaterally take aggressive steps, the matter could even today have been as it was in 1959. To effect a border settlement would mean to admit the tacit error of Nehru and exorcising the belief that we were innocent victims in 1962 and that the Chinese cannot be trusted.

We need to educate our people that it was our fault, be transparent, not withhold facts and build up a consensus. Those who swear of "not letting go even an inch of territory" should be given guns and sent to the border.

The country is being held hostage to the ego and the Himalayan blunders of one man, long dead, and probably the worst first CEO of any major country. Only one major gain: Mao-Tse Tung, whose dictum, "never start a war that you cannot win", which Nehru learnt the hard way, was primarily responsible for galvanising the Indian army.

Now that you've mentioned Nehru, you forgot to mention his role in provoking China by hosting the Dalai Lama after the CIA instigated the Tibetan uprising in 1959. Zhou traveled all the way to New Delhi to resolve the border dispute between China and India. But his peace overtures were rebuffed. Here's an article about the events leading to 1962 Sino-India War:

<https://www.hindustantimes.com/analysis/when-china-wanted-to-make-peace-with-india/story-znFcztwvbq1QvKYM4dBUjl.html>

Ironically, Nehru's response to China's concerns about India's role in hosting the Dalai Lama and his Tibetan secessionist movement is exactly how Trudeau is treating Canada's role in hosting the Khalistan secessionist movement:

"We support human rights, freedom and democracy."

What goes around comes around. In Buddhism, that's called karma.

@Deep Thought

Just to add my 2 cents worth:

Nehru panicked after China invaded India in 1962 and ended up calling Kennedy pleading for the US military to intervene to save his ass. But the tables turned against India after Nixon sent a US aircraft carrier to the Bay of Bengal in 1971 during the India-Pakistan war in Bangladesh.

The same scenario is now playing out in the case of Trudeau's Canada against Modi's India which signed up for the US-led QUAD against China. Back then Nehru's India wanted to play the Tibet card against Mao's China, now it's Modi's India which is playing the QUAD card against Xi's China. But the West has turned the tables against Modi's India now that Canada is actively supporting the Khalistan secessionist movement against India.

History is repeating itself. Again. But the Indians never learn their history.

I love how all UNZ China hands congratulate each other at every turn ... poor President Xi can't be as callous as trolls frothing at the mouth but must be responsible for China's ultimate fate arrayed against the numerous adversaries.

And remember that Modi is no Nehru and Xi is no Mao. If anything Modi is like Mao and Xi is like Nehru. The first two are the type that may and have taken their countries through fire to anneal but the second pair did and will fold their cards when the going gets tough. Under Nehru, China had the advantage but definitely under Modi, China is at disadvantage.

As to your boast about "History is repeating itself" and "never learn their history" only time will tell. Let's all stay tuned in, shall we?

Of course I know about Brahma, and the Brahma sect is actually your minority religion, which is why I didn't mention it here. And according to the myth, Brahma was also the most incompetent of the three gods, so much so that he was even beheaded by Shiva.

Your mainstream is Shiva and Vishnu and there must be nothing wrong with that.

As for the point you made about Chinese women.

Obviously, you don't understand Chinese women. They are more powerful in a materialistic culture and can dump their husbands as soon as they have no use for them. You see you have a so-called jihad of love, but the problem is we don't have a policy against foreigners and infidels, do we?

This shows that we have enough confidence.

You should ask why Jews eat Chinese food.

To be honest, we have the confidence to complete the Sinicization of Judaism, and to ensure that Judaism moves to the path of normalcy is the long-cherished wish of Marx, the founder of communism. Because the essence of Judaism is the primacy of money, which is clearly stated in Marx's "On the Jewish Question."

He was a Rothschild himself, but as a maverick, he knew that the Rothschilds might end up destroying themselves.

Religious belief is not a problem, we will not interfere, but to ensure that he is on the right path, in line with the characteristics of the new era.

You can even compare our Muslims here with your Muslims here and ask you to think about why our Muslims have been de-radicalized after more than 10 years of rectification, while your Muslims are still killing each other with Hindus.

As for the Tiananmen Square and concentration camps you talked about, let me ask you, who do you think was responsible for the peasant demonstrations in India some time ago?

They all come from the same source, Onzah-Jewish Joint Fake News, smears from Jewish-controlled media like CNN, BBC, Reuters, Bloomberg.

If you think what you are saying about China is true, then modi is indeed a dictator who oppresses the peasants.

To be honest, even though I think modi and yogi are liars, at least they don't sell their souls to The Jews like your Indian National Congress did. At least they will not sell out their national interests.

This is the only thing I admire about modi.

The only one.

This is a serious attitude.

If a media outlet like CNN lies freely. Then there will be no truth in the world.

Even if he's an Indian who likes to imagine things that don't exist.

Modi is far worse than Nehru as the former is playing an extremely dangerous game with long-term consequences that are far more damaging to the strategic interests of India. Take the QUAD as an example. What does India gain out of the QUAD when it clearly does not belong to the US-led West? Modi thought that he could follow Deng's playbook (allying with the USA against the USSR) by playing the QUAD card against China but in return for what? Any benefits derived from India joining the QUAD against China is at best ephemeral as the USA won't view and treat India as an ally but as a vassal. But the worse consequence of India joining the QUAD is to force China to militarize the whole Tibetan region. That begs the question: how is that good for India? The short answer: not good at all. The long answer: Modi has turned India's strategic vulnerability into a permanent condition made possible by China's militarization of the whole Tibetan region. By contrast, Nehru made the mistake of provoking China by hosting the Dalai Lama but he knew better than to align India with the USA against China.

To illustrate India's strategic vulnerability, let me give you some facts and figures. At 15,000 feet elevation, Tibet is less than 1,500 kms away from New Delhi. There, China has stationed its J-20 which has a range of 3,500 kms. The last thing any Indian leader wants is for China to militarize the whole Tibetan region which is the unintended effect of India joining the US-led QUAD against China. Whereas before only border troops were stationed in that region, now China has built airports capable of supporting fighter jets and bombers. And missiles as well. The J-20 for example is within range of New Delhi from Tibet which implies that China can achieve air-superiority throughout that strategic region which includes the capital city of India, New Delhi. What does this mean? Any war breaking out in that region could potentially cripple the Indian State if China decides to attack New Delhi from Tibet. China never had that military capability until now. And that is the unintended consequence of India joining the QUAD against China. Modi's folly is India's sorrow.

Any more comments?

Great comment again. But you left out the Indian Ocean.

Quad is the scheme to cut off China's trade and navy in the Indian Ocean. They know the South China Sea is too close for it to work. They want India to monitor all Chinese naval traffic. The hypocrisy reeks as they tell China they can't secure the South China Sea but yet want India to secure the Indian Ocean. But hypocrisy has never been a hindrance to these types of people. China knows their game so has indeed been sending submarines and unmanned underwater vehicles into the Indian Ocean to keep tabs. The other major counters China is using is that Cambodia and Myanmar have let China set up listening stations. Of course QUAD hates that. The other main peace is that Pakistan is now using Chinese naval vessels and radars and anti ship missiles. Had Khan stayed in power he was ready to go further and he was also pushing very hard to get close to Russia. Russia also stops QUAD in the Sea of Japan. That is one of the reasons Khan had to go also.

That is why they started the fake news about Chinese debt trap in Sri Lanka (where their own government came out and said "we owe the same percentage to Japan as we do China" .. and "most of what we owe is to western financial institutions" LOL) Now they are fretting because a "pro China" candidate just got elected in the Maldives. Eye roll.

Yeah India makes zero sense to me. Good relations with neighbors is more important than having friends a long distance away (Hebrews and Chinese have a similar proverb). What they should have done was to befriend China in order to reduce tension with China. But hatred in the heart is not easily quelled.

India has historically viewed and treated the Indian Ocean as its 'lake' by asserting its influence over nations such as Sri Lanka and the Maldives. So there is nothing wrong about India's maritime role in the Indian Ocean which is old news. But India rejoining the revived QUAD in 2017 which was first proposed by Shinzo Abe back in 2007 smacks of Modi's opportunism to hitch a ride on Obama's 'Pivot to Asia' which culminated in the revival of the QUAD. Remember also that Obama's 'Pivot to Asia' includes the return of US military bases to the Philippines under Aquino III who filed the PCA case against China over the Spratlys. It won't surprise me if the Philippines under Marcos Jr joins the QUAD at some time in the future, forming an array of US military bases from Japan to the Philippines (which covers the South China Sea) and thence to India (which covers the Indian Ocean). Australia should have opted out as it is pretty much useless to the QUAD. In any case, China viewed the QUAD as part of Obama's 'Pivot to Asia' strategy of containing China in the 'Indo-Pacific' maritime domain which is being bypassed by Xi's BRI today. But the unintended consequence of India joining the QUAD was to force China to militarize the whole Tibetan region, not just for the tactical purposes of securing its borders with India but moreso for the strategic necessity of defending itself against India which is now part of a hostile anti-China bloc. Not only has Modi succeeded in antagonizing China but he has also succeeded in alienating India's most important all-weather ally, Russia. That's like shooting yourself in the foot twice.

So what exactly did India get out of the QUAD?

Oh yeah for all intents and purposes Marcos Jr has made the Philippines part of Quad. He signed agreements that allow Japan and Australia to use Filipino bases. Yeah he was a “Trojan horse” if there ever was one.

But nah – India hasn’t gained a thing. The only thing they are gaining is spending a higher percentage of their GDP on weapons now (except now they will import more from the US which is more expensive than Russia). Making peace is less expensive – so yeah not sure what he’s thinking. They always feared a double attack from China and Pakistan but joining QUAD makes that closer to reality. Same as Yoon in South Korea. The nutcase is threatening Kim in the North that “if he uses nuclear weapons his regime will end”. What a psychopath. If they wanted to use tactical nukes Seoul and the South would already be destroyed and he (Yoon) wouldn’t be alive to see the retaliation. What a whacko. South Korea needs someone like Moon back in power.

The Philippines might end up like Diego Garcia which is the location of a U.S. military base in the Indian Ocean:

The USA does not really need India to project its military power in the Indian Ocean. But the USA needs the Philippines to project its military power in the South China Sea. Plus the fact that the USA wants to maintain its hegemonic status in Southeast Asia by exploiting its former US colony, the Philippines.

Other than antagonizing China and alienating Russia and Iran, what does India get out of the QUAD? More US-made weapons? More US H1-B visas? More US investments?

Not really. The USA will just replace Marcos Jr just like what happened to Imran Khan. The last thing the USA wants is another Duterte leading the Philippines to become independent of the West. Besides, Filipinos love the USA and want to emigrate to America. So having the US military bases in the Philippines allows Filipinos the chance of a lifetime to meet and marry GIs who would bring them to America as 'Little Brown Americans'. Next to Indians, Filipinos are expected to become the next largest Asian population in the USA.

Yeah Diego Garcia is straight up theft by the British and Americans. Bold too as they refused a ruling that they needed to return it to the natives. Anglo exceptionalism again. But yeah the US and India are fretting because China is making good friends with all the states around the Indian Ocean. The US already has Iran to worry about (another drama of its own making) at one end. Now in addition to Diego Garcia – India has signed an agreement to allow the U.S. navy to rest and repair there. That's another reason though the US hates Pakistan deep down they keep them in good graces. They don't want Pakistan to go 100% for China and the Chinese navy have a huge naval presence at Gwadar.

What does India gain? Ummm – maybe bragging rights. “Hey Americans like us better than Chinese”. That's about it.... Hey their loss. India and Japan joined up to build high speed rail in India and it is puttering. In the meantime Laos and now Indonesia got Chinese built high speed rail already operating (as of this week). India could have had the same – but their incessant hatred and arrogance towards China held them back. Indonesia picked the Chinese project over the Japanese even though the US wanted them to pick Japan.

| which the Indian elites since Nehru have tried to destabilize against China.

Only after 1962, earlier Nehru stopped the American giving any support for the Tibetan Independence Movement. It is not the Indian elite, the 1.4 billion population of India want Tibet free, the common people, the macho masses forced Nehru to stop kissing CCP ass.

There are no natives of that island, they were people brought there by the Brits. Without the Brits, they would have never reached there in the first place.

Typical Chinkoid masturbation, the abnormal belief that Indians are dogs of America. It is this is this idiotic thinking which created the whole Indo-China problem in the first place. India became an ally of the USA only because of the perceived threat from China.

People were there before it became British territory.

China/India. "perceived threat" of China is plain stupid. Every neighbor of China got land concessions to settle border issues. India thinks it is too good. China is only a threat to India because India made China a threat. It's as simple as that. India has no designs on India. That is plain stupidity. Even the weak Krgyz got concessions from China. It is clownish to claim China is a threat to India.

Malla, I am sure you are aware that the US Deep State wants India to fight a proxy war against China, just like Ukraine against Russia. There are clear signs that the US Deep State wants a full-blown war between India and China which would allow the USA to sell its US-made weapons to India on the condition that the latter cut off its defense ties with Russia. That's like hitting two birds (China, Russia) with one stone (India). In addition to Russia, the US Deep State would likely force India to cut off its ties to Iran which would feel threatened by such a proxy war. Lastly, India would be forced to buy oil in USD from the Arabs instead of buying oil in Rupee from the Russians, thus propping up the Petrodollar System.

If China wins the war against India, the US Deep State would then blame Modi for the debacle and instigate a political coup to replace him.
